UNION LABEL

FRIDAY, JUNE 2, 1905.

TWO MISSTATEMENTS.

The Toronto World says:—"The Remedial Bill sought to restore a system of schools which Manitoba had abolished. The Autonomy bill seeks to ensure a system of schools which, in the future, Alberta and Saskatchewan may desire to abolish." The World, says the Hamilton Times, is not accurate. Their Lordships of the Privy Council, who have the final say in the matter, held that Manitoba had not at the time she entered the Union in 1870 a system of denominational schools "either by law or practice." They made it clear enough that had they found that such schools were by law or practice in existence when she entered the Union, they would have been protected and preserved by sec. 93 of the British North America Act. It is different with the two new Provinces. They have a system of schools well organized, given them by the legislation of 1875 and by the Territorial ordinances. They will enter the Dominion as Provinces with that system in full operation; and if the Autonomy bills did not mention education, they would still have those schools, and not even their own legislature could take them away. All that the Autonomy bills, as they now stand, effect is to prevent litigation and clear up popular doubts. The Times regards the educational clauses as of no force in changing the legal conditions. The schools are so satisfactory to the people of the Northwest that Mr. Haultain himself declares that if he were dictator he would not change the system. The World and its fellow creed agitators are concerned not in the welfare of the Northwest, but in seeking to extract from the situation by appeals to sectarian passion and prejudice a little cheap party capital. And we have such confidence in the good sense of Canadians that we believe the plot will fail.

GENEROUS PRAISE.

Admiral Togo's modesty over his tremendous smashing of Rojestvensky's fleet and the practical sweeping of the Russian navy from the face of the sea, is as great as if he had merely sunk a fishing smack. But his modesty is as nothing compared to the striking modesty of our American cousins, represented by the tremendous tribute paid to his prowess. A Buffalo paper with an airy effusion of adulation, pays Admiral Togo a compliment of so magnificently adulatory a nature that if we did not know how incapable the average American newspaper is of exaggeration or insincerity, we should regard it as a mild form of flattery. The Buffalo paper goes to the extravagant extent of describing Admiral Togo as "The Dewey of Japan." Togo certainly will have to get behind his fan to hide his blushes. He may be able to stand a little tap of the Blarney Stone, but that is rather laying it on with a trowel. It does sound a little like modesty to compare with Togo's insignificant exploits, Admiral Dewey's great feat of defeating on Manilla Bay, the Spanish navy—some of whose ships would "shiver their timbers" if the captain used strong language, or sink under the fierce explosion of a fire cracker. It is even suspected that some of the ships of the Spanish fleet were venerable survivors of the Spanish Armada which escaped Lord Howard's vigilance in 1588. Togo, on the contrary had only to contend with a powerful modern fleet, some of the Russian battleships being of the 1904 type, the strongest, most complete and most formidable war vessels that floated. It is only by a consideration of the contrast between the prodigiously powerful and formidable character of the Spanish fleet which Admiral Dewey overcame in the peaceful waters of Manilla Bay, with the weak, fragile and ill armed warships of the Russian fleet with a tonnage of only 100,000 tons, of which Togo in the stormy waters of the Straits of Corea, and in the blackness of the night, "left not a wreck behind,"—it is only by making such a comparison that the generous nature of the action of the American newspapers, in putting Admiral Togo in the same class as Admiral Dewey, can be appreciated.

EDITORIAL NOTES

If Admiral Rojestvensky had carried a little Japanese brain matter in his head before the recent naval wipe-out, he would not now be carrying a piece of Japanese shell in his skull.

The most aptly suggestive, historic parallel to the swift and sweeping destruction of the Russian fleet in the closing days of May, is the wiping out of the Spanish Armeada in the days of good Queen Bess.

The Inspector of Prisons is against the committal of poor persons to the jails. He thinks that they should be sent to refugees, and that those institutions should exist in every county. And he is right. It would be just as just to send a rich man to jail for being rich, and a good deal more, too, considering the way some rich men become rich.

Hon. G. E. Foster, speaking at Woodstock, on Wednesday, said that "if the party lash could be furled and hidden away," scores of the Liberal members in the House would vote against the iniquitous measure — the Autonomy Bill. Mr. Foster was thinking how he dodged the party lash, kicked over the traces, and betrayed his leader, in 1896. Mr. Foster talks eloquently against coercion. He should know a good deal about coercion — he has tried it. He tried to coerce his leader, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, in 1896.

"Two New Brunswick politicians buy 640 acres of land at $2 an acre, and sell it to the Federal Government at $30 an acre. The original cost of the property was $1,280. The sum realized by its sale to the Government was $38,400—a profit to the politicians of $37,120."

The Mail, when it penned this inaccuracy, to speak mildly, knew the character of the statement it was making. In the House of Commons on Monday, Sir Frederick Borden, in speaking upon the subject, announced that the land was being taken under expropriation privileges, and that the matter was now before the Courts by which the price would be fixed. The Mail evidently thinks its share in the bomb-throwing crusade in the London and Oxford bye-elections is not quite lurid enough, and that a little straight political lying is necessary.

Mr. Firebrand Bennet, of Calgary, speaking at London, in the interests of national strife, is reported to have said that the West would take up rifles against the school clauses of the Autonomy Bill. Whom will the attack begin upon? The members of Parliament, who voted for the second reading, included thirteen Conservatives. Mr. Borden, the leader of the "party of gentlemen," is in London, and there is no record of his having reproved such filibustering buncombe. Mr. William Gray may well be asked to be defended from his friends, including Mr. Bennet and Mr. Rhiney, the orator who spoke at his nomination, who tried to pay his hotel bill with a bogus cheque, and is now absent from the city with a livery horse, and the Chief of Police is looking for one of Mr. Grey's Conservative orators on a charge of horsestealing and forgery. Surely the party of gentlemen are hard beset, when they accept the help of such gentry, as a fugitive horse thief, an incendiary, like Mr. Bennett, who to make a politica gain, incites to lawlessness, Mr. Borden, the Conservative leader, must be held as endorsing such lieutenants, if he does not speedily repudiate them. He is also to be held responsible for the Conservative campaign question of the hour, in the London bye-election, "Are you going to vote Protestant or Catholic?" unless he protests against it. Party exigencies demand peculiar methods, but the line should be drawn within decent limits.

Indigestion and Headache.

Mr. Duncan McPherson, Content, Alberta, writes: "I was for many years troubled with indigestion and headache and derived no relief from the many remedies I used. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after taking four boxes the result is that I am once more in the full enjoyment of the blessings of good health."

Plant Your Garden.

Mr. A. Blade, of the West-end Greenhouses, (at the residence of G. M. Roger,) has ready a very fine collection of hardy seedlings and bedding-out plants. This is the time for planting your garden and flower-beds; and the West-end Greenhouses can be depended upon for exercising the utmost care to have everything pure and dependable. Parties having baskets, hanging pots and vases to fill will confer a favour by sending their orders in early for filling. Telephone 21b., to A. Blade, manager.

NO JUDGMENT WAS RENDERED

In the Cavan Drainage Case Which Came up Yesterday.

Referee Rankin Will Deliver a Written Judgment—The Evidence in the Case.

The hearing of the motion to quash Bylaw No. 475, of the Township of Cavan, passed March 28th, 1905, and known as the Long Swamp Drainage Bylaw, was begun yesterday at the Court House, before J. B. Rankin, K. C., of Chatham, Drainage Referee.

The scheme proposed under the bylaw was for draining the Long Swamp in the 12th, 13th, and 14th concessions of Cavan, directly west of Peterborough, and lying between Mount Pleasant and Peterborough. The main object of the drainage scheme was to open concession lines on the 13th and 14th concessions, running eastward from Mount Pleasant. In consequence of the swamp, people residing in Mount Pleasant have to drive south and considerably out of their way to come to Peterborough.

Proceedings to drain the swamp were taken under the Municipal Drainage Act which requires that a petition must be presented to the council signed by a majority in number of the owners of property whose names appear on the assessment roll in the area to be drained. The estimated cost of the work was $8751.

When the petition was presented to the council in December 1903, it had thirty-five names attached to it and it seems to have been considered by the council that this represented the majority of owners of property interested and appearing on the assessment roll. When the assessment roll was produced yesterday and the evidence of a number of witnesses given in regard to the matter, it was found that there were some fifty-six names of owners in the drainage area who had not signed the petition. A strong effort was made by the counsel for the township to reduce this number by objections to the standing of some of the persons whose names were included in the list of non-signers.

After the judge had announced his 2$500 in Ward Three. The Court rotil this morning, the counsel for the township, Mr. G. H. Watson, K. C., after a consultation with the township authorities interested, addressed the court stating that, in view of the rulings of the court, with regard to questions that had come up during the day, as to the persons who should be counted as owners, it would not be possible to maintain the majority in favour of the petition, and there was therefore no reason for further protracting the trial.

Among the other objections as to the validity of the bylaw, were: That it was not in accordance with the provisions of the statute; that it had been altered since it was provisionally adopted; that some lands were improperly omitted from the drainage scheme for the purpose of obtaining a majority of names on the petition; that the engineer's report was incorrect; that the drainage scheme was being really carried out to secure the building of roads, rather than the drainage of the swamp; and that the free action and judgment of the engineer was interfered with.

The witnesses examined yesterday were George C. McBain, the plaintiff; John McIntosh, W. C. P. Heathcote, and David Falkis, the assessor of the township of Cavan.

About thirteen years ago a bylaw was passed by the township of Cavan for the purpose of draining this same swamp. On an application by the late Edward Johnston, the bylaw was then quashed. Mr. E. B. Edwards also acted for the plaintiff in that case.

The referee, on the conclusion of the case, stated that he would look into the authorities, and assure himself of the correctness of his rulings, then give his written judgment upon the case.

The counsel for the township said in answer to a question, that he would accept the decision of the referee, and that there would be no appeal against it.

Mr. E. B. Edwards, K.C., was the counsel for the plaintiff, George McBain; and Mr. G. H. Watson, K. C., of Toronto, was counsel for the defendant township of Cavan.

DOCTORS MAKE UNIFORM SCALE

Of Charges for Professional Services Rendered.

Medical Association Met Last Night—Annual Excursion Was Discussed.

Last night the members of the Central Ontario Medical Association met in the Ontario Bank Chambers, where a most interesting and important session was held. It was interesting to the physicians themselves, because of the fact that a tariff of charges was discussed by the members of the association, and when it has been completed, which will, it is expected, be in the course of a few days, all the doctors in the association, which includes practically all those in town, will charge the same price for their services. In most cases the scale of charges will be a higher than those at present in vogue, and all the doctors' charges will be the same, which they are not at present.

One doctor this morning said, "We are making a sort of a union affair of it."

Another matter discussed last night was the annual excursion of the association, which this year will be held on June 15th, and the members will go to Harwood, the steamer "City of Peterborough" leaving the Wolfe street wharf at 1.30 p.m. Last year in conjunction with the lawyers some of the doctors took in a trip to this resort, and were so well pleased with it that they decided to go there themselves this year. The treatment of dead-head patients was also discussed, but on this last question no definite discussion was reached, the members deciding to defer definite action until later. And at the next meeting, which will be held in the course of a few days, the tariff of charges will be completed, and the question of non-pay patients will also be considered. It is learned from one of the physicians that some years ago the doctors had a similar tariff of charges, but while they all agreed to adhere to the prices set, it was not long until they failed to carry out their promises, and for the sake of securing business some of the doctors cut their prices, and the tariff was a dead letter. It is expected, however, that this movement will be more successful. A uniform method of collection will also be established.

TO ERECT HOUSES ON DREDGE LOT

Extension of George Street to North Seems to Be Stopped.

Council Delayed Purchasing Property and Now Owner Will Build Houses.

Mr. William Detcher has purchased the Dredge lot at the north end of George street, and intends to erect a terrace of four houses on Victoria avenue, and a terrace of four houses facing George street.

This is a desirable location and will be appreciated by those who are looking for moderate priced houses to rent at the North End. It will be remembered that the town conducted some negotiations with Mr. Dredge for the purchase of this property for the purpose of extending George street to the north, but apparently they could not come to terms, and later the property was sold to Mr. Detcher as an investment, and he paid the same price in proportion for the whole lot as the town could have secured its portion for.

Now Mr. Detcher is intending to erect houses on the property, as of course, he has a perfect right to do, and if the town carried out its present intention of opening the street, it will have to pay an additional price for the land, and, if the houses are erected, a higher price still.

ASSAULT WITH SERIOUS RESULTS

Mr. Fred. Hudson, of the Royal Cafe, Received Severe Injury.

Was Struck Upon The Head With Slug-shot—Assailant an Emily Resident.

An assault with serious consequences occurred last night at the Royal Cafe, Hunter street, by which Mr. Fred Hudson, one of the proprietors received a severe gash upon the scalp. His assailant, is a man who resides near the boundary line in Emily township.

The affair occurred in the bar of the hotel, late in the evening, and was brought about by an altercation which had arisen in the sitting-room a short time before, when a companion of the assailant had been ejected from the house because of his actions towards some ladies.

Mr. Hudson had just returned to the bar and was standing a distance of five or six feet away from McAuliffe when the latter struck him supposedly with a slug-shot, or similar weapon, which some witnesses think was drawn from a hip-pocket.

The injured man, who was seen to-day, had no opportunity to ascertain the nature of the missile as he was rendered unconscious immediately. The wound which required five stitches, was dressed at once by Dr. McNulty.

The assailant made a hasty effort to depart, and after some discussion amongst those present, was allowed to go.

Mr. Hudson is to-day resting as easily as may be expected, and his many friends hope for an early recovery.

The G. T. R. Grocery.

Mr. Percy has sold his grocery business on the corner of Aylmer and Charlotte street, near the G. T. R. station, to Mr. John Lachewr, jr., who recently returned to town from Gooderham, Ont. Mr. Lachewr has many friends in town, who will be glad to know of his success in his new undertaking.

BIRTHS.

PEACE.—At 27 Waterford street, Peterborough, on Thursday, June 1st, the wife of Mr. Wm. Peace, of a daughter.

THE CIRCUS LEFT TOWN IN A HURRY

Lemon Bros. Did Not Give an Evening Performance.

Left About 7 O'clock for Tweed—Many Prospective Spectators Were Disappointed.

Those who missed the opportunity yesterday afternoon of seeing the "World's Greatest" Lemon Bros. circus, were not given a second chance last night, as they expected doubtless to have, for, about seven o'clock, the management decided that one performance in one day was enough for the people of Peterborough to stand, and they struck camp and by eight o'clock the whole outfit was on the cars ready for the trip to Tweed, where they are billed to show to-day, unless they decide otherwise.

The afternoon performance was attended by a large crowd, and, from a financial standpoint, the one exhibition was a success. It looked somewhat like rain early in the evening, and this fact, it is said, influenced the management in its decision to leave town; for, of the things a circus manager hates, a rain storm, especially in a town where the haul from the grounds to the station is as long as it is here.

The street railway management, however, were living in blissful ignorance of the fact that the circus had left town, or, at any rate, if they were aware of it, they gave no sign, and cars, crowded with passengers for the exhibition grounds, left Charlotte street every few minutes, and in answer to the question which cars went to the circus, they told them, "These are your cars!"

When they arrived at the grounds, it was but to find that the elephants had gone, and nothing but a few bon fires, and Walter Stocker taking possession of some property of his which was there.

WEDDING OF DR. T. H. BELL

Son of Mr. F. J. Bell Married Yesterday in Toronto.

Bride Was Miss Minnie Darling—A Delightful Social Event.

By the many friends in Peterborough of Dr. Thomas Herbert Bell, the only son of Mr. F. J. Bell, the popular Division Court Clerk, the following report of his wedding in Toronto, yesterday, will be read with deep interest. The Toronto News says of it:—

"A pretty and fashionable wedding took place this afternoon in St. Margaret's Church, Spadina avenue, when Miss Minnie Darling, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Darling, was married to Dr. Thomas Herbert Bell, L.R.C.P., only son of Mr. F. J. Bell of Peterborough.

A mass of palms was banked in front of the pulpit and reading desk, cut flowers ornamented the communion table. Mr. Lomas played the wedding marches. Rev. R. J. Moore performed the ceremony. The bride was given away by her father, and wore a gown of cream point d'esprit, a coronet of orange blossoms, holding the long tulle veil, which fell almost to the end of the train and was caught up with lily of the valley. A large large shower of bridal roses was carried.

The maid of honour was Miss Eola Evans, who wore a pearl grey silk colienne over taffeta. The large white hat was trimmed with pink roses and a cluster of pink roses was carried. The bridesmaids were Miss Violet Loney, Merlin, Ont., and Miss Beatrice Shand, who wore cream gowns and large white picture hats and carried clusters of cream carnations. The little flower girls were Miss Mary Hitchman and Miss Edna Washburn, cousins of the bride. They were in cream silk frocks with wreaths of lily of the valley on the heads, and carried baskets of lily of the valley.

The best man was Dr. Duncan Anderson, and the ushers were Dr. Edwards, J. R. Code, and Dr. J. A. Ceresweli. Mrs. Richard Darling, the bride's mother, was in black net over black satin, and a toque of white chiffon and tea roses. She carried a large bouquet of crimson roses.

The Reception.

A reception was held afterwards at the residence of the bride's parents, 114 Robert street. Carnations, palms and roses banked the mantels in the drawing-room. A string orchestra played during the reception and the presents, which were numerous and beautiful, were duly inspected in the hall upstairs. The gift of the bride's father was a piano, of the bridegroom's father, a cheque. Dr. and Mrs. Bell left on the 7.20 train for the East, and will return to the city for a few days, are they leave for the West, where the doctor is practising.

The bride's going away gown was of smart brown broadcloth, the the blouse coat, with green pau velvet trimmings, opening over a white silk waist. The New York sailor, with green trimmings to match, was of fine cream straw.

Among the 130 invited guests were Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Anderson, Mr. and Dr. Ida Lynd, Miss Hollingshead, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hitchman, Mr. and Mrs. Washburn, Sudbury; Dr. and Mrs. Elliott, Dr. and Mrs. T. H. McConnell, Mr. F. J. Bell, father of the groom, Peterborough; Col. and Mrs. Evans, Dr. Frederick, Rev. and Mrs. Broughall, Mr. A. A. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Coyell, Dr. Harry Watson, Winnipeg; Mr. A. H. NARROW ESCAPE FROM INJURY

Wholesale Fatality Was Narrowly Averted Last Night.

Spectators and Circus Employees Loading Cars Nearly Run Over by Train.

An accident, accompanied by wholesale fatalities was averted by the narrowest possible margin on the C.P.R. tracks, Park street, last night while the wagons of Lemon Bros. circus were being loaded upon the freight cars, preparatory for shipment. Fully three hundred spectators watched the hair-raising episode, which gave everyone present an exciting five minutes.

The circus cars were standing upon a side track in close proximity to the main tracks, down which a wagon containing tent-poles was driven. While a number of men were engaged in transferring the contents of the wagon a west-bound freight train came thundering down the main track, and in the excitement of the moment it was neglected to put out the proper signal. The signal to stop, however, was given and the train brought to a standstill within the smallest fraction of a second of causing disastrous consequences.

The front of the engine was, when stopped, within two feet of the heads of the horses. The spectators and labourers, who were at the time standing upon the track evidently for a few moments did not appreciate the gravity of the situation till the train was upon them, when faces blanched with fear were seen upon everyside.

PRESIDENT ALLEN'S PLEA FOR GOOD CLEAN LACROSSE

Wants the National Game Raised to a Higher Standard—Will Enforce the Rules of the Game This Season—Wants Good Clean Sport—Games Must Start Promptly on Time—Grounds Must be Kept Clear of Spectators.

Mr. E. M. Best the secretary of the local lacrosse club has received the following letter from Geo. L. Allan, President of the C. L. A.:—

Dear Sir,—Owing to the number of important amendments to the constitution, regulations and rules passed at the last annual meeting, I thought it advisable to issue this circular letter to all the clubs in the association, drawing attention to some of the amendments and other important matters in connection with Canada's national game:—

1.—Professional players shall not be allowed to compete in intermediate or junior teams. The method I propose in dealing with the above rule is: If a protest is entered against a player for professionalism said player must prove his innocence to the satisfaction of the Executive by his own sworn declaration and that of the officers of his club, or the player and club will be suspended.

2.—All championship matches shall commence promptly at the advertised hour. In the event of either club delaying the commencement of the game for more than ten minutes, senior clubs shall be fined $10 and junior and intermediate $5, to be collected by the referee and remitted to the secretary of the C. L. A.

3.—The home clubs at matches shall be responsible for keeping the grounds clear of spectators and for the maintenance of good order. It shall be the duty of the referee to see previous to the game that proper provision is made for maintaining good order. If the spectators in any way interfere with the players or officials to delay the progress of the match, the referee shall declare the match off, and report the circumstances to the Executive. I would advise the officials of the home club to ask ten or twelve of the friends of the club to assist the police in keeping the grounds clear and to use their influence in frowning down any rowdyism. Good clean play should be applauded, and rough play discouraged in every way.

4.—Any player striking another on the head—which means face also—whether accidental or otherwise, shall be ruled off for a period of not less than five minutes, and not less than fifteen minutes for striking with the butt end of his stick.

5.—Players must not check to goal keeper within the goal crease, and goal keepers must not strike an opponent for entering his crease. The referee must punish in both cases.

6.—A new Harold A. Wilson ball must be provided by the home club for each match. The association is under contract with the Harold A. Wilson Co., to this effect and referees must insist on this rule being carried out.

I am giving referees instructions to report all cases of vicious rough play, and if a player is so reported twice I will suspend his certificate pending the action of the Executive.

It is my desire, and the desire of the whole Executive, that the rules of the association shall be obeyed, and that good clean sport shall be provided those who patronize the game. I trust the best citizens in every town will give the home team their moral and financial support and encourage the young men to play Canada's national game, which has no equal in outside sports for the development of brain and muscle.

I would advise the secretary to have this letter published in his local paper, so that players and spectators may be better informed on the rules, and also to encourage a larger patronage, knowing that a good clean game may be expected.

I must also ask the secretaries of the home clubs to notify me at least three days before a match whether they have agreed on a referee or not. Some have already neglected to notify me, which causes trouble and annoyance.

Wishing you a successful season and trusting you will make an honest effort to assist me and the Executive in carrying out the rules, I remain,

Yours sincerely,
GEO. L. ALLEN,
President C. L. A.

LEAGUE SEASON OPENS TO-MORROW

Riverside Grounds Will be the Scene of First Game.

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., Will Pitch the First Ball—Cobourg Will be Here.

To-morrow the opening game in the Midland Baseball League, in Peterborough, will be played on the new Riverside grounds, and the occasion of the double opening, that of the League season and the grounds, will be made one of special interest.

It has been the lament of the managements of the different sporting organizations in Peterborough for a number of years that there has been no satisfactory ground upon which the games could be played where the spectators could see the games in comfort, and at the same time a gate could be collected, without going a distance from the town, and the fact that the Riverside grounds are once again to be opened for games, and that under conditions which will make them pretty nearly ideal will be welcome news both to players and spectators.

It is fitting that the two openings should be simultaneous, and to-morrow there are prospects of seeing the largest number of spectators at an outside game in a number of years. There will be a procession, starting from the National Hotel at 2.30 sharp, and headed by the 57th Band, proceeding to the new grounds. The two teams which are to participate in the opening game, Cobourg and Peterborough, will be in the parade, as well as the club officials and a number of prominent citizens.

Upon arrival at the Park, Mr. R. B. Hall, M.P., will pitch the first ball, while Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., will essay to do the catching. Mayor Best, who has acquired a reputation as a heavy hitter, his average being away up, will try to put the ball into the river. President Layfield will do the umpiring and see that the game is played according to the latest rules.

The game proper will be called at three o'clock, sharp, by umpire Hambly, of Port Hope. The local team will be the same as that of the first game, in Lindsay, except that the pitching will be done by Quinlan and Baldwin, who has developed recently into what promises to be a good man. Maltray will do the back stop work and the rest of the team will be the same. Douglas has been released by Manager MacEwan, and the two local men will do the pitching during the remainder of the season. Quinlan showed up well in the game last Saturday, when he only allowed the Langmuir team, the best aggregation which has been here this season, one hit in five innings.

GALT FOOTBALL TEAM ON TOUR

Line-Up of the Champions as They Will Play Here.

Will Play Locust Hill Clippers on Monday—Here on Tuesday.

The Galt senior football team, champions of Ontario, Manitoba, the Northwest and the Olympic games at St. Louis, leave on Monday for Montreal, where they are to play the Westmounts, champions of Quebec, says the Galt Reporter. The team leaves Galt at 6.30 a.m., via C. P. R. Monday evening. A stopover is made at Markham, where they play the Locust Hill Clippers, one of the strongest teams east of Toronto. The next day an exhibition game will be played at Peterborough, and on the day following the team will stack up against Norwood. Wednesday evening the club goes to Montreal and on Thursday plays at Valleyfield. Friday will be a day of rest and preparation for the crucial test of Saturday, when the Westmounts the strongest team in the Province of Quebec, will be their opponents. This is the game which will be watched with interest by the lovers of association football everywhere. The Westmounts are a team composed of many crack English footballers. This contest will decide the superiority of either the English or Canadian style of play. We are accustomed to close, hard checking and Galt has an inside three man combination which has as yet proved extremely puzzling to any defence so far encountered. It remains to be seen whether the bounced scaler ball handling of the old country players, is superior to the hard, close checking of the Galt defence and the speed with which the forwards carry the ball. The Galt defence remains the same stone wall which has borne the brunt of Galt's football battles for the past three years. The forward line has been much strengthened since last year, both in weight and speed. No athletic organization has ever increased the fame of any town more than has the Galt football team that of Galt. Every Galtonian has had reason to be proud at some time or other of the prowess of the football club. The members recognize this and the great name they have to live up to, and everybody confidently expects them to bring home more laurels to this "right little, tight little city." A series of home-and-home games has been arranged with the Westmounts and the people of Galt, will have an opportunity to see this famous team play at Galt on Dominion Day. The following players have been picked by the Executive to make the trip:—Goal, Linton; backs, J. Gourlay and Ducker; halves, Fraser, Johnson and Lees; forwards, Finlayson, Sleep, Hall, Imlah, and Brady; spares, Douglas and James.

For troubles such as Palpitation of the Heart, Sleeplessness, Nervousness, Faint or Dizzy Spells, Shortness of Breath, Starting in the Sleep; Cold, Clammy Hands or Feet, Brain Fag, etc., we would strongly advise the early use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, as this remedy, taken in time, has been the means of saving many a life, and restoring strength to those who were weak, nervous, heart-shattered invalids.

WHEN SHOES LOOK "SECOND-HAND"

THE first shoe was a sandal—to protect foot soles only.

That is seven-eighths of shoe duty yet.

But, the weak spot in nearly all fine shoes today lies in the sole leather.

Too many soles wear out in two months.

And, a shoe upper, when re-soled, looks as a Felt Hat does when blocked over—it looks "second-hand."

The time to put good soles on shoes is when the shoes are first made.

Then, they won't need re-soling till you've had wear enough from them, so you can afford to give them away to "the man."

The toughest sole leather in this world, or in any other, is the new process "Quick-Oak" Sole.

It is wiry and close-grained as rawhide, and almost refuses to wear out.

You can soak it in water for four straight hours without wetting it clear through.

Put high-priced regular process Oak Sole leather in water for one hour and it will be wet completely through from one side to the other.

What protects you from catching cold in wet weather is merely the difference between "Quick-Oak" Sole leather and the other kinds.

"Quick-Oak" Sole leather has now been tested a twelve-month, and we had to guarantee big purchases in order to control this brand for Canada.

To be had only in the genuine "Slater Shoes." These are made only by the Slater Shoe Company, and have the slate-frame trade-mark stamped inside, on the lining, with the price—$3.50 or $4.00.

TOGO'S FAMOUS SIGNAL TO HIS MEN

"The Destiny of our Empire Depends Upon This Action. You are All Expected To Do Your Utmost"--He Inspired His Sailors--An Officer's Graphic Story of the Battle--Russians Were First to Open Fire, But Were Soon Encircled and Helpless to Escape--Russian Searchlights Against Night Attack Betrayed Their Fleet.

Tokio, June 2.—A Japanese officer who has returned to Sasebo yesterday gave the following account of the sea fight off the Tsu Islands:

At 5.20 Saturday morning a wireless message, reading: "The enemy's squadron is in sight," reached the naval base. This message was transmitted to all our ships by the flagship, with instructions to get ready for action. Our squadrons left their rendezvous and headed for the east channel of Fushima. Our men seemed to be filled with new inspiration and were eager for the long-delayed fight to begin. When the Tsushima was sighted to the southwest, the sea was rough, and the torpedo boats were forced to run for the shelter of the island. Our third fighting squadron, with the Takashiho to port, reconnoitered the Russian course, and at 11.30 a. m. informed the main squadron by wireless telegraph that the Russian ships were passing into the eastern channel, whereupon our main squadron, changing its course, somewhat to the southward, came in sight of Okinshima at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The third division arrived later and joined the main squadron. The first and second divisions, accompanied by the destroyers flotilla, changed to a westerly course, while the third division and the fourth destroyer flotilla headed slightly eastward.

As it Was at Trafalgar.

During the manoeuvres the Russian flagship appeared to the southward at 1.45 o'clock. The Russians steamed up in double column. The fleet was numerous, but no living being was visible. The Russian ships seemed to be in good order. Our ships hoisted the flag of action, the Mikasa signalling:

"The destiny of our Empire depends upon this action. You are all expected to do your utmost."

Our men seemed to silently weigh the significance of this signal. Our first and second division turned to the Russians' starboard, while the third division kept in close touch with the preceding two divisions. With the Japanese ships proceeding in this order, it was 2.13 o'clock when the Russians opened fire. The first two shots fell short of our line, and it was some minutes later before we commenced firing. Then the battle was on, with firing from both side. Our destroyers kept on the port side of the main squadron, and in this formation we pressed the Russians against the coast of Kinushiu, and they were obliged to change their course to the east.

Borodino on Fire.

We so manoeuvred our ships as to have their bows paralleled to the north side of the Russian line. The Mikasa, of our first division, which had been leading, changed to the rear of the line, while the Kasuga headed the line. The engagement now became very fierce. The Borodino was seen to be on fire. A little later the Russians headed west, and we changed our course accordingly. Five of our second divisions concentrated their fire on the Borodino. Our first division now began firing vigorously, proceeding parallel with the Russian line, and as we began to press against the head of the Rusian line our third division veered to the Russian rear, thus enveloping their ships.

The engagement proceeded hotly. Our second division followed a course parallel with the northern side of the Russians, and this movement completed the enveloping. The Russians' ships were seen trying to break through, and our destroyer flotilla intercepted their course.

Enclosed on All Sides.

This state of envelopment continued until the following day, with the ships at varying distances. Thus enclosed on all sides, the Russians were helpless and powerless to escape the circle. Previous instructions had been given the destroyers and torpedo boats to attack the Russian ships. Following instructions, the fifth destroyer flotilla advanced against a Russian ship, upon which the second division had been concentrating its fire, signalling:

"We are going to give the last thrust at them."

The Russian ship continued to fight, and seeing the approaching torpedo boats, directed its fire on them. Undaunted, our destroyers pressed forward, the Chitose meantime continuing its fire. The torpedo flotilla arrived within 200 metres of the Russian ship, and the Shironus fired the first shot. Two other torpedo boats fired one each. The Shirenus received two shells, but the other boats were not damaged. The Russian ship was completely sunk.

Raging at Sundown.

At sundown saw the battle raging furiously. Our shells were evidently telling on the Rusians, who showed signs of confusion. Our fifth torpedo flotilla, after destroying the Borodino, following in the wake of our second division, the signal reading:

"Bound to Get Them All."

The flotilla followed and located the object which proved to be a sinking ship, with its overturned bottom showing. Thirty survivors clung to the wreck crying for assistance. Firing ceased with approach of darkness.

According to orders previously given for a torpedo attack after dark, all the destroyers flotillas, dividing into two squadrons, proceeded to attack the Russians during the whole night. The Russians frustrated the first and second attack with search lights. A third attempt was carefully made and the Yugiri sank a ship of the Borodino type, and also hit others. During the night the Russians continued to move, and we preserved our enveloping movement some distance from the Russian position.

Japs' High Resolve.

The Russian ships headed northeast after daybreak, hoping to reach Vladivostock. Our officers and men were determined that not a ship should escape, and resolved not to relax their efforts until they had succeeded in either sinking or capturing every Russian ship.

Our ships always kept ahead of the Russians. The battle was resumed at 9 o'clock Sunday morning, twelve miles east of Chiyupyon Bay, and lasted all day. Here the Russians suffered their heaviest losses. They seemed unprepared to repel night attacks. During our first night attack the Russians showed nine searchlights and frustrated the attacks, but clearly gave us the location of the fleet, which brought success later.

THE REAL QUESTION.
The real question of disease is "Can I be cured?" If you or anyone dear to you is losing strength, flesh, energy and vitality, if you are wise you will not spend time trying to figure out just what name to call the disease by.
It is almost impossible to draw the line where debility and weakness merge into consumption. Your trouble may not be consumption to-day, but you don't know what it may become to-morrow. Hundreds of people have been restored to robust health by Dr. Pierce's marvelous "Golden Medical Discovery" after reputable physicians had pronounced them consumptive beyond hope.

Were they in consumption? Nobody can ever know. The important point is that they were hopelessly ill but this matchless "Discovery" restored and saved them.
"I was not able to do hardly any work at all," says Mrs. Jennie Diagman, of Vandemere, Tuscarora Co., Mich., in a most interesting letter to Dr. Pierce. "I had pain in my left side and back, and had no appetite all the time. I tried your medicine and it helped me. Last spring I had a bad cough; I was so bad I had to be in bed all the time.
"My husband thought I had consumption. He wanted me to get a doctor, but I told him if it was consumption they could not help me. We thought we would try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and before I had taken one bottle the cough was stopped, and I have had no more of it to remember. Your medicine is the best I have taken."
Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce. He will send you good, fatherly, professional advice, in a plain sealed envelope, absolutely free. His nearly 40 years experience as chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo, N. Y., has made him an expert in chronic diseases.
Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Receipts of live stock at the city market since last Tuesday, as reported by the railways, were 130 carloads, composed of 1761 cattle, 2815 hogs, 281 sheep ad lambs and 360 calves and 2 horses.

Prices ranged from $5 to $5.70, the latter price being reported for one or two loads of prime cattle, the bulk selling at $5.40 to $5.60 per cwt.; bulls sold at $3.75 to $4.25 per cwt.

Prices for a few picked lots of prime cattle reached $5.80 per cwt.; and one choice heifer, 1200 lbs., good enough to export, reached $5.90; best loads of butchers' sold at $5 to $5.15; medium at $4.75 to $5 per cwt.; cows at $3.75 to $4.50 per cwt.

The demand for short-keep feeders, while good, is not nearly as great as it has been, as drovers are easier in sympathy with other classes of cattle. Choice loads of short-keep feeders, 1150 to 1200 lbs. each, sold at $5.10 to $5.25 per cwt.; medium at 35 to $5.10; 900 to 1000-lb. feeders, $4.25 to $4.75; stockers, $3.90 to $3.85; stock calves, select lots, $3.90 to $4; common, $2.75 to $3.

About 25 or 30 milch cows and springers met a fair market, when quality, which was common to medium for the bulk, is considered. Prices ranged from $35 to $55, the bulk selling at $40 to $45 each.

The deliveries were large, and all of fair to good quality were readily bought up at firm prices, which are better than for years at this season. Prices ranged from $2 to $12 each, or $3.80 to $6 per cwt. Choice calves would bring $6.50 and prime calves $7.

Export ewes, $4.80 to $5; export bucks, $3.50 to $4; spring lambs, $6 to $6.50 each.

Deliveries have been unchanged at $6.50 for selects and $6.25 for lights and fats; sows at $3.50 to $4.50; stags, $2.50 to $3 per cwt.; all fed and watered.

Accused of Manslaughter.

Orillia, June 2.—Samuel Symington of Atherly was yesterday committed to stand trial at the fall Assizes in Barrie on the charge of manslaughter. On April 26, Symington, while intoxicated, gave a young lad, Russell Penley, a bottle of whiskey, from which the youth drank freely, resulting in his death shortly afterwards. The warrant was issued at the instance of the father of the dead boy. Symington is out on $3,200 bail.

Adam Lloyd Arrested.

Belleville, June 2.—Constable Duffy, after considerable search, yesterday morning arrested Adam Lloyd, who is charged with the murder of his aged wife in January last, and in the afternoon the old man, who is 73 years of age, was lodged in the County Jail, a warrant of remand until Monday next being made out by Magistrate Flint. The aged prisoner refuses to talk about his case, but seems to feel his position very keenly.

GREAT LIBERAL RALLY.

Addresses at London by Sir William Mulock and Hon. C. S. Hyman.

London, Ont., June 2.—Several thousands of people gathered in Jubilee Rink last night, and for over three hours listened with intense interest to spirited and excellent addresses delivered in the interests of Hon. C. S. Hyman, the Liberal candidate in the forthcoming bye-election. Sir William Mulock, the candidate and Mr. Walter Scott, M. P. for East Assiniboia, were the speakers of the evening, and the enthusiasm that greeted them all was frequent, hearty and prolonged. From every point of view the meeting was a pronounced success. The attendance, in spite of a heavy thunder and rain storm, which broke over the city just before 8 o'clock, was such as to please the most enthusiastic party man; the crowd was quick to note and appreciate the many telling points of the arguments with which every speaker illuminated the issues of the day and met the fictitious contentions of the Conservative campaigners.

Conservative Rumors Dispelled.

Woodstock, June 12.—The Conservative rumors regarding the alleged intention of Mr. George Smith, Liberal candidate for North Oxford, to go against the Government on the educational clauses of the autonomy bills are still circulated; though even those responsible for them know them to be false. Yesterday Mr. Smith gave the rumors a quietus by issuing a comprehensive address supporting the Government.

The rumored intention of an Independent Liberal candidate's contesting the riding has been dispelled. The fight will be a straight party contest, with every prospect of a great Liberal victory.

SUFFERS TERRIBLE AGONY.

Square Yard of Skin Torn From a Young Man's Side.

Winnipeg, June 2.—With a square yard of skin torn from his right side, extending from the armpits down, laying bare the muscles at the back of the shoulder and part of the chest, John Wilson, 25 years old, who boarded at Louise Bridge, was brought to St. Boniface Hospital yesterday, suffering terrible agony.

He had been employed in the Alsip Brick Works, and had his clothing caught in the gearing of one of the machines used in the making of brick, being dragged along the traveling chain till his right side was close to the machinery. The man retained consciousness, but suffered severely. He may not recover.

HALF CENTURY OF CONNUBIAL HAPPINESS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham, of Lakefield, To-day Celebrate Their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary---Two of the Most Prominent and Influential Residents of the Northern Village are To-day Receiving Congratulations of Their Friends---Were Formerly Residents of Peterborough, Where Mr. Graham Led Presbyterian Choir---A Successful Business Man---Public Spirited Citizen.

Special to the Examiner.

Lakefield, June, 2nd. — To-day, Mr and Mrs. Robert Graham, two of Lakefield's best known and most highly esteemed residents, are celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day, having been united in the bonds of matrimony on 1June 2nd, 1855, in Cromie, Perthshire, Scotland, and on the occasion of this very happy celebration, they are receiving the heartiest congratulations of the large circle of friends, which, during the years of their residence in the village and county, they have made.

A Popular Couple.

Coming to Lakefield in the year 1864, Mr. Graham has, during the intervening years, become very well known and universally respected by all with whom in his extensive business transactions, he has been associated, and the congratulations extended to Mr. and Mrs. Graham on this occasion, are not mere empty words, but are the expressions of the most sincere good wishes on the part of their very many friends.

Two years after their marriage, or in the year 1857, Mr. and Mrs. Graham, then a young couple, came to Canada, to try their fortunes in the newer part of the Empire. They settled in Keene, where they lived for a short time. It was not long before Mr. Graham's musical ability, which he has long been known to possess, attracted the attention of the people of Peterborough, and, when the new St. Paul's church was completed, or in the same year in which he left the home land, he was asked to accept the leadership of the choir, in succession to the late Alex. Stewart, who for many years was precentor in the old Presbyterian church, then known as the "Old Kirk."

In Business in Peterborough.

Upon his removal to Peterborough Mr. Graham engaged in the stationery business, forming a partnership with Mr. Thomas Menzies, who has since removed to the Western States. During the seven years in which they lived in Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Graham formed a wide circle of friends, and these friendships have never been broken, but, on the contrary, the passing years have strengthened and deepened those ties of affection, and to-day there are very many in Peterborough who will join with their friends in other places in wishing them many happy returns of the day which they are celebrating so pleasantly.

In 1864, seven years after their arrival in Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Graham removed to Lakefield, where the former opened a store, which has steadily increased in size, and the business has grown to its present satisfactory proportions, and is now known in Lakefield, as well as in other parts of the county, as that of Messrs. Robert Graham & Son's departmental store.

Mrs. Graham, whose maiden name was Jessie Menzies, was born in Cromie, Scotland, in 1831, Mr. Graham being a native of the same village, where he was born in 1833. During her residence in Lakefield, Mrs. Graham, by her generosity and willingness to lend a helping hand in time of trouble, has won for herself many warm friends. She has always taken a deep and sympathetic interest in the work of the Presbyterian church here, and to her efforts, always cheerfully expended, the church owes a great deal. In all philanthropic enterprises she has been foremost in the work, and was also prominently identified with the work of the Woman's Institute, in which she took a deep interest.

A Public Spirited Man.

While Mr. Graham has been actively engaged in business and in it has been successful, he has also found time to devote energy and time to other pursuits, and has always been looked upon as one of the public spirited men of the village, which reputation he has well deserved. Besides being leader of the Presbyterian choir, and occupying the position of elder in the same church, he was a member of the Lakefield Board of Health, and was prominent in fraternal societies, being a member of the Masons, Foresters and other orders.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham have five children living, viz.:—William M., of Lakefield, who is in business with his father; James, of Pasadena, Cal., where he occupies the position of Superintendent of Public Schools, Robert and Charles, of Lakefield, and the one daughter, Mrs. Hucholl, of Carbery, Manitoba.

This afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Graham are holding a reception at their beautiful Lakefield home, where their friends are calling upon them to offer congratulations. They are being assisted in the reception by Mrs. (Hon.) J. R. Stratton, of Peterborough and Miss Tanner, of this village.

The sincere wish of their many friends here is that they may be spared to see yet many returns of their bridal day.

Harry Lloyd Met With Accident at C. G. E. Works.

Yesterday afternoon Harry Lloyd, a son of Mr. Wm. J. Lloyd, of 144 Rubidge street, met with a serious accident at the C.G.E. He was throwing a switch connecting wires which carried a high voltage, when a flash burned his right hand severely, as well as his face, which, however, was but slightly burned.

His injuries were attended to by Dr. Young, and, while they will be painful, it is not anticipated that they will prove serious.

IZUMRUD WAS BLOWN UP.

How Capt. Baron Fersen Cheated the Japs of Their Prey.

St. Petersburg, June 2.—Official reports bearing on the naval battle are beginning to be received by the Emperor and Grand Duke Alexis, the high admiral, the most important of these reports revealing the fate of the cruiser Izumrud, being a telegram from her captain, Baron Fersen, dated June 1. Baron Fersen says:

"I was cut off from the squadron, and finding it impossible to rejoin it, resolved to make for Vladivostock. I put on full speed, and because of the enemy's cruisers, I subsequently altered my course for Vladimir Bay, where I arrived on the night of May 29.

"At 1.30 o'clock next morning, in pitch darkness, the Izumrud ran full on a reef at the entrance to the bay. Having only 10 tons of coal, and seeing that it would be impossible to again float my vessel, I ordered the crew ashore and blew up the Izumrud to prevent her falling into the hands of the enemy. Ten of my sailors were wounded in the battle, but the officers and the rest of the crew are all safe."

Bravi's Eventful Flight.

Lieut. Dournovo, son of Admiral Dournovo, a member of the Council of the Empire, commander of the torpedo boat destroyer Bravi, has telegraphed from Vladivostock to Grand Duke Alexis, after the separation of his destroyer from the fleet on the evening of May 27 he saved 175 officers and men of the battleship Oslibia. On the night of May 29 a steam pipe burst, reducing the speed to five miles an hour. Lacking coal, all the wooden parts of the destroyer were burned for fuel before she reached Vladivostock.

News For Creditors.

Toronto, June 2.—Creditors of the Elgin Loan are to get 100 cents on the dollar. Creditors of the Atlas Loan will get 40 cents. Such is the wind up of the two St. Thomas companies whose failure shook Ontario two years ago.

Electricians on Strike.

Winnipeg, June 2.—The strike of electricians has assumed an acute stage, and close on a hundred workmen are out.

Baby Eczema.

"My daughter was afflicted with eczema, from the time when she was three weeks old. Her entire face and head were raw, and she was in awful distress. When the doctors failed we began the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, which has entirely cured her, and she has not had the least symptom of the trouble since." — Mr. Patrick Sullivan, Welland avenue, St. Catharines, Ont.

NATIONAL HOTEL IS ENTIRELY REMODELLED

This Popular Hostelry, Under the Proprietorship of Mr. J. A. Lawless, Has Been Completely Refitted and is Now a Model of Comfort---All the Work Done by Local Mechanics and Goods Supplied by Local Merchants---A High Tribute to Skill and Enterprise of Peterborough Artisans and Business Men.

Those who have been in the National Hotel recently have doubtless noticed that it presented a very different appearance from that with which Peterborough people have grown accustomed to in that well-known hostelry, and, a brief reference to the improvements, which, under the proprietorship of Mr. J. A. Lawless, have been effected, will be of interest. It will be remembered that about five months ago Mr. Lawless came from Toronto purchasing the good will of the business from the former proprietor, Mr. W. H. Knapp, and during that period he has made a great many improvements and alterations to his building until now it compares very favourably with any hotel in the province outside of those of the larger cities.

Many Improvements.

The improvements have been in progress since January, of this year and were undertaken almost immediately after Mr. Lawless took charge of the hotel. They are now practically completed, and the proprietor may look with pardonable pride upon the house which he is the head of. In a number of respects, Mr. Lawless has set an example which other Peterborough persons who contemplate building, might very well emulate, and one of these is the fact that every dollar of the several thousand, which he has expended in prosecuting the work has been spent through the merchants and mechanics of Peterborough, with the one exception that the tile flooring in the rotunda, while purchased through a local firm, was laid by mechanics from another city, but this was only because of the necessity for such a course, since there are no men in Peterborough who make a business of doing this work. But, outside of this, the entire work was done by local artizans, and the manner in which it has been carried out is a tribute to the efficiency and skill of the local men, for, Mr. Lawless says that while he has had work of a similar character done in other cities, in no place has it been executed in a more satisfactory manner than here, and he is authority for the statement that one wishing to build need not go out of town to procure either labour or material.

A Complete Change.

The house has been thoroughly renovated, and remodelled, and a description of all the improvements would occupy an amount of space, the use of which is prohibited, and for this reason only a brief outline is attempted.

Upon entering the hotel, one is at once impressed with the large, well lighted and elegantly appointed rotunda, with a tile floor of extremely appropriate design. The front has been completely changed, and the entrance is now through wide double doors of solid oak frames with heavy bevelled plate glass, the large windows being of the same material, while above them and the doors are pretty leaded light transoms. The rotunda, which is said to be the largest between Ottawa and Toronto, is fitted up with weathered oak chairs and settees with solid leather trimmings.

Off the main rotunda are inviting reading rooms, and at the rear a cloak room, the conveniences of which the patrons are already showing their appreciation of.

Every Room Papered.

Upstairs the transformation has almost been complete if that were possible, and every room has been thoroughly cleaned and newly papered, every square inch of the walls having been gone over in the operation. The floors of all the halls and those of many of the rooms have been stained. In papering rooms excellent taste has been displayed, and they have been covered in suites of two rooms alike.

Two reception rooms on the second floor also fitted up in leather furniture, add to the comfort of the guests. A large number of the rooms on this floor are fitted up in what is known as upper third style, which is very becoming and appropriate.

The sample rooms are large and airy and easy of access. The heating system has been thoroughly modernized and is now as near perfect as it is possible to make it. All the rooms are now as warm in winter as is necessary for perfect comfort. The improvements, however, have not been confined to those parts of the building which are used by the public, but the kitchen also has been visited in the general round of changes, and it has been brought up to a thoroughly modern kichen, and the equipment is now such that the staff is able to serve the guests of the hotel in first class style.

Local Merchants Supply Goods.

To insure the improvements being strictly modern, Mr. Lawless took the precaution, through the local dealer, through whom the goods were purchased, to have the wall paper traveller come here in January, with his 1905 patterns, and from them the selections which now grace the walls, were made, so that he had the assurance that everything was strictly up to the minute, as far as the latest styles were concerned.

Even the 'bus, which carries the guests to the station, has not been neglected in the campaign of improvement, and it has been thoroughly repainted, and with the pair of dappled grey horses, presents a prosperous appearance.

In speaking to the Examiner in reference to the improvements, Mr. Lawless very modestly disclaimed the credit for the changes which had been effected, and said that without the workmen here to carry out his plans, the transformation which had been made, would have been impossible, and he made special reference to the thoroughly workmanlike manner in which the contracts had been carried out.

Expert Workmen.

The Examiner is always glad to recognize work well done, by local men, and in this connection no apology is made for giving credit to the men who have so creditably done this work. Messrs. Haggart and Bradburn were the contractors for the carpenter work, which, as is usual with all the work undertaken by that firm, was well carried out.

The wall paper, which has occasioned many favourable comments, was purchased from Messrs. A. H. Stratton & Co., and was put on by Mr. Archie Morton. The painting was also done by Mr. Morton, and is a distinct credit to that gentleman. The artistic decorations on the panelled ceilings, which have been most favourably commented upon by a number of art critics, was also the work of Mr. Morton.

The furniture was purchased from Messrs. E. B. Clegg & Co., and Mr. Lawless states that to be able to purchase such furniture in Peterborough, was a pleasant surprise, since he had thought that it would have been necessary to have gone out of the town for it. The electric light fixtures were bought from Messrs. Alexander & Miller, and the latter personally superintended the installation of them. The plastering work was done by Mr. John Henry, who placed the caps on the columns in the rotunda. All the hardware supplies and plate glass were bought from the Kingan Hardware Company and to them Mr. Lawless ascribes considerable praise for the interest taken in the work. The plumbing work, which was carried out in a most workmanlike manner, by Mr. Geo. Hutchinson, who spent a great deal of time in the prosecution of the work, which, now that it is completed, is highly satisfactory.

To all these men and firms, Mr. Lawless states that he wishes credit given, and that they deserve it is amply evidenced by the splendid character of their work.

Other Improvements.

The proprietor has recently decided upon still further improvements, one of which is the enlargement of the dining room, and for this purpose has secured the two stores adjoining to the west, and the parties believe these will be opened and the dining room extended in that direction, giving it a greater frontage on Charlotte street. A number of improvements will also be made to the bar, and the work on this will be started almost immediately.

The National now promises to enter upon a new era in its existence, and, under the management of Mr. Lawless, who is a thoroughly practical man, should be very popular, both with the travelling public and the local patrons.

BAND CONCERT SEASON OPENS

A Splendid Programme Was Rendered Last Night.

Many Citizens Enjoyed First 57th Band Concert of the Season.

The 57th Band under the direction of Mr. Rupert Gliddon and by the kind permission of Lt.-Col. Miller and the officers of the regiment gave the first open air concert of the season last night in Victoria Park. Although the atmosphere was not what might be considered typical of a June night, the attendance was very large and the concerts promise to be more popular than ever this season. They will be continued on Friday evenings until the end of July and no doubt will be patronized, by a large number of people.

The playing of the band was fully up to its usual high standard and the programme was a highly enjoyable one. The usual drawback, however, was in evidence, there was the customary class of people who seem to take great delight in making all the noise and creating all the confusion they can on such occasions. This class is not entirely monopolized by the children either, for many of what might be considered of responsible age, are the foremost in making the fine music of the band inaudible to those who come prepared to enjoy it.

Last evening's programme while composed for the most part of numbers that were not new to the audience, were rendered so brilliantly that they lost none of the effect. The new numbers last night were Alexander's stirring march "From Tropic to Tropic," which seems destined to be popular, and the sacred selection "A Few More Years." Both were well rendered and were received with applause.

The splendid overture, "Morning Noon and Night in Vienna" by Suppe is a fine number and its rendition by the band left nothing to be desired.

The popular election "Reminiscences of Scotland" arranged by Godfrey, was effectually rendered.

Lesenberg's paraphase "On the Deep Cellar," was one of the finest selections of the evening.

What might be termed the lighter part of the programme, were Prior's "Kansas Two Step," the selection "Princess Chic" and the popular march "Uncle Sammy."

"Britonsloom" is a serge made exclusively for Semi-ready by England's greatest serge maker

The best serge maker in England makes several qualities of serge.

His name on a piece of serge means mighty good quality, but it doesn't necessarily mean his best.

Our cloth experts explained to the manufacturer what we wanted in a serge. "That is better than anything I am turning out," he said, "but I can do it."

"Britonsloom" serge is the result.

We control the output, so you can get this extra quality serge only in Semi-ready suits.

"Britonsloom" serge is absolutely fast in color, black or blue—and it is a wonder for wear.

We make this serge into single and double-breasted sack suits of the latest style. Price $20.

THE ORDER FOR DEPORTATION

Two Pere Marquette Railway Officials Arrested.

BACK TO THE UNITED STATES

Col. Sherwood of Ottawa, Commissioner of Dominion Police, Takes Steps to Send Trainmaster Cain and Chief Dispatcher Gilhula Home to Their Own Country—Habeas Corpus Applied For.

St. Thomas, June 2.—Col. Sherwood of Ottawa, Commissioner of Dominion Police, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon with warrants for the arrest and deportation of Everett E. Cain, trainmaster, and James R. Gilhula, chief despatcher of the Pere Marquette, found guilty by Judge Winchester of violation of the alien labor law.

Mr. J. A. Robinson, solicitor for the Pere Marquette officials, leaves in the morning for Ottawa to apply for a writ of habeas corpus, which will be returnable next week.

The two officials are in Col. Sherwood's charge, but it is not likely that any steps towards their deportation will be taken until the result of the habeas corpus application is known.

A HYMAN RALLY.

Hearty Applause and Rousing Cheers Greet the New Minister of Public Works at West London.

London, Ont., June 2.—West London accorded Hon. Mr. Hyman a most enthusiastic reception at a meeting held in his interests in Collins' Hall last night. On his appearance in the hall, which was crowded, Mr. Hyman was greeted with hearty applause and rousing cheers. The demonstration was repeated when he rose to address the meeting, again when he had concluded his remarks, and once more as the meeting closed. This flattering reception in a part of the city which at the last election gave a majority of forty-one against him was naturally very gratifying to Mr. Hyman and his supporters, and may be taken as a sure indication that West London on June 12th will support the Minister of Public Works. The Conservatives realize this, and are making great efforts to hold the district.

Western Men at Thamesford.

Thamesford, June 2.—Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, and Mr. Talbot, M. P. for Strathcona, addressed a crowded meeting here last night in the interests of Mr. George Smith, Liberal candidate in North Oxford. Both speakers confined themselves solely to the issue raised by the election cases, and their comprehensive addresses were listened to with keen interest.

Mr. Geo. Smith's Meeting.

Woodstock, June 2.—Mr. Geo. Smith, the Liberal candidate, opened his campaign with a rousing meeting at Richwood last night. Mr. J. G. Turriff, M. P., for East Assiniboia, and Mr. J. Smith were the speakers. There was a good turnout of voters.

Mr. Bennett of Calgary addressed a well-attended meeting in the interests of Mr. Wallace in the Opera House here last night. His speech was along the same lines as that delivered at London on Tuesday night. Dr. Watford also spoke.

THE BALLOT'S OBJECT.

To Let Electors Vote, Not to Maintain Secrecy.

Ottawa, June 2.—The Wentworth election case, the appeal of the Liberal candidate, W. O. Seeley, was called in the Supreme Court yesterday.

Mr. Aylesworth, in opening the case, said that both sides were agreed as to the facts. It was a mere question of law. The question was whether the interesting "numbered" ballots at the poll referred to should or should not be counted. In the opinion of Mr. Aylesworth they might be counted, the object of the ballot being primarily to enable the elector to record his vote, secrecy being a minor consideration. The court reserved judgment.

A CRUSHING DEFEAT.

Liberal Victory in a Conservative Stronghold in England.

London, June 2.—The bye-election in the Whitby division of the north riding of Yorkshire Thursday, following the succession of Ernest W. Beckett to the Grantthorpe peerage owing to the death of his uncle (Baron Grantthorpe), April 29, resulted in the election of a Liberal, Noel Buxton, by a majority of 445 over Gervase Beckett, Unionist, brother of the late member for Whitby. This was a crushing defeat for the Government, as the election was fought mainly on the fiscal question, and in view of the fact that Whitby had been a Conservative stronghold for twenty years.

BIG WAR OFFICE SCANDAL.

British Officers Bought South African Stores Below Value.

London, June 3.—According to The Daily Mirror, the report of a War Office committee on the improper disposal of military stores at the conclusion of the South African war reveals a huge scandal.

The report, the paper says, censures a number of officers whose names are given, and who are alleged to have worked in collusion with contractors. The latter bought stores at absurdly low prices and afterwards resold them to the military authorities at enormous profits, entailing a loss to the Government of $5,000,000.

GERMANS CHEER FRENCHMAN.

Berlin Provides Unique Demonstration to Royal Wedding Delegate.

Berlin, June 2.—The French delegates to the wedding of Crown Prince Frederick William, Gen. de Lacroix, Francois Arago and Rear Admiral de Marolles, arrived here yesterday and were cheered by a considerable crowd.

This probably was the first time in a generation that Frenchmen have been cheered in the streets of Berlin.

The Emperor called on them later, and also called on Grand Duke Michael of Russia, who arrived in Berlin yesterday.

500 KILLED; 200 INJURED.

Further Details of Albanian Earthquake May Add Victims.

Cetinje, Montenegro, June 2.—Later details of the earthquake from Scutari, Albania, show that 500 persons were killed and 200 injured and that the town has been completely devastated. There were two shocks. The inhabitants are now living in the open.

It is feared that the list of casualties will be considerably increased.

HOME.

Whether in the Arctic circle
Or on India's coral strands,
Where the winds are perfume laden
And warm waves caress the sands,
Whether eastward, whether westward,
When the daylight fades to gleam,
Where a baby runs to meet you
And to kiss you, that is home.

Where a baby runs to meet you—
That is all there is to life;
All there is at all worth winning,
Worth the striving and the strife.
Two wee dimpled arms stretched to you,
Two expectant eyes that wait.
It is home for you wherever
There's a baby at the gate.

It is home—sweet home—forever,
Where the lilts of laughter run
Of a tousled headed baby
Sitting playing in the sun.
It is home where every nightime
As the evening shadows creep
A wee, nightrobed figure whispers,
"Now, I lay me down to sleep."

RANK OF WORLD'S NAVIES.

Sunday's Battle Drops Russia From Third to Seventh Place.

New York, June 3.—Figures prepared in Washington for The New York Times by the Naval Intelligence Bureau of the Navy Department, under direction of Capt. Seaton Schroeder, its chief, show that as a result of the battle just fought and its predecessors, Russia has dropped from third to seventh place in naval power and Japan has risen from seventh to sixth. The fighting has put the United States up from fifth to fourth place and Germany from fourth to third.

The naval powers as they ranked prior to the battle of the Sea of Japan and as they rank now are as follows:—

Before.	After.
Great Britain	Great Britain
France	France
Russia	Germany
Germany	United States
United States	Italy
Italy	Japan
Japan	Russia
Austria	Austria

Austria is the only power whose rank is unaffected by the battle. Italy moves from the sixth place to fifth.

Great Britain's tonnage is 1,595,871, France's 603,721, Germany's 441,349, United States 316,523, Italy's 254,519, Japan's 252,661, Russia's (which formerly was 447,315) is now 227,343, Austria comes last, with 212,396.

This does not include vessels over twenty years old, gunboats and other vessels of less than 1,000 tons, torpedo craft of less than 90 tons, transports, colliers, repair ships, torpedo depot ships, converted merchant vessels, or yachts. Practically all that Russia has left is in the Black Sea fleet. Of her 38 battleships only 7 remain: of her 11 coast defence vessels, including smaller battleships and monitors, only 7; of her 7 armored cruisers, 3; of her 30 other cruisers, 15; of her 41 torpedo boat destroyers, 33; of her 85 torpedo boats, 32.

BULGARIANS AND SERVIANS.

Casualties on Both Sides Number 32—Bulgarian Leader Caught.

Vienna, June 3.—It is reported that a serious engagement has taken place between Servian and Bulgarian bands near Kitshewo, Macedonia. Twenty Bulgarians and 12 Servians were killed and many of each side wounded. The Servians captured the Bulgarian leader, who is alleged to be a captain in the Bulgarian army.

Servia On a High Horse.

Constantinople, June 3.—Servia has notified Turkey that she will recall her Minister from Constantinople unless satisfaction is given by June 12 for the recent violation of the Servian Consulate at Monastir. It appears that the local police searched the Consulate and seized certain papers. Servia demands the dismissal and further punishment of the chief of police, and expression of regret.

SUSPECT THE HUSBAND.

Inquest Into Mrs. Hamel's Death at Berlin Adjourned.

Berlin, June 3.—The inquest on the body of Mrs. Henry Hamel was further adjourned till next Thursday, owing to the analysis of the stomach from Prof. Ellis of Toronto.

The facts of the case in possession of the police up to now are that paris green was found on the floor of the bedroom and in the pail in which the woman vomited, and also that a large package of this poison with evidence of having recently been opened was found in the garret, notwithstanding that Hamel denied to the police and to Coroner Arnot that there was any paris green in the house.

There are stories that Hamel did not treat his wife any too well. As he and his wife were the only persons in the house the police have not much to work on.

E. F. CLARKE MEMORIAL.

The Testimonial Fund Closes With the Sum of $20,500.

Toronto, June 3.—The E. F. Clarke memorial fund was in accordance with the decision of the committee in charge, officially closed on Thursday night. The result has been of a most gratifying nature.

Mr. Starr said last night that the testimonial had fully realised the expectations of the committee. The fund at the present time, said Mr. Starr, totals about $20,500, which will be increased to fully $21,000 when the returns are all in. The most pleasing feature in connection with the matter, said Mr. Starr, is contained in the nature of the offerings. In almost all matters of this kind the total amount is generally contributed by the wealthy few as against the masses. Beyond a few large contributions, the present fund is made up of small sums ranging from $1 up to $25. No better evidence of the warm spot the late lamented Mr. Clarke occupied in the hearts of the people could be found.

Mr. Osler, when spoken to last night, said: "The fund is closed, and the committee cannot but feel very grateful for the cordial reception to the appeal from all parts of the Province. No more worthy object was every sought to be attained, and it has fully realised our expectation. Many contributions were received from those who, while they had removed from the city and Province, were desirous of honoring in some way the memory of this great and good man. We will," said Mr. Osler, "shortly issue a statement regarding the fund."

AFGHANISTAN AND BRITAIN.

Lord Lansdowne Says Present Position is Quite Desirable.

London, June 3.—In the House of Lords yesterday Lord Newton (Conservative), asked for further information concerning the recent mission to Afghanistan, headed by Louis Dane, Secretary for Foreign Affairs of the Indian Government, and criticised the treaty, which he said placed Great Britain in a difficult position, because the Ameer at any time might bring on a crisis.

Foreign Secretary Lansdowne said the mission had achieved the main object for which it had been despatched Great Britain had assumed the well-defined liability to go to the Ameer's assistance in the event of an unprovoked attack upon Afghanistan, and the foreign relations of Afghanistan were under British guidance and control.

NO REASON YOU SHOULD GIVE UP

Because Your Indigestion Has Become Chronic—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Will Cure It Just the Same.

If your Indigestion has turned to Dyspepsia and become chronic that is no reason you should despair. Others just as bad as you have been cured by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. Take the case of Mrs. James Bradley, of Smith's Cove, Digby Co., N. S. Here's what she says about it herself:—

"I had Dyspepsia for nine years. I tried the best doctors in the place and never found relief. I had to starve myself from eating. No tongue can tell what I suffered.

"I bought six boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and before I had finished taking them I could eat most anything and sleep comfortably.

There is no need to comment on a statement like this. It's true. What was done for Mrs. Bradley has been done for thousands of others. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will do it for you.

EXPLORE NORTHERN ONTARIO.

Parties Are To Be Sent Out Into Unknown Sections.

Toronto, June 3.—Under the directions of Hon. Mr. Foy, the Bureau of Mines has made arrangements for carrying on during the present season a systematic exploration of certain portions of New Ontario, including both mineral-bearing regions and districts believed to be more agricultural in their character.

Parties are being sent out as follows: (1) Into the Michipicoton Mining Division, to complete the investigation of the iron ranges, the party to be in charge of Dr. A. P. Coleman, who has already worked over part of the field; (2) into the region west and northwest of Lake Abitibi, where a considerable section of the great clay belt will this season be subdivided into townships and farm lots, the party to be in charge of H. L. Kerr of Toronto University, geologist, assisted by Archibald Henderson, late of the Ontario Agricultural College, as agricultural expert; (3) into the district near Chapleau Station, on the Canadian Pacific Railway, where a somewhat extensive area of good land is to be surveyed into farm lots, and in the vicinity of which place iron ores are known to exist, Benjamin Tott of Newboro being in charge of the bureau's work; and (4) into the Loon Lake iron region in and near the Township of McGregor, east of Port Arthur, where L. P. Silver will examine and report upon the iron ore deposits, nine ores and other minerals of the locality.

Prof. W. G. Miller, Provincial geologist, will continue the examination of the rich silver-cobalt area on the T. & H. O. Railway, which has attracted so much attention, and will also institute a thorough enquiry into the clay and shale resources of the Province, being assisted in the latter work by M. B. Baker of Queen's University, Kingston, and also by E. T. Corkill, inspector of mines. In addition the bureau has made special provision for procuring particulars regarding the important developments now going on in the petroleum and natural gas area of Southwestern Ontario.

A TORONTO MAN TRIES

SOMETHING NEW AND IS DELIGHTED. FEELS LIKE A BOY.

Mr. M. N. Dafoe

Mr. M. N. Dafoe—Manager The Dustless Brush Co., 29 Colborne St., Toronto, is telling his friends how he found health after years of illness and pain. He says:

"I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia for many years. I have been treated by local doctors and have taken nearly all the advertised remedies with only temporary relief, if any at all, but since using Anti-Pill I can eat anything the same as when a boy. I have been taking one Anti-Pill at bedtime for the past three months, and find they regulate both stomach and bowels. My old time vigor has returned, so that my spirits are buoyant and temper normal. As a result of this unhoped for experience I am in duty bound to give all credit to this wonderful remedy, Anti-Pill."

THE RETORT COURTEOUS.

Repartee Used As a Weapon Offensive and Defensive.

"That is the retort courteous," said the fool in the forest, when he qualified the quip and crank to the lie direct. The man who can accomplish the retort courteous gives splendidly the lie direct to many an awkward accusation, and, if his wit be bitter, so much the more deadly his point.

In the time of Charles II. of England, in an age of wits, the grand master of the art of retort was the crippled first Earl of Shaftesbury. "Shaftesbury," said the King to him one day, "I believe that thou art the wickedest dog in all my dominions." "Of a subject, sire, I believe I am," was the reply. While speaking against the test bill in the House of Lords, the Earl overheard an indolent churchman say, "I wonder when he will have done preaching." The orator whispered loud enough to be heard by all, "When I am made a bishop, my lord."

Dr. Garth, a witty physician of the Court of Queen Anne, had prescribed a nauseous dose for the great warrior, the Duke of Marlborough. When the Duke objected to following the directions the sharp-tongued Duchess Sarah broke in by saying, "I'll be hanged if it does not cure you." "There, my lord," interposed Garth, "you had better swallow it; you will gain either way."

Repartee has ever flashed brilliantly from the bench. Lord Mansfield, the famous English judge of the second half of the eighteenth century, listened to an argument of the insolently proud Sir Fletcher Norton upon a case involving certain manorial rights. "My lord," said Norton, "I can instance the point in person. Now, I have myself two little manors." "We are well aware of that," said the judge, smiling kindly.

"Do you see anything ridiculous in my wig?" said a judge to the famous Irish barrister, John Curran. "Nothing but the head," flew back the retort.

Although the law seems to be especially conducive to skill in fencing with words, the Church has supplied a large quota of men who delighted in the give-and-take of verbal warfare. The venerable Dr. Thomas Fuller, author of "The Worthies of England," however, met his match once when he propounded the following question to a certain Dr. Sparrowhawk: "Pray, what is the difference between a sparrowhawk and an owl?" "Why," came the response, "there is a great difference. An owl is fuller in the head, fuller in the body, and fuller all over."

The eloquent Baptist divine, Robert Hall, had a caustic wit. A flippant young woman having broken to his reverend ear allusion to his sermon, Miss Steel, by saying, "Ah, sir, if we had but polished steel here, we might secure some of your striking hits"—"Madam," he replied, "make yourself more easy; if you are not polished steel, you are at least polished brass."

"What are you going to do in life?" asked Cardinal Manning of a pert undergraduate at Oxford. "Oh, I'm going to take holy orders," was the airy response. "Take care you get them, my son," came from the prelate.

Horne Tooke is credited with this daring retort to George III., who had asked him whether he played cards: "Your Majesty, I cannot tell a king from a knave."

A DICKENS BALL.

Descendants of the Novelist Will Appear in Costume.

A group of descendants of Charles Dickens will represent some of the famous novelist's characters at a remarkable Dickens ball, which will be held at the Royal Palace Hotel, Kensington, under the patronage of Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein.

Every one who attends the ball will represent some character from the pages of the famous novels, but chief interest will naturally centre in the party that will be headed by Mrs. Henry Dickens, wife of the eminent K. C., who is the novelist's son.

The party includes nearly a dozen bearers of the famous name, and it is the intention of the novelist's descendants to give the public a realistic portrayal of the chosen characters.

The novelist's grandchildren will represent the chief characters in "The Old Curiosity Shop," and they will include Little Nell, Mrs. Jarley, and the Little Marchioness.

The Dickens family group will dance a Sir Roger de Coverley together.

"One lady, for instance, is bringing a large party to represent the principal characters in 'A Tale of Two Cities.'

"Another party, numbering about thirty, will appear as the chief characters in 'Nicholas Nickleby,' and a third party is taking its costumes from 'Martin Chuzzlewit.'

"The most peculiar character so far is the Fat Boy from 'Pickwick.' There are at least half a dozen Mrs. Gamps, several Sam Wellers and Dolly Vardens, a Mrs. Bardell, and a Micawber.

"One lady will wear the costume of Little Dorrit, the original of whom, by the way, is still alive, and is an old lady of ninety."

Old prints and drawings are serving as fashion plates, and every effort is being made to obtain accurate designs.

West Ham Hospital is to benefit by the Dickens ball.

THE BLIND CARAVAN.

William Wilfrid Campbell has in The March Outlook a poem entitled "The Blind Caravan," which shows much imaginative value and careful and thoughtful execution. The blind caravan is humanity itself, disabled by the doctors of human limitation, and moving forever across the desert of this life; it is led on always by the great souls of the ages, those who have in them something of the Eternal Hope that makes life possible, and whose message is "whispered back, borne on from them to man." The theme is a lofty one, and would have lent itself admirably to elaboration, but Mr. Campbell has treated it simply and effectively, leaving with us the outlines of a vivid and forceful, though somewhat sombre, picture of life. These are the stanzas of the poem:—

I am a slave, both dumb and blind,
Upon a journey dread;
The iron hills lie far behind,
The seas of mist ahead.

Amid a mighty caravan
I toil a sombre track,
The strangest road since time began,
Where no foot turneth back.

Here rosy youth at morning's prime
And weary man at noon
Are crooked shapes at eventime,
Beneath the haggard moon.

Faint echo songs from out the past
Of some lost sunset land
Haunt this grim pageant drifting vast,
Across the trackless sand.

And often for some nightward wind
We stay a space and hark,
Then leave the sunset lands behind
And plunge into the dark.

Somewhere, somewhere, far on in front,
There strides a lonely man
Who in all strength, who bears the brunt,
The battle and the ban.

I know not of his face or form,
His voice or battle-gear,
Or how he fronts the hazarded storm
Beneath the wintry stars;

I know not of his wisdom great
That leads this sightless host
Beyond the barren hills of fate
Unto some kindlier coast.

But often 'mid the eerie black
Through this sad caravan
A strange, sweet thrill is whispered back,
Borne on from man to man.

A strange, glad joy that fills the night
Like some far marriage horn,
Till every beast is filled with light
Of some belated morn.

The way is long, and rough the road,
And bitter the night and dread,
And each poor slave is but a goad
To lash the one ahead.

Evil the foes that lie in wait
To slay us in the pass,
Bloody the slaughter at the gate
And bleak the wild morass;

And I am but a shrivelled thing
Beneath the midnight sky,
A wasted wan remembering
Of days long wandered by.

And yet I lift my sightless face
Toward the eerie light,
And tread the lonely way we trace
Across the haunted night.

LATEST SOCIETY CRAZE

CHAT WITH STRANGEST OF SOCIETY'S SERVANTS.

Strange Revelation of a Fantastic Human Soul—Weird Designs Tattooed Upon the Human Form Divine—Distinguished Clients of the Craze—Lovers' Fancies in Cuticle—Practical Uses of Tattooing Given.

It was almost by accident that I came across this strange servant of society, says a writer in a London newspaper. I happened to catch sight of his name and profession on a brass plate in one of the most aristocratic streets in the west end of London, and a sudden impulse prompted me to have a two-minutes' chat with him about his extraordinary "vocation."

I remember, however, that two minutes lengthened out to two hours—not the least interesting I have spent. The suite of rooms occupied by this "society tattooist," as he calls himself, is up four flights of stairs, and when I tapped at the door it was answered by a godly, bald-headed, clean-shaven young German (though he goes by an English name), who gave me a most expansive smile, and expressed himself in the most polite phrase when I asked him for a little information about his trade—or "art" as he prefers to call it.

I found the man was a real enthusiast. To me tattooing had seemed merely a survival of barbarism. To him it was, as I have said, an art, and he discoursed about it with a fine fervour as a connoisseur might discuss the beauties of some branch of art like wood-carving or enamelling.

Weird Designs.

He showed me with ill-concealed pride a large number of his designs. He had a library of them filling great leather-bound books, and stowed away in portfolios. They were a strange revelation of a fantastic human soul! In fact, it gave me a queer sensation down the spine to think that from the brain-cells beneath that soft bald head beside me, as downy as a new-born baby's, had come such weird and monstrous phantasies in color for the adornment (or the disfigurement) of the human skin.

Th David, for some strange reason, played a prominent part in these pictures. He was in all sorts of attitudes and situations—grinning at a beautiful girl, whispering slyly into the ear of the well-dressed dandy, brandishing his pronged fork at a human heart.

Then there were strange and horrible dream monsters, dragons with fire-breathing nostrils, horrible looking snakes with hissing tongues, birds with women's faces, beasts in the likeness of men, and so on. But all of them were wonderfully, elaborately, and beautifully worked out in color designs, so that one could but admire the skill of the workmanship, however repulsive were the subjects.

Not all the subjects, however, were of this character. Some of them were charming in idea and execution—a peacock with spreading tail, a painted lady butterfly, a cupid with a bow and arrow, a crescent moon with a galaxy of stars. Among other subjects was a very large and miscellaneous assortment of sporting trophies, and objects such as horseshoes and whips, fishing rods and cups, bats and racquets, and all sorts of subjects of sentimental or affectionate interest to naval and military men.

Distinguished Clients.

"Do you mean to say," I said, "that respectable and intelligent men allow themselves to be permanently marked for life with fancy designs like these? I can understand a rough sailor-man putting an anchor on his wrist, but you call yourself a society tattooist. Do you really say that men of the upper classes indulge in this sort of thing?"

I spoke plainly, and for a moment the little German looked a little angry. But the cloud passed from his face, and he said eagerly:

"My dear sir, you have not the slightest idea as to the extent of my patronage. I assure you that some of the greatest and most distinguished Englishmen have sat in this very room day after day, and sometimes week after week, while I have exercised my art upon them. I have dukes of young noblemen on my list, young military and naval men, sporting men of every kind, barristers, actors and men of almost every profession. I will show you letters and photographs, so that you cannot doubt"—and sure enough he pulled open drawers and thrust into my hands portraits of people I was astonished to recognise and autograph letters signed with names that shine brilliantly in English society.

"You see," said the little German, "I may call many of these gentlemen my friends. They write to me affectionate and intimate letters. I could tell you, if I broke my faith, which of course I will not do, many strange and amazing secrets, which I have heard in this room. While gentlemen are sitting under my needle they become communicative, and tell me things about their private lives, sometimes condescend to ask my advice, sometimes even, take my advice.

"You see, I am a man of the world. I have worked my way all over Europe, with nothing but my tattooing needle, my box of colors, and my brains. I have been behind the scenes in many strange phases of society. I have had the strangest adventures. And the strangest thing of all would be if, after having seen all this, I had not at least some worldly wisdom which would be of use to young Englishmen, however high they may prove in society."

"I was under the impression the craze for tattooing had died out," I said.

The little German laughed.

"You call it a craze," he said, "but it is far more than that. It is a natural and admirable desire to adorn one's body with emblems of what is most important to one in life. Thus the sailor likes to see upon his arms or chest an anchor, a coil of rope, a ship in full sail; a military man likes to have his regimental colors indelibly imprinted upon his skin, and so on. Above all, when a man is in love he likes to carve it as it were upon his very heart a confession of faith in the woman of his desire.

"Lovers are my best clients. They come to me every day, with mottoes, allegorical designs, strange fantastic emblems that have some hidden meaning I do not understand, and which they wish me to prick in colors upon their skin.

"I will tell you a funny story. A few years ago a well-known society woman in London, with whom I had had a little business sent to me a gentleman to whom she had just become engaged, and he explained that at her desire he wanted her name tattooed above his heart. I did it satisfactorily, and he went away. Six months later another young man arrived with a letter from Lady B——, and above his heart also I inscribed her name. Eighteen months later a third arrived with the same request. This time I thought it was the last, but last Christmas another victim came to this room from that same lady. I shall, however, get no more clients from the same source, for only last week I read in the papers that Lady B—— is successfully married—and the name of her husband is not amongst the list of men whom I have had the honor of operating upon!"

Among other love fashions in tattooing is the custom of engaged persons having some motto or device inscribed round their fingers in such a way that it is hidden beneath the ring.

"I get the strangest characters here," said the tattooist. "Many of them are foreigners, and they come to have various and curious signs pricked upon their skins, generally above the heart. Of course I have not the ghost of a notion what these signs mean, but there is no doubt that they are the marks of secret societies."

He went on to tell me how tattooing is largely used in the British army and elsewhere for purposes of identification. As he truly said in many cases the body of a dead soldier is often stripped on the battlefield, and if his face is mutilated it is not easy to tell who he was. In many cases during the late South African war, as my informant said, officers were identified only by tattoo marks on their chests and arms.

Another purpose for which tattooing is used for the identification of a man's living personality. For instance one of the clients of this particular tattooist is a commercial man constantly travelling about the country. In many cases it would be necessary for him to produce some evidence as to the fact that he is the person he gives himself out to be. In these cases, however, he merely pulls up his shirt sleeve, and there tattooed in red upon his forearm is his own signature. This is an indisputable guarantee, for no thief would go to the trouble of having another man's name inscribed indelibly upon his body, and in any case, it would be a dangerous clue to the police.

My society tattooist told me many anecdotes concerning his clients, and the strange and fantastic pictures which they had had painted upon their flesh with the sharp little needle. It seemed to me that this fat, good-natured little German was as curious a character as might be found in the great city of London, and his profession an amazing survival of savage instincts as might be discovered in our modern civilisation.

An opportunity for a young man to start business for himself

There are hundreds of young men throughout the country, who have mastered the details of merchandising, and are now dreaming of the time when they can be proprietors—many of them with a few hundred dollars laid by for the purpose.

Nearly every prosperous well rated merchant of to-day, made a beginning in a modest way.

At the very outset such young men as we have in mind—such as are capable, thoroughly in earnest, reliable, and have saved a little money, say enough to fit up a store and pay for part of their stock, can make a connection with our house, and in short order, they can be at the head of an establishment where men can be outfitted with the best of clothing.

The clothing business is an attractive proposition. It is a live one—always something doing.

We shall be pleased to correspond with men who have decided to make a start for themselves in some live town or city, and who can show some tangible evidence of an earnest effort in that direction, with a view to extending the sale of our "Male Attire" brand of high class tailored clothing.

We propose as part of our scheme to give free advertising and promotion.

Tommy Atkins in Time of Peace.

Southeast Dorset is at present overrun with tramps, says The Western Daily News, and it was reported to the Poole Board of Guardians that out of 233 vagrants who had received relief in the house during six weeks, no less than 111 were ex-soldiers, 43 of whom had served in the South African war. The announcement provoked cries of "Shame" on the War Office, and other expressions of indignation. Rev. Norman Bennett said it was a scandalous shame that men, who had been soldiers, and fought in South Africa, should, after they came back, be simply turned adrift on the country. Mr. Budden: What do we give the men who have been to South Africa? The Master: The same as the others. Mr. Budden: Cold water and bread. That's something for fighting for old England. It was decided to make a communication to the War Office on the matter.

A painful story of poverty and starvation was told to the Wareham magistrates a day or two since by an ex-soldier, who was charged with stealing a pair of boots from outside a shop. The man was arrested outside the police station, whilst openly carrying the boots in his hand, and he told the policeman that he had walked past the station four times in the hope of being arrested, as he was unable to obtain work, and was starving. He did not wish to go to the workhouse, as he had never been in such a place. The Bench sympathised with the unfortunate fellow, and bound him over to come up for judgment if called on.

HAPPY DAYS FOR BABY.

The healthy child is a happy child. All the little troubles vanish when it is digesting its food well and is free from childish ailments. The greater part of these ailments arise from stomach and bowel troubles, feverishness, teething and worms. Baby's Own Tablets act like magic in these cases and when children are restless at night they always give sound, refreshing sleep. Mrs. A. LaPage, St. Florence, Que., says: "Baby's Own Tablets had marvellous results in the case of my two months old baby. He was nervous, troubled with colic and badly constipated, but after giving the Tablets he began to improve at once and is now in good health. I also give the Tablets to my three year old boy who was troubled with worms, and they cured them as well. Both children are now the picture of health and I am always praising the Tablets to my friends." You can get Baby's Own Tablets from any druggist or direct by mail at 25 cents a box by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Servant Look Down.

Benjamin Tyrrell, who was formerly known in London as the cab driver claimant to a baronetcy, but who has long since ceased to hold the title, is now petitioning his claim energetically, and has lately issued the manifesto map of ministry of petitions in the King. In his memorial all credit Mr. Tyrrell asserts that Charles and Sarah were issue of the descendants of Sir Thomas Tyrrell, who died in 1785, having become entitled by the year 1764, the title and estate should have passed to the senior descendant in the third line, "Otherwise," says the claimant, "there is no such thing as rule, order, number, law, justice or truth." The petition continues:

"On the contrary, however, a clergyman of Thornton parish church, the Rev. Mr. Cotton, did at that time, and for that same year, 1764, step in at the decease of the second male line; and by dangerous injustice did take possession of the baronet's estates; along with a female descendant of the deceased Tyrrells; and their family descent have since that year continually excluded the rightful heirs, the third male line, from occupying the estates.

"Wherefore your petitioner Benjamin Tyrrell (the direct male heir of that third son, John Tyrrell), doth hereby humbly entreat your Majesty's favor and command, de gratia, for a lawful hearing and inquiry into these things, for in such inquiries to approved or rewarded with undisturbed success, of a truth, other of your Majesty's subjects may quickly follow the same methods of acquiring property in England."

WIDOW BURNING IN INDIA.

Though Practically Stamped Out, Cases Occasionally Yet Occur.

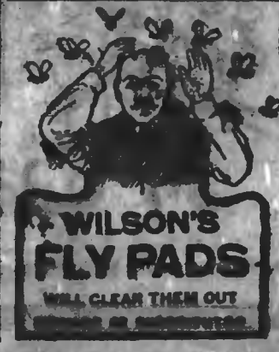
Although for many years suttee—or sati, to use the modern spelling—has been practically stamped out by the action of the Indian Government, cases occasionally occur, says The London Telegraph. Of the most recent, which took place in Behar, an account is given below, showing that the horrible custom is still regarded with approval by many Hindus.

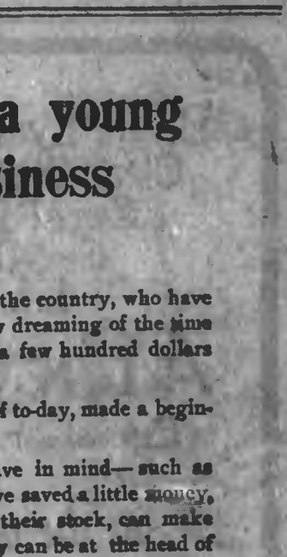
The report of the magistrate, who committed the perpetrators for trial, contains the following passages: "The evidence goes to show that one Chandhet Missir, alias Chatturbhuj Missir, a Brahmin of Sanchari village, having died on October 8 last, arrangements were made for the cremation of his body at the 'Devi Sthan' of that place, on the banks of a small river. A place was cut in the ground in the shape of a St. Andrew's cross, and the funeral pyre was built over it. The body being laid on the pyre, the widow, having bathed in the river and adorned herself as for marriage, took her seat on the pyre, and called on her son, the deposed Jugernath Missir, to do his duty as a devout Hindu. Jugernath lighted some wheat stocks, and, having walked round the pyre three times, applied, according to custom, the fire to the mouth of the deceased. This failed to kindle the pyre, and it is said that he and the four Brahmins accused, viz., Balkisun Missir, Dwarka Missir, Ram Charan Missir and Lachman Tewari—performed the Rumsel, which consisted of the burning of incense and the placing of lighted chips of wood, dipped in ghee, under the pyre until it kindled. By this time a vast crowd had assembled. As the smoke from the incense ascended and the flames reached the widow, she is said to have moved about or writhed, and finally to have stood up and turned toward the setting sun, but immediately fell back on the pyre, apparently overcome by the increasing flames, and amidst cries of 'Sat Ram,' 'Sati Ram,' 'Sati Mai Ki Jai,' the beating of drums, and the clang of cymbals and blowing of the conch or shell, was burnt to ashes with the corpse of her husband. . . . Sewar Chouhidar, the watchman of the village, being present, refused to lay any information before the police, though the necessity of doing so was suggested to him. . . . It is an unfortunate circumstance that the majority of the witnesses are Hindus, and as such the accused have the full benefit of their sympathies. Of the several of the witnesses gave every indication and some of them were distinctly unwilling witnesses."

The case having come to the sessions, the following were convicted and sentenced to the various terms of imprisonment mentioned: Juggernath Missir, five years' rigorous imprisonment; Balkishun Missir, three years; Dwarka, three years; Ram Charon, one and a half years; Sewar Chouhidar, one year; Ganga and Dilchand Chamars (two drummers employed during the burning), nine months each. Several others were found not guilty.

Queen's Ministers Resign.

Christiania, Norway, May 28.—King Oscar of Sweden's council of Ministers declined to sign the law creating a separate consular system for Norway. The Ministers immediately tendered their resignations, but the King refused to accept them. They then declared they must ask for their immediate dismissal, as they could not sign the King's veto.





No Waste of Heat In the "Bison" Hot Water Heater

The "Bison" has two drafts—a center draft to burn quickly, and a side draft to heat quickly.

The side draft carries the heat up a side flue passing up and down, and up again through a center flue, always in contact with water surfaces, trapping the heat and burning the gases. See illustration.

The draft is continuous, syphon-like in action, but always under easy control.

Not a particle of heat is lost—the sections get it all, the water heats quickly—the effect on the radiators is almost instantaneous. The "Bison" has more good heating points than all other heaters combined.

UNFINISHED WORK.

The recent appearance of an unfinished novel by Lord Beaconsfield reminds one of many another writer of fiction who was engaged in writing a story when death came to arrest the hand and to still the busy brain; but it is only in few cases that these pathetic fragments have been allowed to see the light. And one cannot help thinking that if their authors could have any voice in the matter they would shrink from permitting them to go forth to the world incomplete.

When Helen Jackson realized that in the race between her last novel and death the latter would win, she determined that if her story was to be completed by another it should be on her own lines. This is the brave and pathetic letter she wrote to her publisher from her bed of sickness: "I am sorry I cannot finish 'Zeph.' Perhaps it is not worth publishing in its unfinished state, as the chief lesson for which I wrote it was to be forcibly told at the end. I suppose there will be some interest in it as the last thing I wrote. I will make a short outline of the plot of the story."

Dickens' Sudden Call.

When death came to Charles Dickens with such tragic suddenness at Gadshill on the 8th of June, 1870, he was in the middle of "The Mystery of Edwin Drood," the first chapters of which had appeared in serial form but two months earlier. How the story would have proceeded had he been spared to finish it must always remain a subject for speculation. His friend and biographer, John Foster, made a painstaking effort to supply the conclusion; but it must always be a matter for regret that the hand of the master was not allowed to finish his last work.

It is a remarkable thing that five years earlier, almost to a day—it was on June 9th, 1865—Dickens narrowly escaped a violent death in an accident on the South-eastern Railway. This tragic experience long haunted him; and some time later, on finishing "Our Mutual Friend," he wrote: "I remember with devout thankfulness that I can never be much nearer parting within my friends for ever than I was then, until there shall be written against my life the two words with which I have this day closed this book—The End."

Thackeray's Last Words.

Thackeray was just warming up to his novel "Denis Duval," of which only three numbers had appeared, when he had to lay down his pen forever on Christmas eve, 1863. It almost seems that he must have known the end had come, for the last words he wrote were full of tragic significance: "Behold Finis itself came to an end and the Infinite began."

Wilkie Collins was more provident than his great friend and master. When he died, a good fourth of his story, "Blind Love," remained unwritten; but he left behind him an elaborate synopsis of the concluding chapters, from which Walter Besant had no difficulty in bringing the novel to a satisfactory conclusion. Robert Louis Stevenson died at Vailima with at least two novels unfinished—"Weir of Hermiston," which was published in 1895, and "St. Ives," which was very cleverly completed by Mr. Quiller Couch and made its appearance two years later; and among other writers whose hands have been stayed in the middle of stories were Mrs. Gaskel, Mrs. Henry Wood, and many another.

Unfinished Poems.

Byron had planned a continuation of both "Don Juan" and "Childe Harold," when rheumatic fever laid him low at Missolonghi, and the cantos were never written. Laurence Sterne was stricken down by pleurisy while the manuscript of his "Journal to Eliza" was lying unfinished on his desk. Coleridge never finished "Christabel," though for many a year before his death he had intended to complete the poem; and among many other works which will always remain fragments of the original design are Wordsworth's "Excursion" and Macaulay's "Armada."

Experience of Earl Cawdor.

Earl Cawdor, the new First Lord of the Admiralty, says The London Chronicle, supplies one of the infrequent instances of a man stepping at once into high Cabinet office. Usually Cabinet Minister have to go through a period of novitiate in subordinate positions, though both Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Asquith were saved this preliminary ordeal, their first office being of Cabinet rank. Without any previous official experience Mr. Chamberlain became President of the Local Government Board, and Mr. Asquith Home Secretary. Lord Cawdor, who was born in 1847, has been since 1895 Chairman of the Great Western Railway. He sat in Parliament as Lord Emlyn from 1874 to 1885 for the then undivided County of Carmarthen. The family name is Campbell. It is an offshoot of the famous Scottish house, the Campbells of Argyll. A younger son of Archibald, the second Earl of Argyll, married in 1510 the heiress of John Calder, of Calder, representative of the old Thanes of Cawdor. A couple of centuries later scions of this branch of the Campbells married successively two Welsh heiresses. There is English, Scotch and Welsh blood in the family. Lord Cawdor owns extensive estates in the Counties of Pembroke, Carmarthen, Nairn and Inverness.

An Historic Incident.

The following dramatic story connected with the royal opening of Parliament is almost two centuries old, according to The London News. After Queen Anne had met her faithful lords of commons, at the beginning of one session in her reign, she held court in Westminster Hall. Within that historic edifice an old countryman took keen note of the brilliant scene, and he was asked by one of the silken gallants of the period who was in attendance if he had ever beheld anything like it. He replied: "Never; since I sat in that chair!" He was Richard Cromwell, who became protector in 1648, but retired after a few months' rule.

Town Nearly Wiped Out.

Winnipeg, June 1.—The business section of Warroad, a town on the Canadian Northern Railway between here and Port Arthur, was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. Nineteen stores and two houses were completely destroyed. The loss is about $200,000.

A WORKING JOURNALIST.

Hon. J. Israel Tarte Descends Gracefully from Rank of Cabinet Minister to the Press Gallery.

The House of Commons Press Gallery is honored this session by the presence of Joseph Israel Tarte, who steps down from the rank of Cabinet Minister and member of Parliament to that of working journalist, with perfect happiness and philosophy, writes H. F. G. in Toronto Star.

The former Minister of Public Works has seat No. 8, on the Liberal side of the gallery, and no working day finds him absent from his place with the busy pencil-pushers who occupy the little eyrie over the Speaker's chair. Mr. Tarte's conversation is illuminating, and his comments on men and speeches in the House have a quality of inside knowledge which stamps them with interest and authority. Not that Mr. Tarte reveals secrets that he learned when in office, or does anything that is not consistent with honor. He is almost morbidly scrupulous on the point of "giving away" anything that he could not have heard as an ordinary newspaper man. He will be embarrassed for several years to come by this fastidious conscience of his, but after a while time will absolve him, and then we shall have some lively memoirs.

Mr. Tarte owns up, however, that he has a tremendous advantage over the journalist who has never seen things except from the outside, and that his experiences as a practical politician give him a leverage on the issues of the day that would be impossible to acquire otherwise. He realises the feelings of both parties, having belonged to both of them. He has associated with the great men of both sides on terms of equality, and that he considers a rare privilege. He knows intimately not only the men of the day, but his mind is enriched with the memories of the men of other days. He is full of the history of Canada, because he has married with it, and helped to make it. He has been behind all the political scenes for ten years, and now that he is deprived of private entree, he can guess what is going on from what he learned before. His various training in party politics, and his insight into the motives, and perhaps the foibles, of statesmen, help him always to select the graphic adjective, and lend to an attractive style a piquant air of being able to tell more if good taste and a nice sense of personal honor did not forbid.

All these things Mr. Tarte acknowledges without reserve, and, far from railing at fortune, he thanks the fickle goddess for endowing him so generously with those useful vicissitudes which go to make up the complete newspaper man. He has nothing but gratitude for the turn of events which left him a heart-free journalist once more. In the mutation of earthly things it befell Nicholas Flood Davin to descend from member of Parliament to press correspondent. Poor Davin, gifted and proud, took it badly. He could never get back to the old ways of thinking. He was always the fish out of water, and he didn't like it. But Mr. Tarte is another sort. He says that no politician can ever fall by becoming a newspaper man. To his mind it is an ascent to step from the floor of the Green Chamber to the reporters' gallery. Here he is more a representative of the people than ever, and his power for good is increased. He admits that he would not have missed the experience—it being better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all—but he warns the gallery against ambition, and points out how much better it is to write influential articles of an Attic purity of language and a Gallic vivacity of manner, to have all one's time to search out the choice phrase and put opinion in the most graceful form, than to be tortured by hostile criticism of one's estimates. Sometimes, indeed, to get your items through you must throw a sop to the enemy in the shape of an epigram. It was under such stress that Mr. Tarte released the famous mot—elections are not made with prayers.

Well, there it is. Mr. Tarte is glad to be a newspaper man again, to be a newspaper man heart and soul, with no cares of State or official conscience to keep him from giving the sentence just the right turn. He says that he was always a newspaper man, even under the Cabinet Minister, and that he welcomes the fate which leaves him free to devote all his skill and enthusiasm to the profession of his choice. Of course there are always people who will condole with the man who sits no longer in the seats that are esteemed mighty, but to all such Mr. Tarte replies that a great newspaper is a great throne, and that in la belle Paris the public man who has once been a journalist desires nothing better than, ambition satisfied and fame full fed, to get back to the rumble of the press and the atmosphere of ink, paste-pots, good-fellowship, fearless thinking, and more or less judicious writing.

A WELL-BELOVED KING.

Edward VII. of England Gaining a World-Wide Reputation as Edward the Peacemaker.

To certain of our Sovereigns whose works, whether for good or evil, have entitled them to some unusual notice, it has been a time-honored custom to give a title illustrating their personal characteristics.

Thus we have Ethelred the Unready, Edward the Confessor, William the Conqueror, Richard the Lion-hearted and Victoria the Good.

It would seem probable that to this list posterity will add the name of our present King, who is already gaining a world-wide reputation as Edward the Peacemaker.

No living man has done so much towards maintaining international peace as has King Edward. Acting upon his own responsibility and initiative, again and again during the few brief years he has reigned over us, he has brought to bear upon the relationships of countries a set of factors whose power and influence have been incalculable.

Possessing amazing power as a linguist, a genial personality and manner that goes straight to the hearts of the people, and above all, regarding his exalted position as giving him a foremost duty to promote the world's peace, he has made himself Britain's most active foreign secretary, and most successful ambassador.

The secret stories of foreign diplomacy cannot be told, as their publication might have an unsettling effect upon the popular mind. It is only the favored few within the charmed circle of actual Government who know how often within the last few years relationships have been strained and complications been imminent.

At such crisis the fact of having a diplomat on the Throne has been of inestimable value.

The testimony of our Prime Minister upon this point is conclusive. Speaking at the Guildhall banquet Mr. Balfour said: "The ordinary machinery of diplomacy has recently found a great ally. King Edward's visits to the Courts of Italy, Portugal and France do what no mere politician can do, and what no dexterity of despatch writing can do. King Edward has done a great work for the goodwill and peace of the world, by the visits he has paid to these courts."

They say that it is in the trifles that the great mind shows itself. Here are two instances, taken from a great number, that shew the aptitude of the King for doing those thoughtful but simple acts that touch the hearts of a nation.

On the occasion of his visit to Portugal, red baize was laid down from the landing stage to the carriage. In one place it had been found that the baize was three feet too short, and a Portuguese flag was laid down to cover the gap.

When the King came to this place he saw what had been done, stepped and saluted the flag; then moving out among the people he made a determination that he would not tread upon the national banner. It is needless to speak of the enthusiasm which this simple but gracious act caused.

At another time the King accidentally heard that the piano at the celebrated Hospice of St. Bernard was nearly worn out, with the consequence that quite unexpectedly a grand piano arrived at that famous institution, a royal gift from King Edward that was welcomed thankfully by monks and tourists.

It is from the lips of foreigners, however, that we hear the strongest testimonies. Count John Bernstorff, councillor to the German Embassy, said shortly after the King's visit to Germany: "His Majesty has won the confidence and reverence of all nations far beyond the limits of his dominions, because he is regarded as the personification of a tendency leading to peace and the unity of nations."

A writer in La Revue de Paris upon the subject of our monarch's visit to Paris, and the delicate purposes of his mission, wrote as follows: "It required all the tact of Edward VII. to undertake a mission so perilous. It was not a question of conciliating a court. It was necessary to conquer a whole population, a most nervous and most impressionable nation. The success exceeded all hopes."

But it is not only in foreign countries that the King uses his influence as a peacemaker.

In a nation composed of so many strong and conflicting elements as ours, his personality has many times intervened to make for peace. His visits to Ireland have strengthened the spirit of loyalty.

His interest in the social problems of the day have made him beloved of the poorer classes, and the noble appreciation that he has shown of the self-sacrificing work of the Salvation Army and the Church Army have enlarged the sympathies of the people generally to these and kindred organisations.

It is probable that to the King we owe the conclusion of the Boer War, his earnest intervention on behalf of peace having had a great weight in the latter part of that struggle.

It is also evident that no man in authority at the present time is letting his voice be heard with such effect as our King, in the endeavor to bring the present terrible struggle in the Far East to right and quick conclusion.

Ian MacLaren.

The Rev. Dr. John Watson, better known as Ian MacLaren, who has resigned the pastorate of Sefton Park Presbyterian Church, Liverpool, to which he was inducted in September, 1886, has never been strong, says The London Star, and is ceasing from the regular ministry because he no longer feels himself capable of doing justice to the work. Dr. Watson was born in 1850 at Manningtree, in Essex, and was educated at Stirling Grammar School and Edinburgh University. He was licensed by the Free Church of Scotland in 1874, and only six years later received the important appointment in Liverpool, where his ministry has been attended by great success. He first became widely known to the general public after the publication of his first book, "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush," in 1894.

GOT NO HELP FROM DOCTORS

Afflicted for Years With Neuralgia Backache and Insomnia—Though Mrs. Hamilton's Case Was Serious She Was Cured by

DR. PITCHER'S BACKACHE-KIDNEY TABLETS.

As another striking evidence of the power of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, to cure diseases where other remedies, and even doctors' treatment has failed, we cite the cure of Mrs. Andrew Hamilton, Port Robinson, Ont., who gives the story of her case as follows:

"Words fail to express the high opinion I have of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. For some years I suffered from a distressing backache which would usually begin in the fall of the year, and continue until, for weeks at a time, I was completely prostrated. I frequently had headache and neuralgia, pains accompanying it and a poor appetite.

"My whole system seemed to become affected, and my nerves so unstrung that I could not sleep. I was certainly very miserable. I tried doctors' treatment, but gave it up, as it did not help me. The various patent medicines I used, likewise proved ineffectual.

"I happened to get hold of one of Dr. Pitcher's pamphlets, and after reading it, decided to try his Backache Kidney Tablets. I am glad I did so for they helped me from the start. After taking a few boxes I had complete immunity from pain, and the serious symptoms passed away, and living was once more a comfort. I can heartily recommend Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets as an ideal restorative."

DECADENCE IN ART

By AUTA POWELL

Copyright, 1905, by Auta Powell

Polly Anne Greenway's family thought her decidedly gifted, and that young lady's singular esteem for her relatives' opinions forced her to come to the same conclusion.

Nevertheless, when she announced her intention of studying art, her father demurred. It was one thing to have talent, but quite a different matter to depart from the beaten track, and Polly's family had other views for her.

"Let her marry and settle down," said her father.

But Polly's lips came together in a very firm line. There were plenty of women in the world. Let those who felt inclined marry and be given in marriage; as for her, she had a mission in life and she meant to perform it.

And she went about wearing such a set apart expression that parental objections gave way and she was allowed one meager but soul inspiring year in New York.

After that began the long battle with publishers and advertising bureaus. Discouragement she met at first with the joy of resistance, but that sort of joy weakens with use, and surely Polly's ill luck was phenomenal.

At last her cover for the Christmas number of a magazine was accepted and hope once more lit its lamp in her breast. But when a villainous lithographer transformed her designs so that nothing remained that she could call her own, her stoicism gave way utterly, and she folded her wings for a season.

It was just at this juncture that the Y. M. O. D. C. made his appearance. This title he acquired later on, when she discovered that he was a Young Man of Diabolical Cunning.

Polly had met him at more than one function, and he swelled the list of a large and uninteresting bowing acquaintance from which individuals were once in a long while selected to fill up vacancies made by removals and occasional misunderstandings.

Why should he call upon her? She ran rapidly over her scant knowledge concerning him as she came down to meet him. Rather stiff and expressionless. Rumored well off and on the point of marriage to some stranger. Nothing very decided, nothing particularly attractive.

The Y. M. O. D. C. rose before she had time to smile any "glad to see you" fibs.

"Good morning, Miss Greenway. Perhaps I should apologize for troubling you, but the truth is I am in a dilemma and have come to you for advice."

Polly settled herself and became all attention. A man may be most uninteresting, but the moment he asks for advice he becomes in the eyes of the woman he is consulting a most discerning individual and decidedly worth cultivating.

"You probably are not aware that I have been building a house on Lincoln street."

She believed she had heard it mentioned in connection with the homecoming of the stranger bride.

"It is completed," he continued, "and is now ready for the decorators. Just here is where I want your advice. There are lots of professional decorators, but none of my friends' houses satisfies me. Some of them have been done by well known decorators. I choose to think they show a lack of individuality. Now, I beg of you to undertake the management of the whole scheme of decoration and furnishing. Oh, pray don't vote it," as Polly's eyebrows went up to her pompadour, "till you have heard me out. I want each room in my house to be part of one scheme and the keynote of the whole thing to be simplicity. If you will undertake it you shall have all the help you wish—anything, everything you need to carry it out. It is well planned and well finished. I don't want it to be ostentatious or handsome or have any of those upholstery things, but to be quiet, restful, artistic—a home in every sense of the word."

"But I don't believe I'm competent," said Polly, to whom the idea began to appeal strongly—"in fact, I am sure I'm not."

"Does that mean that you wouldn't care to undertake it?"

"Oh, dear, no! I think I should like it above all things. I wish I had taken up that sort of thing at the art school."

"Then let us go at once and look at the house, and you can form your plans."

In five minutes they were on a car. Polly was carried off her feet. The whole undertaking grew momentarily more attractive, and, as she was an inveterate castle builder, by the time the car stopped at Lincoln street she had become a successful middle aged decorator.

She found the house a perfect gem in its way, beautifully laid out and with all sorts of possibilities in the way of decoration. As she went from room to room her delight and enthusiasm were good to see.

So the work was undertaken, and upon the whole everything went well. She did not often see the Y. M. O. D. C., but his appreciation and suggestions were always helpful, and a telephone message brought him immediately when he was needed to smooth out difficulties with stubborn or inefficient workmen.

It is hard to say just when Polly began to hate the bride elect, but the feeling reached its climax on that day when, everything being completed, the workmen gone and the owner out of town, she stole back for a last look before the key should have left her possession. She sat down on a high backed settle commanding a vista of three rooms. The sun threw stains and splashes of color on the inlaid floor, and outside a high wind whistled mournfully, the sort of wind that sings to sensitive ears of sorrow and desolation.

"I don't care how many houses I should decorate, there could never be another one just like this, and his wife will bring a whole lot of wedding presents and stuff and just ruin everything. I wish I had never seen the place. I wish I had never been born," she ended miserably. Then she wiped her eyes angrily. "No wonder I haven't been a success," she thought. "I am a weak minded simpleton anyway, and no doubt that fact is patent to every one but myself."

But notwithstanding her scorn of herself the tears continued to come from some inexhaustible source.

"Well, this is a success anyway," she mused a trifle more cheerfully, "and the color scheme and the plan are my own, and it cannot possibly turn into wretched, glaring pinks and blues or any old washed out things."

Then all at once the Y. M. O. D. C. stood before her horrified eyes, and she felt like a thief as she stood up weakly and tendered him the key.

"No; sit down. Let's talk about it," he said. "Great success, isn't it? I cannot flatter myself too much for my courage and wisdom in going to you."

He sat down beside her on the settle, looking so thoroughly contented and prosperous that she hated him from the bottom of her heart, or thought she did, which is just the same thing till we find out the difference.

"Everything is finished. When shall we move in?" he said. "It needs a woman in trailing robes handling delicate china and moving lightly from room to room to give the finishing touch and turn it into a home."

"It will need servants in the kitchen and provisions in the pantry and plenty of management," said Polly grimly, sick of the picture he drew and determined to cut short his rhapsody.

"Well," he said quizzically, "when shall we move in and begin the management?"

"I should think your fiancee would have some choice in the matter."

"Oh, I don't know," said he unconcernedly. "I think, perhaps, she will be satisfied."

"You take a good deal for granted," said Polly. "You must think a wife is a perfect nonentity."

"You will be a good deal together, I hope," he went on, ignoring her remarks. "I like the way you manage things."

"Do you, indeed?" thought Polly. Her lips quivered, and she made a mental resolution never again to cross the threshold.

There was a long silence while Polly looked at the rooms, and the Y. M. O. D. C. looked at her. Finally Polly stood up, but he took her hand and drew her down again.

"When are we going to be married, Polly?" he said.

"Who?" gasped Polly.

"We—you and I—Polly."

"We—and your fiancee—what do you mean?" she cried in distress.

"There isn't any one but you, Polly. I built the house just to get you to decorate it; then people had to provide a reason, and it really wasn't worth while contradicting them. I'm a dreadful sinner, Polly, but I couldn't interest you in any other way. Do forgive me and admit that you love the house—and me."

But Polly, wholly unprepared and too paralysed for speech, sat back cold and pale. She shivered slightly.

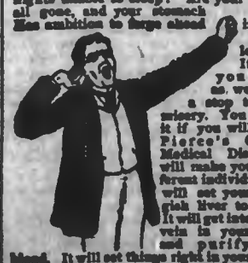
A fire of driftwood had been laid in the quaint corner fireplace.

"Come, Polly," he said, taking her hand again; "we will light the fire and talk it over."

And they did.

DO YOU FEEL THIS WAY.

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at nights unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you? If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your sluggish liver to work. It will get into every vein in your body and purify your blood. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about speedy cure in 98 per cent. of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice.



G. A. Carpenter, Esq., of Mount Dora, Hamilton Co., Va. (Box 22), writes: "About twelve years ago I was suddenly taken with a pain in the pit of the stomach which was so great I could not walk straight. It would come every few months. I used Watertrash and Dandelion, a slimy yellow water. A physician told me I had a form of dyspepsia and treated me for about six months with but little benefit. Another physician told me my liver was out of order and that I had indigestion. He gave me a treatment and I got rather better but only for a short time. I then tried another one, who said I had chronic indigestion, starvation of the kidneys of the stomach, torpid liver and kidney disease. He treated me for more than a year and I felt much better, but it did not last. I then took to using several widely advertised patent medicines, but received no more than temporary relief. I then tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, using his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and his 'Pleasant Pellets,' and in two months time I was feeling better than I had for years before."

Don't be swindled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good."

throw a cigar away the moment the ashes fall off. They believe the taste of it is ruined then. For such customers I make very close rolled cigars.

"Other customers like a cigar rolled so light that the ashes float off of their own accord. They like the red fire. Many men will never relight a cigar after it has gone out. Nothing could induce them to. Others relight a cigar five or six times before they discard it. Needless to say, they do not get the best of a good cigar.

"I have one customer who has a special brand of after dinner cigars made for him. They cost him $1 each net and are of medium size. It is his invariable habit to keep the cigar between his teeth half an hour before lighting it. His guests may light up with the coffee, but he never does. He likes to inhale the fragrance of the tobacco—to become permeated with it so to speak—before he lights up. Then the cigar lasts him precisely one hour."—New York Times.

To Make Pure

Biscuit, cake, rolls, muffins, dumplings, etc., a pure leavening agent is indispensable.

While the Royal Baking Powder is reported absolutely pure and healthful, the official reports show most other baking powders, as well as the cream of tartar of the market depended upon by many housekeepers for raising biscuit and cake, to contain either alum, ammonia or sulphuric acid.

The Government Analyst of Ontario says:

"As a result of my investigation, I find the Royal Baking Powder far superior to the others. It is pure, contains none but wholesome ingredients, and is of greatest strength."

Exciting Incident at Lakefield Recently.

A Successful Entertainment—Sporting Events of Interest.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Lakefield, May 30.—Miss Ada Leonard, of Rochester, N.Y., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Wm. Leonard.

On May the 24th, an excursion per steamer Empress came down to Lakefield from Bobcaygeon. A baseball game was played between Lakefield and the Bobcaygeon team, which resulted in a victory for the visitors. But we understand that the boys here will not be satisfied till they have another game with Bobcaygeon.

A special meeting of the Lakefield Village Council was held Friday evening, May 26th, in the Town Hall. Present, Reeve Tanner, and Councillors Burgess, Kidd and Cornish. A petition for a side walk on east side of Queen street was presented to the Council, and was referred to Street and Sidewalk Committee, who presented the following report thereon: To the Reeve and Council of the Village of Lakefield:—

Gentlemen,—In regard to the petition for granolithic walk on the east side of Queen street from Albert street to Bridge street, and on south side of Reid street from Queen street to Simcoe street, we find that the petition is sufficiently signed, and we recommend that the petition be granted and sidewalk built.

With regard to the north side of Reid street the petition is not sufficiently signed.

Dated at Lakefield this 24th day of May, 1905.

A. J. REID,
J. W. CORNISH,
Street and Sidewalk Committee.

Moved by Councillors Burgess and Cornish, that the report be adopted.—Carried.

God Save the King.

Mr. R. P. Davidson, who had been spending a few days in Toronto, visiting with friends, arrived home on Friday accompanied by his sister, Miss Tessie Davidson of Toronto, who will spend a couple of weeks in the village.

A most interesting and hard fought game of football was played in the agricultural grounds on Saturday evening, when the Peterborough Stanleys Village team defeated the local team by one goal.

One of the local bank clerks had an exciting and watery experience early this week, upon returning from Stony Lake. He was about to take his canoe from the steamer to the boat house when the frail bark upset and precipitated its occupant into the river. No particular damage was done beyond the soiling of linen and the inconvenience of changing his clothes.

The Rhyme the Club held an assembly at the town hall on Friday evening last when a goodly number of the young people of the village enjoyed a very jolly dance. Miss Alice Hunter supplied the music, while Mr. Webster supplied light refreshments.

Miss Alice Sherin has returned, after visiting friends in Millbrook and other places.

Messrs. Simpson and Lowin of the Traders Bank staff, spent Sunday at Stony Lake.

Mr. Birett of Peterborough was in the village on Tuesday.

Mr. J. S. Knapman of Peterborough was in the village on Monday on Monday.

Mr. W. E. Wasson of Peterborough, was in the village on Monday.

We regret to report that Rev. J. McEwan's condition is much worse, and that he is now in a critical state of health.

The following clipping from the Cobourg Saturday Morning Post, will be of interest to Lakefield readers:

"On Wednesday a very pretty wedding took place at St. Peter's church, the contracting parties being Miss Matilda Amelia Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Moore, of this town, and Mr. Thomas Lycett, of Lakefield. The bridesmaid was Miss Olive Moore, sister of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Spragge in the presence of relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was becomingly gowned in a tailor made suit of blue cloth, and looked very pretty. The bridesmaid was attired in a costume of white. Previous to and during the ceremony a number of pieces were played on the chimes, including the wedding march. After partaking of a sumptuous repast, the happy couple left by the evening train for Toronto and other western points for a short honeymoon after which Mr. and Mrs. Lycett will take up their residence in Lakefield. The bride was the recipient of a number of useful and valuable presents.

VICTORIA DAY AT LAKEHURST

A Successful Programme of Sports on 24th.

Court of Revision Meets — Football Club's Picnic.

Special to the Examiner

Lakehurst, May 30.—Cold and warm days alternate quite regularly and high winds prevail every day in the part of the country. However, the trees are all out in leaf, the plum trees in bloom, the grain and grass growing and altogether nature has herself clothed quite properly, if a little late in doing so.

The farmers in this locality are busy planting potatoes, washing and shearing sheep and between times discussing the new method of harvesting in Harvey.

The joint picnic of the north and south Public Schools, held at Sandy Lake on Saturday last was fairly well attended by the scholars, who report a very pleasant time.

Mr. Stanley Pickup B.A., Presbyterian minister here, went to Toronto last week where he purposed staying over Sunday. His brother, Mr. Harry Pickup occupied the pulpit on Sunday morning.

Mr. Bowerman minister in charge of the Methodist circuit left on Monday last to attend the Bay of Quinte Conference.

On May 22nd the Court of Revision was held here in the town hall. All the Councillors and Reeve were present. A good many of the land owners had appealed against their assessment their principal reason being that every one was not assessed uniformly. Some land was assessed at fifty cents an acre and others with no better land at four and five dollars an acre. Nothing definite was decided upon that day, but Saturday, June the 3rd was fixed upon for another sitting of the Council at Nogey's Creek, when it is expected a solution of the tangle will be arrived at.

The picnic held here on the 24th of May, under the auspices of the Lakhurst Football Club, proved a decided success. The weather was all that could be desired and the attendance large. A football match between Bridgenorth and Lakehurst had been advertised, but through a misunderstanding did not materialize. Had the match come off, it is safe to say a far larger crowd would have graced the occasion, for nothing seems to attract people so much as an exciting game of football. However, the committee had their hands full in running off the large programme of events, there being no less than twenty-four events, consisting of races, jumping, throwing the hammer, etc. Great interest was taken in the sports as shown by the large number of entries in each event. Harry Shearer, James Wilson and Wm. Shoulder were the principal stars, carrying off nearly all the prizes. Some thought the committee should have made provision for each as emergency, only allowing two firsts to be taken by one person. The tug-o-war between the married and the single men was particularly interesting. Three gulls were taken, the first won by the benedicts and the other two by the bachelors. The old fellows, however, are of the opinion that they can pull the youngsters and all that they need is a little practice on pulling altogether soon ag the word is given. Messrs. D. Weir and W. Clarkson, as judges, gave entire satisfaction to all. The committee wish, through the press, to thank Mr. and Mrs. McGuire for the use of their grounds, stables and house; they as well as the others at the picnic appreciate very much their kindness.

ENTERTAINMENT WAS A SUCCESS

Enjoyable Program Presented at Keene.

Dredging of Indian River Will be Proceeded With—Personal Notes.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Keene, May 29.—A lawn social under the auspices of the Bethel Sunday school will be held at the home of Mr. William Armstrong, on Thursday evening, June 15. A brass band from Peterborough will furnish music. Admission, 20 and 10 cents.

Mr. Percy Campbell, of Peterborough, was in Keene Monday.

Miss Mabel Harrison, who has been a student at the Conservatory of Music, Toronto, arrived home last week.

Mr. Ralph Humphries, Miss Jessie Humphries and Miss Upsall Plunkett, spent a couple of days last week in Cavan at the home of Miss A. Vance.

A meeting of the Otonabee Agricultural Society will be held in the Council Chamber, Keene, on June 6th, to discuss the advisability of selling part of the Agricultural grounds.

Nomination of candidates for the office of Township Councillor, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. John Carey, who is a candidate for the County Council, will be held on Monday June 5th, between the hours of twelve and one o'clock in the Town Hall, Keene.

Mr. Harry Scriver, of Montreal, is spending a few days here the guest of his father, Mr. J. H. Scriver.

The dredge "Trent" is expected in Keene this week to deepen and widen the river between the second turn and the "Devil's Elbow," and cut off the "Elbow." The channel is to be 60 feet wide and at the bottom of the east side of the river between the second turn and the elbow is flat rock, it has been decided to widen the river by dredging out about 20 feet of marsh on the west side rather than blast the rock to get sufficient depth. When the work is finished the river will be straight from the second turn to Meskinonge Bay, and the distance to the lake will be reduced by nearly half a mile. Also buoys are to be placed at the mouth which are badly needed, as it is a difficult matter to make the mouth of the river at night.

The Sixth Line Union Sunday School intend holding a social on Friday, June 2nd, for the purpose of raising funds for the purchase of an organ.

On account of the bad weather Monday, the Epworth League social held in the Town Hall was not as well attended as might have been the case had the weather been more favourable. However, considering the weather a fair crowd turned out and were rewarded by a fine programme and an excellent supper. The programme was as follows:—

Chorus, The Choir.
Instrumental solo, Miss Mabel Harrison.
Recitation, Miss Mona Wedlock.
Solo, Mr. Harry Scriver.
Recitation, Mrs. A. Wood.
Duet, Misses Fern and Belle Howson.
Recitation, Miss Lois Kempt.
Instrumental solo, Miss M. Harrison.
Tableau, "The Cross," Eight little girls.

Mr. David Edwards acted as chairman. Mr. Harry Scriver's singing was especially worthy of mention, and both solos were heartily applauded and encored. The proceeds are to be devoted towards a sidewalk on church grounds.

Mr. J. McFarlane, of Perth, is visiting his brother, Mr. John McFarlane.

Rev. A. Reaves, of Campbellford, conducted preparatory services in the Presbyterian church on Friday, May 26th.

Rev. W. H. Crompe left Tuesday morning to attend conference at Picton.

The Presbyterian C. E. Society held a song service in place of their usual prayer meeting on Sunday night. The meeting was largely attended.

Local sports are looking forward to the opening of the fishing season, which begins here on June 2nd, two weeks earlier than in any other part of the Province. The close season appears to have been considerably better observed this year than formerly in this vicinity.

Mr. James Bryce is building a house for Mr. James Fife on the site of the house which was burned last fall.

FACE COVERED WITH HUMOUR

Scalp One Mass of Sores, Hair and Eye-Brows Fell Out—Agony for Eight Long Years—Doctors Were Unable to Help Her.

SPEEDILY CURED BY CUTICURA

"I had suffered terrible agony and pain for eight long years from a terrible eczema on the scalp and face. The best doctors were unable to help me, and I had spent a lot of money for many remedies without receiving any benefit. My scalp was covered with scabs, my face was like a piece of raw beef, my eyebrows and lashes were falling out, and sometimes I felt as if I was burning up from the terrible itching and pain. I then began treating myself at home, and now my head and face are clear and I am entirely well. I first bathed my face with Cuticura Soap, then applied Cuticura Ointment to the afflicted parts, and took Cuticura Resolvent for the blood. I was greatly relieved after the first application, and continued use of Cuticura soon made a complete cure.—Miss Mary F. Fay, Westboro, Mass."

HE'S ONLY ONE OUT OF SCORES

But Dodd's Kidney Pills Made Him a New Man.

Richard Quirk Doctored for a Dozen Years and Thought His Case Incurable—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

Fortune Harbour, Nfld, June 2.—(Special).—Scores of people on this neighbourhood are living proofs that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure all Kidney ailments from Backache to Bright's Disease. Among the most remarkable cures is that of Mr. Richard Quirk, and he gives the story of it to the public as follows:—

"I suffered for over twenty years from Lumbago and Kidney Disease, and at intervals was totally unable to work. After ten or twelve years of doctors' treatment, I had made up my mind that my complaint was incurable. Reading of cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills tempted me to try them. I did so with little faith, but to my great surprise I had not taken more than half a box before I felt relief, and after the use of seven or eight boxes, I was fully cured and a new man.

"Yes, Dodd's Kidney Pills cured my Lumbago and Kidney Disease, and the best of it is I have stayed cured."

Like Canadian Meats.

United States Consul Day, at Bradford, England, reports that for some time past there has been a steady decrease in the British consumption of United States meats, i.e., hog products, while a corresponding or even greater increase has occurred in imports of Canadian meats, and for the time being it looks as though United States packers were rapidly losing the English trade. It has previously been pointed out by correspondent that "when the United States packers realize that hog products [illegible] to be consumed and not to gamble with it will be better for the United States provision trade." This fact is exemplified by the considerable shipments of state and sperkept meats to that country, which are in every way helped Canadians to take a firm hold on the market.

Consul Day quotes one of the leading importers as saying: "The Canadian, by his regular weekly shipments of a good and well-selected meat, has met the popular taste of the people of England anyhow, and leads me to think that the business will be done, mainly largely with Canada and still less with the United States." These are points, Mr. Day adds, which it will be well for United States exporters to take into consideration.

Plant Your Garden.

Mr. A. Hoole, of the West-end Greenhouses, (at the residence of G. M. Roger,) has ready a very fine collection of hardy seedlings and bedding-out plants. This is the time for planting your garden and flowerbeds; and the West-end Greenhouses can be depended upon for exercising the utmost care to have everything pure and dependable. Parties having baskets, hanging pots and vases to fill will confer a favour by sending their orders in early for filling. Telephone 318, to A. Hoole, manager.

PEACE RUMOUR FROM PARIS.

M. Bompard Leaves For St. Petersburg With Proposal.

CZAR KEEPS CLOSE MOUTH

M. Witte, However, Has Assumed the Leadership of the Peace Party in the Cabinet—The War Party is Dying Hard, But the Indications Are More Favorable Than Heretofore.

St. Petersburg, June 2.—An evening paper yesterday printed a sensational story from a Paris correspondent saying he was in a position to state that after the passage of many telegrams Wednesday night between the French Foreign Office and the French Embassy here M. Bompard (the French Ambassador), is returning hastily to St. Petersburg from Paris, (where he has been on leave of absence), at the request of Russia to arrange for peace negotiations, France having agreed if Japan's terms are too onerous to undertake to ask the concert of all the powers to compel both powers to mediate.

At both the Foreign Office and the French Embassy the story was denied, but there is reason to believe that Bompard is bringing a direct message from Foreign Minister Delcasse urging Russia to make peace.

The extraordinary council at Tsarskoe-Selo has reached no conclusion on the subject of peace, but definite reports says the Emperor agreed to meet the internal situation by the immediate proclamation of a decree providing for the convocation of a national assembly. M. Witte, president of the Committee of Ministers, who is understood to have assumed the leadership of the advocates of peace, and the immediate convocation of a national assembly is anticipated as the only means of averting the popular storm which is threatening to break.

The war party is dying hard. It is the unanimous opinion in diplomatic circles that the logic of events points to no other issue except peace, but the diplomats also admit that the decision rests with the Emperor. But even when all the Ministers, except War Minister Sakharoff, and Minister of Marine Avelan, are solidly arrayed against attempting to continue the hopless struggle, the Emperor has refused three far to say a word.

To a visitor on Tuesday His Majesty is reported to have declared that he would rather die than sign an ignominous peace.

The immediate realization of the Imperial reforms seems the only thing which can save the Government from the wrath of the populace.

The Liberals also consider that the Government is at last in a corner, and that the time has come to strike. Their press no longer asks—it threatens.

Lord Lansdowne on Peace.

London, June 2.—Replying to the toast of health of Mr. Balfour, Lord Lansdowne referred to the hope expressed for a renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance and said that the only practical question would be as to how best to strengthen the existing alliance.

Never were the relations between France and Great Britain better or stronger than at present, said Lord Lansdowne, and when the inner history of the most anxious months came to be written it would appear that the good understanding with France had been the means of greatly mitigating the friction and troubles which seemed inevitable when a great war was progressing. He said that the one great hope of Great Britain just now was to secure peace in the Far East.

Lord Lansdowne said the necessity for maintaining the army and navy was illustrated by Japan, which had exhibited a spirit of far-seeing patriotism that all countries might emulate.

Arrangements have been made for sale of horse show tickets at a specially reduced price to our excursionists on the train. For particulars of fares and time tables see large posters.

The Queen's Visitor.

All the country knows by this time the beautiful story, first told by The Daily Chronicle, of the Queen and the [illegible] child. The little girl, whose name is Violet Victoria Veldon, is suffering from consumption, and was taken to the Catholic Apostolic Church in Maidenhead to be blessed before entering the Brompton Hospital. In sure the Princess' illness was announced and prayers were offered for her recovery. On returning home the child wrote a little letter of sympathy to Her Royal Highness. The reply was unexpected. One evening a carriage drew up at the door. What followed is told most vividly by our contemporary in Mrs. Veldon's words:

"Well, what should we do but knock at our door.

"'Does Mrs. Veldon live here?' says he, taking off his hat.

"'Yes,' I said, 'for the life of me I couldn't make out what it meant.

"'Then the Queen's sent this.'

"And he handed me the basket of flowers you see standing in the window. For the moment I was too taken aback to say a word.

"'The Queen?' says I.

"'Yes, Her Majesty has sent these flowers and this note to your little girl.'

"Before I knew where I was he had gone, leaving me with the flowers in one hand, and the note from the Queen and Princess in the other."

In a large white and gold-enamelled basket was a perfect wealth of tulips, sweet-scented lilies of the valley, delicate ferns, and one perfect bunch of violets, the little invalid's name-flower. So, with the inclusion of Her Majesty's favorite lilies, an act gracious enough in honest outline was beautified into one of those delicately personal courtesies which have rooted the royal family deep in the hearts of the people. Mr. and Mrs. Veldon have distributed the violets among their friends as keepsakes of their little girl and her Queen.—London Daily Chronicle.

WARSHIP 'JEMTCHUG IS STILL AFLOAT

One of Three Russian Cruisers That Reached Manila Are in Bad Shape, However---They Will Likely be Interned---Admiral Togo Visits Admiral Rojestvensky and Praises Russia's Desperate Fight---Noncombatants Ordered to Leave Vladivostock---Czar Shows No Sign of Relenting.

Manila, June 5.—Rear Admiral Enquist, who was commander of the heavy cruiser squadron of the Russian fleet, arrived in the bay at 9 o'clock Saturday evening on board his flagship, the protected cruiser Aurora, accompanied by the protected cruisers Oleg and Jemtchug. All the vessels were more or less damaged and there were many wounded on board.

Rear Admiral Train, on board his flagship, the battleship Ohio, with the battleships Wisconsin and Oregon and the cruisers Raleigh and Cincinnati, was outside Corregidor Island manoeuvring when the Aurora saluted with thirteen guns, and the Ohio answered.

Admiral Train and his squadron accompanied the Russian vessels to Manila.

The Oleg in a Storm of Shells.

In an interview, Rear Admiral Enquist's executive officer said:—

"When the battle began the admiral was aboard the cruiser Oleg, which was hit a number of times by large shot. There was an incessant rain of shot from quick-firing guns and the ship was soon badly damaged.

"The Admiral transferred his flag to the Aurora, which then drew the combined fire of many torpedo boat destroyers at close range and the attack of submarines. We were overwhelmed by the latter. 'A mist arising, we made a dash for the open sea and were followed by the Oleg and Jemtchug."

Rear Admiral Enquist is uninjured. Capt. Egorieff, of the Aurora, was killed by a shell which struck the conning tower, and he was buried at sea the day before reaching Manila.

On the Aurora three officers were wounded, twenty of the crew were killed and eighty-three were wounded.

The losses on the Oleg were thirteen of the crew killed and eighteen wounded. On the Jemtchug the casualities were twenty-one junior officers killed and one wounded, twelve of the crew killed and thirty wounded.

Work of the Submarines.

From their appearance, the Russian vessels are not damaged below the water-line. Their funnels, however, are riddled by large and small shot. Several large shells pierced the cruisers amidships and a number of guns were dismounted. All the Russian officers interviewed assert that a large number of submarines caused confusion and defeat. Read Admiral Enquist has cabled his arrival to the Emperor of Russia.

The battleship Ohio and the cruiser Cincinnati are guarding the Russian ships. No official action as to their disposition has been taken yet.

Vessels Seriously Damaged.

Washington, June 5.—In a cablegram to the United States Navy Department from Admiral Train, he says:

"Admiral Enquist states that the Aurora and the Oleg are both seriously damaged and are not seaworthy. The Jemtchug is in a bad condition. He makes the request to fill up with provisions and coal. He will require fourteen days to repair damages. A board has been ordered to examine and report their condition. One hundred and thirty men are wounded. Permission has been granted that they be landed."

Likely to Be Interned.

It is said at the State Department that the Russian vessels will be treated precisely as was those which arrived in the Chinese ports during the earlier stages of the war, namely, they will be allowed to remain 24 hours if undamaged and seaworthy. Otherwise they may make absolutely necessary repairs, or, lastly, they may be interned until the end of the war. It is expected that the latter course will be followed.

The enforcement of neutrality will be left in the hands of Admiral Train.

Togo Visits Rojestvensky.

Tokio, June 5.—Admiral Togo visited Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky at the naval hospital at Sasebo Saturday and expressed his sympathy for the admiral's wounds. He praised the desperately courageous fight of the Russians and expressed his hope that Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky would soon be able to return to Russia. Rojestvensky was deeply moved by the admiral's words and thanked him. He congratulated Japan on the courage and patriotism of her sailors and said it lessened his regret and the sorrow of defeat to know the high character of the victors.

Rear Admiral Nebogatoff is not likely to sign his parole.

Told to Leave.

St. Petersburg, June 5.—A despatch received here says that all non-combatants have been ordered to leave Vladivostock.

Found Helpless.

Shanghai, June 5.—The British steamer Buling has arrived here, towing a Russian destroyer, which was found helpless north of Shakalhan with three crews aboard. It reports that she had been drifting for six days with 100 men on board and water sufficient for only one day left, and with very little food.

To Free Prisoners.

Nagasaki, June 5.—It is stated on good authority that all the Russian naval prisoners in Japan will be sent home.

Uriu's Cruisers.

Shanghai, June 5.—Vice-Admiral Uriu, with a Japanese naval squadron, was expected at Gutslaff Island, in Hangchow Bay, yesterday.

PEOPLE FIGHT POLICE.

Clamor for Funeral March Leads to Many Injuries.

St. Petersburg, June 5.—At a great demonstration last evening in the Nevsk Gardeks, near Tsarskoe Selo, the five thousand persons present clamored for a funeral march in memory of the Russian sailors who had lost their lives in the naval disaster in the Sea of Japan. The members of the orchestra became alarmed and fled from the platform, when M. Nevikoff, former Mayor of Baku, rose and said: "Let us all by rising show respect for the victims. Down with the war. We have had enough of blood."

Some eighty policemen entered from either side of the hall and elbowed their way through the crowd toward M. Nevikoff, whereupon cries were raised of "Let us attack the police." Chairs were seized and hurled at the police, the crowd being led by a colonel with a drawn sword. The policemen fled. Order being restored a number of speeches were delivered on the national crisis. Suddenly the police, reinforced to between 200 and 300, again invaded the hall and rushed on the audience with drawn swords.

The people defended themselves with chairs and sticks, but after ten minutes were driven from the hall into gardens, where there was a battalion of tirailleurs, who raised their rifles to their shoulders preliminary to the order to fire being given, causing a panic. The public fled toward the exits and finding them closed smashed the doors and windows of the hall and so gained the street. Many persons were injured, some so seriously that they had to be taken to an hospital.

M. Novikoff was arrested and the gardens were occupied by police and Cossacks.

High Powers For Trepoff.

St. Petersburg, June 5.—The Russian Government has shown that it has not weakened in the hour of disaster. Instead of yielding to the stormy demands which the radicals hoped Rojestvensky's defeat would force the Government to grant, the Emperor Sunday issued a ukase conferring greatly increased powers on Governor-General Trepoff, making him assistant Minister of the Interior, in place of Major-General Rydzefsky, who is made a Senator, also chief of the department of police and commander of the corps of gendarmerie.

General Trepoff is given the right by the ukase to close all assemblies and congresses, to suspend indefinitely all societies, leagues and other bodies manifesting pernicious activity, and to take all other steps necessary to preserve order so as to prevent interference with the established regime, and to suppress the revolutionary propaganda.

This ukase, which entrusts almost dictatorial powers to the hand of the Imperial police to control the agitation, now almost peremptorily demanding a constitution, representative Government and surrender of vital principles of the autocracy, and to put down the disorders with which the revolutionaries are threatening the country, makes Him responsible to the Emperor.

Congress on June 6.

Moscow, June 5.—It has been resolved to convene a congress of senatros of municipalities in Moscow June 6 to consider the situation. The Mayor of Moscow has telegraphed all the Mayors in Russia requesting their attendance.

A resolution, signed by 100 members of the Town Council, asking the Government to allow the voice of the people to be heard on the question of the continuation of the war will be submitted to the council.

Pensions Voted.

St. Petersburg, June 5.—The Engineers' Association has voted pensions to the wife and mother of Ivan Kaleieff, the assassin of Grand Duke Sergius.

A Memorial Service.

St. Petersburg, June 5.—The Emperor and Empress and members of the Royal family attended a memorial service at Tsarskoe Selo yesterday for those who have fallen in the naval battle in the Sea of Japan.

Find Bombs.

Baku, June 5.—Bombs have been found in the house of an Armenian adjoining the palace of the Governor-General.

New Russian Chancellor.

Paris, June 5.—A despatch from St. Petersburg says there is a rumor there that Pobiedonesseff, the former procurator-general of the holy synod, will be made chancellor of the Empire.

Lightning Strikes Three Churches.

Chicago, June 5.—During a thunder storm yesterday three churches were struck by lightning and two of them were destroyed. Several other buildings were struck and damaged. The total loss is $200,000. The two churches destroyed were Unity Church, in Oak Park, and Sacramento avenue M. E. Churches, Northwood Congregational Church was damaged. The churches were empty.

IN MANCHURIA.

Some Small Fighting—Where Commander Linevitch is.

Tokio, June 5.—It is announced at the imporial headquarters that the following message has been received from the headquarters of the Manchurian armies:

"At 7 o'clock on the morning of June 2 the enemy's cavalry, numbering about 24 going in Manchutun, nine miles east of Changtu. On the same day at noon cavalrymen of like number appeared at Mancheugtu, six miles northeast of Whyuanphomen, but were repulsed.

"On the same day also our scouts attacked the enemy's cavalry five miles north of Changtu railway station, killing one man and two horses and capturing one saddle horse.

"Otherwise there has been no change."

Lieut.-Gen. Linevitch is believed to be at Kunchuljan, eight miles west of Fakumin, with his main force, his advance guard occupying the Pengawa and Itsuagaku line.

Godayadani, Manchuria, June 4.—A movement of Japanese along the Valley of the Kao River and its tributaries to the northwest is noticeable.

THE MOROCCO CLOUD.

Alfonso's Visit to Paris Overshadowed by Affront.

Paris, June 5.—The news of the failure of the French mission to Morocco casts a cloud upon what was expected to be the most significant feature of King Alfonso's visit. The Sultan's action, taken before the arrival of the British and Spanish emissions at Fez, is interpreted as an affront to the entire Anglo-French-Spanish policy.

Foreign Minister Delcasse's next move is not yet disclosed, but it is believed that he will not accept the proposition to hold an international conference on the subject, which is considered to be a covert plan for terminating the predominant position of France in Morocco by the establishment in predominance of powers having little interest in Morocco.

President Loubet to Retire.

King Alfonso is probably the last sovereign President Loubet will be called upon to entertain in Paris. In addition to M. Loubet's public statement that he would not seek re-election, the indications show that the French President has visions of quiet domesticity when his term of office is over.

Another at Fez.

Fez, Morocco, June 5.—Gerald A. Lowther, the British Minister at Morocco, arrived here Wednesday at the head of a special British mission and was accorded an imposing reception troops lining the route for a mile outside the city gates. The Sultan was to receive Mr. Lowther in audience June 5.

SHIPS INTERNED AT MANILLA BAY

Three Russian War Vessels Must Remain There.

They Cannot Take Any Further Part in the War—Crews to Be Paroled.

Special to the Examiner.

Washington, June 5th. — Secretary of the Navy Morton, to-day issued an order directing that the Russian ships at Manila, must be interned, or depart forthwith. In view of the fact that the ships have been pronounced unseaworthy, this order means that they will be disarmed, and dismantled, and be held in Manila until the close of the war. The officers and crews will doubtless be paroled.

Fire Scare at Listowel.

Listowel, June 5.—At 2.30 yesterday morning the firemen were called out to a fire which at one time threatened to assume large proportions. The large barn owned by F. Vandrick, and used for storage purposes, was found enveloped in flames, which spread to the house occupied by James Vandrick, and Sergison's barn, which are a total loss. The Methodist Church was in considerable danger for some time. The buildings were all insured. Loss probably in neighborhood of $2,000.

Post Detroit's Surrender.

Two old letters written by Gen. William Hull of the United States Army in the war of 1812, before the surrender of the post of Detroit, have come into the possession of C. M. Burton, of Detroit, a collector of antique letters and documents. They are said to contain preliminary offers from Gen. Hull to surrender the post. It has been supposed that Gen. Hull's surrender only followed Gen. Brock's display of force and demand for surrender. The letters were found in Toronto among a heap of ancient papers. At the court-martial of Gen. Hull following his surrender of Detroit it was intimated, Mr. Burton, says, that such letter existed, but they were not produced.

TO HOLD OPEN AIR MEETINGS

The Salvation Army Embarks Upon New Policy.

Will Try to Reach the People on the Streets—Brigades for Street Meetings.

The officers and soldiers of the local corps of the Salvation Army, are extending their open-air work during the summer months, and with a view of reaching a greater number of people and accomplishing a greater amount of good the corps has been divided into three brigades, and instead of having one meeting at the street corner, before the usual meeting in the hall, there will be two, and sometimes three meetings. At the close of these open air meetings at the different street corners, the band will march around and pick up each brigade, then proceed to the hall, where the usual meeting will be held, with special attention to make it interesting and profitable for those who attend.

On Saturday night one open air meeting was held at the corner of Hunter and Water streets, conducted by Bandsman J. Thomas, and another at the corner of George and Simcoe led by Mr. Mark Spenceley.

On Sunday at 10.30 an open air meeting was held on Louis street, conducted by Bandsman Boorman; the other at George and Charlotte, conducted by Sgt.-Major Brooks. At 2.30 p.m., meetings were held at Brock and George streets conducted by Adjt. Jennings, one at Simcoe and George street, conducted by Harry Edmonsonn. Last night there were meetings at the corner of Simcoe and George streets, conducted by Adjt. Jennings; at Aylmer and Charlotte conducted by Lieut. Salter, and at Hunter and George conducted by Sergt.-Major Brooks.

PRICES SAME AS LAST WEEK

At Saturday's Market—A Very Large Quantity of Potatoes—Good Attendance.

There was a good attendance at the Market on Saturday. Prices, on the whole, were about the same as those of the previous week. A large quantity of potatoes were offered at 65, 70 and 75 cents a bag. Seed potatoes were sold at 50 and 60 cents per bag. A small quantity of apples sold at 15 cents a peck; the season for this kind of fruit is nearly over, however.

Hay sold at from $8 to $10 per ton. Advices from all over the country report the hay crop to be a light one this season, owing to the cool weather we have been having. A large quantity of the smaller vegetables were offered, prices being good.

Very little veal was on the market on Saturday, 7c and 8c per lb. being asked. Young pigs, 5 weeks old or so, went at $5.50 per pair.

Upstairs, the attendance was good. Eggs were 15c and 16c, and butter, 20c to 22c. Chickens sold at 40c and 50c each, and turkeys at $2.00 each.

LOST TWO WHEELS IN ONE WEEK

"Crescent" and "Imperial" Bicycles Taken From Munro House Yard.

An occurrence, which so far, remains unexplainable, took place in the yards, of the Munro House, on Saturday evening, when a bicycle was taken by some unknown person.

The wheel, which was left in the driveway about 7.30 o'clock, by Mr. Victor Jones, of North Monaghan, was an "Imperial," with black frame. The discovery of its disappearance, was made about ten o'clock, when Mr. Jones returned.

The wheel was not Mr. Jones' property and the peculiar phase of the occurrence is the fact that on the previous Saturday night, an exchange of wheels had arisen by some mistake, in the same place. Mr. Jones' wheel is a "Crescent," which he left standing on the evening spoken of, with a number of others, in the driveway of the yard, and by some mistake an exchange occurred, he getting the "Imperial," which disappeared on Saturday night, and he is now left without any. The matter has been reported to the police. The party who secured Mr. Jones' wheel may leave same at Examiner office.

SERVICES WERE INSTRUCTIVE

References Were Read From Bible and Christian Science Text Book.

The services yesterday at First Church of Christ, Scientist, were very instructive and interesting. References were read from the Bible and the Christian Science text book, as a sermon, which clearly elucidated that God was Mind, Love and Spirit, and that Mind, obeyed and lived, preserved man under all circumstances, even the preservation of health, strength, freshness and fairness, was illustrated by the case of Caleb, who declared, (Joshua 14) that he was as fresh and strong at the age of 85 years as he was at 40, when the first declared the truth concerning the land of promise. The text book showed that this case was due to his condition of thought, and is applicable to all ages, by living the character and mind of Christ Jesus.

The collections at both services were in aid of the building fund for the enlargement of the mother church at Boston, which is now in progress, and which is to cost any sum up to $2,000,000. Although the congregations were small, the collections amounted to nearly $35.

An Interesting Event Which Took Place There Recently.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carson Strathan street, on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when their daughter, Clara, was united in marriage to Mr. F. S. Given of Sutton west. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. E. Horsham, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The bride, who looked charming, was gowned in grey collenne over white taffeta, and was attended by her sister, Miss Mattie Carson, looking very pretty in a dress of green crepe de chene. The groom was assisted by Mr. Edwin Grant, of Sutton West. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Silver left on the 10.20 train for Peterborough on Wednesday morning and will visit in Toronto, Hamilton, Niagara Falls and London, before returning to Sutton West, where they will reside in future. JOHN R. GENTRY CHANGES HANDS

Mr. J. M. Brooks Sells This Noted Racer—Mr. Robinson, of Gooderham, the Purchaser.

Mr. J. M. Brooks, proprietor of the Palace Restaurant, on Friday disposed of his speedy trotting stallion, John R. Gentry, to Mr. W. Robinson, the well known horseman of Gooderham, Ont., for a very fancy price, it is understood.

Mr. Robinson has secured a horse which anyone would be proud to add to their stable, and recognizes this fact.

John R. Gentry is a handsome looking horse, well ha' up, and perfectly proportioned and has stood the strain of racing remarkably well. He was sired by Captain Hendee, 2.13 1-4; half brother to Col. Hinchter, the three-year-old winner of the 2.50 pace at the Industrial Fair Grounds course, Toronto, in August, 1902, going the circuit in 2.25. Gentry has done creditable work on many a provincial turf, and his career under the management of Mr. Robinson, will be watched with interest by followers of the turf.

FORESTERS AT ST. ANDREW'S

Members of Local Courts Attend in a Body Last Night.

Impressive Sermon Delivered by Rev. J. G. Potter—Large Number in Attendance.

The members of the local courts of the Canadian Order of Foresters, last night attended St. Andrew's Presbyterian church in a body, to the number of about 140. The following courts were represented,—Peterborough, No. 29, Langton, No. 344, and Littlejohn, No. 92.

The members assembled at the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, at 6.30 o'clock, the route of the parade being up George street to Brock, and thence to the church.

The marshals, were Messrs. R. E. Layfield and W. Kempt.

An impressive sermon was delivered by Rev. J. G. Potter, who spoke from the text, Isaiah LXI, 3—"To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit heaviness, that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord that He might be glorified."

The preacher in his opening remarks, referred to the great work for which the members of the Order had banded themselves together and to which they have devoted themselves.

The work of forestry was inaugurated in the year of 1790, when it was organized for the purpose of aiding those in want. For many years succeeding this, the work did not progress rapidly. In 1843, it had its start in Montreal, being the results of the efforts of a small body of men.

In the year 1879, the Canadian Order was foremd and has since made rapid strides, and we find it all over the country doing a good and noble work.

Comment was made upon the usefulness of such a organization, with the members interested in each other's moral and social welfare. It's basis of sympathy, compassion and interest demands the greatest efforts to make it a success. The Canadian Order fills a place and does a work not accomplished by other orders.

During the first centuries of the Christian era, men banded themthemselves into great companies of Foresters, the meaning of the word applying practically to a life out-of-doors. On the mountain slopes of Judea, men gathered to listen to the words of Jesus Christ. In the early days we find that not only men but women who had as their prime objects in life, benevolence. That was the same Christian spirit and Christian methods which have taken hold of people in latter days.

Down through medievalism we have, however, a record of the influences of the monastic life, the story of the thumbscrew and the rack of the oppressor, with the world in darkness, and Christ unknown to humanity. Following the Reformation, came, the unfolding of the expression of that same sympathy which governed our Saviour, and during the last century came an increased interest among men in benevolence and fraternity. There came the feeling that they should for humanity's benefit enter into a common spirit of love, and a bond of sympathy.

During the last century land after land has been opened in the onward march of civilization. Accompanying this, however, has been the regrettable spirit of Imperialism or greed for increased dominion. But with these have also come the increased necessity, and demand for amicable arrangements and arbitration. The sad thought of the butchery of thousands upon thousands of men stirs our humanity and compassion to its greatest depths, as is the case as we watch the struggle in the far east. In the destruction of the fleet which fired a few months ago upon defenceless fishing boats, we may feel that a proper vengeance has been visited. When our British honour was, a few years ago at stake, we rejoiced at the news of victory which came from Paardeburg. There was, however, in the proclamation from the mouth of the Prophet contained in the words of the text still more glorious news.

We recognize in these words, the expression, in more sentences, of the motto of the Order, "Liberty, Benevolence, and Concord." The preacher pointed to the great significance attached to the words, and introduced, a charming simile in likened the laudable purposes of the Order to "trees of righteousness." The words as properly translated should read "oaks of righteousness." Refrence was made to the mysteries and secrets of the Order, which, however, contained nothing to appeal, but, rather, appealed to the highest and truest manhood. The Order stands for purity and day by day seeks to ennoble and elevate mankind.

In closing, the speaker hoped the Divine Benediction might rest upon the work of the Order and again made a reference to the motto of the Order. Liberty means that every power and faculty shall live and flourish, grounded and rooted in the love of God—that the branches of Benevolence shall be seen in our lives, reaching out to extend sympathy and compassion to our fellows. With all these must be united Concord giving life and vigour to the trunk, and bearing forth the fruit of truth, which will be manifest, in our daily lives and in the life of the community.

At the conclusion of the service the members returned to the hall by the same route as that taken previously.

On their return, a resolution of thanks was passed to Bro. Potter, who was present for the able sermon delivered and also to the choir and elders of the church for their kindness in allowing them the privilege of attending the service.

Rev. Mr. Potter replied expressing his gratitude at the honour which had been accorded him. Rev. Mr. Russell, who was also present spoke a few words referring to the pleasure which it afforded him to be present.

The musical service was unusually attractive and pleasing. Miss Bryce sang in good voice and with beautiful expression, "Hold Thou My Hand." Mr. Wm. Mollroy also sang "The Better Land," by Cowan, with exquisite effect and musicianly interpretation. An offertory anthem was rendered by the choir.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH NOTES

At the service at St. John's last night the order of baptism was administered, the rector performing the solemn and impressive rite. Six "persons of riper years" were baptized.

It was announced that Right Rev. Dr. DuMoulin, Bishop of Niagara, would administer the rite of confirmation at an early date, in place of the Lord Bishop of Toronto, who is absent for his health in England.

At the offertory, Miss Marguerite Sawers sang "The Land of My Dream," in a most creditable manner. Her voice is extremely musical, and her expression was well judged, her intonation perfect, and her voice was in tune, as true as steel. Ease and modesty also marked her execution of this pleasing sacred selection.

A beautiful memorial tablet in brass, was last week erected in St. John's by Mr. Harry Bull, jr., in honour of his mother, for many years a member of the congregation. The tablet, which will recall to the older members of the congregation the kindly personal presence of an esteemed Christian lady, bears the following engraved legend:

In Loving Memory
of
MARY REYNOLDS RUSH,
Born at York, England, April 11th, 1812.
Died in Peterborough, March 30th, 1890.

COMPLETES TWO YEARS AS PASTOR

Rev. A. H. Brace's Successful Ministry at Park Street.

Membership Has More Than Doubled In That Time—To Burn Mortgage.

Yesterday Rev. A. H. Brace, of the Park street church, completed his second year as pastor of the church, and entered upon his third year's work, with splendid prospects. The sermons at both services yesterday were appropriate to the anniversary occasion, and were characteristic of the energy of the pastor.

Large congregations were present at both services, and at the evening service the pastor made a statement that that during his pastorate the membership had more than doubled, the average baptisms were over one every alternate Sunday for the two years.

The income, he said, had exceeded all previous years in the history of the church. The new lot for the erection of the church had been paid for, with a neat sum to the credit of the Building Fund.

REV. A. H. BRACE,
Who Has Started a Third Year at Park Street Baptist Church.

A scheme had been launched for the burning of the mortgage on the old buuilding at the end of August. The church enters the year's work, full of hope, and with prospects bright for the future.

The subject for the morning was "Taking possession," from Deut. 1, 8, "Behold I have set the land before you, go in and possess it." Points of analogy were given between God's ancient Israel and God's spiritual Israel. The parallel was based upon II Peter 1, 4, "Whereby is given unto us exceeding great and precious promises." The land of promise and the land of promises. The play upon the word promise illuminated that Scripture and revealed the extensive inheritance of God's children to-day. Victorious entry and joyful possession is the privilege of every Christian.

The evening sermon was from 1 Samuel, 10, 26, "There went with him a band of men, whose hearts God had touched." It was a band of united action and must make a prosperous church. Their hearts were touched, not merely the intellect. They were touched by God, the Master Hand, the Divine Hand, the Hand of Power; this makes an aggressive church. It was a touch of loyalty, faith in the constitution, absolute obedience, heroic and undaunted courage. The touch of cleansing is needed which will mean purity of heart and then there must be the touch of life and life on fire will be love sacrificing for others' welfare, and with such a band of men advancement and victory is sure.

DEATH OF MRS. J. M. FERRIS

Widow of a Former Well Known Public Man.

Campbellford, June 4.—There passed away on Saturday at Campbellford, one of the oldest and most highly respected inhabitants in the person of Mrs. Ferris, widow of the late Jas. M. Ferris, who formerly represented East Northumberland in the Local Legislature. Deceased was descended from United Empire Loyalist stock, having been a daughter of the late Captain Fralick, well known throughout the Quinte district. For some years Mrs. Ferris made her home in Toronto, with her daughter Mrs. C. G. Eakins, but latterly had lived at Campbellford, where her eldest son J. B. Ferris, merchant, and her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Stewart reside. Two other sons, Dr. George, of Cobourg, and M. J. of the Crown Lands Department, of Toronto, are the remaining survivors of the family.

AN IMPRESSIVE CLOSING SERVICE

A Large Congregation at St. Peter's Cathedral Last Night.

Renewal of Redemptorist Fathers Mission Was Gratifying Success—Last Night's Closing Ceremony.

The services on Sunday evening in St. Peter's Cathedral, which marked the close of the renewal of the Mission conducted by the Redemptorist Fathers, were of a deeply impressive nature and marked an epoch in the history of the Roman Catholics of this town, and will live forever in the memory of the immense congregation which filled the sacred edifice to overflowing. The two weeks' renewal has proven a grand success, in fact the week devoted to the men has been a remarkable one when the attendance at the different week day services is considered, more especially the five o'clock mass, when the large body of men which attended at that hour must certainly have made sacrifices in order to participate in the graces and blessings which certainly must follow.

The Mission has been instrumental in awakening the lukewarm Catholics to a sense of their duty as regards the practice of their faith and also adding new converts to the church. His Lordship and the cathedral clergy are enthusiasts over the good work accomplished by the Mission, and have been edified by the splendid evidences of faith and sincerity exhibited by the faithful in making the Mission, and the good work will certainly have its effect on one and all who faithfully complied with what was required of them in order to make the renewal a success.

Rev. Father Mylott on Sunday evening recited the Rosary, and the sermon was preached by Rev. Father Zilles, on the text "What shall I render unto the Lord?" The reverend gentleman's discourse was an eloquent and powerful exposition of the Sacrament of Baptism, so understood by the Catholic church. The duties of Catholics in the practice and profession of their faith were clearly and unmistakably defined. Rev. Father Zilles urged upon his hearers to endeavour to keep the good resolutions and intentions made during the renewal, to never be ashamed of their faith, and to proclaim and practice it and at all times show by their actions that they are worthy to be considered members of the church. The sermon was a convincing and masterly one, and was a fitting close to a series of addresses which have been inspiring in their nature and which have clearly and logically defined the belief of the Catholic Church.

At the conclusion of the sermon a ceremony took place which was of an unusually impressive character, and which made a deep impression on those present. It was the renewal of the vows taken at the time of baptism. Every man and child in the congregation held a lighted taper in the hand, and the effect was really beautiful as well as touching. Rev. Father Zilles, previous to the renewal of the baptismal vow, made a public renewal of the vows of poverty, chastity and obedience, which he had taken on the occasion of his ordination to the priesthood, thus following the profession of their faith by the entire congregation as well as a renewal of their baptismal vows.

Rev. Father Zilles then bestowed the blessings of the church, the Holy Mass, the Pope, and the indulgences upon all those who had made the renewal, and then bid an affectionate farewell to the congregation. He thanked His Lordship Bishop O'Connor and the Cathedral clergy for their kindness and assistance rendered the missionaries during the two weeks' renewal, as well as all those who had assisted in any way in the work. He desired also to thank a portion of the local press for kindly references and the many non-Catholics who were present and who had attended the services during the week. He trusted that they would not feel aggrieved at any thing preached during the renewal. It was the missionaries desire to offend or hurt the feelings of no one. They were simply preaching Catholic doctrine, which they considered the truth, and he asked them to suspend their judgments until they had sought information and enlightenment on the different subjects touched upon.

The services closed with the benediction of the most Blessed Sacrament in which His Lordship Bishop O'Connor officiated assisted by Rev. Father Galvin and Rev. Dr. O'Brien.

STEAMER SUNK BY COLLISION

British Bark Afghanistan Goes Down Off Dungeness.

RAMMED BY A BATTLESHIP

Twenty-Three Men Drowned — The Caesar, Which Struck the Afghanistan, Was Unable to Give the Signal to Slow Down Owing to the Fog —Triumph, Swift and Hannibal Damaged.

London, June 5.—During a fog off Dungeness early Saturday morning the British battleship Caesar collided with the British bark Afghanistan. The Afghanistan sank two minutes after the collision. It is feared that twenty-three men on board the bark were drowned, as only eleven of her crew of thirty-four were picked up.

At the time of the accident, the channel fleet, steaming in two columns, with the Caesar leading the second column, suddenly entered a fog bank and was unable to give the signal to slow down.

Prior to the collision between the Caesar and the Afghanistan, the battleship Triumph collided with the battleship Swiftsure, and both will have to be docked. The Caesar was considerably damaged.

Another disaster was narrowly averted, as the battleship Hannibal shortly afterward fouled another vessel and carried away her head gear.

Drowns in Water Pail.

Toronto, June 5.—Headforemost in a large pail partially filled with water, little Alice Lawson, aged one year and two months, drowned to death at the family residence on Moscow avenue, near the Danforth road, in the Village of Chester, on Saturday morning. The little one was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lawson, person of humble circumstances. The mother was at the door's seeing about an injured eye of Annie, her oldest girl aged about 10, who had charge of the baby when the accident occurred.

Five Men Blown to Atoms.

Biscayne, Fla., June 5.—By the explosion of 350 pounds of dynamite Saturday night five negro convicts at the County camp at Ojus were blown to eternity.

Fatality at Port Arthur.

Port Arthur, June 5.—Wm. Long, employed on the Westmount as watchman, was killed here Saturday afternoon. The vessel was being hauled into King's elevator wharf. He was standing by the wench when the cable slipped, striking him on the head, killing him instantly. He belonged to Middlesex.

Richard Heyden, who was caught in the grain while loading the Wahcondah, will not likely recover. His lungs are filled with chaff, and he has been delirious ever since. An inquest will be held Monday. The Wahcondah is being held here.

One of the "Scout" Victims.

Kingston, June 5.—Yesterday afternoon the body of a man was found off the drydock and is likely one of the missing men off the steamer Scout, who were blown into the lake by the terrible explosion of the gas buoys on April 18. The two men missing were Capt. Guillard of Morrisburg and Couillard of Montebello.

A Double Drowning.

Ottawa, June 5.—Joseph Caron and Judd Daoust, aged 20 and 22 respectively, who resided at Woodroffe, a suburb of Ottawa, are believed to have been drowned in the Ottawa River near their homes on Thursday night. They went out in a boat but failed to return.

Smothered in Wheat.

Fort William, June 5.—H. Clift was smothered beneath 6,000 bushels of wheat while assisting in loading the steamer Wahcondah Friday.

Death List of 560.

London, June 5.—According to a despatch to a local news agency from Durban, Natal, the death toll resulting from the hurricane which recently swept over Natal and the subsequent bursting of the reservoir at Pinetown was nearly 500 Hindoo laborers and 60 Europeans.

THE JAPAN EARTHQUAKE.

Disaster Not as Bad as Indications Apparently Showed.

Tokio, June 5.—The Governor of Hiroshima Province telegraphs that the earthquake which took place on June 2 killed six people, wounded 79 and destroyed 33 houses in Hiroshima and Ujina. The reports from other affected districts are incomplete, but it is believed that the loss of life and the destruction of property has been comparatively small. The first shocks of the earthquake destroyed the telegraph system, which, besides making it impossible to communicate with the earthquake district, cut off Tokio from Western Japan and the rest of the world, which created an impression some great disaster had taken place.

Will Honeymoon in Donegal.

London, June 5.—It is now officially announced that the wedding of Princess Margaret, daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, to Prince Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden and Norway, will take place on Thursday, June 15, at St. George's Chapel, Windsor Castle. Part of the honeymoon will be passed at Mrs. Adair's beautiful house at Glenveigh, County Donegal.

VIOLATES MAGNA CHARTA.

Writ Applied for at Osgoode Hall for Messrs. Cain and Gilhula—Judgment is Reserved.

St. Thomas, June 5.—Messrs. Cain and Gilhula were working as usual Saturday and nothing more than their formal arrest and the appeal to the court at Toronto on affidavit presented by their counsel, Robinson and Green, transpired.

Col. Sherwood manifested surprise that any opposition should be made and insisted on immediately escorting the parties to the border. The affidavits being sworn, however, Mr. Robinson handed him a notice of motion returnable in Toronto Saturday, calling upon the colonel to show cause why the gentlemen should not be released. This is a block of further proceedings for the time being. As soon as he had handed the papers to the chief, Mr. Robinson caught the train for Toronto and Col. Sherwood telegraphed the department of Justice to the effect that the arrests were made, but the habeas corpus proceedings had begun.

Judgment Reserved.

Toronto, June 5.—The arguments for a writ of habeas corpus for Messrs. Cain and Gilhula was argued Saturday afternoon before Justice Anglin by Barristers J. B. McKenzie and John A. Robinson. The judge reserved his decision until the original write, affidavit and warrant that had been the cause of the arrest of the men were returned to the Attorney-General. After hearing argument the judge announced that he would be prepared to give his decision on Monday in all probability.

Appetite Was Poor.

Dizzy Most of The Time.

People troubled in this way should heed the warning, and not fail to take treatment before something more serious occurs.

For all heart and nerve troubles there is nothing to equal

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

In affixing new names to a couple of score of new townships, the Whitney Government godfathers stood sponsors for one township's name, as John Collins. There is a significance in this which people who are accustomed to exclaim "O, what a difference in the morning!" will appreciate. The Napanee episode might have been commemorated by calling an adjoining township "Scotch." After a night of testimony the residents of "Scotch" might drop into "John Collins" township and be picked up. The Whitney Government has an idea of poetic justice. Having decided that no liquor licenses shall be granted in New Ontario—except where political expediency demands it—they give the new settlers the name, at least, of something invigourating.

WHY THE DIFFERENCE?

Mr. Whitney has selected as his Minister of Crown Lands and Mines, Mr. Cochrane, of Sudbury, a gentleman, who may be well fitted, in a general way, for the position, but who has had no experience in public life, nor politics. That may be no detriment to his usefulness, but the fact that the new Minister is largely interested personally in mines and timber, is held to be a disqualifying condition. At the time Hon. G. W. Ross reconstructed his Cabinet, the Conservative press strongly urged, as an objection to Hon. W. A. Charlton getting the portfolio of Crown Lands, this very fact, that he was largely interested in timber. Whether or not this influenced Mr. Ross, the latter made Mr. Charlton Minister of Public Works, although from special knowledge, he was especially qualified for the post of Minister of Crown Lands. Now, why is not the same objection pressed by the Conservative journals against Mr. Cochrane, who has, it is said, large interests in timber, and mines, as well? Does the fact that Mr. Cochrane is of a different political faith from Mr. Charlton, change the principle underlying the objections made to Mr. Charlton, being made Minister of Crown Lands—because he had a personal interest in some of the resources it would be his duty to administer?

FARMERS MUST CUT ROAD WEEDS.

By a recent amendment to the Municipal Act, pathmasters are no longer required to look after the cutting of noxious weeds on the highways in their divisions. Every owner or occupant of land is now required to cut the weeds growing on the highways adjacent to his land. Chapter 27, of the Statutes of 1901, provides as follows:

"It shall be the duty of every owner or occupant of land in a municipality to cut down or destroy, or cause to be cut down or destroyed at the proper time to prevent the ripening of their seed, all noxious weeds growing on any highway adjoining such road, not being a toll road, from the boundary of such line to the the centre line of such road, and in case of default after notice from the Inspector or Overseer of Highways, or where no inspector or overseer is appointed, from the clerk of the municipality, the municipality may do the work and may add the cost thereof to the taxes against the land in the collector's roll and collect such cost in the same manner as other taxes."

The above change in the Act will be very welcome to pathmasters, as the cutting of weeds along their respective beats was, perhaps, the most onerous of their duties, and one which in too many cases was neglected. As weeds are more injurious to farmers than to any other class of the community, it is to their interest to prevent them from maturing; and we think that the Municipal Act, as it now stands, will be much more effective than it was before the recent amendment.

ONE THOUSAND FACTS CONCERNING CANADA

Sententious Paragraphs About the Resources, Products and Agricultural and Industrial Possibilities of the Dominion of Canada.

"One Thousand Facts about Canada," is the title of a meaty booklet, issued by the Exhibition Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, in which a vast amount of information is given in single sentences paragraphs. The idea is to give outsiders an idea of the resources and desirability of Canada as a home for the settler, or a field of industrial energy for the capitalist. But, as no Canadian knows any too much about his own country, the Examiner proposes to reprint from day to day one or two of the meaty paragrphs contained in the pamphlet.

EDITORIAL NOTES

It's a little surprising that Hon. Mr. Whitney, after having in a speech in Massey Hall, called New Ontario "the land of the stunted poplar" should dignify a section of this barren waste by bestowing upon it the names of his distinguished followers in the Legislature.

A Mr. Potts of Brandon, who it seems is an Orangeman, favours the Autonomy Bill, and for the act of heresy against the Conservative party he is black-listed among the brethren. L.O.L. 1307, Winnipeg, following the custom of the Western country in marking cattle and cayuses, have put a Brandon Mr. Potts the traitor. Mr. Potts has dubtless long preached the doctrine of civil and religious liberty which the Orange body properly enough exalts to a prominent position in their cult—but when he ventures to practice what he preaches he is severely handled as if he had preached heresy in the reign of what L.O.L. 1307 would call "Bloody Mary." A man for exercising the rights of a free Briton, free speech and freedom of conscience is denounced as a villain and a knave.

The Conservative journals are strong on abuse of men in high places—whether it is a Supreme Court Judge, a Bishop, or a Doctor of Divinity, is all the same to them. Rev. Dr. Bryce of Winnipeg, and Rev. W. C. Gordon, both Western men, have spoken as to the satisfactory nature of the educational clauses in the Autonomy Bill to the Western people. They are of the West, and know what they are talking about, yet the rabid Conservative sheets, in the interests of strife, say that these men are insincere, that they are not acting in good faith—in other words that they are deceiving the people. On the other hand, Rev. Dr. Potts, and Rev. Dr. Carman, who are not of the West, and with only an academic, not personal, knowledge of the West, its people, and their sentiments, are applauded to the echo, because they declare against the educational features of the Autonomy Bill. Men, who don't know from personal knowledge, what they are talking about, are pronounced by these journals to be wise men, patriots, and indisputable authorities, while men who speak with the authority of personal knowledge, are practically dubbed as liars, and insulted by imputations of base motives.

A HIGH TRIBUTE TO ENGLISH ROADS

Scribner's Magazine Tells What They are and How it is Done.

A writer in Scribner's Magazine has the following, which Peterborough aldermen might with profit cut out and paste in their hats—the next best thing to getting the idea into their heads:

"What good roads they have in England! Look at the piles of broken stone for repairs, stored in little niches all along the way; see how promptly and carefully every hole is filled up, and every break mended, and you will understand how a small beast can pull a heavy load in this country, and why the big draft horses wear long and do good work. A country with a fine system of roads is like a man with a good circulation of his blood; the labour of life becomes easier, effort is reduced and pleasure increased.

The idea involved in this has been frequently insisted upon by the Examiner, and is a simple but effective way of keeping our streets in good condition.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE

Passed by Nassau L. O. L. to Bros. Wm. King and Robt. Campbell.

The following resolution of condolence was passed by the Nassau Orange Lodge at their last meeting to Bro. Wm. King:

Dear Brother, — We the officers and members of Nassau L.O.L., No. 457, desire to express our heartfelt sympathy in the loss you have sustained by the death of your beloved sister. God in His infinite wisdom has called your loving sister from the troubles of earth to Himself, and though we are sometimes apt to murmur when he afflicts we should not forget that the Lord reigneth and He doeth all things well. May the memory of this dear sister, who is gone before, call our thoughts from earth to heaven and help us to prepare for the great change that awaits us.

JOHN ARMSTRONG,
ANDREW R. ROBSON.

The following resolution of condolence to Bro. Robert Campbell, was also passed by the Lodge:

Dear Brother, — Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God, in His infinite wisdom, to remove from your family circle, your beloved son, be it therefore resolved that the officers and members of Nassau L. O. L. No. 457, place on record their sympathy with you in your hour of affliction. May we, dear brother, be enabled so to live that when we are called to obey the summons of the Grand Master of Heaven, we shall with joy go from our labours on earth to enjoy the eternal Paradise prepared for us above.

JOHN ARMSTRONG,
ANDREW R. ROBSON.

FALSE RUMOUR IS ABSOLUTELY DENIED

Mr. R. C. Braund Made No Offer to Supply Men.

A rumour is being circulated, it is understood, through the works of the Canadian General Electric Company to the effect that Mr. R. C. Braund, through the Salvation Army has undertaken to supply all the men that company may require at $1.90 per day. This rumour Mr. Braund most emphatically denies. He has had no negotiations in any way with any of the heads of the departments of the Canadian General Electric Company's works on this subject, and has never spoken to Mr. Patterson or Mr. Doble, on any subject whatever.

He has never had any such proposal under consideration and most emphatically denies ever having made any such offer to the company officials and points out that to do this would be the very worst kind of business policy for him, since it is to his interest for the men to make good wages. It is to be hoped that this denial will be a satisfactory answer to the unfounded rumour.

STOLE RAZORS FROM THE BARBER SHOP

Mr. Jas. Lewis Missed $10 Worth This Morning.

Last night, or some time yesterday burglars broke into Mr. Jas. Lewis's barber shop and stole about $10 worth of razors. There is no clue as to whom the intruders were. But it is supposed that they secured entrance from the rear door, which was found open this morning. The door had not been broken open, and it is surmised that it was accidentally left unlocked on Saturday night, when this man left the shop. It is probable that some one passing the rear of the shop saw the door open and decided to enter and investigate. Two customers' and three of the shop razors were stolen, but this is all that was missed, and the total loss will be about $10.

AN ELECTION BY ACCLAMATION

Mr. Donald Cameron the New Township Councillor.

Elected to Succeed John Carey in Otonabee—Nomination at Keene.

Special to the Examiner

Keene, June 5th. — The nominations held here this afternoon to fill the vacancy in the township council, made by the retirement of Mr. John Carey, to contest the division in the County Council, resulted in the election by acclamation, of Mr. Donald Cameron, who lives near the boundary between Otonabee and Asphodel.

He is a man who will, it is believed, make a first class councillor, and a worthy successor to Mr. Carey.

MANY ATTENDED THE FUNERAL

Rev. John McEwen's Funeral at Lakefield This Afternoon.

This afternoon the funeral of the late Rev. John McEwen, who died in Lakefield on Friday, is taking place in that village, and is being attended by a very large number of the former friends of the deceased, among them being a number from Toronto. That the deceased was very popular and his death deeply regretted is evidenced by the fact that such a large number of persons from a distance came to pay their respects to his memory.

Among those who went to Lakefield this afternoon for the purpose of attending the funeral were: Rev. Dr. McTavish, Central Church, Toronto; Rev. Wm. Fitzgerald, Toronto; Rev. John Neil, Westminster church, Toronto; Mr. Thos. Yellowlees, Secretary Ontario Sunday School Association; Rev. A. C. Reeves, B.A., Campbellford; Rev. D. A. Thompson, Hastings; Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. J. G. Potter, Peterborough; Mr. Geo. Anderson, Mr. Henderson, Miss Charlotte Dickson and Miss Margaret Dickson of Peterborough.

The remains are being interred in the Lakefield cemetary, the cortege being composed of a large number of the deceased's friends.

NEW STEAMER LINE FOR PETERBOROUGH

C. P. R. Officials Here With View of Establishing a New Route of Steamers Connecting With Their Railway at Bobcaygeon and Peterborough—A Party Makes the Trip Over Canal From Bobcaygeon to Hastings on Tour of Investigation—Will be Guests of the Superintendent To-morrow and Wednesday—May Mean an Important Era in Navigation Circles for Peterborough.

An event which may prove the forerunner of a new and important era in navigation on the Trent and Kawartha Waters, will take place to-morrow, when a party consisting of a number of leading C. P. R. officials, accompanied by a number of prominent Bobcaygeon gentlemen, will visit Peterborough on a trip of inspection, embracing the upper lakes and the Trent Canal as far as Hastings.

The purpose of the visit of the gentlemen representing the C. P. R., is to arrange for a rapid round-trip service, from Toronto, via Bobcaygeon and Peterborough, and the company will, it is understood, if the present trip justifies their expectations, place upon the waters a new belt line of steamers, to run between these two points. This will afford the Toronto travelling public an excellent opportunity of taking a delightful week-end trip, leaving there on Saturday, and returning on Monday morning. A choice of two routes would thus be afforded, as passengers by the morning train, leaving the city at nine o'clock will be enabled to secure a prompt service either from Peterborough or Bobcaygeon, making the trip from one point to the other, with the privilege of a stopover for Sunday at either point, and a return to the city in time for business. The advantages to the town of this arrangement will at once be apparent, as it is certain that large numbers of Toronto tourists, will avail themselves of the opportunity afforded, which will include a trip over the Lift Lock.

The party, which will number about thirty five, will be accompanied by Mr. J. H. McClellan, superintendent of the Trent Canal, which will play an indispensable part in the new route, and will include, besides the officials spoken of, a number of prominent Bobcaygeon gentlemen, members of the town council, and reeves of the adjoining townships. The trip will be taken by Steamer Empress, which will leave Bobcaygeon to-morrow, arriving in town to-morrow night, where the party will spend the night. On Wednesday morning the trip will be continued to Hastings, the party returning again for the night, and departing on Thursday morning for Bobcaygeon.

MR. WM. STINSON RECEIVES INJURY

At Peter Hamilton Co.'s Works—Board From Saw Hits Him in Side—Not Considered Serious.

A painful, though not serious accident occurred about 1.30 o'clock this afternoon at the implement works of the Peter Hamilton Company. Mr. Wm. Stinson, the unfortunate man, was about to cut a board with the circular saw, when the board suddenly coming in contact with the saw, was knocked back and striking Mr. Stinson on the right side, inflicted a nasty wound.

The ambulance was called and the injured man was removed to his home on King street, near Park.

Although not considered serious, his injuries will confine Mr. Stinson to his home for some time.

REPAIRS HAVE BEEN COMPLETED

Water Will Be Let in Above Lift Lock To-day.

The repairs to the reach above the lift lock will be completed to-day and the lock will be in operating condition to-morrow. The water will be let in this afternoon. The work has been completed most expeditiously, the bottom having been concreted for some distance above the "catch-basin," which has been filled. A strong effort, was it is understood, made to complete the work in time for the Olympic Excursion of Thursday.

ENGLISH FIELD HOCKEY TEAM

This is the Proposition Now Made—Prospects for City League.

A meeting of the field hockey club was held in the Y. M. C. A. parlours Friday night for the purpose of forming new teams for competition and to get out all men interested in the game. It was suggested that as there was considerable good material among the Englishmen in town, that an all-English team be formed to compete with the teams already formed. The question was brought up as to the elegibility of men for these teams who are not members of the Y. M. C. A. The physical director Mr. Holmes, explained that this was not essential as the visitors' tickets, entitling holders to all privileges of the association for one month, would willingly be extended to anyone wishing to join for the sport. It is not necessary that anyone accepting these tickets should take out a regular membership unless he so desires. A committee was formed to take the matter in hand and work it up.

There are a number of Englishmen in town who have played and understand the game, and if they would get together and form a team a city league could be started with the teams already organized. Practices are held Wednesday nights and Saturday afternoons on the Nicholls Oval, and anyone wishing to turn out may procure a stick at Stratton's. Another meeting will be called next week and arrangements made for playing off the games.

MISS E. HENDERSON DIED IN TORONTO

Well Known Young Lady From Keene Died on Saturday.

The many friends in Peterborough of Miss Edith Henderson, a niece of Mr. Jas. Henderson, Keene, with whom she has lived for a number of years, will learn with regret of her death, which occurred in Toronto on Saturday. It appears that Miss Henderson has been attending Westminster Ladies' College, in that city, and some little time ago contracted typhoid fever and was removed to the general hospital. Her condition appeared to be favourable until Friday, when she took a turn for the worse, and it was thought advisable to send for her friends. An effort was made to communicate with Keene by telephone, and failing in that Rev. J. G. Potter was telephoned to, and he, although it was quite late, hitched up and drove to Keene, to acquaint the young lady's friends of her serious condition.

On Saturday morning her father left for Toronto, and arrived at his daughter's bedside just as she passed away.

SENSATION IN NORTH END

Thomas Quinlan Runs Amuck With Revolver.

Attack of Temporary Aberration Due to Drinking—Created a Panic Among Residents.

A sensation was created in the north end on Saturday night, when a man named Thomas Quinlan caused considerable agitation among the residents by firing a revolver off promiscuously about the streets. The man, whose mental equilibrium was apparently unbalanced by drink, was taken in charge by P. C. McGirty, who was hastily summoned by the alarmed residents. Beyond the panic created upon the street among the spectators, no damage was done. P. C. McGirty was given a strenuous chase before he captured his prisoner, who fled hastily across the Cereal Company's dam. After a momentary show of resistance he submitted quietly to his arrest, and after a few hours' sojourn in the cells, recovered his normal condition.

His case came up at Police Court this morning, and resulted in a remand until to-morrow. Prisoner stated that he had no recollection of the occurrence.

CHANGE IN PRICES OF BUILDING CONSTRUCION

An Increase of Over 100 Per Cent. in Cost of Building.

There has been a big increase in the cost of building material and building work in the last thirty years. The contract price for the construction of the present Murray street Separate School building, completed in 1878, was $2,558. Masonry, Pope & McPherson, $1,548; brick work, P. McNamara, $550; slating M. Romaine, $460, making a total of $2,558. To this is to added the fee of the architect, Mr. J. S. Bellhouse, at 5 per cent.—$127, making a total of $2685. This was for the bare structure only without and without, and did not, of course, include furnishings and equipment. Competent authorities assert that the same building could not be constructed to-day for twice the money.

COBOURG WON BY A SMALL MARGIN

Took First Home Game From Locals by Score of 6-5 on Saturday Afternoon.

First Game on New Riverside Park Grounds Resulted in Victory for Visitors.

Quinlan Pitched Good Ball But Support Was Not of the Best—A Fast Game.

Cobourg 6, Peterborough 5. Such was the official score in Saturday's Midland League game at Riverside Park. But the result of the game is still in doubt as the local club has entered a protest against umpire Week's decision in the ninth innings. The trouble arose in this way. The score at the end of the eighth innings was a tie, each team having scored five runs. In the first of the ninth, Payne, first up for Cobourg, singled to centre field. McKinnon's sacrifice advanced him to second. Butler drove a terrific liner right at Quinlan, and both runners were safe. Brown flied out to Connors in centre field, who threw low to first to catch Butler, who had rounded second. The ball eluded Pilling, but Sheridan hustled him up and threw to first, completing the double play. In the meantime Payne had crossed the plate. Referee Weeks ruled that the run should count. The locals failed to score in their half and so the game was given to Cobourg.

The parade started from the National Hotel at 2.30 o'clock. It was composed as follows:—

Officers of the Cobourg club in carriages.

Officers and guests of the Peterborough club in carriages.

The largest crowd of the season had assembled at the grounds and it was not only the largest, but also the most enthusiastic. The rooting was incessant from beginning to end, and when the locals scored the applause could be heard in Jackson Park.

After the usual preliminary work-out by each team, Mr. T. H. Bradburn, M. P. P., advanced into the pitching box, His Worship, Mayor Best, stepped to the bat, while Mr. R. E. Layfield donned the catcher's mitt. Mr. Bradburn had a very puzzling delivery, but his control was not of the best. After two futile attempts, however, he succeeded in getting the ball over the plate, and His Worship, with a mighty swing, managed to make a foul tip.

The game, while the fielding was somewhat loose on both sides, was the most exciting and most interesting of the season, from a spectator's standpoint. It was a pitcher's battle between Quinlan and Downs, and the two broke about even. The game was almost entirely devoid of sensational plays, with the exception of Pilling's pretty catch of Brown's long drive and Rattray's catch of a foul.

Quinlan occupied the box for the entire nine innings and pitched nice ball. It is not his fault that the game was lost as he worked hard and deserved to win. Only 6 scattered hits were made off him and he caused nine to fan. His support was not of the best. Sheridan had an off day at second and had three errors to his credit. Stayne and Shea had hardly anything to do. Connors made a nice catch in the ninth and R. Pilling also distinguished himself by gathering in a drive.

Downs, who twirled for the visitors, is a southpaw, with a most deceptive but-drop, which he used nearly all the time, and which kept the locals guessing. Burge, at short, made three pretty catches and took care of his infield played snappy ball, although at times the fielding was loose. Butler's batting was a feature, the Cobourg mentor batting getting three hits out of four times up.

The new grounds promise to be the best that the town has had for some time. The diamond was rather dead on Saturday but it will become firmer. The grounds are well laid out and the grandstand provides ample seating accommodation.

The game by innings was as follows:—

First Innings.—Burge, first up for Cobourg, fanned, after Quinlan had given him three balls. Bulger was easy out, fly to Jack Pilling and Payne dumped a little one in front of the plate and was out at first. 0-0.

"Teddy" Pilling could not connect with Downs drop and fanned. Shea drove one at McKinnon, too fast for that worthy to handle. Stayne grounded to Burge, who forced Shea at second. Rattray's bunt was a ground to the pitcher and the side was out. 0-0.

Second Innings.—There was trouble for Peterborough in the second. McKinnon singled to centre, but Butler kept it up by a hit over second. Brown was safe on a hit to shortstop and McKinnon scored, Butler going to third. Lloyd drove a grounder at Sheridan, who allowed it to get away from him and Brown and Butler scored, Lloyd going to second. Pickering fanned, Downs grounded to Quinlan and Burge filed out to Jack Pilling. 2-0.

The locals got some of them back in their half. Callaghan was given free transportation to first and Sheridan came in the good work by dropping a bunt in front of the plate on which both runners were safe. J. Pilling's sacrifice advanced them a base and then Connors made the grade to first on an error and the bases were full. Quinlan hit to Downs and was out at first and Callaghan scored. Brown threw to second to catch Connors, but the latter was safe. Sheridan headed for the plate and scored easily, but Teddy Pilling fanned and the fun was over. 2-2.

Third Innings.—Bulger was out on a fly in front of the plate. Payne fanned, and McKinnon grounded to Quinlan, who threw low to first and the runner was safe. Butler singled to centre, but McKinnon was out trying to steal third, Stayne blocking him cleverly. 2-2.

For the locals Shea died on a grounder to Downs, Stayne fanned, Rattray popped one over second, which looked like an easy out, but Burge and Bulger got mixed up with each other and the ball was dropped. Callaghan was safe on a hit to third. Rattray tried to make third on the play but Brown made a nice throw across the diamond and the runner was out. 2-2.

Fourth innings.—Brown got a complimentary and stole second. Lloyd died on a grounder to Sheridan, while Brown went to third. Pickering hit to J. Pilling and Brown scored. Downs fanned, but Burge went to second on the grounder to Sheridan, which the latter failed to connect with. Bulger went out on a grounder to Jack Pilling. 4-2.

The locals tied the score in their half. Sheridan started the fun by reaching first on a hit along first base line. Sheridan stole second while J. Pilling fanned. Cannors filed out to short. Sheridan stole third and scored on a wild throw. Quinlan made a beautiful single to left, Earls was allowed to run for him. R. Pilling hit to Downs, whose throw to first was muffed and Earls crossed the plate. Shea put an end to the excitement with a fly to McKinnon. 4-4.

Fifth Innings.—Cobourg went out in order, Payne fanned, McKinnon fouled out to Rattray and Butler fanned. 4-4.

For Peterborough, Stayne grounded to the pitcher and Rattray flew out to short. Callaghan grounded to Burge who allowed the ball to get away from him and Quinlan went to second. Sheridan died on a grounder to Bulger. 4-4.

Sixth Innings.—Brown grounded out to Sheridan. Floyd hit a vicious one at Callaghan, who dropped it and the runner reached second. Sheridan dropped Pickering's easy fly. Downs fanned but Quinlan hit Burge and the bases were full. Quinlan was master of the situation, however, and fanned Bulger. 4-4.

The locals went out in order, J. Pilling died on a grounder to McKinnon, Connors struck out and Quinlan's grounder to Downs was fatal. 4-4.

Seventh Innings.—Payne was out on a grounder to J. Pilling. McKinnon fanned, but Butler drew a cakewalk. Brown cleaned out what looked like a sure one to right field, but R. Pilling gathered it in nicely. 4-4.

The locals went out in one, two, three order. R. Pilling fanned, Shea grounded to third and Stayne to second. 4-4.

Eighth Innings.—Floyd made a nice hit to centre. Pickering died on a grounder to Quinlan. Floyd scored on a passed ball. Downs flew out to Sheridan. Burge singled to centre, but Bulger grounded to Quinlan. 5-4.

The locals warmed up in their half. Floyd missed the third strike on Rattray and the runner went to second. Callaghan flew out to short. Sheridan's out to the pitcher advanced Rattray to third and J. Pilling cracked out a nice single to right, scoring Rattray. Connor's fly to third was fatal. 5-5. The excitement was intense.

Ninth Innings.—Cobourg scored the winning run in this inning as already stated.

For the locals' half, Quinlan grounded to Downs, R. Pilling walked and went to second on Shea's out to centre.

PORRIDGE MEN WIN VICTORY

Quakers Defeated Norwood by score of 1-0.

Game Was Fairly Fast—Quakers Are Now in Excellent Form.

The Porridge Aggregation has apparently now struck its winning gait, and their victorious encounter with Norwood, at the latter place, entitles them to wear, for a time, at least, "the smile that won't come off."

The game, which resulted in a win by a score of 1—0, while not of a whirlwind variety, was, however, from the spectator's point of view, a clean and interesting exhibition, and though in spots somewhat ragged, the combination was, on the whole, much better than anything seen in Midland League ball heretofore this season.

The Quakers showed an almost complete reversal of form since their last match with the Eastern villagers. This was perhaps accounted for largely by the strengthening of the team by the addition of several first class kickers, who were not available at the time of the previous game. These included Tim Simpson, who proved, as usual, impregnable upon the back division. Mahs also greatly strengthened the halfback line, and the close manner in which he held his check brushed the aspirations of Norwood's fast right wing. The forward line, which at times previous game was somewhat small-like in its movements, yesterday was speedy and effectual, and always there with the goods. Snider was a distinct addition. "Jimmy" Lyons and Bogue on the right got away on some pretty combination efforts. Heston, at centre, was successful in landing the only score, and his work throughout was of a first class variety. He was, however, closely watched, the Norwoodites throughout the game showing a tendency of kicking too much to centre, while the Quakers played their game in, more open form, which allowed a better opportunity for effectual passing. Mr. Fadden in goal was not compelled to agitate himself very strenuously, though he handled everything that came his way, in a cool and "heady" manner. Dork was a tower of strength upon the back division, intercepting anything which looked dangerous, without difficulty. He is a strong and accurate kicker, and uses the weight to good advantage. Whitlow was called the best checks on the defence, and was speedy, strong and effective at every stage of the game. He is wonderfully agile and entirely fearless. Moore handled his checks well, in many instances using his body to good advantage. His work during the second half was superior to that of the first. Brooks got away on pretty rushes in the second half, and is a speedy runner. Chilcott also displayed lots of speed, and was very effectual. In combination work he was especially good. For the Norwood team the full division was materially strengthened by the addition of Reagan, who blocked everything that came his way.

Kidd was also "always in the way" when things looked dangerous around the posts. Pettigrew in goal stopped a number of hard shots, and displayed his usual alertness in defending the flags. Nicholl, Kemp and Powers made a strong half line. The forwards had a tendency which was very noticeable at times, to centre, and failed to get away on any of those dissensive rushes which characterized the previous game. Howson and Lamey on right wing displayed great energy and speed, but were watched too closely by Mahs and Whitlow. To get within effective shooting distance. Doherty was speedy at times and played throughout a steady game which was always dangerous. Nicholl and Longergan on left worked well together. The line-up was as follows:

Norwood.	Quakers.
Goal:
Pettigrew	McFadden
Backs:
Kidd	Dork
Pearce	Simpson
Halves.
Nicholl	Whitlow
Kemp	Moore
Powers	Mahs
Forwards.
Howson	Brooks
Lamey	Heston
Doherty	Snider
Nicholl	Lyons
Longergan	Bogue
Goal Umpires.
Rogers	Upgate

Referee—W. Somerville, Old Country Wanderers.

The Play.

The game opened with some nice rushes by the Quakers, Oakes potting away on a pretty rush. The visitors, however, only fairly got for the opening ten minutes when Norwood commenced to push matters with Quaker territory, and compelled Mahs also to make a step. Mahs, Dork, Brooks and Lyons made a pretty rush in combination which looked dangerous. The only goal was scored by Heston after one of the prettiest dodging runs of the game, in which he forced his way through the entire back division. Norwood began to get busy and in a scrimmage in front of Quakers' goal, managed to force the pigskin through, but by fine, safe, kicking Mahs relieved the situation. Howson and Lamey worked hard, but failed to get away from Mahs, who evidenced a decided preference for their alluring society to school the game.

Shortly after the visitors wrested their way down the field a number of times, the forward on one occasion failing to score only by the narrowest possible margin.

During the second half play was faster. McNicholl received a nasty bump on the face which compelled him to retire for a few minutes. Harstone got in another nice sprint and almost succeeded in shooting the flags, the ball, unfortunately, found cover the wrong way. Simpson and Dorn handled everything beautifully when occasion demanded, and nothing got past them. Whitlow was also in the middle of the fray with his usual persistency. "Jimmy" Lyons shot one in which, however, was nicely intercepted by Pearce. Play at the close was very even, both teams finishing strong.

Read what Mrs. Wm. Castilloux, Newport, Quebec, has to say about Burdock Blood Bitters:—"Last December I fell very sick after confinement. I was not able to walk for three months, and was given up to die by the doctor. My husband read of the many wonderful cures made by Burdock Blood Bitters, so procured me two bottles. After using it for about ten days, I was able to get around, and could mind my baby without help from anyone, and am now well, and able to do my own work. I told a lady friend of mine who was troubled in the same way, and she used it with equal success. I cannot too highly recommend your medicine, for I know just how good it is, and hope and wish that anyone suffering as I did will give it a trial."

LIVER COMPLAINT.

"Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills Cure All Liver Ills." Easy to Take. Always Effectual. They Cure in Nature's Way.

A celebrated English authority once said, "The liver is the direct cause of nine-tenths of the ills that flesh is heir to." It is the largest gland in the body, and naturally has a great deal of work to do, for the reason that there is its cells and tissues the blood must pass many times every hour. Now suppose its functions should become impaired or interfered with. You know you would have pains or uneasiness in the right side, or a dull aching under the shoulder blade. The complexion would become sallow or yellowish, your appetite would be impaired, your bowels inactive, while headaches, dizziness and bad feelings would be your daily experience. In these cases relief that is speedy and full is always afforded by the use of Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills, which are a marvelous success in curing all forms of liver complaint, including biliousness and jaundice. Taken as directed they always restore an inactive and torpid liver to healthy action, regulate the bowels and cleanse the blood of impurities. A week's use of Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills by a bilious or constipated person will elevate the spirits and again make life really worth living. They are invaluable for all stomach and bowel troubles, and they always cure sick headache, constipation and biliousness in one night. 25 cents at all dealers.

NORTH OXFORD LIBERAL RALLY

Woodstock Opera House Packed to the Doors Saturday.

HON. FRANK OLIVER SPEAKS

New Minister of the Interior Listened to With Delight and Enthusiasm in Favor of Mr. Smith Ran High—Mr. Bennett Was Not Present—Leader of the Opposition at London.

Woodstock, June 5.—Packed to the doors with enthusiastic Liberal supporters was the first Liberal meeting of the campaign in Woodstock in the Opera House Saturday night. It was a great gathering, and the enthusiasm in favor of Mr. Smith ran high. Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior; Messrs. E. M. Macdonald, M. P., of Pictou, N. S., and E. W Nesbitt were the speakers. Mr. Malcolm Douglas presided, and on the platform were a large number of prominent Liberals of the city. Windsor's orchestra provided the musical program. Throughout the meeting the closest attention was paid to the speakers, and Hon. Mr. Oliver, especially on account of his knowledge of the west, was listened to with delight. While Mr. Oliver was speaking there were several attempts at organised interruption, in which two well-known barristers of the city took a prominent part. This provoked many shouts of "Put them out," but the speaker always showed himself capable of handling any interruptors.

Mr. Bennett Not Present.

Mr. R. B. Bennett, the Conservative speaker, who was challenged to a debate, was not present. It was explained he could not break an engagement to speak in London. The statement that all efforts to get Mr. Foster or some other Opposition speaker to come had been fruitless was received with laughter by the audience. Mr. Bennett sent a challenge to meet any two men, from the Premier down, on Wednesday night in the Opera House.

Mr. E. W. Nesbitt made a short but rattling good speech, in which he referred to the contest between himself and Mr. Smith for the nomination as merely friendly rivalry. He vigorously defended the Government's policy on the school question.

Conservatives at London.

London, Ont., June 5.—There were two features of the meeting held in the Princess Rink Saturday night in the interests of Mr. William Gray, the Conservative candidate, which had not been looked for. The first was the overshadowing in popular favor of Mr. R. L. Borden, announced as the principal speaker, by Mr. R. B. Bennett of Calgary, and the second the appearance on the platform, for the first time during the campaign, of Hon. Adam Beck. There has been considerable comment among local Conservatives at Mr. Beck's inactivity since the fight commenced. It is said that his non-participation in the fray has been due largely to the disinclination of the Whitney Cabinet to interfere or take a hand in a Dominion contest. Mr. Beck entered the hall while Mr. Borden was speaking, and as he walked to the platform he was greeted with hearty cheering. The Opposition leader, who spoke for less than an hour, was suffering from a cold, but managed to make himself heard throughout the rink, which was well filled. Mr. Bennett spoke with his usual vigor and rapidity, and aroused the greatest enthusiasm of the evening. Dr. Sproule, M. P., East Grey, grand master of the Orange Order, and Dr. Guest of St. Thomas were the other speakers. All were well received; all devoted the greater portion of their time to the educational question, and none advanced a single argument that has not been heard in the campaign during the week.

Weather Prophets Competition.

Brussels, June 5.—The Belgian Astronomical and Meteorological societies have sent invitations to weather experts the world over for a great weather prophesying contest. Valuable prizes have been offered. The conditions for the contest, which is to be held in St. Petersburg, comprise a prediction 24 hours ahead, indicating the barometrical variations in Europe with the movements of depressionary centres, etc. Specialists will award the prizes.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN.

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over forty years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce thinks that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment cures "in the privacy of your home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands of bad cases. It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take his advice and be well.

Mrs R. D. Monfort, of Lebanon, Warren Co., O., writes: "I have received the 'Medical Adviser.' A crisp, new five dollar bill could not tempt me to part with it."

On receipt of 21 one-cent stamps, to pay cost of mailing only, we will send to any address a paper-bound copy of Dr. Pierce's great 1000-page book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser." Or, for 50 stamps the same in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Shea Arrested For Libel.

Chicago, June 5.—Cornelius P. Shea, president of the Brotherhood of Teamsters, was arrested Saturday afternoon on a charge of criminal libel preferred by Robert J. Thorne, assistant general manager of Montgomery, Ward & Co. He is said to have stated that he had been offered $10,000 by Mr. Thorne to call a strike against Sears, Roebuck & Co., which is a large house in the same line of business as Montgomery, Ward & Co.

Winnipeg Laborer Suicides.

Winnipeg, June 5.—Joseph Robert Wallace, aged 46, bricklayer, suicided Saturday night at his home on Springfield road by placing the muzzle of a loaded shotgun in his mouth and pulling the trigger with his toes. Wallace had plenty of money in the bank, and had been speaking cheerfully to his wife and niece just before the tragedy.

THE HOUSE BEAUTIFUL.

Advice in Lecture Given to Household Economic Association.

"When you build this ideal home of yours," said Mr. Vaux Chadwick recently, in an address to the Canadian Household Economic Association in Toronto, "buy more land and cheaper, rather than be cramped for space and have your rooms darkened by the nearness of the next dwelling."

In planning a house, the speaker thought, the start should be made at the dining-room, which should be sunny in the morning, to have an uplifting effect on the household throughout the day. It was a mistake to have a drawing-room in such a light color scheme that it could not be in daily use and so full of bric-a-brac that the man of the house was like a bull in a china shop in it; rather the living-room where there was plenty of sun in the afternoon, usable furniture, carpets which need not fear the sun, good pictures, and a fireplace—a fireplace with a real fire, no gas logs, lumps of clay, or asbestos sheet.

In a small house it was better not to give too much space to hall and stairway. In the kitchen there must be space, air, and light; there must be serving pantry, closet for pots, a larder, a convenient coal bin, not too much woodwork, windows placed where there might be a good draft, when necessary, and a good light for the worker, and everything must be arranged to make labor as light and steps as few as possible. If the size of the house would allow, it was a good thing to have a sitting-room for the maid.

The cellar must be light and airy, and the furnace and coal be in a room by themselves.

The bedrooms should have ample means of ventilation, and at least one bedroom in the house should have a fireplace. It was a good idea to have the linen closet off the sewing-room, and shelves for this closet were advised.

Mr. Chadwick advocated the casement window, with hinged transom, to act as ventilator, and entirely disapproved of double windows. "It is better," he said, "to use two tons of coal more in a year and dispense with them, and you will save doctors' bills in doing it." The verandah should be at the side of the house, rather than the front, for the sake of privacy. It was a pity, the speaker thought, for anyone to buy a house, one of many, put up in job lots by the speculator, when for the same price he might build one that would express the owner's individuality and have some character of its own. The speculator was not in business for his health.

Then followed advice as to wall covering and furnishing, the gist of which was that elaboration should be avoided, simplicity should prevail. Colors should be carefully studied. Yellow was cheerful, gay; reds and greens should only be used in a well-lighted room; tan and golden brown were best suited for a hall, as they would harmonise with all colors. The over-mantel of the stock dealers was usually of atrocious design; better a simple affair like the woodwork of the room.

Valances and drapes at the window were to be avoided; light, cheap muslins and nets were pleasing, and heavy curtains should fall in straight lines. In furniture, good design and workmanship should be sought for, whether old or new, and the hideous imitations of hideous designs might well be passed by, shining with varnish fresh from the departmental store.

What Can a Boy Do?

This is what a boy can do, because boys have done it:

He can write a great poem. Alexander Pope wrote his famous "Ode to Solitude" when he was only twelve years old.

He can write a great book. Macaulay wrote his first volume, "The Primitiae," which took the literary world by storm, before he was in his teens.

He can write a successful play. John O'Keefe, the famous Irish actor and playwright, wrote a play that is considered good to-day when he was only fifteen.

He can enter a great university before he is thirteen. William Pitt did it.

Fertile Eggs.

Fertile eggs should be gathered often, as with a very little heat they begin to incubate. A number of hens laying in the same nest sometimes furnish heat enough to render the first eggs laid unfit for table use.

The second game in the Guild League will be played to-night between St. Paul's and St. Andrew's. The latter team will be chosen from the following players:—Dunsford, Swanston, Patterson, Butcher, McDonald, McKnight, Dormer, Elliott, Thornton, Dalleson, Cameron.

The C.G.E. Angling Club took a trip down the river by the Rob Roy Saturday. About 35 members took in the trip.

FOOTBALL.

The Galt team are not giants, although they are fast. In fact the team depends entirely on it's speed and its combination work.

The following list shows the age, weight, and height of the various members of the team:—

The Quaker line-up for the Galt game to-morrow night at the Exhibition grounds will be as follows:—

Goal, McFadden; backs, Simpson, Derbs; halves, Cann, Moore and Main; forwards, Huston, Snider, Cullen, Brooks and Lyons. Donaldson, spare.

This is almost the same team as that which played in Norwood, with the exception of Whitlow, who is now residing in Port Hope.

The famous Galt football team, which is billed to meet the Quakers on Tuesday evening, June 6th, has a record, which perhaps, has never been equalled by any Canadian sporting organization. In the 35 years of its existence the club has won forty championships. Last fall the senior team achieved the crowning success, when they won the World's Olympic Championship at the World's Fair at St. Louis. The team which won this honour will be practically the same as that which will be seen here.

Indigestion and Headache.

Mr. Duncan McPherson, Content, Alberta, writes: "I was for many years troubled with indigestion and headache and derived no relief from the many remedies I used. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after taking four boxes the result is that I am once more in the full enjoyment of the blessings of good health."

Was a Queen of the May.

British Columbia is the one part of the British Empire in which the old English custom of dancing round the May Pole is kept up. The only departure made in British Columbia is in the change of date. In England May Day used to be the one chosen for the fete; at Vancouver the festivities are generally put off till about the middle of the month.

For over forty years New Westminster has kept up the pretty custom. This year it took place on May 14. The Queen of the May was chosen a day or two before. She and the ex-Queen were the two principal figures among hundreds of gaily dressed children, who rules the Royal City for one day. The program was as follows:

About 1 p. m. a procession was formed down town, at the head of which were two carriages, one containing the Queen of May and the other the ex-Queen. The former had her maids of honor and the latter a retinue. Escorted by the city band and a military guard, the Queens were driven to Queen's Park, where the crowning took place, followed by the May Pole dance and children's games. In the evening a ball was held in the Dunsmuir Fair buildings, at which the girls of the two royal parties were the reigning belles.

RECORD OF A LIFE-SAVER.

Late Charles Nurse of Toronto Said to Have Averaged One Rescue a Year For Forty Years.

Charles Nurse, life-saver and 30 years ago one of Canada's most prominent athletes, died the other day at his hotel, Humber Bay, Toronto, of rupture of the muscles of the heart, which commenced to bother him one day when he went to the assistance of a man named Morrison and a team of horses. The team was hauling sand, and it got into the river just near the bridge. Nurse ran across the bridge with a heavy coil of rope, when he was attacked with very sever pains. At the beginning of December, he was sent to the hospital, where he stayed till the middle of February. He was around for a week or two, and then had to take to his bed again. He has been sinking for the past three weeks.

There are probably a score or more of people living in the vicinity of Toronto now who owe their lives to the ability of Charles Nurse as a life-saver. During the 40 years Mr. Nurse has been resident at the Humber he has been the hero of many thrilling adventures in the uncertain waters of Humber Bay, and has averted many tragedies. His friends estimate that he has saved on an average one life a year. He used to say he couldn't understand the foolhardiness of some of the Humber Bay pleasure-seekers, and he could spot people who seemed to be going to get into trouble. It was the good fortune of many that his watchful eye had been working.

Mr. Nurse was an eyewitness of several tragedies, and has recovered many bodies. His services were always sought after a drowning accident in the Humber vicinity, and if he could not find the body on the unfortunate no one could.

Although many of Mr. Nurse's acts of valor were unrecognized, he has many valuable mementoes from people he rescued. For years he has proudly carried a handsome gold watch which was presented to him by Dr. Ellis and Barristers Delamere and Black, whom he rescued during a gale soon after he was established at the Humber. Mr. Nurse also has the Royal Humane Society medal and a bronze medal for life-saving, which was presented to him by Lord Dufferin.

Among Mr. Nurse's valued presents is a watch charm, which he has worn for many years. It was presented to him in gratitude by William Fitzgerald and R. Crothers, for his gallant services to them at the great Humber disaster 20 years ago, when by a collision of a freight and passenger train 30 lives were lost. The service rendered by Mr. Nurse in this lamentable disaster in assisting the injured out of the burning carriages and alleviating their suffering was highly complimented.

Referring to the Humber disaster, Will Fitzgerald said: "Charley Nurse was the only cool man there that morning."

Charles Nurse was born in Maidstone, Kent, in 1842, so he was 63 years of age. In the old country he was a toolmaker, and was an athlete of some prominence. From his home he went to Brighton, where he received a nautical training that has been of great service to him and of benefit to many others when they were in peril in Toronto waters. He lived in Brighton for eight years, during which time he got special recognition from the Royal Humane Society for demonstrating the best method of saving life from drowning. This was in a contest open to all comers. A dummy man of about 140 pounds weight was provided. A strong ring made of India rubber was tightly sewn on to the body of the dummy and the ring was attached to a hoop in a piece of iron of sufficient weight to sink the dummy to a depth of nine or ten feet below the surface of the water. Each competitor, when he dived for the dummy man, had to unhook it from the iron, otherwise, even if he brought it to the surface, he could not hold it, the additional weight of the iron attached making the whole preternaturally heavy. The start was made from the shore from which there was a swim of about 50 yards to where the dummy was moored; it then had to be dived for and brought to the surface, and swam with to a buoy 75 yards distant, on which the swimmer was to land it. Nurse easily outclassed all other competitors, which included several old country experts, among them being Prof. Cavill, who had accomplished the feat of swimming the English Channel. From the start to the time of bringing the dummy to the surface, after the first dive, only occupied two minutes, and Nurse then carried the dummy to the landing buoy in 3 minutes and 25 seconds.

The winning of this recognition from the Royal Humane Society is considered a high honor to any natator.

For four years Nurse held the championship for swimming and diving in Brighton.

Mr. Nurse became expert as a foot runner before he came to Canada in 1871. In all his foot races from one to ten miles he was eminently successful. He defeated the running celebrities of the day with ease. In 1873 on the College street cricketg rounds he defeated the famed Indian runner Kerronawa in distance of one, two and four miles. He was a popular athlete and in addition to his running prowess acquired a Cobalal reputation as an expert diver, swimmer and oarsman. Many indeed are the trophies, including several handsome pieces of silverware won in England and many medals won in Canada.

ZEMSTVO CONGRESS MUST NOT ASSEMBLE

Cannot Meet in St. Petersburg as Scheduled—Resentment is Rampant—Trouble From the 280 Delegates, or a Majority of Them, is Looked For—Revolution Talked of by Union of Russian Journalists—Report of the Bouligan Commission—The War.

St. Petersburg, June 6.—The meeting of the all-Russian zemstvo congress, called for to-day, for which 280 delegates from various zemstvos and municipalities, including the Mayors of twenty-five cities, arrived here to-day, and at which it was proposed to introduce resolutions calling for the immediate cessation of hostilities, has been prohibited.

The order of prohibition which arrived only late last night, has aroused the greatest indignation and resentment.

Very many of the delegates are determined to defy the Government and proceed with the congress, in which case trouble may be expected.

The more radical of the delegates are proposing measures of an extreme type, and there is the greatest anxiety over the probable developments.

Delegates representing the social revolutionary party and the Leagues of Leagues, are also in the city, and an effort is being made among them to agree on a basis for common action.

Labor leaders are negotiating for the purpose of declaring a general strike next Saturday.

The union of Russian journalists today chartered a steamer and cruised in the Neva for six hours, so as to hold a meeting free from police interference. The meeting passed a resolution demanding a constituent assembly, and hailing the advent of a Russian revolution.

Bouligan Commission's Report.

The Novoe Vrtmya gives the principal points of what it claims is the new project, drafted by the Bouligan Commission. In brief, it is said to provide for a body of 400 to 600 members, with limited rights of interpellation, but having the initiative in legislation and power of discussing the budget and auditing expenditures.

Kaiser to Advise Czar.

Washington, June 6.—Peace in the Far East was the subject of another conference at the White House between the President and Mr. Takahira, the Japanese Minister. It was the third conference yesterday which the President has had on this subject—Mr. Jusserand, the French Ambassador, and Mr. O'Beirne, the British charge d'affairs, having been callers at the White House in the morning.

The President, it is believed, will endeavor to keep Japan's peace terms within reasonable bounds, and the close relations of Emperor William to the Czar, it is suggested, will enable the German sovereign to advise the Czar with a frankness that even the Washington Government could not assume.

Mr. Takahira said last night that "Tokio is always for peace, but," he added, insignificantly, "Russia must first realise the present situation in all its seriousness, and be prepared to face it."

Enquist Must Tie Up.

Washington, June 6.—Secretary Taft yesterday cabled Governor Wright at Manila to inform Admiral Enquist that in strict pursuance of the national policy adopted by the United States Government he will be allowed to intern his ships, the Aurora, Oleg and Jemtchug, at Manila. In case he does not adopt this course his only alternative after the period allowed by international law has expired, will be to put to sea.

Left to Admiral to Decide.

St. Petersburg, June 6.—Both the Foreign Office and the Admiralty say that the decision whether to disarm the three Russian cruisers at Manila or effect repairs there and endeavor to reach a Russian port, was left in Admiral Enquist's hands to determine according to his best judgment. Little doubt was felt that the cruisers would be interned until the end of the war as before the repairs which Enquist cables are imperative could be effected a Japanese squadron would be off Corregidor Island waiting to capture or sink them.

Nothing Doing.

The interview between President Roosevelt and Ambassador Cassini at Washington, regarding peace in the Far East, has not borne fruit here.

Count Cassini's report places the whole conversation in a purely informal light and it is expected that Russia's answer will be returned in an equally informal manner. The officials do not hesitate to express the opinion that the determination to continue the war was fixed and definite.

The representatives of the powers here are disposed to look upon the attempts to end the war as fruitless until after another land battle at least.

Bouligan and Alexieff Resign.

Minister of Interior Bouligan and Admiral Alexieff (head of the committee of the Far East) have tendered their resignations, which the Emperor has not accepted.

Capture Jap Sealers.

Harbin, Manchuria, June 5.—The crews of five Japanese sealing schooners, numbering sixty men and including six Americans, have arrived here. They were captured by Russian torpedo boats while poaching near Odima Island.

What Russians Can Do.

Hong Kong, June 6.—Vessels of the Russian volunteer fleet are overhauling merchantmen in the waters northeast of this port, according to a report made by the British steamer Ping Suey, which arrived here yesterday. The commander of the Ping Suey says he saw four steamers overhauled 50 miles from here by two volunteer fleet steamers.

"First Strong Step."

New York, June 6.—A despatch to The Herald from Berlin asserts on what is claimed as "the highest authority" that an intrigue is being actively worked in China, the object of which is to withdraw, forcibly or otherwise, the concession to the American-China Development Co. (in which New York and Belgian financiers are heavily interested) for building all the important railroads between Nankow and Canton. The withdrawal is intended to be the first strong step toward closing the "open door."

BROTHER JONATHAN AHEAD.

International Survey Decides Location of Alaskan Mountains.

Washington, June 6.—Kate's Needle and Devil's Thumb, two of the highest ranges in the world, are within the territory of the United States, this fact having just been ascertained by the Canadian and American surveying parties which were sent to Alaska some months ago to finally determine the Alaskan boundary line.

Owing to the great obstacles encountered, the surveyors determined the line by locating the intervening peaks by observations, giving their latitude and longitude and describing an imaginary line from the two principal peaks, intersecting the intervening peaks. This gives a line which closely resembles an old-fashioned Virginia rail fence, but it is sufficient for all practical purposes. The entire region is covered by perpetual snow. It is in the neighborhood of the summit of one of the most precipitous mountain ranges in the world. It is remote and inaccessible to any one but a prospector and a mountain goat.

The task just completed is one of the most difficult ever performed by surveyors, and they were required to traverse much wild territory some of which has never been trod by the foot of man, as far as the records disclose.

FOREST RESERVE OF 20 MILES.

Goes Around Lake Nipigon—Set Apart by Order-in-Council.

Toronto, June 6.—The Provincial Cabinet yesterday passed an order-in-council providing for a new forest reserve extending around Lake Nipigon, including a radius of 20 miles from its shores. Care will be taken to prevent timber on this as well as the islands of the lake being improperly disposed of.

The Department of Agriculture have decided upon special summer meetings of the Farmers' Institute, to be held June 12 to 23, in Hastings County.

The Premier and Hon. Nelson Monteith received a deputation yesterday from the Niagara fruit growers, who requested an experimental horticultural station for the Niagara district. It consisted of M. and A. H. Petit, Messrs. Gorry, Smith and Rosenburger, the latter president of the Niagara Fruit Growers' Association. They were introduced by Dr. Jessop, M. P. P.

ALFONSO ENGLAND'S GUEST.

First Visit of a Spanish King to Great Britain.

Portsmouth, England, June 6.—The King of Spain arrrived here yesterday from Cherbourg, on the British royal yacht Victoria and Albert. The yacht was accompanied across the channel by an escort of British cruisers and torpedo boat destroyers. The Prince of Wales, representing King Edward, warmly welcomed the Spanish ruler. King Edward, in the uniform of a Spanish admiral, had driven to Victoria Station, and as the train drew up at the platform advanced to receive his young guest. After an inspection of the guard of honor, the two monarchs entered a state carriage with the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Connaught, and amidst great cheering from the big crowds assembled started to Buckingham Palace.

Fort Erie Man Missing.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 6.—W. Vance Carey, a wholesale liquor dealer in Fort Erie, Ont., probably one of the best known men along the Canadian frontier, has been missing from his home in Fort Erie since last Friday night, and inquiry has been begun by the Canadian authorities in an effort to learn something concerning his whereabouts. Just now Carey's store, near the Buffalo Ferry landing, is in charge of two constables detailed for duty by the sheriff of Welland County.

Race Horse Killed.

Chatham, June 6.—At 3 o'clock yesterday morning at Vosburg, about two miles east of here, a Wabash freight telescoped G. T. R. freight No. 49, smashing a caboose and several cars. "Clear the Arena," a valuable race horse, owned by F. J. Kittleman of Detroit was killed, and others, the property of Kittleman and Fox, badly injured. Trainers J. J. Slocum and W. Schram were badly cut and bruised.

Alex. Smith Will Defend.

Ottawa, June 6.—Joseph Clement, alleged to be the son of a Quebec alderman, who, with his alleged wife, was arrested for wholesale burglaries, appeared in court yesterday and was remanded for a week at the request of the defence. The pair will be defended by Alex. Smith, formerly Liberal organizer, who is now practicing law.

May Be Murder.

Quebec, June 6.—With the face covered with blood and the head badly bruised on both sides, the body of Etienne Thereux, Indian, of Loriet, was found on the roadway there yesterday morning. The victim was about 70 years of age and was a well-known resident of the Indian village. The coroner is making an investigation.

CELEBRATED GOLDEN WEDDING

Pleasing Event at Home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Anderson, of Douro Township

Have Enjoyed Half Century of Connubial Bliss—Many Guests Present

A pleasing event took place yesterday in Douro township, when Mr. and Mrs. D. Anderson, of lot 4, concession 7, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding, a large number of friends and relatives being present to join in the festivities, consequent upon the happy occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, whose present ages are 73 and 71 years respectively, are both hale and hearty, and there is every prospect they will be still spared many years of weddad happiness.

Both were born in Monaghan township, near Centreville, and removed almost half a century ago to Douro, having for 49 years resided upon the lot which they at present occupy.

A large number of members of the family were present, from the immediate neighbourhood and from a a distance, among those were the following sons and daughters: Mrs. John Quinn, of Douro; Mrs. William Moffatt of Fifth Ward; Mrs. D. Hamilton, town; Alexander, John and Wm., of Peterborough; David, of Dummer, and James, who resides at home. A large family, numbering 23 persons drove out from town.

The aged couple were the recipients of many congratulatory messages and a large array of beautiful presents, which testify to the esteem in which they are held by their host of friends.

A sumptious repast was prepared, which was partaken of by the guests present, who numbered about forty. After which a large group photograph was taken by Mr. Fred Roy of the Roy Studio, town.

The Examiner joins with their host of friends, in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Anderson many years of weddad happiness.

Ald. Hall Introduces By-law to Regulate Food Stuffs

"For the better protection of the public in the matter of purchasing food supplies," was the subject of a bylaw introduced in the council last night, by Ald. Hall. It provides that meat, vegetables, etc., shall not be exposed on the street, unless it will be exposed to dust and other contaminating influences. The by-law, however, was not passed, being referred back to the town solicitor to report on.

Resolutions

Moved by W. H. Hill, that Mr. Scrigley be appointed as examiner at the Entrance Examinations at the Collegiate Institute—Carried.

Moved by R. B. Rogers, seconded by J. J. Hartley, that the Property Committee be authorized to advertise for coal supplies and to let tender as seems best in their judgment, and report to the board.—Carried.

It was moved by Mr. Hill and seconded by Mr. Crane, that a committee be appointed to draft a circular letter setting forth the facts concerning the proposed Collegiate Institute and that a copy of the said circular be mailed by the secretary of the board to each elector, who is entitled to vote on the bylaw, and that this committee be composed of the chairman, Messrs. Hayes, Morrison, Stevenson, Pringle and the mover—Carried.

It was moved by W. H. Hill that congratulatory letters be forwarded to the successful candidates for Collegiate Institute scholarships — Carried.

Discussion

Mr. Crane in presenting the report of the Property Committee, again took occasion to remark upon the public school buildings of the town. At the Kindergarten at the Central School, 75 pupils were housed up with entirely insufficient light and ventilation. Such conditions could not fail to have an injurious effect upon the physical development of the children. The insufficient provision made with regard to this matter by previous boards was certainly open to criticism. Last year the sum of $800 had been devoted to the maintenance of properties aggregating in value from $80,000 to $100,000. Would a business man, the speaker inquired, consider a sum amounting to one per cent of the total value of his property as sufficient to maintain it in proper condition? A greater expenditure for this purpose is an absolute necessity. The estimated cost of the repairs recommended by the Property Committee approximated $600.

Some discussion took place upon the matter of the removal of the grand stand from the Separate School grounds. Mr. Hartley moving that the secretary be instructed to inquire of the mayor, as to the authority upon which it had been removed.

CRISIS OF GIRLHOOD

A TIME OF PAIN AND PERIL

Miss Emma Cole Says that Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has Saved Her Life and Made Her Well

How many lives of beautiful young girls have been sacrificed just as they were ripening into womanhood! How many irregularities or displacements have been developed at this important period, resulting in years of suffering!

Girls' modesty and oversensitiveness often puzzle their mothers and baffle physicians, because they withhold their confidence at this critical period.

A mother should come to her child's aid and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will at this time prepare the system for the coming change and start the menstrual period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities.

Miss Emma Cole of Tullahoma, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I want to tell you that I am enjoying better health than I have for years, and I owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"When fourteen years of age I suffered almost constant pain, and for two or three years I had soreness and pain in my side, headaches and was dizzy and nervous, and doctors all failed to help me.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and after taking it my health began to improve rapidly, and I think it saved my life. I sincerely hope my experience will be a help to other girls who are passing from girlhood to womanhood, for I know your Compound will do as much for them."

If you know of any young girl who is sick and needs motherly advice ask her to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will receive free advice which will put her on the right road to a strong, healthy and happy womanhood.

ABLE ADDRESS BY MR. D. W. DUMBLE

Spoke Last Night at George Street Methodist Church.

Subject Was "An Interior View of a Great Soul"—Regular Meeting of Epworth League.

The regular meeting of the Epworth League of the George street Methodist Church was held last night.

The meeting opened with devotional exercises, after which the topic, "An interior view of a great soul," II Cor., 4, 7; 5, 9; 6, 1-10; 11, 22-29; 12 10, 15, was taken by Mr. D. W. Dumble.

God had designed the salvation of men. The speaker mentioned in this connection Abraham, his life among his people while in Egypt and in the wilderness. The Jews after their safe arrival in the promised land never strayed away from their God and were the only people who worshipedf the true God.

Mr. Dumble also reviewed the history of Greece and Rome, comparing the two countries, the former all refined, cultured and educated; the latter warlike, and rudar; reviewing the history of these nations till the time of Paul.

He then went into a minute description of that great man, and brought out the features of his life in a very forcible manner. His exposition on the interior view of the soul of Paul or the "Great Man" was intently listened to by everyone present.

The meeting closed by singing and prayer by Mr. Dumble.

"CONSTITUENT" MAKES INQUIRY

As to Worried Appearance of Certain Local Aldermen.

The Examiner to-day received the following enquiry:—

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Some immense civic problem appears at present to be weighing down the spirits of the members of the Town Council. A large number of the ratepayers of the town feel that they are entitled to some information as to the cause of the strained and anxious expression at present noticeable upon the faces of some of our most handsome representatives. Can it be the weight of care accompanying the coming incorporation?

I remain,

AN ANXIOUS CONSTITUENT.

No. They are only having their "pictures took", and all members who have not so far undergone the operation are requested to pay an early visit to Roy's studio.

Headache

Its Cause and how Zutoo Cures It.

Headache is caused by bad circulation of the blood through the head.

This results in what the doctors call congestion. Certain parts of the interior of the head swell and press upon the delicate nerves.

The pain caused by this pressure is what we call headache.

When the circulation becomes equalized and this pressure removed, the headache will stop. It is better to wait until nature cures it than to take drug headache cures to deaden the pain.

But when it can be stopped in twenty minutes without drugs, it is foolish to suffer.

Zutoo Tablets will cure any headache in twenty minutes.

They reach the circulation through the stomach, and send the blood tingling through every artery of the head and body—just as a brisk walk in the open air will do. The congestion and pressure are thus relieved, and the headache cured in a natural way. The tablets have the same effect on the circulation that exercise has. They stimulate the circulation and help nature to effect the cure.

Zutoo is a harmless vegetable remedy, the principal ingredient of which is imported for us from Japan.

It must not be confounded with drug cures, which in almost every instance contain opium, morphine, and chloral, the taking of which lays the foundation for diseased nerves, heart, and stomach.

Zutoo acts just as quickly as any drug cure and is safe to take as often as you need it.

SOMEONE TAMPERS WITH THE ELECTRIC LIGHTS

Peterborough Light and Power Company Writes to the Council to this Effect---Lights Are Cut Out, and Company Believes Someone Climbs Its Poles and Does This---Matter Discussed at Last Night's Council Meeting---Council to Have its Picture Taken and Hung in Chamber—Last Regular Monthly Meeting of the Council of the Town of Peterborough Held Last Night—The Business Transacted—Many By-Laws Passed.

Those present at the regular monthly meeting of the Town Council last night were:—Mayor Beat in the chair, and Aldermen Johnston, Begley, Hicks, Mason, Crowe, Leary, Hall Tovey, McIntyre, Batten, Adams and Scott.

The minutes of the last meeting were taken as read and adopted.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Communications were read and dealt with as follows:—

An application from H. Webb town, for the position of inspector of the outfall sewer work, was referred to the Board of Works.

From property owners, asking that a pipe sewer be laid on Perry street from Aylmer to Stewart streets, and on Stewart street from Perry street to the bend on Stewart street where it turns west towards Park street.—Board of Works.

From property owners, petitioning for a pipe sewer on Hunter street east, from Rogers to Mark streets.—Board of Works.

From the Board of Education, asking that the Council raise by assessment an additional sum of $50,000 for the construction of the proposed new Collegiate institute building.—Received.

From owners of real property, praying that a pipe sewer be constructed on Charlotte street from the end of the present sewer to the boundary.—Board of Works.

From W. S. Northey, complaining that the boundary road between the town and Smith township, west of Water street, is in a bad condition, and asking that this highway be put in proper condition.—Board of Works.

From the Peterborough Light & Power Company, stating that somebody was making a practice of climbing their poles and deliberately cutting out the lights. Those interfered with are corner Rubidge and Park; corner Rubidge and Sherbrooke, and corners of Stewart and Townsend. Better protection from the Police Department was asked for. — Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From the Salvation Army Band, asking for an additional grant of $100.—Finance Committee.

From George Syer, asking that a board sidewalk and driveway be built on a short street at the north end of Barnardo avenue, and leading to a new frame house owned by him.—Board of Works.

From A. Edmonds, objecting to the construction of a granolithic walk on the west side of Rogers street, Fifth Ward.—Received.

From Mrs. M. Brownlee, stating that she was opposed to the construction of a granolithic walk on Rogers street, opposite her property.—Received.

From Mrs. Lynch, stating that she had signed a petition asking that the sidewalk on the east side of Aylmer from McDonel to London street be not built, and she wished to withdraw her name. A similar notice was received from Mrs. Sarah A. Davies. Both of these property owners wish the sidewalk built.—Received.

From John Chinn, Secretary of the International Convention Committee of the Typographical Union which convention meets in Toronto during August, soliciting an advertisement from the town in the book being published in connection therewith.—Received.

From J. L. Richmond, suggesting that as this will be the last meeting of the council of the "Town" of Peterborough before city incorporation, the members of the Council and Civic staff have their pictures taken and mounted in grouping, showing the Council Chamber. Ald. Adams moved that the letter be received and that the Council accept the offer with thanks. Ald. Crowe seconded the motion and it was carried.

From the town solicitor, saying that he has been unable so far to get the solicitor for the C. P. R. to obtain from the Board of Railway Commissioners, the orders authorizing the construction of the Wolfe and Rink street sidings. He also pointed out that the C. P. R. has put in a siding at the Peterborough Cereal Co's mills which appears to occupy the reserve on the river bank. This may only be the part agreed to be conveyed to the Cereal Company, but the latter are not yet owners of the land, and the consent of the council should have been secured before the work was commenced. —Received.

From Angus McMurchy, solicitor for the C. P. R., in reference to the above, explaining that delay in issuance of the order, which, however, will be issued at once, and forwarded to the town solicitor.—Received.

From a number of property owners, asking for a granolithic walk on the north side of Sherbrook street from Rubidge to Reid street.—Board of Works.

From property owners, asking that a granolithic sidewalk be constructed on the west side of Jackson avenue, from Albert street to the C. P. R.—Board of Works.

From property owners, asking that a granolithic walk be built on the east side of Reid street from Simcoe to Charlotte street.—Board of Works.

From property owners asking for a pipe sewer on Reid street from Charlotte to King street. Application was also received for a sewer from Perry street to opposite the centre of Block H, on Stewart street.—Board of Works.

From owners of property, asking that the sidewalk on the east side of Aylmer street from McDonel to Dublin, be laid inside the tree line.—Board of Works.

The reports of committees were then received and adopted, and a number of bylaws were given their several readings.

Ald. Adams moved the first reading of a bylaw to authorise the construction of an outfall sewer and sedimentation tank in Ashburnham, in accordance with the report of the Board of Works, which was passed.

Ald. Johnston moved the first reading of a bylaw respecting the salaries of the engineer and drivers of the fire department. The former is to get $550 per year, and the latter $475. The bylaw was carried.

Bylaws authorizing the Ontario Power Co and the Auburn Power Co. to erect and maintain poles and wires on the streets were read and passed.

A bylaw authorizing the construction of granolithic sidewalks in the town was introduced by Ald. Adams, and carried.

Ald. Mason moved the first reading of a bylaw to authorise the grants to the Horticultural Society and the 57th Band. Ald. Hall asked if there was an provision in the bylaw for the band playing in Jackson Park. He understood that a number of citizens were anxious to have the band play there every alternate week. It was explained that the band must play in such parks as may be ordered by the Finance Committee.

The superiority of Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets over other forms of treatment is due to the fact that they are the prescription of Dr. Zina Pitcher, the famous specialist—were used successfully and tested in private practice by him for many years before they were given to the public at large. They contain expensive specific ingredients not found in any other Kidney remedy. In it any wonder, then, that they cure lumbago, diabetes, gravel, Bright's disease, uric acid in the blood, rheumatism, neuralgia, dropsy, irritability of the bladder, and Kidney troubles of old people and children when other remedies fail?

Read what Mrs. W. Martin, Orangeville, Ont., has to say: "Some time ago I had a good deal of trouble with my back, due to a cold that settled in the Kidneys. I was also troubled with dizziness and headache.

I started taking Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets, and by the time I had used one bottle the backache, headache and feelings of dizziness had all disappeared. I consider the Tablets a good medicine."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets are put up in bottles of an chocolate-coated tablets, sold by druggists or sent by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

BUSINESS IS BUSINESS

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

It seems to me that the Board of Education owes the ratepaying public an explanation of their actions in the matter of the proposed Collegiate Institute. Before proceeding further permit me to say that I shall vote for the by-law to give another $60,000 for the new building, because I can clearly see the advisability and desirability of a proper and creditable building. At the same I desire to say that I have no confidence whatever in the ability of the present Board to spend to best advantage the immense sum involved,—viz. $90,000 or $60,000. Their one action is asking originally for only half what they now say they require is going to do an incalculable amount of harm to the cause on polling day and I greatly fear that the by-law will meet the regrettable fate of the fire hall by-law, unless the Board is prepared at once to shew the ratepayers that the money will be wisely and properly expended. To my mind the report of a competent architect, who is a specialist in this class of construction, should be made on the complete plans and specifications of our estimable fellow-townsman, and presented by the Board to the interested ratepayers.

I do not wish to cast any reflections on the members of the Board and I feel that the present dilemma is due to very bad advice. If the by-law be defeated the Board will have nobody to blame but themselves.

RATEPAYERS.

MANY COTTAGERS INSPECT HOUSES

They Visit Their Summer Residences at Stony Lake.

In Regard to Repairs Needed And as to Ravages of The Winter.

Yesterday the steamer "Stony Lake" commenced her regular daily trips. Quite a number of the cottagers availed themselves of the opportunity of taking a look at their summer homes, some to see what improvements could be made, others to look over the premises to see if any damages had occurred through wind or rainstorms or by the spring upheavel of the ice.

The lake was beautiful, the day most enjoyable, the rain not interfering till the parties had reached Lakefield on their return trip.

Mr. Kelly's tug from Bridgenorth could be seen with a cargo of lumber for the residence of a Toronto gentleman upon the Brown farm on the Dummer shore. Quite a number of floating wharves and tops of wharves were seen along the shore, where the ice had got in its destructive work, while here and there a boat placed various quantities of lumber where cottagers were about to make improvements, enlargements, etc. One of the islands that has changed hands this season is "Grassy Island," Mr. Robt. Graham having disposed of this beautiful spot to Mr. Rice, of Perkins, Ince & Co., Toronto.

"Vinmede," the popular resort, will be opened to-day, Mrs. Graham, the excellent hostess, going up the lake with her trip to arrange for the accommodation of the large number of guests arranged for there this season.

The Victoria House at McCrackon's Landing, has been opened for the reception of guests, and the proprietor anticipates a good season. A boat will conduct with each train from Peterborough, both going and coming, throughout the season, and the dining room of the "Stony Lake" will be an attractive feature to those taking a daily trip, and will save the trouble of preparing baskets which are sometimes inconvenient to prepare and carry.

Nearly all the cottagers in Stony Lake this year are arranging to open up their residences and the boats and stores anticipate a good season's business.

PERSONALLY CONDUCTED TOUR

To California and Lewis and Clarke Exposition, Portland, Oregon.

A personally conducted excursion to the Pacific Coast via The Grand Trunk Railway System and connecting lines, leaves Quebec July 5th, and Montreal and Toronto July 6th. The route will be via Chicago, and thence through Council Bluffs to Omaha, Denver and Colorado Springs. Stops will be made at each of these places, and side trips taken to Manitou, Cripple Creek, Garden of the Gods, etc. From there the party will continue through the famous scenic route of the Denver and Rio Grande, through the Royal Gorge, to Salt Lake City, thence to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Mount Shasta, Portland, Oregon, Seattle Spokane, and home through St. Paul and Minneapolis. The trip will occupy about thirty days, ten days being spent on the Pacific Coast.

The price for the round trip, including railroad fare, Pullman tourist sleeping cars, all meals in the dining car, hotels, side trips, etc., is $165.00 from Quebec, or $160.50 from Montreal, and $156.00 from Toronto. This first trip is designed as a vacation trip for teachers, although many who are not teachers will improve the opportunity of taking the trip at the remarkably low price afforded.

For full particulars, address E. C. Bowler, General Agent and Conductor, Room 308, Union Station, Toronto. 9d

ONE BOX OF DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED DROPSY.

Dropsy is not a disease in itself, as many people believe, but is an evidence of very severe kidney trouble. Dropsy is caused by watery particles oozing through the walls of the arteries when they are distended by unusual pressure, which can only be caused by obstructions in the kidneys. The symptoms of Dropsy are puffiness under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, urine changed in character and appearance, smothering feeling from exertion or excitement. The only rational method of treating this disease is to reach the kidneys and restore them to a healthy condition.

The most successful remedy for this purpose is Doan's Kidney Pills. Read what Miss Agnes Cruickman, Upper Smithville, N.S., says of them:—"I caught a cold, which settled in my kidneys, and then became bloated, and if I pressed my finger on them it would make a white impression that would last fully a minute before the flesh regained its natural color. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and found by their use that I was cured in a very short time. I have never had any trouble with it since.

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25.

COSTLY OBSTRUCTION.

Premier Haultain, of the North-west Territories, is by no means any too friendly to the Dominion Government, but he has a sense of sense, which the present Conservative Opposition seems to lack. The Conservative Opposition, in pursuing a policy of obstruction, and waste of time of Parliament, with the apparently sole object of making party capital through stirring up a rancorous race and religious feeling, Premier Haultain says there is nothing to be gained by obstruction. Of course there is nothing to be gained but much to be lost, by a policy of obstruction. There is loss of time, loss of national harmony, waste of public money, and neglect of public business. The cost of a session of Parliament is great. Those of 1903 and 1904, cost about $700,000 and $800,000 each. And if the present session is unduly spread out by the obstructive tactics, and strife-breeding talk against time by the Conservative Opposition, the added cost of the session beyond what it would be if the business were more expeditiously done, will be between $200,000 and $400,000. To employ familiar illustrations, the folly of this waste of public money is strikingly shown. The sum wasted by the unduly prolonged session would build and equip the Peterborough armouries and build the Collegiate Institute to boot; would construct good leading gravel roads from Peterborough to all leading points—Warsaw, Keene, Buckhorn, Young's Point, Bridgenorth and South Monaghan; would pay for all the drowned lands damages on the route of the Trent Canal; would build another section of the Canal; would extend the street railto every important point in the County; would equip a score of Houses of Refuge, and perform numerous other useful services. Now by the unnecessary prolongation of Parliament there is more than an outrageous waste of public money; there is the rousing of the sectarian and race and creed spirit capable of incalculable damage. The legitimate business, legislative and otherwise of the country is obstructed and monetary and moral injury done, all for the sake of manufacturing party capital and practically compiling campaign literature.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Why, asks the Toronto Star, should Premier Haultain come down here agitating for an expression of opinion from London and Oxford, when, as Hon. Frank Oliver points out, five seats in the North-west Legislature have been vacant since last November. Why has he not brought on the bye-elections in the West? Why has he not given Western opinion a chance to express itself?

Mr. Leader Borden is a wise man and a fine reasoner. He defends the strife and race and creed campaign carried on by his party with a vehemence and virulence unsurpassed in Canadian political history, and worthy of the stormy days of Elizabeth and Mary, by saying that his party is not to blame, but the Liberal party because of the letters throwing the educational question into the political arena. That's very much like the thief's excuse that he is not to blame for stealing a purse, but the man for having a purse.

To-day, June 6th, is the anniversary of the death of that great Canadian, Sir John Macdonald, who was intimately associated with the building up of Confederation. During a long and eventful political career he did great service to his country. He was a man of large ideas and effective methods though he did not always take the directest way to political effects. He was a shrewd and tactful politician and if he were the head of his party to-day we should not have the country split up by the application of amateur political methods. He led his party and didn't allow friction and faction to breed and flourish within the fold.

ONE THOUSAND FACTS CONCERNING CANADA

Sententious Paragraphs About the Resources, Products and Agricultural and Industrial Possibilities of the Dominion of Canada.

"One Thousand Facts about Canada," is the title of a meaty booklet, issued by the Exhibition Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, in which a vast amount of information is given in single sentences paragraphs. The idea is to give outsiders an idea of the resources and desirability of Canada as a home for the settler, or a field of industrial energy for the capitalist. But, as no Canadian knows any too much about his own country the Examiner proposes to reprint from day to day one or two of the meaty paragrphs contained in the pamphlet.

FUNERAL OF LATE REV. J. McEWEN

"Came Down to His Grave Like a Shock of Corn Fully Ripe."

Solemn and Impressive Funeral Services at Lakefield—Eloquent Tributes to His Worth.

The funeral of the late Rev. John McEwen took place at Lakefield yesterday afternoon at 2.30. Service was conducted at the home of Mrs. J. Fitzgerald, with whom Mr. and Mrs. McEwen had been visiting. Rev. Chas. Campbell, pastor of the Presbyterian Church was assisted in the services by the Rev. John Neil, D.D., of Toronto. Public service was held in the church at 2.00 o'clock. A large congregation had assembled for the deceased had a multitude of friends far and near. Among those from a distance were Rev. Dr. McTavish and Mr. George Henderson, representing Central Presbyterian Church of which Mr. McEwen had been a faithful elder for ten years. Rev. Dr. John Neil, Convenor of the General Assembly's Sabbath School Committee, of which Mr. McEwen was a devoted worker. Rev. Wm. Frizzell, Ph. B., of East Presbyterian Church, Toronto, and Mr. Thos. Fellowlees, Assoc. Secretary of the Ontario Sabbath School Association, both gentlemen sent as representatives of that organization. There were also present Rev. A. C. Reeves, Campbellford, Rev. D. A. Thompson, Hastings; Rev. E. F. Torrance, D. D., Rev. J. G Potter, Dr. Caldwell, Mr. Henderson and Miss Caldwell, the Misses Dickson, Peterborough. These ladies were very intimate friends of Miss McEwen and did much to comfort her in the hour of her great grief which has physically prostrated her.

The church pulpit and chairs on the platform were draped, while the large clusters of white flowers removed any sombre appearance. The casket was borne to the church by the elders, F. D. Armstrong, H. Clifford, T. J. Cullen, J. Fitzgerald, A. Fairburn, and J. Clifford while Miss Alice Hunter, organist of the church, played softly the dead march in Saul.

The Rev. J. G. Potter announced the hymn "A Few More Years Shall Roll" and Rev. A. C. Reeves read the Scripture lesson and Rev. D. A. Thomson led the congregation in a solemn prayer.

Tributes to Worth

Testimonies to the value and work of the late Minister were then given. Dr. McTavish spoke of his counsel and friendship in the church's work in Toronto, of his sympathetic and loving work as Presbyterian Chaplain of the hospitals in that city, and referred to the fact that though up in his four score years he was of open mind, so that he was ever young. His bright, beautiful character had been a rich blessing.

Rev Dr. McNeil spoke particularly of the extensive work done for the Sunday School work of the Entire Canadian Church of his untiring zeal while Convenor of the Assembly's Sunday School Committee. He was ever young in spirit and intellect. "I once asked him" said Dr. Neil, "how he managed to keep young. He said "When I find a gray hair coming into my head, I put a new idea into it."

Rev. Mr. Fitzgerald spoke of Mr. McEwen's intense interest in the active work of the Ontario Sunday School Association. He was the real promoter of the International series of Sunday School lessons, and was for many years Normal Secretary in which capacity inspiration was given to the teaching force of the province. "He came down to his grave like a shock of corn, fully ripe in his season".

Rev. Dr. Torrance spoke on behalf of the Presbytery of Peterborough. He had known Mr. McEwen when he, himself, was only a lad in the city of Montreal. In 1885 he held an Institute in Peterborough in connection with Sunday School work. At this time he was persuaded to accept the call to Lakefield where he laboured faithfully for eight years. There were three portions of Scripture that pictured to him the life of his friend "Rejoicing in Hope, patient in tribulation, continuing instant in prayer." These were the emphatic graces of the deceased.

He was a good pastor, an excellent preacher and a delightful friend, and the speaker could only express his keenest sympathy with the bereaved daughter.

Rev. George Warren, of St. John's Episcopal Church acknowledged gratitude for the courtesy extended towards him in allowing him the privilege of taking part in the obsequies of one who had been such a true friend. With his open arms and warm heart he had made his ministry and life in the village as pleasant as it possibly could be. The occasion called forth from him and his congregation the right hand of sympathy. Nothing could tend to draw Christians more closely together than the thought that they were bound by a common suffering humanity and a ministry of reconciliation between God and man, and by a glorious resurrection.

The service closed by singing, "The Sands of Time are Sinking".

The mortal remains of a man great with the greatness which a life of good work well wrought alone can bring, were laid at rest in the Lakefield Cemetery.

Was Cured of Asthma

"I first used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, with my daughter, who suffered from a severe form of asthma. The least exposure to cold would lay her up, and she would nearly suffocate for want of breath. I must say that I found it to be a most satisfactory treatment, and it has entirely cured her" —Mrs. A. A. VanBuskirk, Robinson street, Moncton, N.B.

On By-law to Raise $50,000 for Collegiate Institute.

Passed First Two Readings in the Council Last Night.

On June 29th the ratepayers of the town will be asked to vote on a by-law to authorize the borrowing of $50,000 for the erection and equipment of a new Collegiate Institute. This was decided upon at last night's meeting of the Council, when the letter already published in the Examiner addressed to the Council by the Secretary of the Board of Education was read, and the request contained therein granted.

June 29th, is the earliest date possible for the vote to be taken, and it is desired to have it taken before the schools close, and the ratepayers got away for their vacation.

In response to the request Ald. Mason moved the first reading of a bylaw to provide for the borrowing of $50,000 for the Board of Education to erect a Collegiate Institute. The bylaw provides that the vote of the ratepayers shall be taken on June 29th. This amount named is to be in addition to the $50,000 already voted by the ratepayers, and the bylaw is in the usual terms. The bylaw was passed its first and second readings, and the third will be given after it has been approved by the ratepayers on June 29th.

QUIETLY WEDDED THIS MORNING

Marriage of Miss Minnie Burke to Mr. John Casey at Cathedral

A quiet wedding took place this morning at St. Peter's cathedral, when Miss Minnie Burke, the youngest daughter of Mr. Michael Burke, was united in marriage to Mr. John Casey of Otter River, Mus., and formerly of town. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Galvin, at seven o'clock, in the presence of a small number of immediate relatives and friends.

The bridesmaid was Miss Mary Burke, cousin of the bride, the groom being supported by Mr. P. J. Burke brother of the bride.

At ten o'clock a dainty wedding breakfast was served at the residence of the bride's mother, Water street, after which the happy couple left on a brief trip to Buffalo, after which they will take up residence in Otter River. The contracting parties were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, testifying to the esteem in which they are held by their large circle of friends.

SPIKE PIERCED STEAMER'S HULL

"City of Peterborough" Met With a Slight Accident.

Spike Projecting From Glance Boom Ran Into Her Side—A Temporary Injury.

The steamer "City of Peterborough" of the Calcutt line of steamers, met with a mishap this morning. She was passing through that part of the canal between the lock and the bridge, when a spike projecting from the glance boom pierced her hull and she started to leak rather badly.

She got below the locks when she was run into shallow water and her hull became partly filled with water. The pumps were set at work and the steamer raised above the hole, which had been punctured in her side. Workmen were put to work on her and a new plank replaced that injured by the spike. The injury to the steamer is only of a temporary nature and a few hours work will be sufficient to make her perfectly seaworthy again. Of course it was no fault of the boat that the accident occurred and the steamer will be as well able to withstand the storms after the slight repairs have been made as she ever was.

WILL ADVERTISE PETERBOROUGH

$25 to $50 Will be Expended by Council for This Purpose.

Finance Committee Reports to the Council—Will Sell $3,000 Worth of School Debentures.

The town will spend $25 or $50 at the discretion of the Chairman of the Finance Committee in buying illustrated copies of the Canadian Municipal Journal. The report of the Finance Committee dealing with it at the council meeting last night was:—

Your committee was interviewed by Mr. Marsh, representing the Canadian Municipal Journal regarding a proposed special number of that Journal giving an illustrated description of Peterborough and we recommend that the council order 150 copies of the special number at a cost of $25 and that the Chairman of this Committee be authorized to increase the order to $50 worth if he considers the description of such a character as to make the additional copies useful.

Other clauses of the report of this committee which have not been covered in reports of the Committee meetings are:—

We recommend that the Mayor and Chairman be authorized to, sell the debentures for $3,000 for the Public School heating apparatus and the debentures to pay for the local improvements constructed last year.

We recommend that the request of S. Mulligan for the refund of $1.00 dog tax be not granted.

We recommend that no action be taken regarding the request for a grant to the Laura Secord Memorial fund.

We cannot recommend the purchase of Ranney's map of the town at the price quoted.

A number of accounts were recommended to be paid, the whole report being adopted.

OPERA HOUSE BY-LAW PASSED

And Contract Will Be Let Inside of Twenty-four Hours.

This Was the Statement Made by Mr. R. H. Bradburn Last Night.

"The contract for the erection of the new opera house will be let inside of twenty-four hours."

This is the statement made last night at the meeting of the council, when the bylaw fixing the assessment of the opera house at $3,000 for ten years, by Mr. R. H. Bradburn.

A proposal was made that the bylaw might be allowed to stand over until a later date in order to get the advice of the solicitor upon a certain point, but in pointing out the objection to delay, Mr. Bradburn made the statement that if the bylaw was passed the contract would be let within forty-eight hours from that time.

In view of this fact the bylaw was passed and the prospects are that the first sod for the new opera house will be turned in the course of a very short time.

Ald. Mason moved the second reading of a bylaw to authorise the fixing of the assessment of an opera house and providing for the licensing of the same. The bylaw provides that the assessment of the property shall be fixed for ten years at $3600. The opera house shall be completed by January 1st, 1906, and shall cost not less than $30,000, and shall be equipped with all the necessary safeguards for the people's safety. The license fee is fixed at $10 per year. The bylaw passed its three readings.

CHANGE DATE OF CIVIC HOLIDAY

Will Be Held in Future on Second Monday in August.

This Was Decided Upon at Council Meeting Last Night—Reasons for the Change.

The question of the date of Civic Holiday was considered at the Council meeting last night, and finally decided upon. It was arranged that this year the holiday will be held on the second Monday in August, instead of on the third Thursday in the month, which was considered too late, bringing the holiday and Labour Day too close together.

A deputation from the Moulders waited on the council in reference to the date of the holiday, and Mr. T. Stenton addressed the members. He stated that he understood that the council had considered changing the date from the third Thursday, the present date. He asked that the first Monday in August be settled upon. The Moulders had already arranged for an excursion on the first Monday to Cobourg, and it would greatly inconvenience them to have to change it. Another member of the Moulders Union addressed the council along the same line. The majority of towns and cities held their civic holiday on the first Monday, and the Moulders wanted to run an excursion to Cobourg on that day on the occasion of the Cobourg Old Boys" reunion.

Ald. Adams, in reply, quoted a letter from the District Passenger Agent of the Grand Trunk to Mr. W. Bunton, U. P. A., stating that they had found it necessary already to decline to handle excursions on Monday, August 7th, (Peterborough's proposed civic holiday,) all their equipment being contracted for, and he hoped a change would be made whereby the date for Peterborough would be changed to the second Monday in August.

Ald. Adams pointed out that when it was proposed to change the date to the first Monday he felt that it would be difficult for the different societies to secure railway transportation for excursions which they always run on that day, and in view of this fact he felt that the second Monday would be better.

Mr. John Bowers, representing the U. O. F., asked that the holiday be not held on the first Monday, as they had found it impossible to secure trains for that day.

Ald. Adams then moved, seconded by Ald. Crowe, the first reading of a bylaw changing the date of the civic holiday from the third Thursday in August to the second Monday in that month. The bylaw was passed.

THE POWER OF STEAM.

Many May See But It Takes Genius to Realize.

When James Watt saw the steam causing the kettle lid to jump up and down he said "There must be power in that steam that it can lift such a weight."

There was.

Millions prior to him had seen the same phenomenon and regarded it as an unexplained mystery.

Recent scientific research has put its finger on the "cause" of dandruff, falling hair and consequent baldness, and has unearthed a tiny germ which eats the life from the roots of human hair.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys this germs and consequently restores the hair to its natural state.

PARKS WILL BE BETTER LIGHTED

Twenty-four New Lights in Victoria Park.

Central Park Will Probably Get Six More—Jackson Park Also to be Better Illuminated.

Peterborough aldermen do not prefer darkness to light, the reason being doubtless, that their deeds will bear the glare of brightest day, and last night a report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, containing the following clause was passed:—

"That 24 incandescent lights be ordered to be placed in Victoria Park, the town to pay for the wiring and lamps, and the Peterborough Light and power Co. to furnish the current without charge, and that the lights be placed as directed by the chairman of this committee."

In connection with the above, Ald. Leary suggested that it would be a good idea to have some additional lights placed in Central Park in addition to those in Victoria Park, to light the path running diagonally across the park, and moved that a clause providing that if the same terms from the Light and Power Co. can be secured, 6 lights be placed on that park, which was carried.

Ald. Mason inquired as to the lighting of Jackson Park, and Ald. Hall suggested that this matter be left over until the park authorities are communicated with, as he understood that the Light and Power Co. was prepared to make the same terms for light in that park as they did for the others in town, and the trustees of the park would doubtless deal with the matter.

BASEBALL.

The Manitoba Free Press, of Winnipeg, of June 1st, contains the following account of a game played in Carberry on May 21st, in which Mr. Fred. Whitcroft, formerly of town, figured prominantly:—

Carberry won the first game in the Central League by defeating Neepawa here this evening 15 to 6. The game was not so loose as the game would indicate. The visitors went up in their three first innings and the locals hammered out ten runs off Davidson and McBain. With the exception of this innings Neepawa divided the batting honours evenly, but were weak in the field. Owing to Fert being out of business with an injured hand, Crittenden and Scollan were on the slab for the home team. Bell, of Carberry, officiated as umpire very satisfactorily. The teams were:—Neepawa.—McBain and E. Davidson, p; Baxter, c; Davidson 1 b; J. McKee 2b; Fraser, s. s.; Brown, 3b.; D. McKee, l. f.; Towden, c. f.; Hamilton, r. f. Carberry.—Crittenden and Scollan, p; Boyle, c; Gibbons, 1 b; McIntosh, 2 b; Smith, s. s.; Whitcroft, 3 b.; H. Armstrong, l. f.; C. Armstrong, c. f.; Horton, r. f. Whitcroft's playing at third was the feature of the game.

"I hereby give notice that I will at a meeting specially called for the purpose on or before the first day of October next, move the following resolution:

"That pursuant to the provisions of 4 Edward VII, chapter 23, this council hereby resolves and declares that it is expedient that the Board of Public School Trustees and the Board of High School Trustees, or Board of Education for the city of Peterborough, shall be amalgamated, and that a Board of Education be elected in lieu thereof to be styled the Board of Education of the City of Peterborough."

DISREGARDS THE COUNCILS ORDERS

Charges Laid Against Street Railway and Light Company.

Alderman Crowe States That Citizens Threaten to Tear Up Tracks Unless Road is Repaired.

The Peterborough Light and Power Company and the Peterborough Radial Railway Company came in for some pretty severe criticism at last night's council meeting, and Ald. Crowe made the statement that unless the roadway on Park street was repaired and placed in a condition of safety, the people threatened to tear up the tracks. It was stated that the Radial Railway Company had disregarded their agreement to leave the street in as good condition as it was before the track was laid, and to conform to the grade struck by the city engineer.

The condition of Water street was also referred to and it was stated that the road between the tracks had never been filled in, and the street was in a dangerous condition.

Ald. Johnston also made a serious charge. He said that the Peterborough Light and Power Co. had been notified to erect several new lights and to change the location of others but they had utterly disregarded these instructions, giving a number of trivial excuses. He moved that the clerk again write the company, instructing them that the council wants the work done.

Ald. Johnston said that the company acted as if they thought the aldermen were a lot of "chumps."

Two clauses of the Board of Works report dealing with the Peterborough Radial Railway Co., were:—

"We recommend that the Peterborough Radial Railway Co. be notified to relay the planks on crossings which were taken up by them last year, to raise the track at Sherbrooke and Park streets to conform to the grade of the crossing and to put the roadway on Park street, McDonal street and the boundary north of McDonel street in proper condition.

The Peterborough Radial Railway having constructed a loop at the Jackson Park terminus, part of which occupies the ditch on the south side of Smith street and obstructs the flow of water from the higher levels of road, it is recommended that the company be required to provide for drainage by laying a 12 inch cement pipe from the ditch on the south side of Smith street and west side of the Monaghan road diagonally across Smith street to the ditch on the north side of Smith street, east of entrance to the park, 70 feet long and to have a sufficient fall to carry off the water.

SWEPT DEATH ALONG IT'S PATH

An Electrical Storm's Havoc in Lower Michigan.

FOUR DEAD; 8 FATALLY HURT

Lightning Also Has Its Victims in Michigan — Around About Exeter, Ontario, Storm King Likewise Raged With Fatal Results—Devastation in City Blocks at Binghamton, N. Y.—Other Accidents.

Detroit, June 6.—An electrical storm, which was general throughout lower Michigan late yesterday, took the form of a tornado in the Thumb district. Through Tuscola and Sanilac Counties it swept a path of death and devastation half a mile wide.

The dead: Mary Smith, child of John Smith, a farmer, near Urban; child of Edward Philpotts, a farmer near Urban.

Fatally injured: Three children of Edward Philpotts, small son of John Smith, Mrs. Wagner, Mrs. William Hutchinson, William Dosser, a farmer.

Seriously injured: John Smith, arm broken; child of John Smith, arm torn off; Edwards Philpotts.

In addition to the above, Elsie Appleman, aged 13, was killed by lightning, at Hemlock, in Saginaw County, and George Morrow was fatally injured by lightning. At Central Lake, Charlevoix County, three men had taken refuge with Morrow in a vacant building, and they also sustained severe shocks.

Tornado at Binghamton.

Binghamton, June 6.—The worst tornado that ever visited this vicinity blew down a large number of houses and barns in the Fifth and Sixth Wards of this city last night, at 10.30 o'clock. The tornado carried devastation in its narrow path for several blocks, but so far as reported no one was killed and only one person was badly injured.

BACK AND LEG BROKEN.

Man Living in Township of Stephen Injured in Big Storm.

Exeter, June 6.—The worst windstorm for many years, accompanied with thunder, lightning and rain passed over this district about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. James Shapton's barn, third concession, Stephen, was totally wrecked; also his kitchen; Frank Treibner's barn was completely destroyed, as well as his orchard.

A number of farmers were drawing gravel, and when the storm came up they went to Treibner's barn for shelter. The result was that one young man, named Walker, had his back and leg broken, and the doctors have no hopes of his recovery. His horse was killed.

Many other barns were unroofed and chimneys blown down. Parts of fruit trees and shade trees were blown in all directions.

RECOVERY OF 440 BODIES.

There Are Still Many Missing as Result of Natal Storm.

Durban, Natal, June 6.—Up to the present, 440 corpses of Hindoo laborers, Europeans and others, who lost their lives through the hurricane which recently swept over Natal and the subsequent bursting of the reservoir at Pinetown, the centre of the tea and sugar plantations, have been recovered.

The bodies of many other victims have not been recovered.

TRAIN STRIKES TWO GIRLS.

Watching One, Missed the Other—Both Will Die.

St. Johns, Que., June 6.—A lamentable accident occurred here last evening. Two girls, about ten years of age, daughters of Samuel Raymond and Prudent Potvin, on their way home about 5.30 p. m., halted on the C. P. R. main line crossing to allow a freight from the east to pass on the siding. Their attention being drawn to the freight, they did not notice the local passenger train from Montreal, which came along at the same time.

One of the girls was struck by the engine and thrown against the railway platform, receiving very serious injury. The other was drawn under the engine and had both legs crushed. It is doubtful if either will survive.

A rich man died the other day. He died in the very midsummer of life, and he left his family $1,000,000. The doctor's certificate showed that death resulted from typhoid fever. The doctor himself said to a friend: "That man was a suicide. He had a splendid constitution. I could have pulled him through if his stomach had been sound. But he ruined his stomach by hasty meals, snatched in intervals of business and by neglect of symptoms which have been warning him a year past, that his stomach was failing in its duties."

The symptoms of a disordered stomach are, among others, variable appetite, sour risings, heartburn, undue fullness after eating, dull headache, dingy complexion, discolored eye, fluctuations in physical strength, nervousness, sleeplessness despondency. No person will have all these symptoms at once.

The restoration of the stomach to sound health, begins with the first dose of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The cure progresses until the functions of the stomach are in healthy operation. Then the nerves are quiet and strong, the appetite healthful, the sleep restful, the eye bright, the complexion clear.

"Please accept my thanks for the benefit which my wife received from your Medicines," writes W. A. Harris, of Mount Zion, Hall Co., Ga., Box 15. "She was troubled with female weakness and nervousness. I gave her your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription,' then 'Pellets.' After she had taken the 'Discovery,' some time, she gave the 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pellets' several vials of the 'Pellets.' He seems to be perfectly well now."

If you want a cure accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. These ORIGINAL Little Liver pills, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce over 40 years ago, have been much imitated, but never equaled. They're made of purely vegetable, concentrated and refined medicinal principles, extracted from native American roots and plants. They gradually restore and cure lazy, torpid and deranged digestive Livers and Stomach and their attendant disorderly ailments. One or two a laxative, three or four a cathartic.

MONTREAL, LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, June 5.—(Special.)—Cable advices came much the same as a week ago, American cattle in London, selling at 11½c to 12c, and Canadian, 11½c; sheep, 12c. The demand for ocean freight space has been slow, with Liverpool offerings at 27s to 27s 6d, and London at 28s, with shippers bodding 30s and 22s 6d. The exports for last week were 3082 cattle. The total for May were 12,458 cattle, 4153 sheep. The receipts to-day were 700 cattle, 500 sheep and lambs, 1100 hogs, 200 calves. The trade in all lines of live stock was rather quiet, owing to the small offerings, but the undertone to the market remains firm and prices for cattle show no material change. The receipts of live hogs were 1100 head, but as 600 of these were contracted for last week by two of the leading packing concerns for delivery to-day, the supply on the market for sale was comparatively small, for which the demand was fairly good from other packers, and in consequence a stronger feeling developed in the market, which resulted in prices being advanced fully 15c per cwt., and sales of selected lots were made at $6.00 to $6.15 per cwt., weighed off cars, according to cable advices received on Saturday on Canadian bacon; the above rise in prices for hogs was not warranted, as over Liverpool quotations on Wiltshire bacon showed a decline of 2s per cwt., and heavy cuts in London and Bristol were from 1s to 2s lower than those of a week ago, therefore the impression is that if supply of hogs for sale had been fairly large prices would have probably ruled lower.

Another feature of the hog situation has been the demand for them for export account in the west, and a shipment of 150 head was made last week on the Manchester Importer to Manchester from here, which is the first for several years past. There was no actual change in the condition of the market for cattle. The supply coming forward is just about equal to the requirements of the local trade, and as the percentage of good to choice cattle is small, for which the demand is particularly good, prices continued to be well maintained in spite of the easier advices of late from the west and the trade generally do not anticipate much change in the situation until grass fed stock commences to move freely. The demand was good and trade fairly active. Sales of prime heavy steers were made at 5¼c to 5c. Choice, at 5¼c to 5½c; good at 4¾c to 5c; fairly good, at 4½c to 4¾c; fair, at 3¾c to 4c; common, at 3½c to 3¾c per lb. The demand for sheep and lambs was good, but the supply was small in consequence, the volume of trade was checked and prices ruled steady. Export sheep sold at 4c and butchers' stock at 3½c to 4c per lb., while lambs brought $3 to $5 each. The trade in cattle was quiet at prices ranging from $2 to $6 each.

OFFICIALS SCORE FIRST.

Pere Marquette Railway Men Get Writ of Habeas Corpus—French-English Treaty of 1794.

Toronto, June 6.—An order for a writ of habeas corpus was yesterday granted to the Pere Marquette officials, and it is returnable at Osgoode Hall on Friday. On this date Col. Percy Sherwood, Commissioner of Dominion Police, must produce his prisoners and show cause why they should be detained in custody. Joseph H. Gilhula, high chief railway despatcher, makes affidavit that he considers himself a British subject. He says he was born in Ontario, near Chatham, that his parents were both Canadians, and that his mother still resides with two of his sisters and two of his brothers there. He learned his profession on the Canada Southern Railway in Canada, and worked on it for seven years.

Everett E. Cain, trainmaster on the Pere Marquette Railway, does not claim to be a British subject; but says he is not guilty under the act and its amendments relating to the importation and employment of aliens. He says he has not done any act of "labor" for the Pere Marquette Railway Co. previous to coming to the country. He has had no hearing before the Attorney-General, and asked for this writ of habeas corpus because he feared that if not granted immediately would "be taken out of the Province under warrants."

J. B. McKenzie has discovered a new point. It is that the treaty of 1794 between France and England prevents the United States or Canada from passing such laws as the alien labor laws. It is not, however, sure that this treaty is still in force. G. F. Shepley, K. C., appears for the Attorney-General, and will no doubt contend that the act is valid, and that under it the prisoners are liable to deportation.

OTHER ISSUES.

Hon. Mr. Fielding at London Discusses the Liberal Record.

London, June 6.—The largest and in every respect the best of the meetings in the London bye-election campaign was that held in the Princess Rink last night in the interests of Hon. C. S. Hyman.

Hon. Mr. Hyman was accorded ovations before and at the close of his address such as fall seldom to the lot of public men of Canada.

The next speaker, Hon. W. S. Fielding, held the closest attention of the audience for one hour and a half. His convincing exposition of the Government's record in relation to its general policy and his presentation of the education clauses of the autonomy bills were applauded to the echo. Hon. William Paterson, who delivered the closing address, spoke for about forty minutes in his usual effective style.

Mr. Borden at Woodstock.

Woodstock, June 6.—What was advertised as a mass meeting in support of the candidature of Mr. J. G. Wallace, Conservative candidate for North Oxford, was held in the Opera House, Woodstock, last night. There was a fairly large audience, though the building was not by any means crowded. The candidate, Mr. Borden and Col. Hughes were the only speakers, but it was a quarter to eleven before the meeting closed.

Eight Years in Sing Sing.

New York, June 6.—Samuel Lobley, who confessed to taking part in an alleged conspiracy by which the Equitable Life Assurance Society was induced to loan $55,000 on a life insurance policy that had been stolen from its vaults, was sentenced to eight years in Sing Sing Prison yesterday. His share was $10,000.

Coal Propellor Ashore.

Milwaukee, June 6.—The propellor Harlem, 2,300 tons, coal laden, bound from a Lake Erie port for Milwaukee, went ashore yesterday on North Point, ten miles north of this city, during a dense fog.

REASON No 38

WHY YOU SHOULD USE

Red Rose Tea

Because of the care in Selection and Blending.

My agents in the east are expert tea tasters, and every lot of tea that is sent down from the Gardens has to pass their inspection. They take samples from the chests and carefully taste them, then if the tea is fully up to the Red Rose standard, it is accepted and shipped; if not it is rejected.

The most important test of all, however, is when the tea arrives here, as during the passage through the Red Sea, the very great heat often affects the Tea very seriously. Immediately on arrival, samples are taken from each lot and subjected to the most rigid tests, and only those teas which have retained all their original flavor and strength are used for Red Rose (the balance is jobbed off in bulk).

When blended and ready to be put into sealed packages, it is tested again just to make sure no mistake has been made in the blending; nothing is left to chance.

Will you test us by ordering a package?

PRETTY WEDDING AT CATHEDRAL

Nuptials of Miss Laura Lynch and Mr. Frederick Boland.

A pretty June wedding took place at St. Peter's Cathedral this morning, when Laura Lynch, eldest daughter of the late John Lynch, was united in marriage to Mr. Frederick Boland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father McColl at eight o'clock, in the presence of a number of friends and relations. The bride was beautifully attired in cream lustre de chine trimmed with cream embroidered chiffon and silk applique, her travelling dress being fawn with blue shadow spot, with lace and silk trimmings. The bridesmaid, Miss Lena Lynch, sister of the bride, wore a charming gown of spotted colienne, trimmed with all-over lace. The bride was given away by Mr. Thomas Lane, the groom being supported by his cousin Mr. Thomas Boland, of Asphodel. The wedding march was played by Miss Doherty.

After the ceremony the party adjourned to the residence of the bride's mother, Water street, where a delightful wedding breakfast was served. A large number of beautiful presents were received by the contracting parties, which testify to the high esteem in which they are held by their large circle of friends. The happy couple will depart on the 9 o'clock train this evening for a brief trip to Rochester and will reside in town, upon their return.

MR. PETER THOMPSON GETS APPOINTMENT

Was Last Night Made Assistant Plumbing Inspector, at a Salary of $500 Per Year, and Will Give His Entire Time to the Work of the Town---Three Names Were Voted On---Applicants for the Position Were Messrs. Sturgeon, Bartlett and Thompson---A Shift on the Second Vote Gives it To Mr. Thompson—The Vote Stood 9-8.

The matter of the plumbing inspectorship was again settled last night at the meeting of the council, when the appointment was finally given to Mr. Peter Thompson who will give his whole time to the work of the town and will hold the position of assistant plumbing inspector under the town engineer. His salary will be $500 per year, and his duties will commence at once.

There was considerable discussion on this question and it resulted in the appointment of Mr. Peter Thompson decided by the council. The matter was cussion had not been seriously considto appoint a new man.

precipitated by Ald. Mason, who introduced the bylaw appointing a plumbing inspector. He explained that a number of the plumbers had spoken to him in reference to the matter and they wanted an inspector appointed. The town engineer had not the time to do the work, and therefore if there was to be any work inspected it would by necessary Thompson was made assistant inspector.

Ald. Mason moved that Mr. R. G. Sturgeon be appointed plumbing inspector. This was seconded by Ald. Scott.

Ald. Johnston moved an amendment that the appointment be given to Mr. Peter Thompson, stating that he had offered to accept the position for $500 and give his whole time to the work. This was seconded by Ald. Crowe.

Ald. Adams moved in amendment to the amendment that F. Bartlett be appointed, which was seconded by Ald. Hicks.

The vote on Ald. Adams' amendment stood:

Yea—Ald. Adams, Hicks and Begley.

Nay—Ald. Johnston, Mason, Crowe, Leary, Mayor Best, Ald. Tovey and Ald. McIntyre; Ald. Batten not voting, and Ald. Hall was in the chair.

Upon this vote being taken, Ald. Adams suggested that if Mr. Peter Thompson was made assistant inspector under the town engineer, he would support the amendment of Ald. Johnston. The latter agreed to this and his amendment was carried on the following division:

Yea—Ald. Johnston; Begley, Hicks, Crowe, Leary, McIntyre, Batten and Adams and Mayor Best.—9.

Nay—Ald. Mason, Scott, Tovey.—8.

On the vote on Ald. Mason's motion only three supported it, viz.: Ald. Mason, Scott and Tovey, and the appointment consequently goes to Mr. Thompson, who will be nominally assistantinspector, but will practically have full charge of the inspection, since he is the practical man.

During the time in which Mr. Thompson is not engaged in actual inspection work, he will be at the disposal of the engineer to do work under him, which at the present time he has to engage a man for.

MANY CASES AT POLICE COURT

Thos. Quinlan Gets Off With Fine of $10.25.

"Horse Theft" Case Enlarged Until To-morrow—Robt. Buller Uses Bad Language and is Set Back $4.60.

There was a large docket at the police court this morning, several cases being heard, the first being that of Thomas Quinlan, charged with having discharged a revolver on June 1st, and being drunk and disorderly. When asked, he said he did not know whether he had discharged the firearm, and said he did not remember anything about it.

The first witness called, was Harold Outram. Upon being sworn he said that he did not know the prisoner personally but had seen him several times, their homes both being on Union street. Witness said he saw Quinlan on Saturday night. Apparently he was drunk. He had a revolver, and Outram said he saw him shoot the gun off once towards the ground.

The next witness was Mr. Peter Thompson. Witness said he saw a man—he did not know whether or not it was Quinlan, as he only saw his back—with a revolver, which he fired off once. The man appeared to be drunk.

The Police Magistrate imposed a fine of $5 and costs, totalling $10.25. Fine to be paid within ten days.

Robert Buller, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was fined $2 and costs.

Frank Myers was fined $2 and $2.60, costs for not procuring a dog tag.

Patrick McAuliffe was charged with assaulting Frederick Haslam, on the night of June 1st. The case was enlarged until Friday.

The next case was that of Harold Fowler charged with having stolen a horse and rig from St. Peter's cemetery, belonging to Mr. Philip Crough, on June 1st. The prisoner said that he was guilty of taking a ride in the rig, but he did not intend to steal the horse.

The Magistrate said that things had come to such a state in Peterborough that the boys did pretty much as they liked. They could steal, destroy gardens, take horses and rigs with impunity, and he said that something would have to be done to stop it. The Magistrate said that if Fowler's father would undertake to flog him deliberately, and without passion, he would let him go; if not he would deal with the boy. He was remanded until to-morrow morning to await developments.

Jos. Hagerman was charged with stealing a whip belonging to Mr. Hogan. The prisoner was allowed to go with a reprimand on condition that he returned the whip.

EXAMINER'S BULLETIN GAVE PLEASURE

Deaf Mute Expresses Satisfaction Over Death of Czar.

Among the throng which stopped to gaze at the Examiner's bulletin containing the first announcement in town, of the assassination of the Czar, was a deaf mute, upon whose face was distinctly noticeable an expression of joy at the this news.

"Is it true?" he inquired of an Examiner representative, and upon being informed by the latter as to the text and source of the information, he replied, with brightening countenance, "I am glad! He deserved it. I was arrested and kept in a fortress because I only went sahere without a passport."

The man, who still smarts under the indignities heaped upon him by th eautocratic officials of the country, then departed with an apparent feeling that these had at least been partially avenged.

WHY ADMIRAL ENQUIST FLED

Humanity's Sake Caused Him to Leave the Fight—His Ships Out of Contest—Internment of Russian Vessels at Manilla Decided Upon--Russian Colliers Detained at Woosung----Linevitch Pronounces in Favour of Continuing the War---Unfounded Report of Czar's Death

Manila, June 7.—The authorities at Washington have denied the request of the Russian admiral for an opportunity to repair his vessels here, the refusal being based on the fact that their injuries were received in battle. The Jemtchug already has 150 tons of coal, and the Aurora 200. Admiral Enquist is contracting to reclothe his crews.

Admiral Enquist, referring, in conversation, to the recent naval battle, said: "When the battle commenced I was far in advance of the main fleet, engaged in scouting with the Oleg, Aurora and Jemtchug. Japanese torpedo boats appeared in numbers supported by a few cruisers. A heavy engagement followed. My ships were mainly painted black and white and stood out large targets against the Japanese ships, which were painted an olive green color, and which could hardly be seen. Owing to the incessant fire which the Japanese concentrated on my flagship, the Oleg, I transferred my flag to the Aurora. From her bridge I could not see our main fleet, and, believing it had been defeated and had scattered, I decided, for the sake of humanity, to retire."

The Raleigh, Cincinnati and Baltimore have been sent to the northeast coast of the Island of Luzon to look out for Japanese and Russian warships.

At Shanghai.

Shanghai, June 7.—Two Japanese destroyers, the Murasame and Sasanami, with Vice-Admiral's Uriu's squadron off Gutslaff Islands, were coming to Woosung yesterday. They have promised to remain only 24 hours.

Washington, June 7.—Consul-General Rogers at Shanghai, cables the State Department under yesterday's date, as follows:

"At Woosung are now anchored seven Russian colliers, which will doubtless be interned. It is reported that there are a number of Japanese vessels off Sutslaff. The Russian torpedo boat destroyer Bordi has been interned at Shanghai."

Linevitch is For War.

Headquarters of the Russian army, Godzyadant, Manchuria, June 7.—Undismayed by Rojestvensky's defeat and full of confidence as to the outcome of the approaching battle, Gen. Linevitch is for war to the bitter end, and he believes that the Manchurian army is now strong enough to assume the aggressive.

To a question put to him by the correspondent of the Associated Press, to whom he granted an interview yesterday, as to whether he was for war or peace, the commander-in-chief replied firmly and without the slightest hesitation: "Most certainly I am for war, but my voice now as before is for the continuance of the fight.

"With the destruction of our fleet vanishes the hopes of those who at the beginning of the war wished to make peace at Tokio, but our defeat at sea has not interfered with my plans."

Bomb Factory Discovered.

St. Petersburg, June 7.—The police of Riga have discovered a bomb factory in the Phoenix foundry there. Fifty bombs were seized, besides many revolvers, daggers and other arms. A number of persons were arrested by the police. The prisoners fought desperately before they surrendered.

Of Course.

St. Petersburg, June 7.—The rumor circulated on the Berlin bourse yesterday of the assassination of Emperor Nicholas is groundless.

In the Railway Committee.

Ottawa, June 7.—The Woodstock & Lake Huron Railway Co.'s bill was withdrawn in the Railway Committee yesterday morning. The company wanted to build a line from Woodstock to a point on Lake Huron between Kettle Point and Kincardine on Lake Huron. The committee reported the bill to extend the charter of the Interprovincial & James Bay Railway Co. The V. V. & E. bill stood over.

Elected by Acclamation.

Levis, Que., June 7.—August Carrier, Government candidate, was elected by acclamation yesterday to succeed the late Mr. Demers.

HORSE TOOK FRIGHT AT CAR

Mr. W. J. Doughty Sustains Serious Injury Last Night.

Mr. W. J. Doughty, was last night the victim of an accident, by which he received injuries of a serious character.

The unfortunate affair occurred as Mr. Doughty was driving into town about 8.30 o'clock, after a business trip to the country. His horse, a spirited animal belonging to a local livery, took fright at the dazzling headlight of an approaching street car, as he was driving down the northern end of George street. The animal became frantic and bolted into the gutter throwing Mr. Doughty with great violence against the edge of the sidewalk. He however pluckily clung to the reins, one of which broke, and managed to hold the horse with the other, though severely injuring his hand in doing so.

Mr. Doughty sustained other injuries to the head and arm, and also wears to-day a badly discoloured right optic in consequence.

IMPROVEMENTS AT QUEEN'S HOTEL

Popular Hostelry Receives Bright New Coat of Paint.

It's sprucing-up time, and the smell of fresh paint is in the air. Clean, bright paint isn't such a bad investment in itself. Everyone likes to see new paint. It's good outside a hotel, as well as anywhere else. At least that's what many pedestrians on Charlotte street are saying about the Queen's Hotel, M. Tooley, proprietor. The genial boniface saw that it was up-to-him to spruce up after several years of prosperity and plenty, and so the whole Queen's Hotel block—and it covers quite a stretch on Charlotte and Aylmer streets—has been treated to several coats of paint in pleasing colours. Evidently Mr. Tooley is not one to allow any retrogression in his business, and by the same token he likes to set people blowing his "horn." The travelling public and local patrons of the Queen's are unanimous in saying that the portly Michael knows how to conduct a good house. Both hostess and host are credited with putting up a first-class bill of fare in the dining room and keeping the guest chambers scrupulously clean and comfortable.

MINISTER DELCASSE RESIGNS PORTFOLIO

French Minister of Foreign Affairs Leaves the Cabinet—Differed with Colleagues—Execution of Foreign Policy of France, Particularly That Relating to Morocco, the Subject of Discord—Premier Rouvier, Delivers a Tribute to the Retiring French Minister.

Paris, June 7.—M. Delcasse yesterday presented his resignation and definitely retired from any further direction of the foreign affairs of France. His resignation was presented at a meeting of the Council of Ministers held at Elysee Palace, under the presidency of President Loubet. Council opened at 1.19 p. m and lasted nearly two hours. The meeting aroused deep interest owing to the belief that the Moroccan situation would result in a Ministerial crisis. M. Delcasse, in submitting his resignation, explained the reasons leading up to his action. He said he recognized that differences of view had arisen between himself and his colleagues relative to the execution of the foreign policy of France, particularly concerning the direction of the negotiations with Morocco. Thereafter he had believed it to be desirable in the interest of the Ministry and the country to place his resignation in the hands of the President.

Premier Rouvier, in responding, expressed the regrets of his colleagues, adding a tribute to M. Delcasse for his past services. M. Rouvier thereupon announced that he would take ad interim the duties of Minister of Foreign Affairs.

M. Delcasse's Career.

Theophile Delcasse was born at Pamiers, France, in 1852, and began life as a newspaperman. He was elected to the Chamber of Deputies in 1889 and became Minister for the Colonies in 1893. He entered the Brisson Cabinet as Minister of Foreign Affairs in 1898, and after its downfall was chosen to continue in that office under M. Dupuy. When the Dupuy Cabinet was defeated M. Delcasse was asked to form a Ministry, but declined the task. In June, 1899, he became Foreign Minister in the Waldeck-Rousseau Cabinet. M. Delcasse resigned with the Waldeck-Rousseau Cabinet June 3, 1902, but accepted the portfolio of Foreign Affairs in the Combes Cabinet, and when that Cabinet resigned, January 18 of the present year, Mr. Delcasse was prevailed upon to accept the Foreign portfolio in the present Rouvier Cabinet. But from the outset the downfall of M. Delcasse had been predicted, as M. Rouvier desired to take a more active hand than his predecessors in the direction of the foreign policy of France.

WHOLE BOARD SOLD AT 91-8c.

4567 Boxes of Cheese Sold To-day at One Price.

Peterborough Cheese Board Held Record Session—Mr. Publow Gives Address.

This morning's Cheese Board was unique in that the whole board, comprising 4,567 boxes sold at one price, 91-8 cents, the only 6id that was made. The buyers were very anxious for the cheese, and bid sharply, as soon as the one who had the call had made his selection. It was the most successful sale that has been held on the Peterborough Board for some time. Mr. Publow, of Brockville, Chief Inspector, was present, and addressed a few words to the Board, at the conclusion of the sale.

The buyers present were: Messrs. Squires, Kerr, Fitzgerald, Cook, Whitton, Gillespie, Rollins, Wrighton and Morton.

The following factories boarded the amounts opposite:—

Keene	175
Warminster	175
Shearer	115
Central Smith	180
North Smith	195
Villiers	110
Warsaw	120
Westwood	230
Oakdale	172
Missing Link	75
Daisy D.	65
Lakefield	130
Pine Grove	160
Peterborough	75
Otonabee Union	60
Maple Leaf	135
Myrtle	155
Ormonde	200
Young's Point	70
Lang	165
Fraserville	90
Indian River	145
North Dummer	85
East Emily	100
Trewern	165
Ballyduff	55
Benafort	140
Cedardale	61
Stony Lake	55
Mount Pleasant	88
Norwood	120
Brickley	82
Shamrock	105
Fleetwood	155
Dartford	110
Buckhorn	112
Killarney	110
South Burleigh	33

Only one bid was made, that of Mr. Fitzgerald, who offered 91-8c. There was no increase on that figure and he called Buckhorn, Myrtle, Westwood, Central Smith, Lakefield, Villiers, Keene, all accepting. At the same price Mr. Whitton called Dartford, Shamrock, Brickley, Norwood, Ormonde, Benafort, these accepting.

Mr. Cook, also at 91-8, called Missing Link, Otonabee Union, Lang, East Emily, Trewern, Mount Pleasant, Peterborough, Indian River, Fleetwood. All these factories accepted the offer. Mr. Kerr took Shearer, Warsaw, Pine Grove, Warminster, Maple Leaf, Ballyduff, Cedardale, and Mr. Rollins cleared the Board, taking at the same price, North Smith, Oakdale, Daisy D., Young's Point, Fraserville, North Dummer, Stony Lake, Killarney, and South Burleigh.

At the conclusion of the sale Mr. Publow addressed the meeting on some matters of interest to cheesemakers and buyers. He said that he was here for the purpose of inspecting the factories in this section and would devote the rest of this week to that purpose. He expressed his pleasure at the manner in which the sale was conducted and was glad to see the buyers so snappy for the cheese. He did not remember having ever having seen a sale in which the buyers were so anxious to buy. He was also glad to see that the whole board sold at the one price. It was an indication the cheese was considered of uniform character.

Mr. Publow paid a tribute to the manner in which the Board was conducted, and he congratulated the members on having such an efficient set of officers. What the Department was aiming at was to have all the cheese in the different sections uniform, so that it would all be worth the highest price. He advised the makers that it was time now to change from the quick ripening cheese to making that with more body in the cud. During the last few weeks some complaints had been received, and it was from this cause. He was in favour of inspection of cheese on the factory shelves, and said that he believed that it was due to this practice that the western board were obtaining a high price. Those in this section were turning out cheese of better quality than those where the cheese was inspected in Montreal. He strongly advised home inspection.

The board then adjourned.

WEAK MEN AND WOMEN

The Most Perfect Restorative Known and Invigorating Tonic Vitalizer —Greatest Health-Renewer

Nature's greatest cure for weak, pale men and women is Ferrozone. It is invaluable for run-down, overworked, delicate people, and will restore them to robust health more quickly, at smaller expense, than any other tonic you can select.

We quote the following cases to show what Ferrozone has done for others. In your case it will act just as efficiently:—

FOR BUSINESS MEN

The Experience of a Well-known Lawyer Proves Ferrozone an Ideal Tonic.

Mr. N. W. Burke, a well known lawyer in Meriden, says:—"When I first took Ferrozone I was in a nervous run-down condition, almost sick enough to give up work. I lacked strength, and felt as if I could not get down to work. Ferrozone at once gave me a good appetite, and drove away the nervous, apprehensive feelings that formerly made my life miserable. As I continued the use of Ferrozone I grew stronger, and am glad to say it has brought me back to perfect health. I know that Ferrozone is an excellent tonic for business men and people inclined to a sedentary life. I can recommend it to such."

FOR NERVOUS WOMEN

Nothing Compares With the Nerve-Strengthening Power of Ferrozone.

Mrs. E. D. Emmerton, of Centreville, says:—"I am glad to think that there is at least one honest remedy for nervous people. No one can imagine what I suffered with my nerves, and I sometimes wonder at the number of useless prescriptions and medicines I took. But Ferrozone acted differently from all the rest. It built up my system, and gradually the irritability left my nerves, and I got well. Ferrozone cured me by removing the cause of my trouble, and by giving me enough additional strength to overthrow the attack of nervousness. I can recommend Ferrozone strongly."

THOUSANDS ANNUALLY CURED BY FERROZONE

If you want to get well and keep well, by all means use Ferrozone. If you suffer from insomnia, nervousness, debility, loss of appetite, poor digestion, or any other symptom of disordered blood, nothing will tone up and vitalize your system like Ferrozone. Price 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50. Sold by all druggists, or sent safely by mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

ADDRESS TO MRS. E. E. WHITEN

Presented by Members of the George Street Ladies' Aid Yesterday.

Widespread Sorrow Expressed at Her Coming Departure—Regular June Meeting.

The regular June meeting of the Ladies Aid of the George street church, held yesterday afternoon, was of special interest, the occasion being taken advantage of to present an address to Mrs. Geo. E. Whiten, one of the most valued members of the society, who will, in the near future, leave for Keewatin.

The chair was occupied by Mrs. S. R. Armstrong, president, of the society. The meeting took the form of a social afternoon.

The address, which was read by the recording-secretary, Mrs. Duncan Cameron, was as follows:

Dear Mrs. Whiten,—It is with sincere regret that we have heard of your intended departure from our town. We will miss you and your family in many ways, but will especially miss you because you have been a regular and active member of our Ladies' Aid Society. We have always found you ready to take your share of the responsibility and work of our society and have scarcely known your equal for visiting and cheering the sick and strangers of our church. Although in these and many other ways you will be greatly missed by us, we hope that since you have decided to make your home in the West, that you will be happy and prosperous while there and that in making new acquaintances you will be well received as you have been kind in receiving others.

We know that what we may say or do for you are only incentive to go on working, but your real reward remains with your Lord and Saviour whom you so faithfully try to serve and He will be with you wherever you may locate and we know you will always find pleasure in doing His holy will.

Trusting you and your family will have the blessings of good health and be prosperous in your new field of labour, we remain,

Yours ever your friends,

MRS. S. R. ARMSTRONG, President

MRS. J. B. PENTLAND, 1st Vice-President

MRS. JEFFREY, 2nd Vice-President

MRS. J. CAMERON, Secretary

MRS. F. MASON, Treasurer.

A brief reply was made by Mrs. Whiten in a few well chosen remarks expressive of her sorrow at the necessary severance of the ties binding her to the associations of the past, which had been of so pleasant a character.

A vocal solo, "The Land of Dreams," was rendered with beautiful expression and musicianly interpretation by Miss Clara Belle Ghem.

Mrs. Hendry then added a few words expressive of the appreciation of the society of Mrs. Whiten's faithful service, and untiring efforts in the society's behalf in the past. The meeting closed with the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

A delightful tea was afterwards served in the Church parlour. A half hour was spent in saying good-byes, this being the last meeting at which Mrs. Whiten will be in attendance before her departure, which will cause a general and wide-spread feeling of sorrow. Mrs. Whiten's services will be greatly missed in connection with the Ladies' Aid and Woman's Auxiliary Societies, in the work of which she was always most active. Many expressions of sorrow were also heard at the loss which would be sustained by the loss of Mrs. Whiten's daughters, who have been faithful and efficient helpers in the work of the Sunday School, Epworth League, and the Young People's Societies, generally.

THE RANGERS TO BE INSPECTED

First Half will be Inspected To-night.

Col. Gordon Here on Friday—March Out Last Night.

There was a splendid turn-out of the 57th Regiment last night, for the last parade before inspection, which will begin to-night, when the first four companies will be inspected, and to-morrow night the last four companies. On Friday night the whole regiment will be inspected by Col. Gordon, the regiment parading at 8.30 p. m., with both bands.

Last night the regiment paraded along the usual route of march, by the principal streets and about 300 men were in line, the whole regiment presenting a good appearance.

Clothes and Medicines Have Changed.

Times and clothes have changed during twenty-five years. So have medicines.

You do not wear the style of clothes people did then. Such clothes are old fashioned now. And yet some people, as a matter of habit, still buy medicines put on the market twenty-five years ago, which in their way are just as old-fashioned as the clothes of our ancestors.

Good in their day, there is something better now, for medicines, like clothes, have changed, and changed for the better.

Medicines, like clothes, are made from different materials now than they were twenty-five years ago. Some of the materials used in making Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women had not been discovered then. You cannot get these new ingredients in the old time remedies. And yet these ingredients are used now in diseases of women by all the world's greatest physicians.

Then again, medicines, like clothes, are made now in a different way. Twenty-five years ago it was thought necessary to make medicine in liquid form. To-day all the best remedies are put up in tablet form.

Alcohol and opium, those relics of the past, are now unnecessary; although they are still used in liquid preparations, to show an immediate effect and an apparent improvement in health, which does not really exist.

Such preparations, however, are deadly in their ultimate effect, and are so described by honest and capable physicians.

Progressive women — thinking women keep up to date in the matter of medicines as well as clothes. They are buying Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets, the twentieth century preparation for women, and the one now recognized beyond doubt or question as the one best adapted to their special needs.

These tablets are made from the formula of Dr. Hugo, of Paris, the distinguished specialist in diseases of women. No Paris modiste is better qualified to design up-to-date gowns, than is Dr. Hugo to prescribe an up-to-date medicine for women. His forty years' experience are worth something.

When women buy a gown they require it to be up-to-date, just as a matter of appearance. Why should they be satisfied with anything but the latest and best in medicine, when it is a matter of health? In Dr. Hugo's remedy they have both the latest and the best. There is no other just as good.

There is no other that, without injury to the system, will relieve so quickly that tired feeling, nervousness, and irritability that comes from a run-down condition; no other that will take away so soon that backache, constipation, and dragging down pain which are symptoms of some serious disorder.

There is no other that will cure all menstruation and uterine troubles, even when chronic.

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women will do all this. They are doing it for women every day. There is only one class of women they will not cure—those who think the tablets are like the old time remedies and therefore will not take them.

But they are just as different as is the dress of twenty-five years ago, and it takes but one box to prove it.

WHITBY BONUSES SUGAR FACTORY

$25,000 of Bonus Granted to Keystone Sugar Company.

Factory Will Cost $500,000, With Equipment—Wages Will Reach $50,000 Per Year.

Whitby people are in hot pursuit of a sugar beet factory. The town has passed a bylaw granting a bonus of $25,000, and it has been ratified by the Government. The company has obtained its Government charter, and will be known as the Keystone Sugar Company.

A number of the members of the Whitby Board of Trade, with other capitalists, are associated on the Board of Directors of the company. The factory with equipment, will probably cost in the neighbourhood of half a million dollars. The plant is assessed for $100,000 for school purpoaes. The expenditure for wages will likely reach about $50,000 per year, while the sum of $300,000 will be paid out to the farmers of Ontario, Peterborough, Northumberland and Durham counties, thus adding to the agricultural farmer one more additional profitable crop. The farmers are displaying much enthusiasm in many sections by offering to grow beets for 1906, and preparing their land this season.—Com.

RHEUMATIC PAINS.

Driven Out of the System by Dr. Williams Pink Pills.

"My life was absolutely made miserable by rheumatism," says Mr. Geo. F. Hilpert, of West River, Sheet Harbour, N.S. "I am employed every spring as a river driver, and in consequence am exposed to all sorts of weather and exposure in the cold water. A few years ago while engaged at my work I was seized with the most acute pains in my back and joints. I became almost a cripple and could scarcely move about. I had medical aid, but it did not help me. Then I began taking a remedy alleged to be a cure for rheumatism, and I used ten dollars' worth, but derived absolutely no benefit. The constant suffering I was in began to tell on my hitherto strong constitution and I became so badly run down that I despaired of ever being in good health again. Then a friend called my attention to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and although somewhat skeptical I decided to try them. I had only used a few boxes when I began to feel better and after I had used something over a dozen boxes I was again in good health. Every twinge of the trouble had left me, and although I have been subject to much exposure since, I have not had a twinge of the old pain. I can honestly say that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured me after other expensive treatment had failed."

Rheumatism was rooted in Mr. Hilpert's blood. The cold, and the wet and the exposure only started the pain going. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured because they drove the poisonous uric acid out of the blood and filled the veins with that new, rich blood that no disease can resist. These pills actually make new blood, and that is why they cure common ailments like rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago anaemia, indigestion, headaches and backaches kidney and liver troubles, and nervous troubles such as neuralgia, St. Vitus dance and paralysis. And it is this same way that they cure the irregularities and secret troubles of women and growing girls. No other medicine can do this, and ailing people will save money and speedily get good health by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once. But you must get the genuine with the full name, Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People, on the wrapper around each box. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

TO GOVERN THE MOVING OF BUILDINGS

FOR REGULATING WEIGHT OF COAL

By-Law Given Two Readings at Last Night's Council Meeting.

Chief of Police May Inspect Weight of Loads of Coal, For Protection of The Public

If the by-law introduced Monday night in the council by Ald. Hicks, and given its first reading, is passed, the buyers of coal will be protected from dealers who might be inclined to give short weight. Ald. Hicks, in introducing the by-law, the principal provisions of which are given below, remarked that it was but doing justice to the dealer and the customer that some regulation should be made for the protection of the persons who buy coal in the local yards, that they may have an assurance that they are getting full weight and also to the dealers, who will, by it, be immune from the insinuation that they do not give proper weight. The main provisions of the by-law are as follows:—

1—Every coal dealer shall give to the driver or person in charge of each load of coal sent out for delivery to a purchaser in the Town of Peterborough, a ticket signed by such dealer, specifying the name of the purchaser and the net weight of coal and the kind of coal contained in such load.

2—In the event of coal being delivered to more than one purchaser from any one load, the dealer shall give a separate ticket to be delivered to each purchaser, showing therein the particulars hereinbefore provided; and the quality of coal delivered to each purchaser shall be kept separate from the other so that the quantity referred to may be readily identified.

3—The Chief of Police may require that any load of coal on its way from the seller to the buyer in the said town of Peterborough, shall be weighed upon the market scales; or the purchaser of any load of coal may require the same to be so weighed before delivery, or in either case the driver or person in charge of such load, shall produce the ticket for such load to the Chief of Police or the purchaser as the case may be and shall have the said load and also the vehicle conveying same, including the bags (if any) weighed separately on such scales and shall then and there produce the said ticket and the Market Clerk shall endorse upon such ticket the gross weight of such load with the vehicle and the bags (if any) the weight of the vehicle and bags (if any) and the net weight of the coal.

4—No dealer shall state in any such ticket as the weight of the load of coal sent out for delivery as aforesaid to any purchaser in the Town of Peterborough, a less weight than the net weight of the coal contained in any such load and no driver or person in charge of any such load of coal shall refuse to produce the ticket when requested to do so, or to take the load therein mentioned to the market scales and allow the same to be weighed thereon.

5—Each coal dealer shall have on his premises, a suitable weighscale, properly tested and capable of weighing each load or quantity of coal sold by him.

6—The fees of the Market Clerk for the use of the scales when used, at the request of the purchaser, shall be paid by such purchaser and when used by request of the Chief of Police, shall be paid by the Town Treasurer on his certificate.

7—The Chief of Police shall cause not less than eighty loads of coal to be weighed in each year and shall choose the loads of coal to be weighed in such manner as to fairly distribute the tests among all dealers delivering coal within the Town of Peterborough.

Ald. Johnston suggested that some provision should be made in the by-law to govern the measurement of wood bought on the market. He thought that some regulation should be made by which the size of the load, should be recorded on it, in order that anyone buying it might be able to see just what they were getting.

It was pointed out, however, that there was already a by-law which covered this, and that the purchaser had to do was to apply to the Market Clerk, who would be obliged to furnish the size of the load.

IN MEMORY OF ALAN BURRITT

Handsome Tablet Received From the 12th Lancers.

Memory of a Former Peterborough Boy Honoured by an Imperial Regiment—Son of Dr. H. C. Burritt.

The following item which is clipped from the Toronto News, will be of interest to many Peterborough people. It refers to the presentation of a handsome tablet to the family of Dr. H. C. Burritt, of Toronto, and formerly of Peterborough, in memory of Dr. Burritt's son, the late Alan S. Burritt. It may be stated that the deceased young man was well known in Peterborough and about eight years ago was in camp with the 3rd Dragoons, having held a commission in B Squadron, and was recognized as one of the best officers of the regiment. The items referred to is as follows:—

IN MEMORY,
Private Alan Schofield Burritt,
XII Lancers,
Who gave his Life for his Country.
In South Africa,
On April 4th, 1901.
Erected by XII Lancers, Past and Present.

Surmounted by the coat of arms of the 12th Lancers, thus reads the inscription on a very handsome brass tablet, received from the regiment by Dr. H. C. Burritt, of Wellesley street, in honour of his soldier son who died at Kimberley of entoric fever during the South African war. It is the first time that the memory of a Canadian has been honoured by an Imperial regiment in this way. The family was deeply touched by the gift of the tablet, which has been erected in the family home, and forms one of their proudest possessions.

Alan Burritt was well and popularly known in Toronto. He was thoroughly imbued with the military spirit and had served for five years in the Northwest Mounted Police. Subsequently he took a course at Stanley Barracks, and was afterwards a lieutenant in the Prince of Wales Dragoons of Peterborough. He was promised a Canadian commission for South Africa, but as it failed to come in time he went to Aldershot, England and enlisted as a private with the twelvth Lancers, in the expectation of winning his laurels at the front and obtaining a commission as many spirited young men had done. He served in several engagements, and was of the relieving party when the siege of Kimberley was raised. It was shortly after the latter event that his career was cut short at the untimely age of 28 years.

Similar tablets have been erected by the 12th Lancers in memory of the other members of the regiment who fell in South Africa.

QUEEN OF ACTRESSES PRAISES PE-RU-NA.

MISS JULIA MARLOWE.

In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., Miss Julia Marlowe of New York City, has the following to say of Peruna:

"I am glad to write my endorsement of the great remedy, Peruna, as a nerve tonic. I do so most heartily."—Julia Marlowe.

Nervousness is very common among women. This condition is due to anemic nerve centers. The nerve centers are the reservoirs of nervous vitality. These centers become bloodless for want of proper nutrition. This is especially true in the spring season. Every spring a host of invalids are produced as the direct result of weak nerves.

This could be easily obviated by the use of Peruna. Peruna strikes at the root of the difficulty by correcting the digestion. Digestion furnishes nutrition for the nerve centers. Properly digested food furnishes these reservoirs of life with vitality which leads to strong, steady nerves, and thus nourishes life.

Peruna is in great favor among women, especially those who have vocations that are trying to the nervous system. Peruna furnishes the lasting invigoration for the nerves that such people so much need. Thousands of testimonials from women in all parts of the United States are being received every year. Such unsolicited evidence surely proves that Peruna is without an equal as a nerve tonic and a vital invigorator.

Buy a bottle of Peruna today. If you do not receive all the benefits from Peruna that you expected, write to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

$10,000 forfeit if we cannot produce the original letter and signature of above testimonial which well demonstrates its full genuineness.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 7, 1905.

COUNTY HOUSE OF REFUGE.

When will the county council take the necessary steps to erect a county house of refuge? There is no good reason why the work should not be undertaken at once—for two or three reasons. First, the law of the land declares that a House of Refuge shall be built; section 7 of the statutes of 1903, 3 Edward chap.38, says:

"The Corporation of every county or union of counties SHALL erect and establish for such county or union of counties, a House of Refuge."

Thus it is seen according to law the erection of a House of Refuge is obligatory—it must be done. Then why the delay? Another reason for the erection of such a building is that it is needed for the proper and economical care of the indigent poor of the county. The care of such persons imposes burdens upon the townships and costs much more than if the work were done in connection with a House of Refuge, which with a farm attached could be made almost, if not quite, self sustaining.

Not only will the indigent poor be more cheaply maintained, but the number of pensioners upon municipal bounty will be reduced. It is possible that many persons now receiving township aid can be made to earn their living if the means are provided by a properly equipped House of Refuge. There are also many no doubt who are being improperly aided. A few years ago, the town of Napanee established a local "poor house," another name for a House of Refuge. Some of the indigent poor of the town entered it, but others who were on the regular charity list refused, saying, "Me go to a Poor House! No; I'll go to work first." Here is the case of persons, able to work but unwilling, taking the charity of the town and living upon the earnings of honest labour. Another reason against delay is, the Provincial Government makes a grant of $1,000 towards a House of Refuge if the house is built within a given time. This time has once almost expired, but has been extended for two years from 1906. Now to earn this $1,000 the County Council has to take action promptly. The law says the County must build a House of Refuge, and the people will hold County Councillors to account, whose delay may lose this $1,000 grant and impose an equivalent burden upon the taxpayers. Another reason for building a House of Refuge is because other and less wealthy counties are doing it. Victoria County Council is alive and that County's House of Refuge is nearly completed. The Protestant Home is a useful institution but it is inadequate and does not fill the bill. The House of Providence another useful institution cannot take the place of a House of Refuge. The finances of the county are in a good sound condition and there is no excuse on that score. It is to be hoped that the Council will at the coming session take some action in the direction of establishing a House of Refuge such as the law declares must be provided. There should be no delay. If the work is not done before 1906 the county will be fined $1,000 for neglect of duty—for unless the building is erected within the specified time, the Government will not make the $1,000 grant, and its not probable that the time will be extended again.

THE WEST WANTS PEACE.

Men of the West like Rev. Dr. Bryce and Rev. "Ralph Connor," frankly want peace. They are giving their lives to the betterment of the Western peoples; and they believe that they have more to lose from a sectarian war than they can possibly gain from it. The sincerity of these men will not be questioned. The staunchness of their Protestantism will hardly be doubted. Their passion for a public school system is notorious. But a sectarian [illegible] means a cessation of progressive religious work. The Protestant organizations will have their energies drawn off from the work of teaching temperance and clean living to the peculiarly tempted people of a new country. Religion will become a thing to be fought over, rather than to be practiced. And these religious leaders of the West feel that they cannot at this critical moment afford to give to the forces of evil the advantage of this truce. They put a high value on peace.

Of course Dr. Bryce has been quite blunt in saying that the Protestants have nothing to gain from victory. We all know this; though some of us pretend to ignore it. In the Maritime Provinces there are no Separate schools officially; but there are lots of Roman Catholic schools, getting the usual Government grant, and quite as "separate" as can be desired. In Manitoba, on the morrow, of the "famous victory," even Dr. Bryce himself says there are some sixty or seventy practically Separate schools. He very much prefers the Territorial system to the one they have in Manitoba; and yet Manitoba is enjoying the results of a mighty sectarian conflict. The truth is that where a reasonable population, consisting of both Protestants and Catholics, are living along together, they will not treat each other with permanent unfairness. They may be whipped up into doing something in a passion at times; but as soon as the war is over, they reach a "modus Vivendi," under which each section of the community educates its children according to its conscience.

Naturally the West are not enthusiastic about being swept by a great sectarian war which will result in leaving them just where they are.—Toronto Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The tree planted many years ago by King Edward in Queen's Park has died. It just drooped and withered since the moment the Whitney Government got into power. Even Dr. Pyne could do nothing for it, says the Toronto Star. The tree was planted by His Majesty, then Prince of Wales, in 1860.

POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE MARRIED

Miss May Fitzgerald to Mr. Wm. Lang.

A Delightful Social Event This Afternoon—Will Reside in Town.

A very pretty wedding was that which was solemnized this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. Geo. Fitzgerald, 32 Sheridan street, when his eldest daughter, May, was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. Lang, in the presence of a number of friends of the bride and groom, both of whom are popular young people.

In the arch between the drawing and sitting rooms, under a wedding bell of white lilacs, and in the fragrance of the other beautiful floral decorations, by Rev. J. C. Davidson the ceremony was performed. The bride was gowned in a very prettily made and becoming dress of cream basket cloth, trimmed with lace and insertion, while the bridesmaid, Miss Pearl Fitzgerald, sister of the bride, was dressed in a cream canvas cloth suit with trimmings of silk and lace.

Mr. Bruce Hutchinson, cousin of the bride, was groomsman. After the wedding the bridal party and guests sat down to a daintily spread dejeuner, at which the health of the bride was proposed by Rev. J. C. Davidson and responded to in an appropriate speech by the groom.

The bride was the recipient of a large number of very handsome and valuable presents, an eloquent testimony to the esteem in which she is held by her large circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lang left on the 3.10 C.P.R. train for Toronto, Niagara and Detroit and upon their return will reside at 23 Gilmour street.

RAIN CAME WITH EXCURSIONISTS

Six Hundred Orangemen from Thornton and Ivey.

Wet Weather Failed to Spoil the First Excursion of the Season.

Peterborough was seen under somewhat unfavourable circumstances today by about 600 visitors who patronized the excursion arranged by Thornton and Ivy Loyal Orange Lodges. Though it was raining in these places early this morning, between six and seven o'clock, it is stated that the attendance was undiminished by the bad weather and that a large number of ladies ventured upon the trip.

The excursionists were somewhat downhearted when they discovered that their day off was to be marred by dampness, but the majority took their misfortune philosophically and there were even those who saw enough of the town to express themselves as being pleased with the visit. "This is the kind of a place for me," remarked one of the committee as he recounted his experiences in visiting the points of interest. The lift lock on the Trent Canal was one of the big attractions and not a few people braved the inclemency of the weather and made the pilgrimage thither.

The members of local Orange lodges regarded it as an honour to entertain visiting brethren, and a committee from Peterborough lodge No. 80, assembled at the G. T. R. station this morning to extend a welcome and do what they could to make the visitors feel that the attentions of Peterborough atoned for bad weather.

TO-DAY'S CASES AT POLICE COURT

Father of the Juvenile Horse Thief in Court This Morning.

Also Two Liquor Cases—Mr. Haverson, K.C., of O. L. V. Association Will Have Objectionable Things Removed.

There was quite a lengthy session of the police court this morning, the first case being that of Mr. A. Micks, who was fined $1 and $3 costs for obstructing the market.

Next came the case of Harold Fowler, enlarged from yesterday. Fowler's father appeared in court. Mr. Dumble ask him if he would undertake to give his boy a cool, deliberate flogging. If not, he would deal with him himself. Mr. Fowler objected that it was taking a hard thing, but after some hesitation, promised to flog his son. He said that he had seen grown up, but this one was the first ever to be in a police court.

The next case was that of Mr. T. Cavanagh, proprietor of the Cavanagh Hotel, Simcoe street, charged by Inspector Cochrane with selling after hours, on the night of June 1st. Mr. Cochrane testified that he was out the police station at 11 o'clock that night. He went from there to the C.P.R. Hotel and from there to Cavanagh's Hotel. There he found Cavanagh and one of his men behind the bar. There were three men in the bar room. He did not know any of them, but would recognize one if he saw him again. He saw a man in the sitting room whom he thought was Mr. Hooper of Cavan.

Mr. Hooper testified that he was at Cavanagh's Hotel the night of June 1st, that he saw Mr. Cochrane there. He looked at his watch and saw it was just 11 o'clock. Hooper asked Cochrane, "would he prosecute Cavanagh?" He also told the inspector his name, and when asked, told him he was not a temperance man.

Mr. Haverson, K.C., solicitor for the Ontario Licensed Vituallers Association, who appeared for the defence, took exception to all this, pointing out that not sufficient evidence was forthcoming to prove that any intoxicating liquors had been sold or consumed, and that nothing could be done. After some further discussion between Crown Attorney Wood and Mr. Haverson, the case was dropped.

The next case was that of Mr. Dunn, proprietor of the Southern Hotel, charged by Inspector Cochrane with having the windows of his bar room curtained, which under the new regulation was unlawful.

Mr. Cochrane said he went there on the night of June 1st, between 11 and 12 o'clock, and found everything quiet. There was, however, a curtain on the only front window which could not be seen through and the three side windows were frosted. He went in and Mr. Dunn went with him into the bar, bringing a light. The curtain was on the inside of the window. Upon being asked, Mr. Dunn said he forgot to remove the curtain. After some discussion the case was dropped. Mr. Haverson said he would use his influence to have all objectionable features removed. The court adjourned.

The itching scalp, the falling hair and the dandruff that annoys are the work of a parasite hidden in the scalp. That parasite must be killed to cure dandruff; and the only preparation that will do that is Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."

O. H. Reed, of Victor, Idaho, says: "Myself and wife had dandruff and falling hair several years. Two bottles of Newbro's Herpicide completely cured us, after several other preparations had failed to do good." Makes hair grow glossy and soft as silk. Hundreds of other testimonials just as strong. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh special agents.

HANDSOME HOTEL TO ACCOMODATE 400 GUESTS

Thought to Be a Necessity Upon Kawartha Lakes by Mr. Spencer, C. P. R. Divisional Superintendent—Arrived in Town Last Night With Bobcaygeon Party—Was Greatly Impressed by Beauty of Scenery Upon Proposed Belt-Line Route—Will Submit Favourable Report to C. P. R. Authorities.

The party from Bobcaygeon, spoken of in Monday's Examiner, which is at present on a trip over the Kawartha and Trent waters, arrived in town last night, after a delightful day's sail through the upper Lakes upon the steamer Empress.

With the party was Mr. G. Spencer, Divisional Superintendent, C.P.R., Toronto, who in the interests of the company is making a tour of inspection over the propose new belt line route from Toronto, with a rapid service via Bobcaygeon and Peterborough.

Mr. Spencer expressed himself as delighted with the scenery upon the Kawartha Lakes, which is, in his opinion, much finer than that of Muskoka, and will recommend his company to utilize it as a tourist belt line route. He expresses the opinion that a necessity upon the route is the erection of a first-class hotel at some point with accommodation for 400 guests.

Mr. Spencer will upon his return make an official report to the head officials of the C.P.R., and bring the whole matter before their consideration.

While the establishment of the service is still in a formative condition, it may be said that there can be little doubt of its being put into operation in the near future, though this season will perhaps not see it in a state of completion. It is extremely probable that the steamer service between Peterborough and Bobcaygeon will be put on during the present season, as an excellent service might be put in operation with the boats at present available.

With the matter in its present stage, of course no definite information with regard to the extent to which the C. P. R. may interest itself in the project may be expected, but, in view of their present action, and of the many features directly beneficial to their present system, there can be little doubt of its ultimate establishment, with completed details. This, as before stated, may include the addition of a line of steamers and the erection of an hotel.

The party which arrived in town about 5.30 o'clock, were guests for the night at different hotels, continuing their journey as far as Hastings, taking a trip over the Lift Lock this morning. They will return to down this evening, and will remain over night, returning in the morning to Bobcaygeon.

The party included Messrs. G. Spencer, Toronto, Capt. Cartwright, J. T. Robinson, Capt. A. E. Boltum, W. J. Reid, W. C. Moore, J. P. Davis, W. Kennedy, Rev. Mr. Creighton, John Henderson and John Bick, of Bobcaygeon; E. P. Young, Pittsburg, Pa., Capt. Burgoyne and George McGee of Fenelon Falls, Alex. Fisher, Lindsay, and a number of others.

NEW PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH ESTABLISHED

Knox Church ths Evolution of St. Paul's Mission—New Church With Self-Governing Status Established Last Night—Rev. W. McD. Mackay its Pastor—Preacher Will, However, Exchange Pulpits With St. Paul's as In the Past—A Satisfactory Communion Roll—Rev. George Yule, Moderator, Presided at Meeting Held Last Night to Establish Church.

Peterborough now has its Knox Presbyterian Church. The congregation was duly constituted at a meeting held in St. Paul's Mission last evening, when Rev. George Yule, Moderator of the Presbytery of Peterborough, presided. He read the names of those who will form the charter list of the new church. These are members in full communion with the Presbyterian church in Canada, and they leave St. Paul's congregation in good and regular standing to form the nucleus of the new charge which will have the status of a mission church, with however a session of its own, with representatives of the mother church thereon. The step which was taken last evening is considered in the light of an advance towards a self-sustaining condition and the fact that the point has been reached at which the formation of a congregation is possible is evidence of the remarkable progress made in connection with the Mission Schol built and opened about two and one half years ago, by the people of St. Paul's. That a field for church extension existed in the south part of the town was recognized by that congregation and the gratifying results show that the step was well advised. The new church will be in charge of Rev. W. M. Mackay, who will still be the assistant pastor of St. Paul's and the usual exchange of pulpits will be continued. The daughter will also be financially connected with the mother, and the next step looked for is independence along that line.

REV. W. McD. MACKAY,
The New Pastor of Knox Presbyterian Church.

An Earnest Sermon.

There was quite a large attendance at the meeting held in the Mission ingbuilding last evening and in opening a praise and prayer service was held. Rev. Geo. Yule delivered an earnest sermon from Samuel 17, 47, "And all this assembly shall know that the Lord saveth not with sword and spear; for the battle is the Lord's and he will give you into our hands." The speaker in his address advised against confidence in self, in worldly custom, or in that power which vaunts itself above. "We cannot trust too little in ourselves," said he, "and we cannot trust too much upon God. If God be for us, we might well ask the question, who can be against us?"

In introducing the business of the evening, Rev. Mr. Yule said it was very gratifying to him, no doubt it was to all present, that the long looked for day had come when it was possibly to form a distinct congregation in the south end. There was a noble spirit of worth in evidence and he was sure that it would go on more and more unceasingly. This would be the prayer of all interested in the progress of the church.

Splendid Nucleus.

He pointed out that the first essential was the formation of a communion roll, and he read the following list of names which he thought formed a splendid neucleus:—

Mr. G. H. Savigny, Mrs. G. H. Savigny, Mr. H. E. Bodey, Mrs. John Mervin, Miss Jean Menzies, Miss Kate Menzies, Mrs. T. W. Gillies, Mrs. George Scott, Mrs. McCannon, Mrs. Wills, Mrs. F. W. Davidson, Miss E. M. Moffat, Mrs. John Pollock, Mrs. Margaret Stewart, Mr. J. Louden, Mrs. J. Louden, Rev. Wm. Bennet, Mrs. Amy Bennet, Miss Amy K. Bennet, Mr. J. W. Bennet, Mr. E. Webb, Mrs. E. Webb, Mr. D. Hamilton, Mrs. D. Hamilton, Miss Jennie Hamilton, Miss Katie Hamilton, Mr. T. Anderson, Mrs. W. Anderson, Miss W. Anderson, Master Stuart Anderson, Mr. John Buyers, Mrs. J. W. Buyers, Mrs. P. Alexander, Mrs. William Closson, Mr. William Watt, Mrs. William Watt, Mr. Robert Mulligan, Mrs. Robert Mulligan, Mr. J. F. Morrison, Mrs. J. F. Morrison, Mr. William Shea, Mrs. William Shea.

As stated above, these are members in full communion of the Presbyterian church, and leave St. Paul's congregation in good standing.

Rev. Mr. Yule stated that there were others whose names would have been on the list, but these had not been forwarded in time. A certificate had been received that evening from Mrs. Alex. Miller, formerly of St. Andrew's, and this name would be added.

The Name Selected.

Consideration was next given to the selection of a name by which the church would be known in future.

Mr. John W. Buyers, in speaking on this subject, said that for over twelve years he had worshipped with Rev. Dr. Torrance at St. Paul's, and naturally it was with a feeling of reluctance that he, with others, consented to the transfer from St. Paul's. They considered, however, that the welfare of the two churches was practically identical, and he was pleased to know that the exchange of pastors would continue as in the past. He trusted that the friendly feeling existing between the two churches would be lifelong. Mr. Buyers considered it most fitting that the church be named after the great Scottish reformer, John Knox, the four hundredth anniversary of whose birth had recently been celebrated.

Mr. J. W. Bennet seconded this matter and it was carried unanimously.

REV. E. F. TORRANCE, D. D.
Pastor of St. Pauls' Church From Which The New Knox Church Originated.

Session Chosen.

The Moderator then announced it would be necessary to appoint a session, and Mr. Bennet said that it would be most fitting that, as the church got its existence from St. Paul's, there should be two members of their session upon that of the new charge. He moved that two members be appointed from St. Paul's and three from the new congregation, making five in all.

The names proposed on behalf of Knox church were, Messrs. J. W. Morrison, J. W. Bennet and Wm. Shea; while Rev. Mr. Yule nominated Mr. Sheriff Hall and Mr. William Madill from St. Paul's as two gentlemen who had shown deep interest in the work since its very beginning.

The above names were unanimously approved of, and the Moderator read the edict to the effect that their ordination would take place at the morning service of Sunday, June 18.

Other matters of business were then taken up, and Mr. Bennet moved the confirmation of the appointment of the Finance Committee, who had been acting heretofore, it being unnecessary in view of the present connection with St. Paul's to have a Board of Managers. The committee consists of Robt. Mulligan, J. W. Buyers, David Hamilton, G. H. Savigny, E. Downey and J. W. Bennet. Mr. Buyers is appointed in the place of Mr. Robert Logan, who has moved to a distant part of the town. The appointment of the committee was approved of.

Pleasing Coincidence.

Mr. Sheriff Hall pointed to a somewhat remarkable coincidence. He said that just seventy years ago to-day, the Presbyterians of Peterborough had met together for the celebration of the Holy Communion. Their first home as an organized unit was the frame building on the east side of Aylmer street, about opposite to the G. T. R. station. It continued to be used for a number of years until St. Andrew's was built. Rev. Mr. Roger was in charge of the mission, which soon became an organized congregation, and the speaker's opinion was that it was smaller than that worshipping in Knox church. It grew and become very flourishing, and soon two large congregations were formed. About 40 years ago a mission school was formed at the instance of the ladies of St. Paul's and it soon became a respectible size. This work was stopped for a while, and in late years the new building had been erected. There was little doubt but in the future it would become too small, and become the Sunday school of a larger church building. Mr. Sheriff Hall said he was glad to be present as a member of St. Paul's session, and he hoped the most cordial realtionship would ever continue between the mother and daughter. He had filled the position of superintendent of the Sunday school, but suggested that it might be advisable to appoint a leader from the new congregation.

The greatest good feeling and unanimity existed at the meeting and it closed with the doxology, followed by prayer by Rev. Dr. Torrance.

MR. LEWIS MAY DIE.

Driven Over at Niagara Falls by Two Reckless Italians.

Niagara Falls, June 7.—Two Italians, Joe Leno and Leno Fabosko, who peddle fruit with horse and wagon, when driving furiously along Victoria avenue Monday evening, knocked down and ran over Zenas B. Lewis. The wheels passed over his head, fracturing a bone over the eye and lacerating his face frightfully.

The Italians whipped up their horse, drove to their home, left their rig and skipped over to the American side. Lewis was found in an unconscious condition. Doctors hold out little hope for his recovery, although he partially regained consciousness yesterday morning. Chief Mains of the Ontario police overtook the Italians at Tonawanda and brought them back to this side.

Mr. Lewis is 73 years old and very hard of hearing.

ALMOST A TORNADO.

Tricks the Wind Performed Out In Raleigh Township.

Chatham, June 7.—Almost a tornado was the terrific windstorm which swept over Raleigh Township Monday afternoon, carrying everything in its path. Barns were unroofed, outhouses demolished, windmills overturned and cattle blown like feathers across the fields. Elm trees, three feet in diameter, were uprooted and carried away, and fences completely demolished. The rainfall was extremely heavy, being over three and a half inches in the level.

Harry Keeley, Thomas Lewis and D. Williams, employed at Mounteer's slaughter house, were knocked down by the wind and rendered unconscious. Mounteer's stables were damaged, and about 125 chickens killed. His loss is $600. Many farmers lost heavily. The storm came up from the south, passing just north of Chatham.

On the middle road two ladies driving west had their rig overturned by the wind and were thrown out.

Masonic Temple Dedicated.

Sovereign and Commander Henry L. Palmer of Milwaukee, head of the northern Masonic jurisdiction of the United States, officiated.

Taxes Telegraph Companies.

St. John's, Nfld., June 7.—The Colonial Government has introduced in the Legislature a bill imposing an annual tax of $4,000 on every telegraph cable landed on the coast of the island; a tax of 1 per cent. on the traffic receipts of every telegraph company doing commercial business, those which only report ships being exempt.

Degree For Dr. Osler.

Oxford, Eng., June 7.—The convocation of the university proposes to confer on Dr. Wm. Osler the degree of doctor of medicine, and also the honorary degree of doctor of letters on Basil Lanneau Gildersleeve, professor of Greek, at Johns Hopkins University.

Lyon in Good Form.

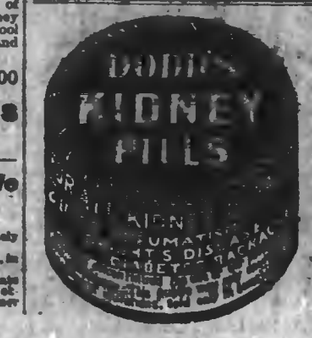
Edinburgh, June 7.—Lyon with Palmer Handsworth, playing a four ball match against Edward and Walter Blackwell, the famous big drivers, ended all square. This is Lyon's last match prior to the championship. The Canadian is playing well, and is confident of making a good show in the championship.

Welcomes Methodists.

Ottawa, June 7.—Speaker Sutherland and Mrs. Sutherland were at home yesterday afternoon to the delegates to the Methodist conferences and their ladies. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was also a guest, and greeted the visitors from all parts of the Dominion very cordially.

No News.

Swakopmund, German Southwest Africa, June 7.—Nothing has been heard here of the report circulated by a London news agency, Monday of the capture of Warmbad, in the southern part of this colony by insurgent natives.



CHAMPION GALT'S DEFEAT QUAKERS

Porridge Men Played Good Football.

Attendance Was Regrettably Small—Westerners Scored One in Each Half.

The crowd in attendance at the Galt-Quaker football game at the Exhibition Grounds, though small numerically, was treated to one of the best exhibitions of the game ever seen in town. The visitors, though at no stage of the game forced to go to their full capacity, displayed excellent team work, and will undoubtedly give any team which beats them an anxious hour.

The Porridge aggregation, though outclassed as to team play, played throughout a steady and hard-working game. Several players gave evidence of attack of the form which they will undoubtedly attain as the season progresses. The forward line was lamentably weak as to organized effort, though they displayed in spots, some excellent individual work. The half-line was strengthened by the addition of McEwen, who proved a steady and consistent worker. The full-backs, who were about the busiest men in the game, were generally there with the necessary articles of merchandise, and would, had they been stacked up against a forward line less persistent in their attacks, have proven an impossible proposition. McFadden in goal placed himself in front of nearly everything, his work in the latter half being brilliant. Simpson was as invincible as of yore, his kicking and checking being magnificent. Doris was also in good form. His kicking was accurate and strong, and his weight used to good advantage. Main on left half, though stacked up against his best while comrade from the West, nevertheless betrayed no hesitancy in handing out the necessary "bumps" when occasion demanded. He was always industrious held his check well in place, and displayed good powers of endurance. Mckewen was speedy, and his cool and "heady" style of play was very effective. Coon, who had recovered sufficiently from his recent injury as to be able to be in the game, was a great strength to the line. The forward line failed to get away into their opponent's territory with anything of a dangerous nature. The necessity for different team practice was apparent, as many enterprising rushes came to an untimely end through lack of system. Huston displayed his usual speed, and made some pretty dodging runs, but all efforts at successful combination were rendered abortive by the close checking of the visitors. Snider made his presence felt on many occasions, and figured in a number of pretty plays in conjunction with Lyons. Brooks and Cullen made some speedy efforts but failed to negotiate the formidable defence offered by Dunzer and Gourlay.

The forward line of the visitors displayed some of the fastest work ever seen in town. Their kicking and passing was always accurate. A noticable feature was the dexterity manifested in the placing of corners, though their shooting was in some instances too high to be effective. Both teams, in fact, "shyed" the ball too frequently. The Galt back division was never forced to show to what length they would go under provocation. Their kicks were always placed with excellent judgment. The manner in which the Westerners handled drops might well be emulated by the locals. They also used their heads most effectively. Their combination work was fast and accurate.

The line up was as follows:

Galt.	Quakers.
Goal.
Linton	McFadden
Backs.
Ducker	Simpson
Gourlay	Doris
Halves.
Johnston	Main
Fraser	Coon
Lane	McEwen
Forwards.
Brady	Snider
Imlah	Lyons
Finlayson	Houston
Steep	Cullen
Hall	Brooks

Referee, Dr. Devitt, Bowmanville.

The Play.

The Quakers commenced vigorously but soon found the necessity for defensive operations, the Westerners forcing the sphere into their territory with annoying persistency, Brady and Imlah showing some pretty work, which almost resulted in a score. A beautifully placed corner kick caused some agitation around the Quaker flags, which was relieved by Simpson. The first goal was scored by Hall, for the visitors, after about fifteen minutes' play. The shot was made directly after a corner was landed in from right wing. Hall, who was for the moment unchecked, perceiving an opening.

After several minutes play Lyons received a severe bump which caused a few moments delay. The Westerners kept right going again forced matters, and a second score was saved by a pretty stop by McFadden. Main, McEwen and Coons all contributed brilliant returns in the succeeding mix-up.

The work of the locals during the first half was superior to that during the first. Snider and Huston made a pretty dash for distance in a nice combination effort, but the vigilance of Gourlay put a damper upon their aspirations. Steep and Finlayson worked their way down to the land of the breakfast food and caused McFadden a few minutes of a busy time, he being compelled to cast himself athwart the path of three hot ones in succession. Hall sending one in directly above the cross-bar. Brooks and Cullen made a pretty run but without result. The ball travelled to mid field, where it was taken in charge by Steep, who sent in a beautifully placed shot, which struck the post. One goal was scored in this half. The play at the conclusion was in Quaker territory, the magnificent work of Simpson and Doris averting disaster upon many occasions.

FOOTBALL.

Harwood defeated Cobourg in a Midland Football League game at Gore's Landing on Saturday last by the score of 1 to 0. Harwood were strengthened since their last appearance here, while Cobourg only had on one of their regular forwards, and one of their half-backs was also off. Harwood scored the only goal in about two minutes on a lucky play, the two Cobourg backs clinching one another by mistake, a Harwood man getting the ball and scoring.—Sentinel-Star.

THE PERMANENT MILITIA FORCE

House Approves Sir Frederick Borden's Increase Plan---Minister's Explanation---The Active Militia---Council Has a New Scheme in View to Provide Efficient Defence, Especially in the Western Provinces---Force Will Be Increased---The Distribution of the Forces.

Ottawa, June 7.—In the House yesterday the supply bill, containing the amounts voted during the present session, was put through its several stages. It amounts to $42,002,781, being $6,364,522 of supplementaries for the current year, and $36,638,259 in main estimates for 1905-6. This, of course, does not include the estimates authorized by statute.

In explanation of the resolution respecting the Royal Military College, Sir Frederick Borden said it was desired to amend the R. M. C. Act, which at present limited to $36,000 the total sum available for salaries of professors, instructors and assistant instructors, by removing the limitation so that additional teachers may be engaged. The limit already was exceeded, and Parliament would vote the salaries yearly anyway.

The resolution was passed, and the bill introduced and read a first time.

The resolution to increase the permanent corps of Canada to 5,000 men was then taken up. Sir Frederick Borden explained that it was proposed to increase the cavalry to 1,350, three squadrons of Royal Canadian Dragoons and six squadrons of mounted rifles. There will be three batteries of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, 400, and five companies of the Royal Canadian Garrison Artillery, 1,100; three companies of Engineers, 300; ten companies of Infantry, 1,200; army medical Corps, 150; Army Service Corps, 150; Ordnance Corps, 150; a total of 4,890.

Distribution of Force.

It is proposed that there shall be one squadron each of the Dragoons at Toronto, St. John's, P. Q., and Fredericton, the two latter to replace the Infantry. Of the Mounted Rifles, there are to be one squadron in Winnipeg, three in Alberta and two in Saskatchewan. Two batteries of the Horse Artillery are to be maintained at Kingston, half a battery in Winnipeg, and half a battery in Calgary. Two companies of the Garrison Artillery will be stationed at Halifax, one at Esquimalt, B. C., and two companies at Quebec. One company of the Engineers will be stationed at Halifax, one at Esquimalt, B. C., and the other distributed. The Infantry will be located: Four companies at Halifax, one company at Montreal, one each at Quebec, London, Toronto, Fort William and Esquimalt, B. C. A detachment will also be maintained in Alberta, and one in Manitoba.

The Minister further explained that the permanent establishment at present was about 1,200, the statutory limit being 2,000, to which figure it was increased last session. The establishment of 5,000 would not be reached for some time. The garrisons at Esquimalt and Halifax will require about 2,500 men. In addition, it was proposed to establish a depot at Montreal of 200 men, a similar depot in the Northwest and Strathcona, and have 125 men at Calgary.

The Two Garrisons.

To Col. Tisdale the Minister said that it was proposed to take over Halifax on July 1. As to Esquimalt the proposal was to leave the fortifications in charge of the British garrison for another year, except that instead of paying half the expense of the garrison, as Canada had been doing for many years, the Dominion would pay the whole of it, and in one year from July 1 take over the entire responsibility and control about 350 Artillery and Engineers constituting the garrison at Esquimalt.

Dr. Daniel suggested that Parliament be given some information as to the policy of the Government on the matter of the military and naval defence of Canada, and also as to the advisability of participating in some scheme of Imperial defence.

"That," replied Sir Frederick, "would more properly fall to the duty of the Prime Minister. But I propose to discuss at some length the policy of the Government and of the Militia Department as to the development of the militia in the Dominion, and as to the question of this country on land, and the maintenance of the civil authority within it."

About Reductions.

In the House last night Sir Frederick Borden said he wished to correct a wrong impression that was abroad regarding the so-called reductions. It was found desirable to reduce the peace establishment for the present training and this is what had been done. He then read a memorandum from Gen. Lake embodying the views of the Militia Council in the matter. The memorandum stated that the Militia Council had a definite policy view, which contemplated considerable extensions and better adaptability to the requirements of defence.

The actual strength of the active militia in round numbers was 46,000 men. It was proposed to drill this year 42,000 men. The difference (3,000) is mainly in officers and non-commissioned officers. These men would still be on the strength of the regiments, but would be placed in a column by themselves. These men would be notified that although they will drill this year as far as city regiments are concerned they will not drill hereafter until notified.

The Minister admitted the overstrength question was one of the difficulties. Certain regiments were in overstrength condition like the Queen's Own (Toronto) and the 13th (Hamilton). These were exceptional cases, which would have to be dealt with gradually. At the present time no policy was formulated to meet the case.

Supply Bill Passes Senate.

Ottawa, June 7.—The supply bill, received last night from the Commons, was read first, second and third times and passed in the Senate last night.

CANADIANS IN MEXICO.

When Scheme is Completed Company Will Have Spent $40,000,000

Mexico City, June 7.—The Mexican Light and Power Co., a Canadian concern operating here, has purchased all the light and power plants in this city. This is believed to be the biggest individual deal in the commercial history of Mexico.

The amount paid the Mexican Gas and Electric Co. is $5,000,000, and to the Ildefonso Co. $4,000,000 in stock and $2,000,000 in bonds are given for its property, the total figuring $11,000,000.

The total expenditures of the Mexican Light and Power Co., when work is completed, will be $40,000,000.

The head office of the company is in Montreal. The directors are James Ross, president, Montreal; J. H. Plummer, Toronto, and F. S. Pearson, New York, vice-presidents; Hon. George A. Drummond, F. L. Wanklyn, E. S. Clouston, Montreal; E. R. Wood, Toronto; A. Eilert, London, Eng.; and Dr. A. Berbiner, Berlin, Germany.

CHECK FOR FISH TRUST.

Dr. Reaume, Minister of Public Works, Returns Company's Cheque.

Sault Ste. Marie, June 7.—Citizens are now enjoying the first great encounter with the alleged fish trust, A. Booth & Co. Several protests were sent to the old and new administrations at Toronto against the issue of license. Past efforts failed.

Now a letter to the local representatives of the big concern from Hon. J. O. Reaume, Minister of Public Works, returns the company's cheque and forbids it from fishing further.

It is claimed the company used more nets than its license called for and refused to supply the wants of the local people, beyond selling them the culls and these at an unreasonably high price.

A LIGHT AS IS A LIGHT.

Horseshoe Falls Under a Four Million Candle Power Glare.

Niagara Falls, June 7.—A four-million candle power searchlight was used Monday night by the United States Geographic Survey in examining the crest of the Horseshoe Falls. The light was one of the most powerful ever built, and its effect on the Falls was awe-inspiring. The outline of the horseshoe was seen plainer than ever before, and the experts were well pleased. The light was placed on the Canadian side and the power for it furnished by a Canadian power house.

The U. S. Wheat Crop.

Detroit, June 7.—Local estimates of the crop for this year in 14 of the big wheat producing States lead to the belief that the crop of the entire country will reach the enormous total of 670,000,000 bushels, which is near the banner crop of 1901.

Roundhouse Burned.

Teeswater, June 7.—Fire caused by lightning completely destroyed the C. P. R. roundhouse about 9 o'clock last night. The engines were gotten out safely.

The Presbyterian Assembly.

Kingston, June 7.—The General Assembly opened here last night with a public meeting. The moderator, Dr. Milligan, delivered the annual sermon.

No joy or pleasure on this earth quite equals that which comes into the home when baby arrives. Who can describe the happiness of man and woman, joined in wedlock, as they look upon the fragile, delicate mite that is blood of their blood and flesh of their flesh? And who can depict the hopelessness and dejection that hover about the home where the wife is incapable of becoming a mother? Barrenness proceeds from some derangement of the distinctly feminine organs. Many of the common ailments known as "female troubles" cause it. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription overcomes barrenness by stamping out diseases of women, and by healing and curing ulceration. It tones up the system, stops drains, and restores strength. During gestation it modifies morning sickness, gives elasticity to the overstrained parts concerned, makes the hour of baby's coming short and almost painless, and gives wonderful recuperative power to the patient. By making the mother strong and cheerful, it makes the little one healthy, vigorous and good natured. Insist upon the medicine dealer giving you Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when you ask for it. Substitutes are often dangerous.

Mrs. James W. Hacker, of 69 Catherine St., Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "Your medicines have done wonders for me. For years my health was very poor; I had four miscarriages, but since taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription' I have much better health, and now I have a fine healthy baby."

For 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, you can get a free copy of that celebrated doctor book, the Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, illustrated. Cloth-bound, 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

GRADUATE OF THE LOCAL COLLEGIATE

Dr. R. R. B. Fitzgerald Does Credit to His Training Here.

Took High Honours in Recent Trinity Medical Examinations.

The fact that the former students of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute do not go back upon their old school, or the unflagging zeal thers engendered or discredit the sound foundation laid there, is once more exemplified in the very successful college career of Dr. R. R. B. Fitzgerald, who has just graduated as silver medalist, and with a certificate of honour from Trinity University thereby adding one more to the long list of Peterborough's college lights.

The high standing which he has taken upon this his final examination, is but another of the successes which crowned his efforts throughout his whole course. In his first year he carried off a certificate of honour, in his second year he headed the class, with honours, winning a $40 scholarship and the first silver medal, while in this, his final examination, he takes second place in a large class of hard working students.

The many friends of Dr. Fitzgerald, who is well known in Peterborough and vicinity, will join in extending to him their hearty congratulation and sincere appreciation of the way he has so splendidly reflected credit upon his native community and schools, and also join in wishing him, what is practically assured, a successful and brilliant career in his chosen profession.

INTEREST IN BIBLE CLUB ON INCREASE

Y. M. C. A. Club Elected at Saturday Night's Meeting.

There was a good attendance at the Summer Bible Club, at the Y.M. C. A. on Saturday night, when the studies on the travels of Paul were continued. The Club Committee was elected as follows: Messrs. G. Robertson, chairman; C. Coleman, A. Haddon, N. P. Crafts, and Walter Anderson, secretary.

Interest in the club deepens from week to week. With so strong a committee the membership should be increased. It is especially for active men in the association, although any young man is welcome whether he is a member or not.

Indigestion and Headache.

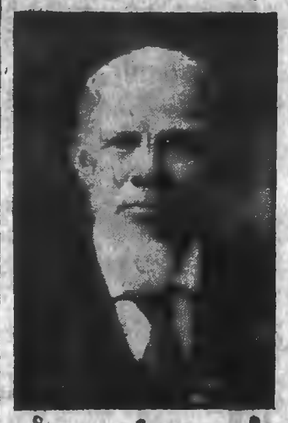
Mr. Duncan McPherson, Content, Alberta, writes: "I was for many years troubled with indigestion and headache and derived no relief from the many remedies I used. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after taking four boxes the result is that I am once more in the full enjoyment of the blessings of good health."

HONOURS FOR MR. W. TAYLOR

Given a Silver Medal for Services Rendered.

Supreme Lodge S.O.E. Shows Appreciation of His Services—A Visit From Supreme Vice-President Boxall.

The local lodge of the Sons of England were honoured on Monday night with a visit from Mr. Jas. Boxall, of Lindsay, Supreme Vice-President of the Order in Canada, and a number of the brethren from Lindsay, the occasion being the presentation to Mr. W. Taylor, of a medal by the Supreme Lodge, for length of service. Mr. Taylor has filled one office, that of first committeeman, for a term of nineteen and a half years, and the Supreme Lodge, wishing to recognize the faithful and valued services of Mr. Taylor for the benefit of the Order, presented him with a handsome solid silver medal,



MR. W. TAYLOR,
Who Was Presented With a Silver Medal by the S. O. E. Supreme Lodge on Monday Night.

in the form of a Maltese cross, with the motto of the Order, "Mark, Honour, Fidelity, Purity," inscribed on the four squares of the cross. On the reverse side are the words, "Presented to Bro. W. Taylor, Lodge Lansdowne, No. 23, S.O.E., for services rendered. 1905."

The medal is a very beautiful piece of jewellery, and is valuable not only for the distinction of having earned it, but also for its intrinsic worth.

The presentation was made on behalf of the Supreme Lodge by Bro. Jas. Boxall, of Lindsay, Supreme Vice-President, who took occasion to refer to the services which Mr. Taylor had rendered in the interests of the Order, and spoke of his devotion to the objects for which the Order stood. His interest in and the help which had been given by him to his brethren in times of need were too well known to require reference. The medal, which Mr. Taylor has been made the recipient of is very rare, and, consequently all the more valuable. There are only three or four of them in Canada, and for this reason Mr. Taylor prizes it very highly.

After the regular session of the lodge, the members adjourned to McCallum's, where a delightful banquet was enjoyed, Mr. F. C. Kitney acting as chairman and toastmaster.

After supper the toast to the King was proposed, and honoured in the usual patriotic manner, Mr. A. Kingscote also speaking to the toast briefly.

"Canada, our Home," was the next toast, and was spoken to by Mr. F. Gunn, who gave a glowing account of the material wealth and advantages of the premier colony of the Empire.

Mr. D. O. S. Davis, of Lindsay, spoke in response to the toast to sister lodges, and in honouring that to the Supreme Lodge, Mr. George Boxall of Lindsay, Supreme Vice-President, gave an inspiring address. He spoke of the great progress that the order was making this year, the increase in members having been much greater for the first six months of 1905, than it was for any previous year. He expressed his pleasure at being present, and especially on the occasion of the honouring of a worthy member, such as Brother Taylor was.

Mr. R. Waram responded to the toast to "The Army and Navy."

One of the most interesting addresses of the evening was that given by Mr. W. Taylor, in responding to the toast to the "Mother Land, and England."

Mr. J. Browne was [illegible] in response to the toast honouring the "Ladies," and that to the host was spoken to by Mr. W. J. McCallum.

During the evening a number of songs were given by Messrs. R. H. Shepherd, F. C. Kitney, A. Kingscote, W. W. Gray, W. Price and Fred O'Neil.

The delightful affair was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

WOULD KICK AND SCREAM

Baby's Awful Suffering from Eczema —Could Not Hold Her—Tore Face and Arms Almost to Pieces —Grateful Mother Says:

"CUTICURA REMEDIES SAVED HER LIFE"

"When my baby was six months old, she had eczema. We used all kinds of remedies, but nothing did her any good; in fact, she kept getting worse. I used to wrap her hands up, and when I would dress her, I had to put her on the table, for I could not hold her. She would kick and scream, and tear her face and arms almost to pieces. I used four boxes of Cuticura Ointment, two cakes of Cuticura Soap, and gave her the Cuticura Resolvent, and she was cured, and I see no traces of the humour left. I can truthfully say that they have saved her life, and I should advise any one suffering as she did, to give Cuticura a fair trial.—Mrs. G. A. Conrad, Lisbon, N. H."

FIVE YEARS LATER

Mrs. Conrad Writes:

"It is with pleasure that I can inform you that the cure has been permanent. It is now six years since she was cured, and there has been no return of the disease since. I have advised a lot of friends to use Cuticura in all diseases of the skin."

SLEEP FOR BABY

Instant relief and refreshing sleep for skin-tortured babies, and rest for tired, fretted mothers, in warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure. This is the purest, sweetest, most speedy, permanent, and economical treatment for torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, scaly, crusted, and pimply skin and scalp humors, from infancy to age.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co., Sydney. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Sole Props. Send for "Cuticura Skin Book." Mailed Free.

TIME FOR PEACE NOT YET COME

Russia Will Not Conclude Peace Agreement With Japan, But Asked Latter's Terms Through Her Ambassadors to Paris and Washington—Interviews in Diplomatic Circles Which Show Some Interest in Peace Direction—Roosevelt Will Be the Friendly Ghannel of Communication.

Vienna, June 8.—It is learned here last night that the Russian Government has informed its diplomatic representatives abroad, including Count Cassini, the Ambassador at Washington, that the time for Russia to conclude peace had not yet come, and that when it does arrive Russia will open peace negotiations with Japan independent of foreign intervention.

The Friendly Channel.

Washington, D. C., June 8.—Preliminary peace negotiations between Russia and Japan are generally believed to be under way and it is conceded that President Roosevelt in all probability will act not as a mediator, but as "The friendly channel of communication." There is as yet no official admission that Russia has accepted what Count Cassini in his cablegram to Count Lamsdorff last week described as the offer of good will of the President.

Immediately upon his return to his legation last night, after a long conference with President Roosevelt, Mr. Takahira, the Japanese Minister began the preparation of a despatch to his Government on which he was occupied until quite late. "The situation is too delicate in this moment for me to say anything," the Minister remarked.

ASKS JAP PEACE TERMS.

Russia to Her Ambassadors at Paris and Washington.

St. Petersburg, June 8.—As a result of the meeting of the Council of Ministers held at Tsarkoe Selo Tuesday instructions were telegraphed yesterday afternoon to the Russian Ambassadors at Washington and Paris to the effect that Russia is desirous of learning Japan's peace conditions.

The efforts that President Roosevelt has been making to bring the belligerents together entered on a distinctly new phase Tuesday night. Foreign Minister Lamsdorff had an audience of the Emperor in the afternoon upon the subject of Ambassador Cassini's communication and at 11 o'clock Tuesday night U. S. Ambassador Meyer called upon Count Lamsdorff at the Chancellery and remained with the Foreign Minister for some time. Whether this visit was upon the invitation of Count Lamsdorff or at the request of the Ambassador cannot definitely be stated, but there is reason to believe that the visit was in obedience to instructions from Washington conveying a personal communication from the President to the Emperor tendering his good offices.

The result was that yesterday Mr. Meyer went to Tsarskoe Selo in full uniform and was received in special audience by the Emperor. Upon his return to St. Petersburg in the afternoon Mr. Meyer hastened to the embassy, whence he sent a long cipher despatch to Washington. Half an hour later he was closeted with Sir Charles Hardinge, the British Ambassador.

Delcasse Was a Friend.

The present situation is extremely delicate and the greatest reticence is observed. The Foreign Office is deserted, this being the Empress' birthday, and at the American embassy no statement could be procured yesterday afternoon. Nevertheless, there are some collateral indications that the Emperor's response was favorable. The sudden retirement of the Foreign Minister, M. Delcasse, who was regarded as not only one of the strongest supporters of the dual alliance, but as one of the staunchest friends of Russia, was a great blow to Russia and rendered President Roosevelt's friendly tender particularly oppertune.

Diplomatic Interviews.

London, June 8.—Ambassador Reid visited Foreign Secretary Lansdowne at the Foreign Office yesterday afternoon. Paul Cambon, the French Ambassador, was also present. The nature of the interview was not announced.

Washington, June 8.—Major Desplances, Ambassador of Italy to the United States, had a conference with President Roosevelt yesterday afternoon by appointment.

RIDDLED BY SHELLS.

40 Gaping Holes in the Hull of the Battleship Orel.

Tokio, June 8.—A correspondent of the Associated Press has been permitted to inspect the Russian battleship Orel, now lying at Mafuru. The Orel received a terrible battering. Her hull shows 40 gaping holes, pierced by large shells, and many smaller, where she had been hit, while the superstructure, her upper works and upper decks were riddled by shells, steel fragments and splinters. The starboard forward 12-inch gun was smashed 10 feet from the muzzle, either by shell or by explosion. A fragment of the gun went over the bridge, smashing the rail, and after carrying away the breech of a 12-pounder, buried itself in the signal locker.

From the main deck upward the condition of the vessel was terrible to behold. Steel partitions were smashed, the gangway was broken and stanchions wrecked. Gear of various kinds covered the decks and the state of the alleyways shows that the ship was afire several times. The mark of the flames increased the scene of desolation. The main armor belt is intact. The turret armor generally withstood the battering from shells, although two of the six-inch turrets were rendered unserviceable by shots which struck close to their base. Several smaller guns were dismounted and smashed. A gruesome sight was a bulkhead bespattered with blood, fragments of flesh and hair.

The Orel is sound structurally, although it will be necessary to practically reconstruct her from the water line up.

PARTITION HAS COME AT LAST

Norway, Through Storthing, Breaks Away From Sweden---Stockholm Cheers Oscar in Answer to His Dethronement By the Resolution Passed by Norway's Representatives--King Disapproves the Method and Action of the Government Which, However, is Friendly to Him.

Christiania, Norway, June 8.—King Oscar's refusal to sanction the bill passed by the Storthing, providing for a separate consular service for Norway, culminated yesterday in the passage of a resolution by the Storthing, declaring the dissolution of the union of Sweden and Norway, and that the King had ceased to act as King of Norway.

It is not anticipated that King Oscar will consent to any Prince of the house of Bernadotte accepting the Norwegian crown. Should the King refuse, there is a possibility that the throne may be offered to Prince Waldemar, third son of King Christian of Denmark. The people of Denmark largely sympathize with the Norwegian demands. The eldest son of the Swedish Crown Prince, Prince Gustavus Adolphus (born in 1882), is betrothed to the eldest daughter of the Duke of Connaught, Princess Margaret Victoria (born in 1882). They are to be married in England, June 17.

King Oscar sent a telegram to Premier Michelsen, as follows; "Have received the communication of the council of state, and record the most decided protest against the method and action of the Government."

The Cause of it All.

Although the action was anticipated, it caused considerable excitement in this city on account of the anxiety as to what action the King would take. The crisis became acute May 26, when his Majesty, after three months' rest, during which the regency was confided to Crown Prince Gustavus, resumed the reins of office. The council of state immediately submitted to him the consular bill, which he, on May 26, refused to sanction, arguing that any action must receive the sanction of the mixed council. The Norwegian council of state thereupon resigned, and the King refused to accept their resignations, as, in view of the state of public opinion it was impossible to form a new Government. Demonstrations were held throughout the country, endorsing the action of the council of state.

The consular bill, while apparently of little importance, was designed to open the whole question of foreign affairs which Norway desires to manage independently of Sweden. One of the causes for the desire in Sweden and Norway for separate consular systems was the fact that Sweden is protectionist and Norway is for free trade, and also because of Norway's more extensive sea trade, and other divergencies of commercial interests.

The Change Effected.

At the opening of the session yesterday the Government informed the Storthing (the Norwegian Legislative Assembly) that it relinquished office, and a resolution was at once passed, five Socialist members alone dissenting, authorizing the council of state to exercise "the power appertaining to the King in accordance with Norway's constitution and existing laws, with those changes which are necessitated by the fact that the union with Sweden, under one King, is dissolved, in consequence of the King having ceased to act as a Norwegian King.

"The course of developments, which have proved more powerful than the desire and will of individuals, has led to this result. The union entered upon in 1814 has from the first been differently interpreted by the two nations, both with regard to its spirit and letter. Efforts have been made on the Swedish side to extend the union, and on the Norwegian side to confine it to the limit laid down by the act of union, and otherwise to assert the independent power of both states in all that act as coming under the union.

Justified Just So Long.

"The difference in principle in the interpretation of the character of the union has provoked much misunderstanding between the two peoples, and has caused much friction in the interpretation which, during recent negotiations between the two countries, has been laid down by Sweden as against Norway. The Norwegian people were bound to perceive the injury to their constitutional rights, their independence and their national honor. The union was justified so long as it could contribute to the welfare and happiness of both peoples, while maintaining their independence as sovereign states.

"Out above the union there stands for us Norwegians our Norwegian fatherland and for the Swedes their Swedish fatherland. The union has become a danger to this feeling of solidarity of the Norwegian and Swedish peoples, which should secure the happiness of both nations and constitute their strength abroad. If the union is now severed, the Norwegian people have no loftier wish than to live in good harmony with all, and not least with the people of Sweden and the dynasty under the direction of which our country, despite many and bitter disputes affecting the union, has attained such important, intellectual and material development.

No Ill-Will.

"As evidence of the fact that the work and struggle of the Norwegian people for the full independence of the fatherland has not been founded on any ill-feeling towards the royal house or the Swedish people and has not left behind any bitterness to either of these, the Storthing respectfully solicits your Majesty's co-operation to the end that a Prince of your Majesty's house may be permitted, while relinquishing his right of succession to the throne of Sweden, to accept election as King of Norway. The day on which the Norwegian people elect their own King to ascend the ancient throne of Norway will open up an era of more tranquil conditions in Norway, of good and cordial relations with the Swedish people and of peace, concord and loyal co-operation in the north for the protection of the culture of the people and their freedom and independence."

No Disorder.

The utmost order prevailed throughout the day. Crowds assembled all day in front of the Storthing buildings and vociferously cheered the members of the Government as they left. When M. Berner appeared a military band struck up the national anthem, and the people uncovered formed in a double row and saluted him respectfully as he passed down Johnsaa street.

The newspapers of Stockholm, commenting on the action of the Storthing, declare that a revolution has been accomplished, but that the union is not dissolved, as Sweden's sanction is necessary in order to complete the disruption.

Demonstrate Loyal to King Oscar.

Stockholm, June 8.—The Norwegian coup d'etat was answered here last night by a great patriotic demonstration of loyalty to and sympathy with King Oscar. A great procession accompanied by bands, went to Rosendal Castle where the band played the national anthem. In a few minutes the King and other members of the royal family appeared on a balcony of the Castle and were enthusiastically cheered by the demonstrators, while a number of ladies advanced from the crowd and presented the King with a bouquet.

Though greatly excited over the situation, the populace remains outwardly calm.

King Oscar held a council last evening at which the situation was considered.

Newspapers of Copenhagen, commenting on the action of the Norwegian Storthing, take an extremely serious view of the crisis.

FORMER MILLBROOK MAN IS MODERATOR

Rev Dr. William Armstrong, of Ottawa, But Who Was Born in Millbrook. Was Elected Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada at Meeting of General Assembly—Held in Grant Hall, Kingston — Opening Exercises—Sermon Preached by Retiring Moderator.

Kingston, June 7.—The thirty-first General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada convened in Grant Memorial Hall of Queen's University this evening. Fourteen years ago the Assembly met in St. Andrew's Church in this city, and it was during the sitting of the court in 1891 that the passing of Sir John Macdonald was recorded in Canadian history. This year's Assembly meets in the hall erected to the memory of the man whose name it bears and for the service of the university since brought into closer relations to the church. It is, therefore, fitting that this gathering shall be known and remembered as Queen's Assembly. The four hundred commissioners now in attendance have only words of praise not only for the building in which the General Assembly meets, but also for the admirable accommodation provided for the officers and committees in the arts building with which Grant Hall is connected. It has been already suggested that the General Assembly should annually take place in this place.

The Opening Service.

Rev. G. M. Milligan, D. D., LL.D., the Moderator, called the General Assembly to order in its first session at 8 o'clock, and announced Psalm 102. For the Scripture lesson he read Psalm 19, following which the congregation, led by a united choir, sang the Te Deum, and the Moderator led in prayer. The Assembly sermon, preached by the retiring Moderator, was a strong deliverance on the dynamic, impregnable and eternal character of the Word of God. Following the sermon was the Moderator's invocation by which the General Assembly was constituted and formally opened.

Dr. Armstrong, Moderator.

Professor Bryce, Winnipeg, nominated Rev. William Armstrong, D. D., Ottawa, to be Moderator of the General Assembly. Mr. George Hay, Ottawa, seconded the motion, and there being no other nominations Dr. Armstrong was unanimously elected.

Dr. Milligan, before retiring, said he wished to say in his last breath as Moderator that as a son of Queen's he welcomed the Assembly to Grant Hall. During his year of office, he had travelled 9,000 miles.

Dr. Armstrong, in accepting office, said it was with him a principle never to seek or to shirk responsibility. While there were no burning questions before the Assembly this year, there were the important departments of missions and education. In connection with the latter, Queen's College would receive special consideration.

The Moderator of the thirty-first General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, which opened last night in the Grant Memorial Hall, Kingston, is the Rev. William D. Armstrong, M. A., Ph. D., minister of St. Paul's Church, Ottawa. He was born at Millbrook, Ont., 60 years ago. He is a graduate of Upper Canada College and of the University of Toronto, in his university career he greatly distinguished himself, especially as a student of metaphysics and ethics, in which department he won the silver medal on his graduation in 1870. He achieved equal distinction as a student of theology at Knox College. Throughout his entire academic course he won, year after year, important and valuable scholarships and prizes. His ministerial career has been confined to Ottawa, where he has been pastor of St. Paul's Church for for thirty-one years. Dr. Armstrong is not only the senior minister in the Capital, but is also one of its most trusted public men. He has been active in all movements making for the educational and moral betterment of the city. For many years he has been Managing Director of the Ottawa Ladies' College, and has interested himself in benevolent and religious enterprises, both denominational and general. As the presiding officer of the General Assembly he will maintain the dignity of the Moderator's chair, to which he was elected with the utmost unanimity and cordiality.

BERTRAM WORKS HAVE BEEN SOLD

Concern of Which Late John Bertram Was Head Changes Hands.

Mr. Nicholls' Company Purchases the Bertram Company Shipyards.

The Canadian Shipbuilding Company (Limited), of which Mr. Frederic Nicholls is president, has completed the purchase of the Bertram Company's yards and plant, on the Bay front at Bathurst street, and will take possession immediately, says the Toronto News.

Several hundred men are employed at these yards and the industry is regarded as one of the most thriving shipbuilding industries in Canada. Mr. Nichols stated this morning that Mr. A. Angstrom, who was formerly connected with the works, and latterly superintendent of the Canadian Shipbuilding Company's yards at Bridgeburg, near the Niagara River, would be general managing director of the companies interested in the merger.

It is the intention to retain the plant at Bridgeburg for the construction of vessels larger than canal size, for service on the Upper Lakes. A specialty has been made at the Bertram Works of building vessels of the canal draught class, such as the Kingston and Toronto, of the Richelieu & Ontario line. The Toronto works have special facilities for the construction of this class of vessels and the plant will still be used for the construction of fast light-draught steamers. At the present time there is in course of construction a new steamer for the Niagara Navigation Company, to have a speed of 22 1-2 miles an hour.

Pain Across the Kidneys For Three Years.

Suffered Great Agony. Could Not Stoop or Bend.

No disease is so quiet and stealthy in its approach as kidney disease. That is why it is so dangerous. It may become deep-seated before you realise the danger.

It is therefore of great importance to recognise the early warning symptoms, because in its early stage kidney disease is easily curable. Pain or dull ache in the back is one of the first signs. So are bladder pains, bearing-down pains, smarting sensation when urinating, frequent or suppressed urination, and gravel or sediment in the urine, etc. You cannot be well if your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. In all ordinary cases of any derangement of the kidneys, a few doses of will put the patient right; in old or chronic cases, the treatment should be persisted in.

Mr. Michael A. McInnis, Woodbine, Marion Bridge, N.S., tells of his experience: "For the last three years I suffered great agony with pain across my kidneys, and was so bad that I could not stoop or bend. I consulted and had several doctors treat me, but I got none the better. On the advice of a friend I procured a box of that valuable life-giving remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, and to my surprise and benefit I immediately became better. In my opinion Doan's Kidney Pills have no equal as a cure for any form of Kidney disease.

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. All dealers, or direct by mail.

CLOSING MEETING AT ST. ANDREW'S

Excellent Address by Mr. H. R. H. Kenner.

The Young Men's Guild of St. Andrew's Church met in their spacious hall Tuesday night and the general public was invited.

A fair audience was present and enjoyed the more than usually interesting programme. The chair was occupied by Mr. Chas. Anderson.

Mr. Gilbert Scott sang "The Standard on the Brae's O 'Mar,'" and was enthusiastically applauded. Mr. Scott is always a favourite wherever he appears.

Mr. Kenner then held the unwavering attention of the whole audience for about an hour and a half with his essay on "The City of the Seven Hills."

This able essay was most highly appreciated.

Mr. Kenner was assisted by Mr. Fife who manipulated the lantern showing many interesting pictures of the City of Rome.

A vote of thanks was tendered to Mr Kenner and all who took part in the entertainment, on motion by Mr. T. C. Elliott, seconded by Mr. Campbell.

WEATHER FORECAST FOR JUNE

Irl Hicks, Editor Words and Works, Gives an Idea of Weather We May Expect During the Leafy Month.

Prof. Irl. Hicks in his paper, "Words and Works" gives the following forecast of the weather for June:—

The 3rd, 4th and 5th are central reactionary storm dates, with conjunction of Moon with Sun and Earth on the 3rd. By the 3rd storm conditions will be well organized in western sections, the barometer will fall to storm readings, the temperature will be high and rising, with cloudiness increasing to precipitation. From the 3rd to 5th, inclusive, these conditions will pass progressively over the country from west to east, causing rains and thunderstorms generally in their passage. The Mercury perturbation is central on the 3rd, extending over this reactionary period following. This Mercury disturbance will tend to prolong cloudy, threatening conditions between the two periods. It will also be seen by the storm diagram that the Mars period begins about the time of new Moon, on the 3rd, which additional influence will help to obliterate the interim of fair weather between these periods.

The storm period extending from the 7th to the 13th, promises to bring some of the most general and severe disturbances of the month. At this time the Moon will pass first quarter on the celestial equator, while Mercury, Earth at the summer solstice crisis, and the Mars equinox, will all add their disturbing power to the regular Vulcan period. Ordinarily this would be a period of marked and dangerous disturbances, but the entrance of the Mars influence makes the results problematical.

All those who have been students of our forecasts for many years will remember that the incoming of the Mars influence "sets the pace", so to speak, to the general character of storm and weather that will prevail during the dominance of this period.

Observation for many years has proven to us that the Mars influence for reasons which we cannot explain, sometimes reverses or greatly modifies results that would otherwise naturally transpire. But this one thing may be set down as a fact, that the general character of meteorological phenomena prevailing when we have entered fully into a Mars period, will indicate in a marked degree the general tone of storm and weather to be expected until the Mars influence is passing off. We may not have entered far enough into the Mars period from the 8th to the 13th of June to fix the conditions to be expected; but we predict that the weather and storm conditions during the last half of June will safely indicate what may generally be expected quite through the month of July.

From about the 10th to the 15th of June is an annual period of maximum electrical and magnetic excitement, Earth currents, seismic and volcanic disturbances, great thunder storms and downpours of rain, as a rule reach a crisis about this time. Such results should not surprise any of our readers from about the 9th till the 13th of the present month. Great warmth, attended by high humidity and very low barometer, will be warnings of probable danger that none can afford to despise or neglect. The blending of the Mars influence with the June solstice period indicates that thunder showers may transpire during the afternoons and evenings, up to and through the reactionary storm period covering the 14th to the 17th.

This is a time when haymakers will be under constraint in harvesting their crops. Grasses and grains that will stand without material loss until the June solstice showers subside, will be safer uncut, unless small quantities are reaped at a time and handled with great promptness and care. The barometer properly understood and followed, will play no small part in the important work of harvesting during this month.

The Vulcan storm period extending from the 20th to the 24th, is central on the 21st, the central day of the summer solstice period. This period will be very high temperature, low barometer and threatening storms. We have often called attention to the facts that storms come up from unusual quarters of the heavens, and move in odd and erratic directions and manners, at the crisis or turning period of the June solstice. Thunder clouds and squalls at this time have a surprising way of doubling back and skipping up from easterly directions, striking the unwary on the "blind side" and coming in at the back door generally. We have several times explained these peculiar phenomena, showing that they grow out of the fact that the Earth is at her turning point, the Sun is at his highest declination north, and all the forces of Earth and air are about to break into a new order and move along new lines. We are planning to discuss all questions more fully than ever when we get into our enlarged Magazine.

The Moon being on the celestial equator on the 24th and 25th, in every possibility thunderstorms, June showers and great electrical unrest will continue into the reactionary storm period, central on 26th, 27th and 28th. It will be very natural, but not as rule dangerous, for electric clouds to flash and blaze all through the nights at this part of the June solstice.

It is proper that we repeat what we have often said, that there is the greatest danger in taking shelter under green trees during these June thunderstorms. We repeat, also, the warning of danger to live stock from lightning in crowded barns and sheds, and from exposure to wire fences. Every season we hear of much stock being killed by lightning, in consequence of flocks and herds huddling under trees and against wire fences in thunderstorms. These suggestions may seem unimportant to some, but correct observation of loss and death by lightning, especially in the month of June, would put a different meaning into the proposition.

If the rains and storms occur at the beginning of the Mars period, say from the 10th to the 15th, the same may be expected to continue at the reactionary period, 26th to 28th, and at the storm periods through much of July. If dry weather and high temperatures lead into the opening of the Mars period in any wide section, July will bring a fearful degree of warmth and drouth to that section. At the same time another extreme may begin and continue through the same period. Remember that the Mars influence fixes conditions prevailing on continents and wide extremes at the beginning of his period. We have said, and we still believe that a marked shortage of rainfall will be felt over much of the great central, western, north-western and south-western grain belts, before the crops of the present season are matured.

Dead Ashes Cost Money to Heat.

Most hot water heaters have a Center draft only—also most center draft hot water heaters have a wall of dead ashes next to the water jacket, because thorough combustion with center draft only is not possible—coal burns principally in the center.

The Ashes must be heated before the water can be heated.

Ashes are hard to heat—they are expensive to heat, they absorb the heat which should go into your coils.

The "Bison" hot water heater has side drafts, draws the heat and fire to the sides, up the sides, —against the water jacket. It heats the water quickly, economically.

IN OPPOSITION TO TRENT CANAL

A Projected Georgian Bay Ship Canal.

Weak Point in the Scheme—Engineer Tells of his Plans.

The proposed Georgian Bay Canal, which is projected in opposition to the Trent Canal, and the scheme for which has already been rejected by Parliament, was the main topic of discussion at the meeting of the York County Council yesterday. Mr. H. Curtis Spaulding, engineer of the Canadian Canals Corporation, laid the project before the members in a clear and concise manner, but no opinion was expressed as to whether they would go back upon their former opposition, the entire matter being left over for further consideration.

Mr. H. Curtis Spaulding said that when he came to Toronto four years ago this summer to study the question of the canal, it was his good fortune to meet Mr. Tully, who had made a thorough investigation as to the possibilities of a canal across the Isthmus. They had both fixed upon a route across York County, which would come up the valley of Holland River and then strike across the Township of King to the Humber Valley and Humber Bay. The present scheme was to build a ship canal from a point on Georgian Bay, near Victoria Harbour, across to Lake Simcoe. The rise of 151 feet from Georgian Bay and the drop of some 600 feet to Lake Ontario, would, Mr. Spalding said, be overcome, not by an expensive system of locks, but by portages.

Steel Construction.

"I became convinced that modern steel construction afforded a solution of the problem by departing altogether from the old theory of holding the ship all the way in the water, and providing a system involving a waterway for 95 per cent. of the distance and a steel railway for the remainder. He said he pursued further investigations and found that the tremendous Scarboro heights afforded unexampled facilities for such work, whilst at the west there were facilities worthy of consideration. Mr. Spalding proceeded to point to places on a map he had prepared to illustrate his arguments, and after referring to the great saving of cost on his plans, compared with other schemes — the cost being reduced from $60,000,000 to $35,000,000 — and that led him to consider carefully what could be done towards accomplishing a work which seemed necessary for the development of Canada, and trade with the northern part of America.

"When I had finished my studies, I found that it was possible to complete the work from Georgian Bay to Lake Simcoe and to Lake Ontario within a reasonable limit of cost, and when that was done facilities would be offered to enable us to tackle the more difficult proposition of getting direct to Georgian Bay from Humber Bay.

Eastern Facilities.

"I decided that it would not be possible to undertake the important work of the western route without the advantages and facilities which could be secured on the eastern route," said Mr. Spalding, and he added that the business at the present time passing across to the State of New York might be estimated at $150,000,000 annually. He was sure all were hoping and expecting to see a great Canadian Northwest, and a big population develop with a big trade. What were the facilities going to be for handling the trade, and to move it from the seaboard to the inland? It was, he argued, beyond the economic limitations of the railways to do it.

On the other hand, remarked Mr. Spalding, the railway companies would derive hundreds of thousands of dollars from people who were necessary to take care of the canal, whilst thousands of people would be attracted there as a result and spend large sums of money. Furthermore, the construction of the works would necessitate a large number of men being employed within the County of York. It seemed a question to him as to whether the country had yet seriously considered the many advantages to be derived from the canal, and could the country afford to lose the $15,000,000 which would almost have to be expended within its borders? He maintained that Lake Ontario was to-day almost a dead letter so far as commerce was concerned.

New Manufactures.

Other advantages Mr. Spalding said the country would derive from his scheme would be that new manufactures would be established, coal would be cheaper, and even the hotelkeepers would be benefitted. The new route would save 53½ miles on the round trip over the Welland Canal route, and he suggested that the Government should be urged to aid the project as an alternative to constructing a bargeway from Lake Simcoe to Georgian Bay as a continuation of the Trent Valley system.

The Most Feasible.

Mr. R. C. Steel also voiced the sentiments of the promoters of the scheme, and said that whilst Ontario may be an agricultural country, upon which so largely depended the prosperity of the people, facilities were required for getting the products to the best markets. Railways could certainly never compete with water cradle, and a short cut from Lake Ontario to Georgian Bay would be an ideal one. He failed to see the utility of the Trent Valley Canal, whilst the project now set forth was of vast importance to the entire Province, and with the completion of the canal he firmly believed that the question of the supremacy of Canada over the United States would be settled for all time. Mr. Steel pointed out the advantages of the canal to the county of York, which he described as the banner county, and predicted that Ontario would become manufacturers for the great Northwest. He believed that every industry would be promoted and strengthened by the new canal, and that more industries would spring up. The value of land on every side would also be materially augumented.

Canada's Supremacy.

Mr. P. Howland contended that this, of all canal schemes, was the one most likely to be advantageous to this part of the country, and was the most feasible. The large proportion of the traffic which now obtained between, not only our own Northwest, but the Northwest of the United States now found the way through the State of New York or other routes. He was convinced that the new inland route suggested would be proved by experts to be the cheapest.

Councillor Evans remarked that when the Legislation Committee recommended opposition to this scheme before the Dominion Government, they had but little definite information before them, and acted almost entirely upon representations made from the northern part of the county.

THE EQUITABLE FUNDS SCANDAL

Officials of Assurance Company Played Fast and Loose with Funds.

Imperilled the Guarantee to Policy Holders of Payment of Claims

The publication of the report of the Frick investigating committee which has concluded its inquiry into the condition of affairs which brought Equitable Assurance Society into unenviable notoriety, will probably intensify the general indignation against the management, and will accentuate the demand that legislative action should be taken to prevent insurance organizations from employing the trust funds confided to their care in speculations on the stock exchange and in investments of a hazardous nature.

In brief the report, which is signed Ives, Cornelius N. Bliss, and E. H. Harriman, is a severe arraignment of the management of the society, and could not be more severely and in the strongest terms all the transactions of the syndicate known as James H. Hyde and his associates. The removal of President Alexander, Vice-President Hyde and Second Vice-President Tarbell, is recommended, while other directors who participated in the profits are called upon to make restitution.

The revelations are as grave and startling as could well be imagined.

A great corporation with assets of $400,000,000, and with half a million policy holders on its list has for months been a cent by discord and strained by dissensions which involved mismanagement and illegal practices on the part of its highest and most responsible officers.

As the quarrel between the President and Vice-President proceeded, the scandals grew in dimensions, and a feeling of panic seized men and women who had been paying their savings into the company year after year, in return for a guarantee of provision for their families at death.

Here in Canada where the insurance policies amounted to many millions, and the insured numbered more than a score of thousands, there was keen apprehension, although the fact of the policy-holders being widely separated, prevented the panic that was created in New York.

The crisis was urgent, and to meet it the directors chose a committee of their own number to make the investigation. The committee was looked upon by the public with suspicion, because it was thought it would cover up the flagrant practices that it was felt the management had been guilty of, but instead of this the committee has made an unflinching exposure of the grave evils regarding which the company's highest executive officers have for months been exchanging accusations.

It has shown that in violation of the principles upon which the society was organized these officers used fabulous sums belonging to the society for purposes of speculation, and distributed amongst themselves the large profits that were realized on their transactions, the profits in the specific instances cited being shared in equal proportions by Alexander and Ryde, while in some cases other directors participated in the illegal gain. Other irregularities and misappropriations of the society's funds are recorded.

The publication of the report ought to be followed by the dismissal of the executive officers who have been guilty of the flagrant abuses revealed in these dealings with the funds of the society, and general indignation making it a criminal offence for the custodians of trust funds to apply them to such purposes.

The Warsaw Methodist Orchestra have kindly consented to furnish the musical programme for the evening of the Glen Anniversary.

Messrs. W. Carveth and J. Murphy, two expert wheelmen, made a tour of the township last Sunday calling on several of their friends on the way.

The ladies of the neighbourhood were silent last week preparing for their tea-meeting, of the 14th inst., which will doubtless be a grand success.

Complaints have been made to the authorities of our village against horses driving through the streets and in the adjoining neighbourhood at late hours. It is high time that this practice was stopped, for certain residents of the 3rd line have been disturbed frequently.

One of our local farmers and market-gardeners has recently informed the mayor of our town, that some of the fur-bearing animals are playhouses with a number of his valuable hemlock trees, some of which are completely ruined. We would advise that these creatures be trapped before the forests are entirely ruined. This was tried some time ago and although it was a slow method it proved a successful one.

The mechanics who finished at Mr. F. Payne's last week, were pleased at the report of the authorized inspector, Mr. F. W. Payne, who was on hand at the completion of the work, and after due and critical examination pronounced it very satisfactory, and in consequence of this a heavy cheque was handed over to the contractor, Mr. W. J. Liddle.

BAD BOYS.

With the opening of spring, the bad boy becomes more malevolently in evidence than during the more repressive days of the winter season. It is expected that boys will be mischievous but it is expected also that their pranks will involve only harmless mischief. But when it comes to malicious mischief and disregard of the safety and integrity of property, mischief becomes malice. The average boy of the day, is as a rule, not restrained by the considerations that guided the conduct of boys only a few years ago. Our proximity to the United States, has developed a fast spirit and spirit of rush and hurry and a disregard of the finer amenities of life, which one associates with good breeding. Boys—and for that matter—girls too, of to-day, lack that spirit of reverence, courtesy and respectful bearing towards their elders which are at the bottom of good behaviour. From the condition thus represented, to overt acts of wrong doing, the step is easy. Citizens of Peterborough are continually making complaint of the hooliganism which characterizes a large part of our boy population. Reports are made of damage to property and destruction of property, not always malicious, but always in coarse and flippant disregard of the rights of others, and of everything but the following of the bent of their evil wills. No private property, however enclosed, is safe from these trespassers. Bitten with the baseball rabies, they will pursue a stray ball into gardens and without asking leave will scale fences, trample flowers, destroy gardens and devastate property, with an airy and insulting disregard of the rights of those upon whom they are trespassing; and, if remonstrated with, will answer with the utmost impudence; or, if a woman makes remonstrance, she is fortunate if she escapes vile insult or bodily assault with stone or clods. The unfortunate part is that parents are not always inclined to assist in preventing those things, many of them seeming to think that the liberty and rights of their boys are invaded if an effort is made to restrain the indulgence of their hoodlum instincts. Primarily the parents are responsible for such conditions. Parental control or even parental restraint are, as to practice obsolete phrases in these degenerate days. The step from the disregard of domestic or parental law to disregard of the law of the land is as easy as it is inevitable.

Then the law of the land is defective in not providing for the proper punishment of youthful offenders. Imprisonment for such offences is not to be thought of. Instead of acting as a restraining influence, it is counted by the bravado spirit of bad boyhood as a distinction to be coveted, according to the ideals set forth in the sensational and trashy literature with which the country is flooded in a form as cheap as it is nasty. Imprisonment makes a lad a criminal in fact as he is a criminal in his latent, if not developed, inclinations. It cuts at a blow the bond between respectability—or the semblance of it outwardly—and enrolment in the legions of vice. Police magistrate Dumble submitted a scheme to the Minister of Justice providing for the enactment of an amendment to the Criminal Code, to mete out a form of punishment suitable to juveniles who have not yet graduated as criminals. But nothing was done in this direction, and now he and other magistrates are powerless to give punishment except in the form of imprisonment (or fine), which would not have a restraining tendency, but convert mere thoughtless and mildly malicious little villains into criminals, with resultant injury and ruin to the lads themselves and to society at large. A fine may be imposed, but this punishment falls upon the parents and innocent members of the family. If authority were provided to inflict a good sound flogging, that would act as a deterrent. Even a dime novel could not extract the shabby heroism of thieves and drabs, glorified by the dime novel, from a flogging. The lack of proper punishment is a contributory cause of juvenile lawlessness. According to the boys themselves, when questioned or remonstrated with, the probability or certainty that if arrested and convicted of lawlessness, nothing will be done with them, beyond a warning, is a distinct encouragement, which they are quick to take advantage of.

Something should certainly be done to check the unruly spirit of the modern boy, not only for the safety and comfort of our homes, but for the future good of the boys themselves and of the country. Boys who are allowed to indulge their wills unchecked, will not develop as a rule, into good men. Where shall we begin the work of reform? The whipping post is not a cure, it is only a deterrent. The improvement must come from within—from the home. Parental discipline and control must be established and applied. If the evil practically begins with lack of parental control, who is responsible? Primarily the parents, of course, but secondarily, those teachers of morals, who are charged with responsibility for the morals of their flocks. Sermons may be preached against the sin of swearing, drinking, smoking, etc., but all these are mere venial offences compared with the sin of parental neglect of proper training and control of their children. Obedience to law, divine and human, is the first condition of good morals, the foundation stone of good wholesome character. The fruit of "man's first disobedience" in the wickedness in which the world lieth to-day. The law of obedience cannot be broken without yielding more or less bitter fruit; the result is inevitable. Preachers who are responsible in respect of parents as parents are responsible in respect of their children, should "think on these things."

STILL AN EXPERIMENT.

The Temperance Committee of the Hamilton Conference of the Methodist church employed a cautious and cautionworthy of a Scotch committee of ministers in dealing with license law enforcement in a way that prevents Hon. Mr. Hanna from becoming vain of the enthusiasm excited over his administration of the License Law. The report is as follows:—

"Your committee hails the action of one or a few boards of license commissioners in the province in vigorously undertaking more rigid enforcement and application of the law, and in decidedly reducing the number of licenses as an augury of improved administration of the future and also welcomes the statement of Hon. Mr. Hanna that it is not the intention of the Government to allow an increase of licenses on the whole, either in Old or New Ontario. But as the new officers have only had such a brief term of office, and as several of the appointments, both as inspectors and commissioners, have been open to deserved criticism and opposition by temperance people, we regard it as too early in the history of the administration, and on information too meagre as yet in the matter of details over the province as a whole, to give an unqualified pronouncement of commendation for improved administration. When the purpose as declared by the premier is fulfilled and the new government makes a clear record to that effect, so that the improved administration in general and undoubted, your committee will be glad to recognize and commend as may be deserved."

The Committee was wise in refraining from giving unreserved commendation of the Whitney license policy, till we have a more extended demonstration of its results. A declaration of a policy of vigourous enforcement of the licenses, conjoined with an equipment of partizan officials recommended by partizan political patronage committees must not be judged on its face value, but by the results. If Mr. Whitney succeeds in divorcing administration of the license law from political influences, by the employment of partizan officials he will deserve all the commendation that flatterers can bestow. The matter is still in the experimental stage.

ONE THOUSAND FACTS CONCERNING CANADA

Sententious Paragraphs About the Resources, Products and Agricultural and Industrial Possibilities of the Dominion of Canada.

"One Thousand Facts about Canada," is the title of a meaty booklet, issued by the Exhibition Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, in which a vast amount of information is given in single sentence paragraphs. The idea is to give outsiders an idea of the resources and desirability of Canada as a home for the settler, or a field of industrial energy for the capitalist. But, as no Canadian knows any too much about his own country, the Examiner proposes to reprint from day to day one or two of the meaty paragrphs contained in the pamphlet.

Facts About Canada's Timber and Pulp Industry.

Canada has the largest white pine areas on the continent.

Canada's forest products totalled 80 millions in 1903.

Canada exported, in 1904, 33 millions of forest products.

Canada has, it is estimated, a million square miles of standing timber.

The Dominion Forestry Branch distributed over 3 million seedlings.

British Columbia exports 120 million feet of lumber a year.

Canada has over 100 paper and pulp mills.

Canada stands tenth in this respect in the world.

Of this 10.0. 62 are pulp mills.

Their product in 1903 reached $4,219,800.

Of this, 57 per cent. was exported, chiefly to the United States.

Canada has the largest pulp-wood areas in the world.

Canada has set apart 12 million acres in forest reserves.

Canada has set apart 3,210,240 acres in two Rocky Mountain Parks of British Columbia.

Ontario has set apart nearly seven million acres as forest reserves.

Quebec has set apart 1,6.0,000 acres as forest reserves.

Ontario and Quebec derive half their revenue from their forest wealth.

Facts About Canada's Indians.

Canada has 107,978 Indians.

They decreased by 255 in 1904 over 1903.

They cultivate 15,600 acres of land.

Value of their farm produce, $1,-980,000.

Value of their fishing and hunting, $1,132,000.

Wages earned, 1904, nearly a million and a half.

Nine thousand seven hundred and eighty-five Indian children attend 298 schools.

Two hundred and twenty-one Indian youths are learning trades in industrial schools.

Canada spends $300,000 a year on her Indians.

Twenty-nine thousand of the Indians are Protestant, 34,915 Roman Catholic, 11,269 pagans—outside of the far north.

The Indians own 37,830 horned stock and 32,035 horses.

Facts About Canadian Ranching and Irrigation.

Canada has 100 million acres of grazing land in the west.

Twenty-five years ago the cattle trade of the west totalled 25 head.

800,00 animals are now being pastured in the Canadian West.

One-half of this number is cattle, and the rest sheep and horses.

The animals using pastures are double the number of three years ago.

322,000 head of cattle were sent to Great Britain in 1903, an increase of 103,000 over 1902.

Canada exported 11 millions worth of cattle and sheep in 1904.

Canada has, all told, 5 1-2 million cattle; 1 1-2 million horses.

20,000 different ranching brands are registered in the Canadian West.

Canada has 24 annual round-ups in her ranching country.

The first carload of cattle was shipped from the West in 1895.

Canada has 600 miles of irrigation canals in Alberta.

These are made up of 100 different canals and ditches.

The C.P.R. is building a 100-mile irrigation canal between Calgary an Medicine Hat.

This will cost 5 million dollars.

It will reclaim 1 1-2 million acres of land and make available another 1 1-2 million acres for ranching.

This area when reclaimed will support a population of 500,000.

One hundred miles of this new system is under construction, irrigating 350,000 acres.

In addition, one million acres are being reclaimed around Lethbridge.

JUNE OPENS WITH MANY WEDDINGS

A Bevy of Pretty Peterborough Brides—Cupid's Doings—The Leafy Month a Popular Time For Weddings.

PRETTY WEDDING LAST EVENING

At Residence of Bride's Parents—Many Guests—Pleasant Social Event

A very pretty wedding was solemnized last evening about seven o'clock at the home of Mr. G. Worboy, 601 Ruhidge street, when his eldest daughter Alice was united in marriage to Mr. J. W. Hetherington, Park street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. C. Davidson, rector of St. John's church. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a handsome dress of white crepe de chine over taffeta. The long tulle veil was becomingly arranged and fastened with a coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Annie Worboy, sister of the bride, looked very handsome in cream lustre, trimmed with real lace. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. The charming little sister of the bride acted as flower girl and carried carnations and smilax. Mr. Norman Fowler, of town, acted as groomsman. The guests numbered about forty, and after the ceremony a dainty breakfast was served.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and valuable presents in cut glass and silver, which are a very eloquent testimony of the esteem in which she is held. The groom's present to the bride was a pearl brooch with three stars, to the bridesmaid a bracelet, and a handsome pin to the best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Hetherington will reside at No. 46 Elm street.

WERE WEDDED IN NORTH MONAGHAN

Miss Lottie B. Hetherington Married to Mr. J. S. Ferguson.

Another quiet, but very pretty June wedding took place last night at the residence of Mr. S. G. Hetherington, North Monaghan, when his only daughter, Lottie B., became the bride of Mr. John Stuart Ferguson. The wedding took place in the handsome drawing room which was appropriately decorated for the occasion, and was performed by Rev. J. G. Potter, B.A., pastor of St. Andrew's church, of which the bride and groom are members. The bride was given away by her father, and was dressed in a becoming grey travelling suit, while Miss A. Frise, who attended her as bridesmaid, wore a nile green crepe de chine dress and carried pink carnations, the bride carrying a large bouquet of white carnations. The groom was supported by Mr. W. P. Hetherington, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony the bridal party and guests, who included only the immediate friends of the contracting parties, sat down to a dainty wedding supper, after which the health of the bride was proposed by Rev. J. G. Potter, who referred to the fact that he counted the young people whom he had just united in marriage, among the most useful members of his congregation, and in a few words wished them continued happiness.

The groom responded in a few appropriate words.

The young couple were made the recipients of a large number of valuable presents among which was a handsome silver cake dish, the gift of the members of the B.A.C., with which organization the groom was identified.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson will reside in Aurora, where the former has accepted a position.

A JUNE WEDDING ON GILMOUR STREET

Nuptials of Mr. Geo. N. Foster to Miss Mary Maud Chapman.

The residence of Mr. Edward Chapman, 22 Gilmour street, was, last night, between 7.30 and 8 o'clock, ablaze with lights and brightened with the festivities attendant upon the celebration of the marriage of his eldest daughter, Mary Maud, to Mr. Geo. N. Foster, son of Mr. William Foster, Second Line of Smith. The ceremony was celebrated in the drawing room of the residence, in the presence of about forty guests, by Rev. F. J. Scott, pastor of the Murray street Baptist church. The pretty, dark-eyed bride, who was charmingly attired in a gown of cream crepe de chine over cream taffeta and carrying a spray bouquet of white roses. She was attended as bridesmaid, by her sister, Bertha, attired in grey crepe de chine over blue taffeta. The groom was supported by Mr. Frederick Dummit. At the conclusion of the ceremony the bridal party and guests partook of the wedding dejeuner, after which a delightful hour or two was passed in social intercourse and admiration of the numerous beautiful presents the bride's popularity had attracted. Escorted by the guests the happy pair took the midnight Canadian Pacific express for Ottawa and the Pembrowa District, on a honey-moon tour, of about a fortnight, after which they will return to town and take residence at 22 Gilmour street.

INTERESTING SOCIAL EVENT AT WARSAW

Miss Edith Jackson Married to Mr. R. A. Tighe.

The residence of Mr. Wm. Jackson, Warsaw, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday, when his youngest daughter, Edith Minerva, was united in marriage to Mr. R. A. Tighe of Peterborough. The bride looked charming in a beautiful gown of cream voile, trimmed with lace and chiffon, and carried a bouquet of white roses, her only ornaments being a necklace of pearls. She was attended by Miss Florence Snider, who was suitably gowned, and carried pink roses. The groom was supported by his cousin, Mr. A. Tighe, of Warsaw. After the congratulations had been given, the guests numbering about forty sat down to a sumptuous wedding dinner, after which the time was most pleasantly spent in music and singing. Those from town, who attended the wedding were Mrs. R. T. Hounsell, Mr. and Mrs. George Woods, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Baker. The esteem in which the young couple are held was evidenced by the large number of beautiful and costly presents received, including a beautiful silver cake dish from the Methodist choir of which the bride was a member, and a silver sugar bowl with silver tea spoons from the congregation, and silver fruit spoon from the Sunday School class. Mr. and Mrs. Tighe will reside in town, and their large circle of friends wish them every happiness.

SPRINGVILLE HAS A JUNE WEDDING

Miss Susie Atkinson Married to Mr. S. Fairbairn.

Last night at the residence of Mr. Geo. Atkinson, North Monaghan, an interesting social event took place when his second daughter, Susie, was married to Mr. Sydney Fairbairn, of Lakefield, in the presence of about thirty guests, friends of the bride and groom.

The wedding, which was performed by Rev. Geo. Yuill, pastor of Springville Presbyterian Church, took place in the drawing-room, which was beautifully decorated. Miss Jennie Cathcart playing the wedding march as the bridal party entered the room.

The bride was very prettily gowned in pale blue lustre, trimmed with silk and lace, she carried a large bouquet of roses and carnations, and was unattended by bridesmaid, little Misses Myrtle Clark and Joyce Cunningham acting as flower girl and maid of honour, respectively. They were dressed in white silk.

After the ceremony a dainty repast was served, after which the evening was spent in a pleasant social way, the bride and groom leaving last night for their new home in Lakefield, followed by the best wishes of the many friends of the former in the vicinity of her home, where she was very popular.

They were the recipients of a handsome array of useful and valuable presents.

LARGE EXCURSION FROM PLAINVILLE

"Water Lily" Carried First Boat Excursion of the Season.

The second excursion of the season came to Peterborough to-day, when about 150 persons arrived in town by the steamer "Water Lily", which carried an excursion under the auspices of the Plainville Football Team. The boat arrived here about ten o'clock, having taken on passengers from the different points on Rice Lake, and a pleasant trip up the river was enjoyed.

The early part of the afternoon was spent in visiting the points of interest in the town, including the Lift Lock, and at three o'clock a football game between the Coldsprings and Plainville team was played at the Exhibition grounds, in which great interest was taken by all those who accompanied the excursion. The boat will leave on her return trip about six o'clock giving half a day in town to those who are here spending their holiday.

OLYMPIC CLUB'S ANNUAL OUTING

Was Held To-day Under Very Pleasiug Circumstances.

Steamer "Stony Lake" Carried a Gala Crowd of Pleasure Seekers.

The Olympic club evidently has a "pull" with the weather man, for, while yesterday and last night were dull and cloudy and at times decidedly wet, this morning broke clear and cloudless, and, as far as the weather is concerned there was nothing to put a damper on the spirits of the several hundred business men who gathered at the Wolfe street wharf at 8 o'clock to board the steamer "Stony Lake" which had this year been chartered to convey the members of the club around the lakes on their annual trip.

In previous years the excursion had been run by train to Lakefield where the boat was taken, but this year, with the opening of the canal from Lakefield to Peterborough and the Lift Lock in commission, the water trip the whole way is now a possibility.

The steamer left her wharf shortly after 8 o'clock and proceeding to the Lift Lock, the ascent over it was made in safety, and the journey continued up the canal. A complete tour of Stony Lake will be made before the party returns to-night, when a fresh crop of fish and other stories may be looked for.

Olympic members have a proverbial love of a good time, and unless all traditions are destroyed, they will have it to-day on this their tenth annual excursion to the Lakes, an event which every year grows more popular and is looked forward to with increased pleasure.

Court Peterborough, C. O. F.

AN INSPECTOR FOR BUILDING

Movement Started to Have One Appointed.

An Alderman Believes He Has a Plan by Which There Will be No Cost to the Town.

Now that the question of the plumbing inspectorship has been settled to the satisfaction of at least the majority of the members of the council, it is probable that the matter of a building inspectorship will in a short time engage the attention of the council.

One of the aldermen recently stated to the Examiner that in his estimation a building inspector was almost as important as a plumbing inspector and he believes that a scheme could be worked out, which, while it would cost the town nothing, would supply a need which is now very apparent.

At present anyone can go ahead with the construction of any building and the town has no means of knowing whether the building erected complies with the requirements of the building bylaw except those erected within the limits of the fire area.

He is strongly of the opinion that everyone wishing to erect a house or other structure should be obliged to file plans and specifications with some officer of the town, who could pass upon them, and, if they complied with the requirements, could issue a permit for its construction.

This plan would serve a double purpose, since it would give the assessors an idea of the cost of the new buildings which are being erected, and it would thus be easier for them to fix the assessment of the property equitably.

The alderman's plans is to have the matter handled through the town engineer's office, and he believed that it could be done without having it cost the town one cent extra, and there is a strong probability that he will move in this direction at an early meeting of the council.

THE WRONG DIAGNOSIS.

Prompts the Use of Worthless Remedies.

Even an experienced physician will sometimes make a mistake in diagnosis, in which event his entire treatment is wasted and may even be injurious to the patient.

The advocates of all other hair restoratives save Herpicide have wrongly diagnosed the cause of dandruff and falling hair.

They figure on functional disease whereas it is now known and generally accepted that hair loss is due to a parasitic germ which Newbro's Herpicide destroys.

There is no substitute for Herpicide—accept none.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps to the Herpicide Co., Detroit Mich. Ormond & Walsh, special agents.

FRENCH CABINET CHANGE.

Wherein M. Rouvier Will Differ From Method of Delcasse.

Paris, June 8.—Premier Rouvier, as Minister of Foreign Affairs, took up the active direction of the Foreign Office yesterday, conferring with the chiefs of departments upon various pending foreign questions.

Either former Minister of Public Institutions Poincare, or former Minister of Public Works Baudin will probably succeed M. Rouvier as Minister of Finance.

Important diplomatic changes are also thought likely to occur as a result of the Cabinet changes.

Business—Not Sentiment.

M. Rouvier's first meeting with the diplomats yesterday brought out much discussion among them concerning the effect of the change in the French Cabinet on European politics. The prevailing view is that Germany will be the gainer by the change as against Great Britain and Russia. M. Delcasse's policy made the Franco-Russian alliance more recently the central features of his action. M. Rouvier's policy towards Russia will be straightforward and practical rather than sentimental. Concerning Great Britain, M. Rouvier is credited with being her firm friend, but the indication are that the Anglo-French understanding will receive a practical interpretation as a platonic bond of friendship instead of the broad construction heretofore given that it amounted to a virtual alliance. The friends of M. Delcasse, therefore, claim that the conciliation of Germany tends to loosening the ties with Great Britain and Russia.

HENRY WEICK, JR., SHOT.

Deputy Sheriff Kills and Maims Strike Interferers.

Saginaw, Mich., June 8.—The first bloodshed in connection with the street railway strike which began in the Saginaw Valley Sunday morning occurred here yesterday afternoon.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Harris shot and instantly killed Henry Weick, Jr., a Pere Marquette machinist, and wounded Terence Kelly and Wallace A. Douglas. Both of the latter were shot through the left leg, and their injuries are not likely to be serious. Harris was immediately arrested.

The three men shot were, it is said, members of a group of men who were jeering at the non-union crew of a car on which Deputy Harris was riding as guard.

Tramps Start Bad Blaze.

Baie St. Paul, Que., June 8.—Fire Tuesday night, which started in a woodshed, destroyed the Court House and City Hall. In the Court House building were the postoffice, the registry office and also the private residence of the postmaster. It is supposed the fire was started by tramps who carelessly threw away a lighted match in the woodshed. The losses amount to about $9,000.

HALF SICK PEOPLE

Just sick enough to feel heavy-headed, lazy and restless; to have no appetite, to sleep badly and tumbling about, sometimes until 4 or 5 o'clock in the morning; from one thing to the other; restless and nervous, and to have what you can feel like lead in your stomach; not sick enough to take to bed or call a doctor, but just sick enough to feel how! what is the.

Ninety-nine times out of one hundred these symptoms are all caused by the stomach, bowels, liver and digestive organs. Just think for a moment what habitual neglect of the stomach, bowels and liver means; sickness, misery of health, nervous and wakeful nights of restful and cheerful. Now, all this can be corrected in one night. Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills will always work wonders. They will regulate the functions of the stomach and bowels, immediately unload the digestion, cure the constipation and cleanse the blood of impurities.

Anyone suffering from chronic constipation, biliousness, dull headache or liver complaint can tone up the entire system, elevate the spirits and again make life really well worth living by a single week's use of Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills. They will give you the freshness of youth, every dose will agree with you and cannot, possibly, make you worse in any way. They are Nature's laxative, entirely different from anything you have ever taken before, and always send sick headache, constipation and biliousness in one night. 25 cents in all dealers.

The Lindsay Post says:—Secretary Ferguson, of the Town Baseball League, has received a communication from the Charlotte street team of the Peterborough League, asking for a game.

• • • •

The Lindsay team gets some "knocking" from the Post of that town, in the following terms:—"Well did you ever see such poor management? The Lindsay seniors left to play an exhibition game in Peterborough this morning and did not take down enough men to make up an infield. Five men and Secretary Menzies went down, and perhaps they will pick up an outfield of street car conductors in Peterborough and play the G.T.R. news agent at 1st bag. This is the smallest crowd yet. This business of picking up the team at the last minute is no good, but the management have been told this time and again without result. The team will line up as follows: Pitcher and shortstop, "Cy" Emmerson; catcher, Workman; 1st base, Burnham; 2nd base, Mark; 3rd base, Lennon; left field, Bob. Menzies; centre field, R. Menzies; r. field, Robt. Menzies; spare pitcher, the wonderful left and right hand twirler, R. J. Menzies.

• • • •

St. John's will play a game with Charlotte street to-night at seven o'clock on Patterson street grounds, behind the C. G. E. Works. The St. John's John's team will be,—Cavanah, Sawers, Hodgson, Waram, Green, Metcalfe; Weller Fitzpatrick, Simmons.

THE YUKON AND ITS NEEDS

Set Forth in a Speech in the House By Dr. Thompson.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER'S REPLY

Sympathic in Its Utterances Concerning the Gold Country and Its Needs —Premier Favors an Elective Council—New Mining Laws and the Purchase of Gold by the Government.

Ottawa, June 8.—An extension of the principle of responsible government to the Yukon by means of an elective Council at an early date, together with important modifications in the regulations governing the territory, were foreshadowed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the House yesterday.

The subject was introduced by Dr. Thompson, representative of the Yukon, who, when the Premier moved the House into supply, in a speech of about three hours' duration, presented in an able manner the desires of the people who sent him to Parliament.

The aspirations of the enterprising pioneers of Canada's great gold field for full citizenship in the Dominion and their numerous requests for modifications in the existing conditions were received in a sympathising spirit by the Premier, who pointed out that it would have been unwise to give representative government to the Yukon at an earlier stage of its development.

Sir Wilfrid also intimated that when Canada's mint is established he favored the purchase of the gold of the Yukon by the Dominion Government and its conversion into currency. The early enactment of a mining law and compliance with the desires of the Yukon in other respects was also foreshadowed by the Premier, who frankly admitted that the Government's policy in regard to hydraulic concessions had been a failure, and intimated that the Government would probably undertake the development of water facilities for the operation of the mines. No hope was, however, held out for the abolition of the export duty, the Premier appealing to the sense of justice of the people of the Yukon, who, he was assured, were willing to bear their share of the burden of government.

Members of the House had barely seated themselves yesterday afternoon when heavy raps were heard at the door and Black Rod entered to summon the Commoners to the Senate for the visit of His Excellency. The members followed the Speaker to the Senate chamber, and the ceremony was over in a quarter of an hour. Nine bills and the supply bill were assented to.

The House went into committee of supply, and after passing some minor items in the shipping subsidy department, adjourned at 11.40.

WILL EDUCATE PRISONERS.

New York State Convicts to Be Thoroughly Taught.

Albany, N. Y., June 8.—For the purpose of putting into effect the plan of prison education, State Superintendent of Prisons Collins yeste day asked the Department of Education to assign one of its inspectors to supervise the work. Teachers have been selected from among the convicts themselves, some of whom are highly educated.

Yesterday Superintendent Collins said: "The foreigners who cannot speak English will be separated from the American prisoners. These foreigners will be taught English. The other prisoners will be taught to read, write and figure, and it will soon be said that not one convict leaves our State prisons without knowing how to read and write. The lowest sentence is one year, and in that time we can teach the most ignorant.

"I have decided to arrange for a course of lectures on law. This will be of advantage to the foreign prisoners, who violate laws without any knowledge of it. For instance, a foreigner may marry a girl under 18 years of age. This constitutes the crime of abduction here, unless the consent of the parents is obtained. In other countries it is no offence."

Outbreak of Rabies.

Winnipeg, June 8.—A wholesale outbreak of rabies is reported in Crookston, Minn., just across the bewndary.

'A CLEAN MAN.

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues and fibers in every organ of the body. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh. It doesn't make the flabby fat of corpulency, but the firm flesh of health. It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol to inebriate or create craving for injurious stimulants.

Mr. John L. Conghenour, of Glen Savage, Somerset Co., Pa., writes: "My appetite was unusually poor, and I was so weak and nervous as though I had been starved for months. My heart kept throbbing continually and I was short of breath. Finally I wrote to you for advice and you informed me that I had indigestion and a torpid liver.... I did not think your diagnosis was right, but I ordered six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' from you and began its use. After using three bottles I began to improve slowly and soon went to work, and I have been working ever since."

Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe.

CROWN PRINCESS CECILIA.

Royal Ceremony at Berlin is Brief—Half of the Guests Were Foreign Representatives.

Berlin, June 7.—Crown Prince Frederick William and the Duchess Cecilia of Meckleburg-Schwerin were married by Dr. Dryander, the court chaplain, in the chapel of the palace at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon according to the ritual of the Lutheran Church, which is the same for a prince as for a subject. About half of the four hundred persons present were princes or special Ambassadors of other countries with their aides-de-camp. The other guests were the diplomats accredited to this court, members of the Cabinet, generals and admirals.

Crown Prince Frederick William entered by a side door of the chapel and waited at the altar for the Duchess Cecilia, who, on the arm of her brother, the reigning Grand Duke of Meckleburg-Schwerin, and followed by ladies and gentlemen-in-waiting, had left her rooms in another part of the palace and passed through a long corridor hung with pictures illustrating the glory of the house of Hohenzollern, among them being battle scenes of the time of Frederick the Great and the coronation of Emperor William I. at Versailles.

Dress of the Bride.

The Duchess wore a train of silver brocade made at Moscow and the gift of the Grand Duke Michael. It was borne by two pages. The embroideries on the train, which was nearly fourteen feet in length and seven feet wide, were done in pink and silver.

The service began with the Cathedral choir singing in double quartette, "He Shall Give His Angels Charge." Dr. Dryander, taking as his subject the book of Ruth, chapter 1, verses 16 and 17, beginning: "For whether thou goest I will go," etc., spoke briefly on the beauty of love, on the large responsibilities resting on the youthful pair, their need for the support of faith and spiritual vision. The pastor then asked His Imperial Highness, if he took out of God's hands to have and to hold according to God's word and will, Her Highness Cecilia. The Crown Prince answered: "Yes." The same question was addressed to the duchess with the additional "Love and obey," to which she also answered "Yes." These were the only responses.

The rings were then exchanged, and the bride and groom knelt while Dr. Dryander read the Liturgal prayer, closing the ceremony, which had taken precisely twenty minutes.

The streets adjacent to the palace were crowded during the service, and for hours before, although nothing was to be seen except the arrival of the princes and princesses from their apartments outside the palace.

Nervous Dyspepsia.

Mr. George Eglen, Spry, Bruce Co., writes: "I was troubled with nervous dyspepsia for some years, and and after using nine boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I felt better than I had done for years. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is certainly the best medicine that I ever used, and I say it where it is due."

Missionary Dies.

Toronto, June 7.—A cablegram received at the office of the China Inland Mission announces the death of the Rev. J. Hudson Taylor, founder of the mission. Rev. Mr. Taylor entered the mission in 1856, and in 1888 took out a party of missionaries from Canada. For the past few years, owing to failing health, the Rev. Mr. Taylor had resided in Switzerland. He was 73 years of age, and was for many years connected with the Baptist Church.

Three Men Were Killed.

FARMERS' TRIP A GREAT SUCCESS

Annual Excursion to Guelph Well Patronized.

175 Tickets Sold From Peterborough Alone—Prospects for a Large Crowd.

The Farmers' Institutes of East and West Peterborough ran their annual excursion to Guelph to-day, and it promises to be the most successful of any in the history of those societies.

The weather, which yesterday was not at all promising, cleared during the night, and this morning the sun rose in a cloudless sky.

The farmers, by reason of the rain of yesterday, which prevented work on the land to-day were thus able to take a well-earned holiday and at the same time combine business with their pleasure, and when the train reached here, the nine coaches comprising the train were rapidly filling. It started at Tweed, and at each station between that point and Peterborough a number of passengers were taken on.

The train was in charge of Conductor Mitchell, of Tweed.

At Peterborough about 175 tickets were sold, and, in view of the fact that a number of persons had signified their intention of taking in the excursion from west of this town, it was expected that the train would be filled before the last station at which passengers were taken on, had been reached.

The fact that the farmers this year had splendid prospects for a good crop and that the weather was most favourable, doubtless is responsible for the very large number of persons who took the trip. Last year the day was an unfavourable one, and only about one-sixth as many tickets were sold at Peterborough as there were to-day.

No doubt no small amount of credit for the success of the event is due to Mr. Wm. Collins, the energetic secretary.

THE INSPECTION IS IN PROGRESS

Peterborough Rangers Are Being Tried for Efficiency.

Col. Young Inspected Four Companies Last Night.

The right section of the 57th Regiment comprising the first four companies was inspected last night by Col. Young, Inspecting Officer of No. 3 Military District, who was sent here by Col. Gordon Commanding Officer of the District arrived yesterday afternoon from Kingston and inspected the companies mentioned at the armouries.

Under his direction the captains of the four companies put their men through the manoeuvring and marching while daring exercises were also given. The sergeants also were placed in charge of their sections and under the orders of Col. Young, handled their sections.

No. 4 Company showed up well in last night's inspection and the inspecting Officer expressed his opinion that they were the best drilled company of those which he had inspected.

To-night the left section comprising Nos. 5, 6, 7, and 8 Companies, will be inspected by the same officers and to-morrow night Col. Gordon the Commanding Officer of the District will be here for the annual inspection of the whole regiment, which will parade at 5.30 p.m. with both bands, and march to Armour's Hill, which will be the scene of a sham battle, in which one force, in possession of the hill will be asked to defend it against an attacking force.

—Among the social festivities to be held under the auspices of some of our church organizations we would announce a Garden Party on the Rectory grounds to be given by the W.A., on Thursday, June 29, and an excursion to the upper lakes, per steamer "Stony Lake," by the Bible Class on July 1. We trust that both events will be patronized by many members and friends of St. Luke's.

RUSSIAN PAPERS CHANGING TONE

Indications Are That Peace Terms Now Might Be Accepted.

Consider Payment of Big Indemnity a Humiliation.

Special to the Examiner.

St. Petersburg, June 8.—There is a significant change in tone on the part of some of the Russian newspapers. To-day they discuss calmly the advisability of ending the war if Japan's terms are reasonable. The payment of a big indemnity they declare would be humiliating. "Even the revolutionists" the Russians says "are not traitors. They are fighting the present rotten Bureaucracy and not the mother country. They would not tolerate a disgraceful peace."

—St. Luke's Parish Church. Work for this month says:—"The annual picnic of the members of the W.A. to Chemong Park will be held June 20. 'Busses will leave the Post Office corner and Fifth Ward Hall sharp at 2 o'clock. Mrs. T. H. G. Dennis has very kindly offered her cottage for use that afternoon.

—Passengers travelling on the G.T.R. line between Lindsay and Peterborough have often asked, "What the gang of men were doing near Lily Lake?" In that vicinity a number of men are busily engaged in loading blue clay and conveying the same to the Lakefield Cement Works. A quantity of first-class clay is to be found in that vicinity and is being formed into cement blocks.—Lindsay Post.

—Mr. and Mrs. Mark Curtis will (D. V.) celebrate on June 19 their golden wedding. We express to them our hearty congratulations upon this auspicious occasion, and pray that God may bless them in body and soul for many years to come. Surely they will confess when looking back upon these many years, "that the goodness and loving kindness of the Lord" have followed them every day. — St. Luke's Parish Magazine.

—Mr. Geo. Lipsett, proprietor of the Maple Leaf Hotel has recently added a new verandah to the front of his hotel and of which he is justly proud. The floor is of concrete, the large pillars beautifully turned and ornamented and a handsome railing on the roof making it serve for first and second floors. It will be finished in white with dark trimmings, and from its prominent location improves the appearance of the whole street.

—Many people complain of the practice of fruit dealers not complying with the regulations in leaving fruit and particularly strawberries out where everbody can touch, taste and handle them as much as they desire. Ladies especially, state that it is very unpleasant buying boxes of strawberries that have been handled over and sometimes half eaten by youngsters, and say that something should be done to remedy this state of affairs.

—A man came into the police station yesterday morning and informed the officers that he was minus $52.25 through the disinterestedness of a seeming friend. He lent the said friend $1 on Tuesday evening, and soon after went into the hotel and lay down. He went to sleep and woke up without the cash. He saw the same man to whom he lent the $1 Tuesday night, throw down a $5 bill for a drink yesterday morning and at once suspected him. The chief told him to watch the man and if he was sure of what he said, they would deal with the light fingered gentleman.

—A lady came into the police station to-day, saying that her little daughter had been sent up to a local dry goods store for some goods. The girl had two five dollar bills in her hand with which to pay for the goods. Her attention was drawn away from her business and in some way she dropped one of the bills. Just about that time two women went hurriedly out of the store and naturally they were suspected. The chief told the lady he could do nothing for her unless she could prove that these ladies had taken her money and the lady departed. The chief told her he would let her know if any word was received of her money.

DECEASED LADY'S CHRISTIAN LIFE

Appreciative Reference to the Late Miss Calcutt.

St. Luke's Parish Magazine this month makes the following reference to the lamented death of Miss Adeline B. Calcutt:—

"The death of Miss Adeline B. Calcutt has removed from the congregation of St. Luke's Church a most beloved and faithful member. After having been in poor health for a considerable time our late friend was taken to Nicholls Hospital on May 20, where she died after great suffering on May 28th, at 2.30 a. m. Miss Calcutt was a woman of noble character, benevolent in the extreme and most unselfish in her devotion to others. Ever ready to help and to sympathize she was doubtless a great favourite with a host of friends, and from every quarter have come sincere expressions of grief. She had an unfeigned faith in her Saviour and she was a thorough and loyal Christian. The Rector had the privilege to hear from her own lips on her death-bed sincere expressions of loyal attachment to her Redeemer, and the full assurance of faith in the perfected atonement of Christ. She was not demonstrative in her religious attainments, but she had something better than mere professions, and that was a life in perfect conformity to the ideals of the Gospel. Her funeral from St. Luke's Church was largely attended. At the service the Rector bore testimony to the faith and noble life of he departed, whom he regarded as a true, pure and noble woman. We express our sincere sympathy with the bereaved father, sisters and brother, who have lost by her death a devoted daughter and sister."

VOICE OF ALL RUSSIA HEARD

Zemstvos Want to Pass Upon the Question of Peace or War---Czar Nicholas and Peace---Indicated to United States Ambassador Meyer That He Was Willing to Consider Peace---Received Republic's Envoy With Cordiality, and Expressed Firm Appreciation of His Friendly Words.

St. Petersburg, June 9.—The voice of the delegates of the zemstvos and the municipalities demanding in no uncertain tone the immediate convocation of a national assembly to pass upon the question of peace or war, to heal internal strife, and to unite the people for the rejuvenation of Russia will be heard in the address adopted by the all-Russian zemstvo congress at Moscow, which a deputation headed by Count Hayden and M. Shipoff is bringing to present to the Emperor.

The document bids fair to become historic.

The address arraigns the bureaucracy and reminds the Emperor that his pledge to convoke a national assembly is slow of fulfilment.

Annihilated; Powerless.

The address is a lengthy document, from which the following are extracts: "Sire,—Russia has been drawn into a disastrous war by criminal abuses and the negligence of your counsellors. "Our army is powerless and our fleet has been annihilated, but more menacing than this exterior peril is the prospect of a civil war waged by your people against all the vices of a dangerous and ignorant bureaucracy."

Czar Cordial to Mr. Meyer.

Washington, D.C., June 9.—The Czar has at last been heard from here, and the result is not unfavorable to peace. In his recent audience with Mr. Meyer, the American Ambassador, the Czar indicated a willingness to take under advisement the subject of peace, and expressed a firm appreciation of the friendly words of Mr. Meyer, speaking as the personal envoy of the president. The reception of Mr. Meyer was characterized by the greatest cordiality.

Italy Aiding.

Rome, June 9.—According to The Giornale di Italia, it is asserted in political circles that the Italian Government has added its efforts to those of the United States in offering good offices to Russia with a view to peace.

Russian Victory Seen.

Gunshu Pass, 108 miles north of Tie Pass, Manchuria, June 9.—According to reports received by Gen. Linevitch from naval officers who have arrived at Vladivostock, the losses of Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet were from 9,000 to 10,000 officers and men killed or drowned, and about 5,000 prisoners.

Gen. Batjanoff (commander of the third Manchurian army), addressing the troops on the occasion of the Empress' birthday, told them he hoped soon to be able to telegraph the news of a Russian victory to Her Majesty.

Russians Fled in Disorder.

Tokio, June 9.—Imperial army headquarters made the following announcement yesterday:—

"At 11.30 o'clock on the morning of June 7 a body of Russians, some 160 strong, advanced from the direction of Sumiaotzu, about a mile and a quarter east of Yinyipiermen, but were met and repulsed by us on an eminence lying north of that place. The enemy fled in confusion toward Nienyiling, seven miles north east of Yinyipiermen. One soldier and two saddled horses were captured. With the exception of skirmishes between scouts on both sides there is no change to report elsewhere.

How It Will Be Done.

Manila, June 9.—In the matter of the disarmament and internment of the Russian warships here, Rear-Admiral Train probably will take the breech blocks from the guns and disconnect their engines. The Russian officers and men will be paroled.

Selling the Oldhamia's Cargo.

Nagasaki, June 9.—It is reported here that the Japanese are offering the cargo of the British steamer Oldhamia, recaptured by them from the Russians, for sale.

Domville's Cablegrams.

Ottawa, June 9.—Senator Domville on May 29 sent the following cable to the Emperor of Japan: "Congratulations unparalleled; bravery, intelligence. (Signed) Senator Domville."

Under date of Tokio, May 30, he has received the following reply: "Emperor is much satisfied with your kind telegram. (Signed) Minister Imperial Household."

LINER'S ENGINES WERE STOPPED

While the Surgeon Performed Operation to Save Steward's Life

New York, June 9.—The Majestic in yesterday from Liverpool and Queenstown, reports that for two hours last Saturday her engines were stopped, and the big ship lay as quietly as the turbulent seas would permit while the surgeon labored to save the life of Arthur Campbell, a second cabin steward. Campbell had injured himself so severely during a violent attack of seasickness that an operation was necessary to save his life and the vessel was stopped to neutralize the pitching and tossing of the seas. Campbell is recovering.

Guelph Horse Show.

Guelph, June 9.—The third annual show of the Guelph Horse Show Association opened yesterday afternoon at Exhibition Park under the most auspicious circumstances. The day was all that could be desired, and from all standpoints the program was carried to a most successful issue. Nearly 3,000 people passed through the gates, amongst them being many from outside points, including Stratford, London, Toronto, Peterboro, Hamilton, Preston, Hespeler, Berlin and Galt. The events were all well contested and the quality of the exhibits was exceedingly good. Hon. Nelson Monteith, Minister of Agriculture, and Mrs. Monteith, Hon. Adam Beck, Mr. Bradburn, M. P. P. for West Peterboro, and J. P. Downey, M. P. P., of Guelph, were amongst those present at the show.

Another Appeal.

Montreal, June 9.—The counsel for Gaynor and Greene gave notice that they will appeal to the supreme court of Canada against Judge Lafontaine's decision.

RUSSIA IS NOW AFTER PEACE

Belief That Emperor Has Decided to Enter upon the Negotiations.

As a Result Field Marshall Oyama is Staying his Hand Pending the Outcome.

Special to the Examiner.

St. Petersburg, June 9.—The Government is plainly preparing the public for the announcement that the Emperor has decided to conclude peace and that negotiations have begun by permitting the publication of all the foreign dispatches bearing on the subject. In well informed circles it is believed that the Japanese already have instructed Field Marshall Oyama to stay his hand, pending the result of the present tentative negotiations and that Linevitch also has been confidentially advised of the situation.

Coloured Pictures.

Just arrived a most beautiful collection of Clarence F. Underwood's and Howard Chandler Christy's sketches. These comprise all their 1904 and 1905 coloured sketches. Daintily framed in dark oak finish, for $1.50 and $2.00. A. H. Stratton & Co.

WERE CAUGHT IN DEATH TRAPS

Another British Sub-Marine Sinks Near Plymouth—Fourteen of the Crew Drown—British Boat "A 8" Was Going Out to Sea to Practice When Three Explosions Occurred.

Plymouth, England, June 9.—Submarine boat "A 8" was lost off the breakwater here yesterday morning. Three explosions are said to have occurred on board before she foundered. She had on board eighteen officers and men, including her regular crew and men who were in training. Fourteen of the number were drowned, and the others picked up.

The disaster occurred while the "A 8," was proceeding to sea for practice, accompanied by another submarine boat and a torpedo boat. Three explosions were seen from the shore to occur on board the "A 8," which suddenly disappeared.

Tugs and divers immediately proceeded to the scene.

Wrecked Boat's Signal.

The submarine boat lies in eighteen fathoms of water. The first intimation of the disaster came from the boat herself signaling that she was submerged, and could not come to the surface. A signal was received shortly before noon, which said:

"All right up to the present."

Diving parties immediately proceeded to the scene. Those who were saved were standing in the vicinity of the conning tower at the time of the disaster, and were picked up by a passing trawler. These were Lieut. Candy, commander of the boat; Sub-Lieutenant Murdock, a petty officer, and a seaman.

No Hope For the Crew.

Later a heavy explosion occurred over the position where the submarine boat sank and there is no hope of saving any of the men who were carried down with her.

The explosions first reported were believed to have been caused by the escape of gasoline similar to the case of the "A 5."

The lost boat was of about 300 tons displacement, and was launched in 1904.

Other Disasters.

The sinking of the British submarine boat "A 8" recalls the sinking of submarine boat "A 5" off Queenstown, February 16th, as the result of explosions on board that vessel, and the sinking of the submarine boat "A 1" off Portsmouth, March 18th last year, as the result of being run down by a steamer while the submarine boat was submerged.

The explosion on board the "A 5" was described as being so violent that it was heard ten miles away, and shook the submarine's convoy, the Hazard, from stem to stern.

Six men lost their lives and twelve were seriously injured in this disaster.

Was Rolled Over.

The disaster to "A 1" was even more appalling. She was submerged near the Nove lightship, off Portsmouth, when she was run down by a steamer of the Donald Currie line, and all on board of her (eleven officers and men) were drowned. The loss of the submarine boat was not known for some hours after the liner had reported to the manoeuvring fleet that she had struck a torpedo, and after a long search the ill-fated submarine boat was discovered. It was presumed that the steamer, in striking the submarine boat, upset her, spilled the gasoline in the tanks, and rendered her helpless. The crew were battened down and were suffocated by the fumes of gasoline.

BUILT UP HER HEALTH

SPEEDY CURE OF MISS ECCLISON

She Is Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Writes Gratefully to Mrs. Pinkham.

For the wonderful help that she has found Zula Ecclison, 6 Erie St., East, St. Thomas, Ont., believes it her duty to write the following letter for publication, in order that other women afflicted in the same way may be benefited as she was. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I heartily recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a uterine tonic and regulator. I suffered for four years with displacement of the uterus and no one but those who have experienced this dreadful agony can form any idea of the physical and mental suffering those endure who are thus affected. Your Vegetable Compound cured me. Within three months I was fully restored to health and strength and now my periods are regular and painless. What a blessing it is to obtain such relief when so many doctors fail to help you. Your medicine is better than any doctor or medicine I ever had."

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhœa, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her experience is very great, and she gives the benefit of it to all who stand in need of wise counsel. Address, Lynn, Mass.

PRESENTATION AT WARSAW

Took Place Last Sunday Evening

Departing Members of Methodist Congregation Honoured by Their Co-Workers.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Warsaw, June 7th.—A pleasing event took place at the close of the evening service at the Methodist church in Warsaw, on Sunday last, when the members of the congregation took the occasion to present to three valued members and co-workers who will shortly leave the village, the following address accompanied by a beautiful gift as a parting token.

Warsaw, June 3.

To Mr. and Mrs. Isbister and Miss Edith Jackson,

Dear Brother and Sisters, — We have learned of your intention to severe yourselves from us, as valued associates in the work, both social and religious—we shall miss you.

We keenly recognize our loss in you as neighbours, friends and co-workers. You all have showed a willingness to assist in the common interests of our village and community.

We feel that we cannot repay you for your ever ready response to the many calls, nor do we suppose you would desire this, however we do wish to show you in this special way that we all have sincerely appreciated, and shall remember you "for what you have done."

Therefore on behalf of this congregation we wish you to accept these small tokens of our esteem and gratitude. We devoutly pray that our common Father may grant you His Divine blessing daily and that you may each feel His wise loving providence guiding you amidst life's ever changing scenes until you each end the work God has for you, having showed steadiness of purpose, singleness of aim and due preparation for promised glory in our eternal home.

Mrs. Robert Matthews,
Florence Snider,
Thomas Clements.

In behalf of the Warsaw Methodist congregation.

At the conclusion of the reading of the address, Mrs. Isbister and Miss Jackson received a delightful surprise, each being presented with a handsome silver combination sugar-bowl and spoon-holder, and a half dozen silver forks.

Mr. Isbister, though taken by surprise, expressed his appreciation in fitting terms on behalf of Mrs. Isbister and himself.

Miss Jackson also added a few appropriate and well chosen remarks, thanking the donors, the memory of the pleasant associations with whom would be always warmly cherished.

Mr. and Mrs. Isbister have been valued and highly esteemed members of the congregation, and their coming departure will occasion universal regret.

Flowers and Bedding-out-Plants.

Now is the time to plant your seedlings, and fill your baskets and urns. We have a fine assorted stock in boxes, consisting of Asters, Petunias, Verbenas, Phlox, Pinks, Salvias, Stocks, Zinnias, Scabiosa, Gaillardia, etc. Our variety of hardy vegetables, bedding plants, can't be beaten at 50 cents per dozen. FARMERS' INSTITUTE EXCURSION A SUCCESS

Guelph Agricultural College Visited Yesterday By Many Hundreds of Farmers from East and West Peterborough—Delightful Day and Pleasant Trip—Some of the Incidents of a Successful Day's Outing—President Creelman Welcomes the Excursionists to the College and Explains Its Objects—Guelph Horse Show Was Visited—Local Institutes Make Good Success of Their Annual Excursion.

The excursion to Guelph and the Ontario Agricultural College, yesterday, under the auspices of the East and West Peterborough Farmers' Institutes, was well patronized. When the train reached Peterborough from the East there was already a large number on board, several hundred went from here, and by the time Myrtle was reached an extra coach had to be attached, making ten in all. Very few stops were made from this on, and Guelph was reached at 11.15. The majority of the excursionists immediately boarded the long line of waiting street cars for the Agricultural College, but the Guelph street railway apparently has not the reserve power at its call that the local railway has, for the three mile trip to the College was made in slow time, the cars becoming stalled on several stiff grades, and some could not be negotiated at all until the preceding car had reached the summit.

General View of Guelph Agricultural College.

On arrival at the College grounds an invitation was given for all to repair to the gymnasium, where "a light lunch," would be provided. It however proved to be a substantial affair. Eight large clothes-baskets full of delicious sandwiches, several barrels of tea, a couple of cheese, and soda biscuits, etc., were on the menu. One brawny agriculturist from Peterborough was heard to remark, "This is the only chance I may ever have to get a rebate on my taxes, and I'm going to take advantage of it!" And he did; and, as the slang expression is, "There were others." While ravenous appetites were being satisfied (at the Government expense), President Creelman gave the excursionists a hearty welcome, and also a little timely talk on the benefits of a course in the College to any young man engaged in agricultural pursuits. On the dispersal of the gathering two other large parties arrived on the scene, some 350 from East Kent, besides a delegation of several hundred from East Durham.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in examining, and admiring, the many beautiful features which make the Ontario Agricultural College of more than Provincial renown. Small parties were taken in charge by students and shown the different departments in which they were particularly interested.

Yesterday was also the opening day of the Guelph Horse Show, and the conversation on the streets and around the hotels was distinctly horsey. Hon. Nelson Monteith, the Minister of Agriculture, was a visitor to the Fair, as was also Hon. Adam Beck. The attendance of the general public was also very large. The Guelph Horse Show is somewhat in the nature of an experiment but, judging from the magnificent specimens of horseflesh on exhibition, and the large attendance, its success is assured.

Mr. T. B. Bradburn, M.P.P., West Peterborough, accompanied the farmers.

The rainfall in Peterborough on Wednesday was heavy, (.70 of an inch), but it must have been small in comparison with the downfall west of Toronto, where all the ditches and water courses were full to overflowing yesterday morning. Much low-lying ground was under water.

Guelph is a substantial and well-built city. Nearly all its larger buildings are of stone, as well as most of the private residences. It had a fine city hall, and its market buildings are a credit to the place.

The Ontario Agricultural College and Experimental Farm is situated about a mile and a quarter from the city of Guelph, in the centre of an extensive agricultural and noted stock-raising district, readily accessible by rail from all parts of the province. At this season of the year, when all nature abounds with new life, the College grounds, experimental plots and farm are seen to good advantage.

The 200,000 farmers of the province of Ontario have come to look upon the Ontario Agricultural College and Experimental Farm as an institution deserved, equipped and managed for their special benefit. This is as it should be, and the 40,000 persons who visit the College during June each year, feel that they have a personal interest in the institution. The farm is composed of 550 acres of land running from very light to very heavy. This is all in crop with the exception of 86 acres still uncleared, 26 acres of broken land, and the 90 acres occupied by the buildings, lawns, gardens, nursery, and forestry plantation. Perhaps among those things which interest the farmers the most when they come to visit the College, are the following:

(1) The Live Stock.—Good representatives of the principal breeds of cattle, sheep and swine are to be found in the stables and pastures.

(2) Experimental Plots.—Here are growing the leading varieties of grains, roots, grasses and clovers. The promising and unpromising varieties are grown side by side for the sake of comparison. New varieties are tried every year and others that have proved worthless are thrown out. The experimentalist has searched the civilized world for different kinds of farm crops, with the hope and expectation of getting something better than many of those now grown. Some years ago he introduced from Russia the Mandscheuri barley. This was sent out to farmers throughout the province, and now it is so generally grown as to materially increase the average yield per acre of this crop throughout the province. The experimentalist in this year's report says of this crop: "In looking up the records of the Bureau of Industries we find that the average yield of barley throughout the province for the period of ten years from 1895 to 1904, inclusive, is 29.3 bushels per acre, while that for the period of ten years from 1885 to 1894, inclusive, was 24.35 bushels per acre. This shows an annual average increase of about four and half bushels per acre for the latter as compared with the former period of ten years. From these results does it not appear as though the introduction of the Mandscheuri barley by the Ontario Agricultural College has been worth to the Province of Ontario within the past ten years an annual money value equal to more than fifteen times the entire cost of the college?"

(3) The Dairy which includes a creamery and cheese factory is in operation during the entire year. A good herd of grade cows is kept and by careful selection and feeding last year two cows gave a yield of over 8,000 pounds of milk; four produced over 7,000 pounds, and ten cows over 6,000 pounds each.

(4) The Poultry Department. — Here most of the different breeds are kept and experiments are conducted in testing incubators, brooders, fattening coops, cramming machines and so forth.

(5) Macdonald Institute. — During June the Macdonald Institute will be filled to its utmost capacity. One hundred and fifty girls are in regular attendance and a class of fifty teachers from the different Provinces are taking up the subject of nature study, with an eye to improving our rural schools.

Farmers' daughters and others are in attendance in the regular classes in domestic science and domestic art, with a view to becoming better housemakers through the study of better methods of cooking, sewing and laundry work.

New MacDonald Institute Building Erected at Agricultural College, Guelph.

(6) The Horticultural Department, in which is included the college campus, with its trees and shrubs, is very attractive to visitors.

Compared With Other Institutions.

The Agricultural College at Guelph is not working in competition with any other school in Canada. It has a distinct work of its own. At the present time, compared with other schools of its kind in the United States, it is peculiar in having confined its work entirely to agriculture. In the early days, when the attendance was small, there was a temptation to add on mechanical and commercial courses for boys from towns and cities. The Ontario Agricultural College, however, resisted the temptation, and is now all the stronger for it. Unfortunately in many of the States of the Union, in order to retain their State and Federal grants, courses other than agriculture were added to the curriculum, until to-day their agricultural colleges do not carry out the ideas of their founders.

After spending a most pleasant and profitable day, the excursionists boarded the special at 7.30 p.m., and, after a stop of an hour in Toronto, arrived home safely shortly after midnight.

Treated by Three Doctors for a Severe Attack of Dyspepsia,

Got No Relief From Medicines, But Found It At Last In

Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mrs. Frank Hutt, Morrisburg, Ont., was one of those troubled with this most common of stomach troubles. She writes:—"After being treated by three doctors, and using many advertised medicines, for a severe attack of Dyspepsia, and receiving no benefit, I gave up all hope of ever being cured. Hearing Burdock Blood Bitters so highly spoken of, I decided to get a bottle, and give it a trial. Before I had taken it I began to feel better, and by the time I had taken the second one I was completely cured. I cannot recommend Burdock Blood Bitters too highly, and would advise all sufferers from dyspepsia to give it a trial."

MANY IMPROVEMENTS ON KAWARTHA WATERS

Leafy Month at Stony Lake Presents Scene of Grandeur—Much Activity Is at Present Apparent—Large Number of New Cottages—Many Improvements Designed for Convenience of Tourists.

A trip through the upper lakes in the months of June, presents delights greater perhaps than during all other months, but this year it may safely be said, the leafy month finds them more attractive and beautiful than ever before.

The numerous improvements at present being made or in prospect for this season to the cottages and islands throughout the boat route, presage a busy and an enjoyable summer.

Ample preparation has been made at Young's Points, for the handling of the large volume of tourist traffic. Mr. W. E. Brooks, as previously announced, will this season conduct the South Beach House, to which he has added a complete water system as well as a number of other improvements. The grounds, which are amongst the most charming upon the lake, are this year more attractive than ever before.

The Lakeview House will be conducted as usual under the proprietorship of Mrs. James Kearney, and the prospects are that the large number of American and other tourists, who annually make this their objective point, will be increased even beyond its usual large proportions.

The handsome Rockland House, formerly conducted by Mr. W.E. Brooks, will this year be conducted under the genial proprietorship of Mr. Fred Darcy, whose preparations bespeak a generous patronage.

The trip through Clear Lake, of course, presents little out of the ordinary, but upon entering the waters of Stony Lake, signs of life and activity are at once apparent.

A new cottage is now in course of erection upon Mr. E. H. D. Hall's island, which will be occupied by Mr. Alexander, a New York gentleman, who annually enjoys a period of recreation at Stony Lake. The cottage is being constructed by Mr. J. Lumsden.

A distinct addition to the Dummer shore will be the cottage of Mr. Gowanlock, of Toronto, also being erected at present.

The fifty foot extension recently added to the wharf at McCracken's Landing will prove a great convenience to the steamers as well as canoeists. The work is of a substantial nature, being of crib work, filled stone. The wharf is now a T shaped one, with fifty feet frontage.

The Victoria House will again be conducted under the management of Mr. Fred Morgan, who has made every provision for the comfort and convenience of his guests. The grounds give evidence of close attention, and present an attractive appearance. To the handsome interior of the house, many minor improvements have been made. The new telephone line which will be completed in the course of two weeks or so, will prove a widespread boon to hotel guests and cottagers.

Upon the opposite side of the lake, a new cottage is being erected for Mr. Charles Bell, upon the charming little island behind Grassy Island. Some improvements will also be made to Hon. J. R. Stratton's cottages. The hotel at Mt. Julian is open for the summer season under the management of Mr. Wm. Thompson. Several guests have already arrived, amongst them being, Mr. and Mrs. Carter, of Buffalo, N. Y.

"Viamede," the charming boarding house of Mrs. Graham, was opened this week, Mr. and Mrs. Graham and daughter, Miss Blanche, being there at present. The premises present a beautiful appearance.

Further up the lake is found additional activity, "Glenwood," Mrs. Breese's charming boarding house, having been opened. Mrs. Breese and party are going up this week.

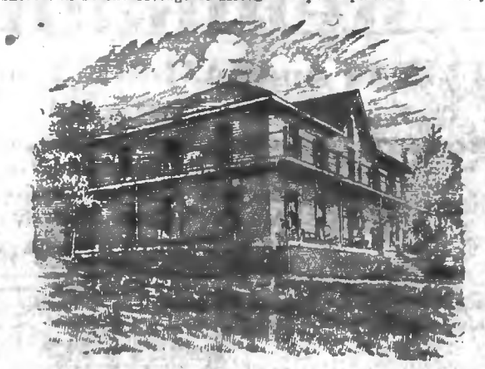
"Kilkenny," Mr. Donnell's popular and beautiful island, presents an attractive appearance. The boarding house will be opened about the end of the present month.

A charming site has been selected by Mr. Jackson for his cottage at Bell's Creek, and the work will be rapidly proceeded with. Crowe's Landing will shortly be improved by the addition of a new wharf, the money for which has already been appropriated.

The cottages at Burleigh will undoubtedly be filled to their utmost capacity. The destruction wrought by the recent unfortunate fire have, of course, occasioned many difficulties, which are being met by Mr. Darcy, the genial proprietor. A new dining room has already been added to the store, which also, for the present, is utilized for a bar. The new hotel will be commenced at as early a date as possible, but, owing to the present heavy demand upon the building trades, it will be impossible to have it erected for the present season's trade.

Lovesick Lake is a scene of great activity at the present time, a large drive of logs, containing about 40,000 pieces, being there. A force of 25 men is engaged upon the drive, which is the property of the Dickson Company. The grounds of Mr. W. McFarlane, the popular lockmaster, present one of the prettiest sights upon the lakes.

The steamers have, so far been in great demand already this season. The crew of the Majestic will remain the same as last year, being composed of the following popular staff: Capt. Pat Young, Fred Young and Mr. Copperthwaite. She is at present engaged in towing scows of wood for Mr. R. Hicks, from the upper lakes to Lakefield, but will next week take the regular passenger trips in place of the Stony Lake.



Victoria House, McCracken's Landing.

The crew of the Stony Lake will also remain the same as last year. Capt. Scollard and Mr. Frank Young are again looking after the comforts and convenience of its passengers in their invariable courteous and affable manner.

The Stony Lake has already the following dates booked:

June 15—St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild excursion to Stony Lake.

June 22 — St. Paul's Y. M. C. excursion.

June 28 — Sherwood Forest Camp, Woodmen's excursion.

June 29 — Bethany Methodist Sunday school excursion.

July 1—George street Methodist Sunday school excursion.

July 5—Port Hope Methodist Sunday school excursion.

July 6—Mark street Methodist Sunday school excursion.

The dining room of the boat will be opened next week, and will be conducted by Mrs. and Miss Godfrey.

The Empress returned yesterday to Bobcaygeon with the party of gentlemen who have been on a trip to Hastings.

MRS. WAREHAM, SHERBROOKE ST.

Tells How Her Pale, Languid Daughter Was Made Strong and Healthy by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. R. Wareham, 267 Sherbrooke Street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"One of my children has suffered a great deal with nervous headache, dizziness and sleeplessness, and in fact, was all run down, pale and languid. These troubles we attributed to over-study and confinement at school. She began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I can say that we have found this treatment exceedingly helpful. It has relieved her of headache, steadied her nerves and built up her system wonderfully. We can see a great change in her, as the colour is returning to her face, and she is gaining in flesh and weight."

You will find it interesting to weigh yourself, while using this preparation, and note the increase from week to week. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is certain to prove beneficial to you if your blood is thin and watery and the nerves exhausted. 50c a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

HAPPY WEDDING IN ASPHODEL

Miss Maye Anderson Married to Mr. F. Richardson.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Norwood, June 8th. — The marriage of Miss Mary Andrews, the third daughter of Mrs. Margaret Andrews, to Mr. Fred Richardson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Richardson, of Lakefield, was celebrated on Wednesday, at Silver Brook Farm Asphodel, at high noon, Rev. C. Parker, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. The ceremony was performed under a pretty arch of evergreens and apple blossoms.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Richard Andrews, and wore a pretty gown of white silk, her veil being worn over orange blossoms, and her bouquet being of carnations. The bridesmaid, her sister, Miss Ella Andrews, wore gray crepe de chine, while her fiance, Miss Roxie Andrews, acting as flower girl, was prettily dressed in white silk, and carried a basket of roses and carnations. The groom was attended by Mr. Robert English, of Lakefield. Miss Bessie McMaster played the wedding march.

The groom's present to the bride was a handsome gold watch and chain.

To the bridesmaid the groom gave a pretty brooch set with pearls and turquoises, and to the flower girl a gold bracelet.

After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining room, where a dainty dejeuner was served, and about 75 people sat down.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson left on the 4.40 train for Grand Rapids, Michigan. The bride's going away gown was of brown colienne, with hat to match. When they return they will take up their residence in Lakefield.

—Mr. Geo. Cochrane, High County Constable, of Peterborough, was in town on Monday investigating the conduct of certain local parties, which may lead to serious charges.—Havelock Standard.

VALUE OF THE HOME NEWSPAPER.

Mr. Lee Stark, in speaking on Thursday at the Circulation Managers' Convention in Toronto, referred to the superior value of the home newspaper as an advertising medium. After mentioning the doubtful value of the tramp newspaper which circulates free, and of the yellow journal, mostly unfit to be read in and discussed in the home, Mr. Stark said:—

"The other kind of paper I take," continued Mr. Stark, "is a respectable home paper. It contains a picture of life with the joys and its sorrows, its successes and its failures, its news of the individual and of the state. Its news is eagerly sought after by all my family and all read it. That paper also circulates widely because it deserves to. Its utterances command respect, whether in the news columns or the advertising columns. What is the value of the newspaper to the advertiser? Ask him. He knows."

Mr. Stark emphasized the truth that the value of advertising depends ultimately upon the respectability of the home demanding respectability, cleanness and dignity and, therefore, veracity in the family journal.

"People may read magazines once a month," he said. "They may read weekly papers. They may pass billboard signs as dodgers. But the circulating medium for which they watch as regularly as for their meals, is the home paper. The genteel paper commands respect, just as a gentleman commands respect. The tramp newspaper filled with flashy headlines and sensational advertisements, gets the back door in any respectable family, just as the tramp does. A paper of quality with 30,000 circulation, is worth more than a tramp newspaper with 50,000, or even 100,000 subscribers."

Mr. Stark is right, the home newspaper, respectably conducted, both in the quality and character of its contents, and with becoming enterprise makes the best advertising medium because it supplies what local readers want, and what they demand. It is read in the home and discussed in the home with interest, because it deals with home news and home topics. The home newspaper always stands by the town, by its interests, its industries, and does more to build up a town and defend its interests than most people realize. Therefore on the principle of fair play the home newspaper should be supported and encouraged because it is the friend of the town and its people; is always speaking a good word for them and it is only fair play on the part of the people to see that one good turn begets another. What would be thought of a newspaper which would use its columns to decry the wares of the merchants of its town or city? Whatever might be thought one knows very well what would be said — that a journal which thus betrays the constituency from which it drawn its support and to which it owes a duty had forfeited confidence and claim to patronage. A citizen who derives his livelihood from the public of his town owes a duty to the town. What would be thought of a man thus situated in relation to its business and commercial citizens who would go to a city to make purchases which he could make at home? Whatever might be thought one knows very well what would be said—that a citizen who thus outrages the principle of fair play to his fellow citizens and of loyalty to his town had forfeited confidence and claim to patronage. If every citizen acted as he had done where would he be in the matter of business patronage? The people of a town should stand by the town which stands by them and stands by the newspaper which stands by them and the town. The home newspaper is the best friend a town can have.

EDITORIAL NOTES

It's a matter of peace with Japan and Russia, but it is merely a matter of pieces with Corea.

Death is about the only thing that comes between man and wife that doesn't get the worst of it.

Matrimony is the union of clouds and sunshine, good and evil, but which is the good or the evil—man or wife—begins a controversy that lasts as long as the combination.

Mr. Rhiaume, the Conservative orator from Chateauguay is in danger of reaching a chateau which is not quite so "gay"—to wit, the Central Prison. He went to London in the Conservative interests to teach the London electors the evils of "coercion." He is charged with having coerced a horse into his possession, to wit, with horse stealing. Whether he is guilty of that charge or not, or of the other charge of forgery, which hangs over him, his usefulness as a Conservative campaign stumper is over for the present bye-election anyway. If from the mouth of babes and sucklings comes wisdom, out of the mouth of horse thief and forger should come political wisdom in chunks. Mr. Rhiaume will make an indifferent Conservative politician—he allows himself to get caught. If he is acquitted on the charge of theft and forgery there seems to be no doubt of his guilt of a more serious charge—stirring up strife to the detriment of the national harmony, which is perhaps a greater crime than the undisturbed possession of one's horse.

STRONGLY STATED SUGAR OUTRAGE

One Reason for Dear Sugar Given by Port Hope Guide.

It Is Asserted That a Saccharine Combine Exists.

(Port Hope Guide.)

Our Board of Trade in appointing a special committee to enquire into the question of discrimination in prices of sugar, has done well. The committee certainly has its job cut out for it.

There may be a well-grounded belief that the Dominion Wholesale Grocers' Guild is an association or combine ostensibly formed for mutual benefit and advancement, but in fact for the purpose of squeezing the people of the whole country to pay the prices decided upon. The difficulty will be in proving what is believed to be the case and presenting the evidence in such a way as to convince a committee of the House of Commons. For instance, every grocer knows that the Guild will not permit sugar to be sold F. O. B. at refineries or from the wholesale grocers at Montreal, Toronto, or any other distributing point. No traveller would be permitted to sell a grocer who could call at the refinery and take his sugar in his own cart, steamboat, car, or other means. The Guide decides what the freight rates (or price for sugar with rate added) shall be to every village, town, city, railway siding or wharf in the Dominion, and this too, regardless of the summer or winter freight charges by railway, boat or other carrier and absolutely without considering the location of the place as to distance. For instance, the freight to add to price per hundred (car rates different but proportionate) is from Montreal to,—

Toronto 8c
Brockville 7c
Ottawa 7c
London 12c
Windsor 14c
Port Hope 22c
Cobourg 20c
Peterborough 11c
Lindsay 22c
Wingham 30c
Kingston 7c
Opeongo 31c

(both County Frontenac)

Belleville 8c
Coe Hill 32c

(both County Hastings.)

But why multiply instances; the above are all on railway or water communication or both. How does Lindsay like the rate as compared with Peterborough? Both places serving the same country, both on G. T. R. and C. P. R. and the Trent Valley Canal, yet Lindsay pays double.

Would it not be as well for the Railway Committee to resign for it would look as though its duties were being performed by the Guild?

It is hard enough to get a fair and equal rate from the railways, but really the "equalized rates" of the sugar ring can knock anything hitherto attempted by any common carrier.

The above is one explanation why sugar is so high in Port Hope and shows also a reason for the difference in price between this and other places.

It is declared that should any grocer tell what he knows about this and other schemes for squeezing the consumer, that it would mean ruin to his business for the Guild has simply to issue orders to travellers not to sell to the marked man at any price and the Customs would prohibit him from buying in the United States, where his supplies are all now cheaper than in Canada. Even the travellers or other employees shall be instantly dismissed if they break any of the selling or other rules of "the ring," so what information is secured must come by the "wireless."

The above is believed to be all true, but how to get at the truth and convince the Government, is the difficulty. It was, and indeed is now, well known that there is an association or combine among the wholesale paper dealers and manufacturers, and any paper travellers does not only hesitate to admit the fact, but indeed will taunt the poor printer on having to come to the combine prices. Yet knowing these facts The Canadian Press Association, assisted by the best legal advice, utterly failed to establish sufficient evidence to convince the House Committee before whom the investigation was held. The power of the press is as nothing against combines. The only remedy is for every printer to buy from the houses outside the ring.

Therefore in the sugar-grocery matter as we said before, the Committee of the Port Hope Board of Trade has its job cut out for it. The Boards and Councils of other towns and small places would do well to co-operate—for the city and most favoured places will certainly not object to this remaining just as it is (with the possible exception of Montreal) for the discrimination is in their favour in every particular.

HOW HIGH RATES DIVERT OUR TRADE

Wheat From Fort William Comes In Via Buffalo.

Destined for a Mill at Thorold, the Canadian Route is Found Too Expensive—G. T. R. Charges from Goderich were Prohibitory.

"A tow of six canal boats loaded with wheat left Buffalo on Tuesday for St. Catharines. This wheat came to Buffalo on the steamer Algonquin ten days ago and is intended for milling purposes at Thorold and St. Catharines. The boats will return Tuesday for the rest of the cargo. This opens a new and strange route."

The above item, taken from a Buffalo newspaper, is a striking example of how rates sometimes charged by the railways on this side tend to drive business to the United States route. There have been complaints from Ontario millers of the treatment they have received from the Grand Trunk Railway. The mill getting this wheat, which comes from Manitoba by way of Fort William, is enabled to bring it from the latter point via Buffalo at a three-cent rate—that is, 1 1-2 cents from Fort William to Buffalo and 1 1-2 cents from Buffalo to Thorold using the Erie Canal boats on the Welland Canal. The rate the Grand Trunk would charge from Goderich on the same wheat would be seven cents a bushel, and the Grand Trunk is unwilling to handle it from Port Colborne, claiming that the elevator there is unsafe. One cargo was brought by way of Port Colborne, and the Grand Trunk charged a 2 1-2 cent rate from Port Colborne to the mill.—Globe.

This seems to be a situation that can be easily remedied. Why not bring the wheat direct by Canadian grain barge of Welland Canal capacity from Port Arthur and Fort William? The wheat was brought by steam barge to Buffalo for 1 1-2 cents and 1 1-2 cents from Buffalo to Thorold makes a total of three cents. By bringing the grain direct from Lake Superior the price of carriage would only be 1 1-2 cents. The Canadian Shipbuilding Company has yards at Bridgeburg opposite Buffalo and it would not take long to build a barge at Bridgeburg to carry grain from Fort William or Port Arthur to Thorold or St. Catharines for 1 1-2 cents. Grand Trunk rates from Goderich would not then have to be reckoned with. The rates for rail carriage of grain which millers complain of are perhaps as low as the railways can afford. The discrepancy proves the superiority of waterways for grain transportation and is another argument for the extension of the canal system and the completion of the Trent Valley Canal.

MAY HAVE TO FACE CHARGE OF MURDER

Patrick McAuliffe, the Emily Farmer Who Assaulted Fred. Hudson—The Latter is Now Lying in a Serious Condition and Little or No Hope is Entertained for His Recovery—Has Been in Semi-Conscious Condition For Some Days, and This Morning it Was Stated That McAuliffe Would Be Held, and If Mr. Hudson Dies, the Charge Will Be Murder—Prisoner Comes of a Highly Respected Family and Has Always Been Considered as a Quiet Inoffensive man.

Serious results are likely to follow the assault which occurred in the Royal Hotel, Hunter street, on the night of June 1st, when Fred Hudson, one of the proprietors of that hotel, was hit on the head by Patrick McAuliffe, of Emily, as the result of a dispute which the two had.

Mr. Hudson is now suffering from concussion of the brain, and is lying in St. Joseph's Hospital in a very serious condition, the information this morning being that little or no hope was entertained for his recovery. He has been in a state of semi-consciousness practically ever since the occurrence, though for some hours after it was not thought that Mr. Hudson was seriously injured, and to a reporter of the Examiner the following day he recounted the circumstances in connection with the affair.

The injuries sustained by him necessitated five stitches being put in his head. He was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital where it was found that his injuries were more serious than was at first thought.

This morning in Police Court, Patrick McAuliffe was up before Police Magistrate Dumble, having been remanded from Tuesday, when he was released on bail, and, to-day, upon learning of the very serious condition of Mr. Hudson, the Magistrate remanded the prisoner again, but refused bail, and he was taken to the County jail to await the outcome of the illness of the man he is accused of assaulting.

Should the result be as is anticipated to-day, and Mr. Hudson's injuries prove fatal, McAuliffe will have to face the serious charge of murder.

McAuliffe stuttered to the court, and also to his lawyer, Mr. R. M. Donnelstoun, that he did not use any weapon that night.

The prisoner is said to come of a good family, being the son of Peter McAuliffe, of Emily, and a man about thirty-four years of age. He is a widower, his wife having died some few years ago and he has always been considered a quiet, industrious man not given to quarrelling and as a consequence, the trouble which he has now got himself into is most regrettable.

It was learned to-day that Mr. Hudson was in such a condition that he had not been able to make his will a precaution which the physician advised in view of the fact that little or no hope was entertained for his recovery.

McAuliffe was this morning remanded until Friday, June 16th.

SHERLOCK HOLMES STORIES BEGIN

First of a Series of Thirteen Will Be Published To-morrow.

"The Mystery of the Empty House"—A Series of Interesting Stories.

To-morrow the Examiner will begin the publication of the famous Sherlock Holmes stories, the exclusive right to publish which in Peterborough the Examiner has secured.

These stories have created great interest in the United States, where one of the New York dailies secured for a fabulous sum, the right to publish them. Up to now, only one Canadian newspaper has given these stories to their readers and the Examiner has secured the right to publish them here.

The first story, entitled "The Mystery of the Empty House", will be published to-morrow, and no one should miss reading the first story. This series of detective stories is intensely interesting and the readers of the Examiner are fortunate in having the privilege of of reading them in this paper.

BROKE LEG A WEEK AGO

And Gus. O'Brien Did Not Have It Set Until Yesterday.

An Accident Which Occurred in Douro—Did Not Know the Leg was Fractured.

Gus. O'Brien, the fifteen-year-oold son of Mr. John O'Brien, of Douro, was brought to St. Joseph's Hospital last night suffering from a broken leg, the result of an accident which he met with about a week ago by a wagon running over the leg. His parents did not know that the leg was broken and a doctor was not consulted until yesterday, and during the week since the accident happened, the boy has been suffering the pain as best he could.

When he got no better, his parents decided to call a doctor and this was done yesterday, with the result that he found the leg to be fractured. The operation of setting it was a decidedly painful one, but the boy stood it well and is doing as well as could be expected to-day.

DECORATION DAY IS POSTPONED

Will Be Held on June 22nd Instead of June 15th.

The date of Peterborough's Decoration Day has been changed from Thursday, June 15th, to June 22nd, one week later. This was decided on at a meeting of the two Oddfellows' Lodges, held last night to consider question, which, in view of the fact that the season was late in opening this year, and that the flowers would not be out sufficiently, it was considered wise to postpone the celebration of Decoration Day for one week, when the programme arranged for June 15th, will be carried out, and the graves of departed brethren will be celebrated.

PRESENTED VERY NEAT APPEARANCE

What Col. Young Says of the Peterborough Rangers.

Inspection Continued Last Night—Left Half Put Through the Test—Big (Sham) Battle To-night.

The inspection of the regiment was continued last night—the remaining four companies, comprising the left half of the regiment, being inspected by Colonel Young.

The companies were marched and counter-marched under the direction of their officers, and the sections under their respective sergeants. Firing operations were also gone through and the men were thoroughly tested.

Colonel Young expressed himself as being greatly pleased with the showing made by the regiment.

The inspecting officer commended very highly the work of the companies comprising the left half, stating that they had excelled those of the right half, and of those inspected last night, he found that in some particular companies, seven and eight excelled.

To-night at six o'clock sharp, the regiment will march from their armouries, headed by both bands, and will eventually take up their positions for defence and attack. Numbers seven and eight companies, under Major Stevenson, will form the defence, and occupy the summit of Armour's Hill.

Numbers five and three will form the first line of attack, and will be commanded by Col. Miller.

Numbers one and two companies will form the second line of attack, and numbers four and six companies, will form the reserve, commanded by Capt. Houlsell.

Col. Gordon, Col. Young and Col. J. Z. Rogers of town, will proceed to the top of the hill before the attack commences and view it from that point.

The attacking division will start respectively from the Hunter street and London street bridges, and will be under the immediate command of their respective officers.

Colonel Young went to Lindsay this moring and inspected the cadets of that town. He returned on the noon train and inspected the High School cadets here at 1.30 p.m.

A CROWN OF GLORY

As Well as a Mark of Beauty is Luxurious Hair.

It has been truly said that the crowning glory of our race is a luxuriant head of hair.

It used to be thought that this was one of the blessings which the gods bestow capriciously, and it is only recently that scientists have discovered that its beauty is dependent upon the absence of a minute germ which flourishes in the hair follicles, where it destroys the life of the hair.

To restore this life and kill the germs which cause the mischief is the mission of Newbro's Herpicide.

Herpicide surely kills the germs, and is the best hair dressing on the market.

It contains no grease or oil, neither will it stain or dye.

BIRTHS.

McNULTY.—At Peterborough, on Thursday, June 8th, 1905, the wife of Dr. F. P. McNulty, of a daughter.

FELL THROUGH HOLE IN DICKSON'S DAM

Margaret Ann Losey, the Five-Year Old Step-daughter of Thomas Quinlan, Met Death by Drowning Last Night—A Hole in Floor of Bridge Over Old Dickson Dam—Body Was Found an Hour Afterwards in Twenty-five Feet of Water—Child Drowns in Plain Sight of Parents Who Are Powerless to Help.

A most distressing fatal drowning accident occurred last night at the old Dickson Company's dam over the Otonabee River near the Hydraulic Power Company's new concrete dam.

Mr. Thos. Quinlan, with his wife and four children, one of them, the oldest, being his step-daughter, Margaret Ann Losey, were walking across the dam mentioned above, and Margaret who was a child about five years of age, ran ahead of her parents and the rest of the children. Near the Ashburnham end of the bridge a plank on the floor was broken off, leaving a hole about three feet long and one foot, the width of the plank, wide. Not noticing this hole little Margaret dropped into it, and, failing to catch the sides as she fell, she went into the water a few feet below the floor of the bridge and sank to the bottom, a distance of about 25 feet at this point.

The swift current carried her below the bridge about one-third of the distance between that and the new dam, and she sank to the bottom, when it is supposed that her clothes were caught upon one of the many timbers which are submerged there.

At any rate she never came up after having sunk the first time. As soon as he saw what had happened Mr. Quinlan immediately raised an alarm and in a few minutes a number of men gathered, and a search from a punt for the body was instituted, but it was more than an hour afterwards before it was recovered. Mr. Matthew Young, who attends to the new dam was the one who found the body, and recovered it within ten minutes after he arrived on the scene. Mr. Young is thoroughly familiar with the conditions of the bed of the river, and went at once to the spot where the body was. It is probable that had he been on the spot when the accident happened, he would have been able to have saved the little girl's life, but, of course, after having been lying that length of time in the water all efforts to restore respiration were futile.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the family residence, Union street to St. Peter's Cemetery.

Coronor Grey, upon being notified of the accident, issued a warrant for an inquest, but later, on the advice of County Crown Attorney Wood, withdrew the warrant, and no inquest will be held.

It appears that last fall the Hydraulic Power Company the owners of the dam, closed the bridge, which is not a public thoroughfare, but the bridge was of so much convenience to the residents of Ashburnham in that section, that Ald. Johnston brought the matter up in the Council, and asked that some steps be taken to have the bridge kept open. The matter was discussed by the Board of Works, and the following clause incorporated in a report, was adopted by the Council:—

"Your Board has been informed by Mr. Larmonth that the owners of the bridge, over the old Dickson Company dam, have no objection to the town repairing it for foot passenger traffic, provided their rights were not prejudiced."

No formal agreement, however, was entered into between the town and the company, but on the request of the former the obstruction across the bridge was removed and foot passengers were allowed to use it, a notice, however, was posted, stating that it was private property, which relieved the Company from responsibility. To-day Coronor Grey notified Mayor Best to have the bridge closed until repairs were made, and this His Worship promised to have done.

METHODISTS RUN UP A BIG SCORE

Defeated St. John's in First Half by 14-3.

First Game in District Two of Guild League—Easy Win for Charlotte Street.

From the present showing the two Methodist teams in the Guild Baseball League are playing the fastest ball, though St. Andrew's have not been heard from yet, and may give the other teams a surprise when they open the season. Last night the first game in number two district was played between Charlotte Street and St. John's on the former's grounds, and in the four innings played, the score was 14-3, in favour of the home team.

The champions have a stronger team this year than that with which they won the Examiner Cup, and judging by the form shown last night, it will take a strong team to defeat them.

The score, one-sided as it is, does not hold out much hope for St. John's in the second half of the game, but no doubt that team will settle down and play ball, which they did not do in last night's game, the pitcher receiving the worst kind of support, and it was due largely to errors that the score was run up against them, although some nice hits were secured off Cavanah, while on the other hand St. John's found great difficulty in connecting with Roddy's left hand benders, and he has the advantage of a good fielding team behind him, his support, with one or two exceptions last night being of the best. Lang, the new catcher for Charlotte Street team is about the best in the league, and would be pretty hard to beat in any amateur company. His work behind the bat was perfect, his throwing to bases being particularly good. Sawers, who caught for St. John's, however, was not able to hold Cavanah, and a number of basos were stolen on passed balls, while at least two men got to first base after three strikes had been called on them.

H. RODDY,
Captain of Charlotte Street Team, Champions of the Guild League.

In the first innings St. John's got one. Green hit to right for a single. Waram fanned, N. McWilliams dropped Cavanah's fly, but Fitzpatrick forced him at second. Sawers hit to third and scored Greep. Weller fanned, Charlotte Street scored four in their half, A. McWilliams starting off with a two bagger and Long followed with another, scoring the former, and reached home himself on a couple of wide throws. N. McWilliams out for a double and came home on Thornton's drive to right. Roddy had three strikes but got to first and N. Williams scored. Squires sacrificed but Williams and Crowe struck out.

St. John's failed to tally in the second, Hodgson and Simpsons fanning and Metcalf flew to Crowe.

Charlotte Street added three in the second half. Ryan flew to Hodgson. A. McWilliams got first on Green's error and on a high throw to first reached third, scoring on Long's hit. N. McWilliams drove a grass-cutter at Green, which he could not handle and Long scored. Thornton was out, short stop to first and on a high throw N. McWilliams scored. Roddy and Squires got to bases on hits, and Williams got a charity, but with the bases full Crowe struck out, the score being 7-1.

In the third St. John's got two more. Squires fumbled Green's drive to second Waram hit safely and on a high throw to second to catch him, Green scored. Cavanah sacrificed, scoring Waram. Fitzpatrick and Sawers were out on foul flies to Lang, the first being caught after a magnificent win. The Methodists only got one in their half on a hit by N. McWilliams, which scored Lang, who got his base, being hit by pitched ball. There was nothing doing in the fourth for St. John's. Weller, the first up, striking out after he had three balls. The others were easy outs. The Methodists, by some timely hitting, and some bad errors in the field, scored six runs in the fourth. Roddy fanned and Squires got first on Green's error. Williams drove out to Waram, who threw high to third in an effort to catch Squires, the latter scoring, and Williams reached third himself on the play. Crowe's hit to right scored Williams. Ryan's grounder to Green was too much for him and Crowe scored. A. McWilliams hit to the right garden scoring Ryan. Long had three strikes but Sawers dropped the ball, and N. McWilliam's hit scored his brother, Lang coming in on Thornton's hit to centre. This ended the scoring, the next two up being out.

The teams were:—

THE VISITORS PLAY FOOTBALL

Plainville and Coldsprings Teams Met Yesterday.

Game Resulted in a Win for the Former by 3-0—A Fast Game.

A fast game of football was played yesterday afternoon in the exhibition grounds between the kickers from Coldspring and Plainville, resulting in an easy win for the latter by three goals to nil.

The Coldsprings boys showed lack of practice but in the last half they were noticeably stronger than in the first and with a few good hard workouts will make the Plainville team go some to duplicate the trick. They have some good individual material and their halfback line worked hard to keep the forwards fed. Here was the weak part of the team. They did not seem to understand or try to play combination and were lighter than their opponents. Coldsprings have a good man in Molyneaux who played goal, but who can shine anywhere. He made some good stops and cleared well.

The Plainville team are rather heavier and were in much better condition to stay with the pace. In the first half the ball was contemously in Coldsprings territory, never coming up past the half line and the play being wholly that of defence. Two goals were scored in this half,—the first after about fifteen minutes' play on a nice kick by Aldridge, who all through the game put up work of the stellar quality and would be an addition worth scuring to any team in the country. The second goal was scored on a nice combination by Aldridge, Bowman and Hardy, the latter doing the trick.

In the second half, with changed goals, Coldsprings seemed to waken up a little and began to press a little. It was of no practical use, however, and no score resulted for that team. Jack Halligan scored for the Plainville team after about twenty minutes' play from a corner kick and this ended the scoring. Coldspring kicked strenuously over the last goal protesting that it was an off-side, but the referee called it a goal and they had to abide by his decision. The play ended by Plainville pressing hard.

Following are the teams:—

Plainville (3)—Goal, Northcote; backs, McCullugh and Morton; halves, Aldridge, Varcoe and Brigham; forwards, Bowman, F. Halligan, H. Halligan, and J. Halligan, Hardy.

Coldspring, (0)—Goal, Molyneaux; backs, A. Macintosh, Free; halves, Jobb, Jamieson and Ferguson; forwards, N. Macintosh, Green, Box, Martin, E. Macintosh.

Mr. Norman Smart gave perfect satisfaction as referee.

This is the second game this spring, Plainville defeating Coldsprings 1-0 in Coldsprings on May 24th.

RACING CIRCUIT TO BE ORGANIZED

A Number of Speedy Horses Will be Placed in Training at Once.

The present week is one of unwonted activity amongst the turf men of the town, and extensive preparations are being made for the approaching annual meet of the Club.

A strong effort is being made to organize a racing circuit throughout Central Ontario and the proposal is receiving a widespread interest amongst horsemen. Mr. J. M. Brooks, representing the local club is in Belleville to-day attending a meeting for the purpose of formulating definite plans. The circuit will probably open on July 1st in Port Hope. Following this, successive weekly dates will be arranged in Lindsay, Peterborough, Belleville, Kingston, Gananoque and Picton. The meets will be of two days' duration, one being held each week. The circuit will be governed by one set of executive officers, Mr. John Allous' poor "Dan Finister" arrived in town this morning in charge of Mr. Aldous, jr., who will look after his training at the grounds of the Turf Club, where he is quartered. He is a very promising horse, and has developed lots of speed since his first racing event in Ottawa last winter.

A string of three horses belonging to Mr. George Curtis, of Lindsay, is expected to arrive in town next week and will be quartered also at the track. Among these will be his speedy mare "Minnie Keswick" who has a mark of 2.19 1-4, and a stallion purchased recently in New York. Mr. George Lipsett's "Miss Paisley" will, it is understood, also be placed in training in the near future at the track. She will be looked after by Dick Monahan.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Boys' Camp Committee of the Y.M.C.A. was held last night when further plans were laid for the great annual outing. One of the items of business was the decision to buy a large tent for the camp. Several voluntary subscriptions have already been made toward it, and a number of last year's campers are endeavouring to raise $1.00 each among their friends. Contributions will be gladly received by E. Eyres at the C. N. W. Telegraph Co., who is treasurer of the fund.

Was Cured of Asthma

"I first used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, with my daughter, who suffered from a severe case of asthma. The least exposure to cold would lay her up, and she would nearly suffocate for want of breath. I must say that I found it to be a most satisfactory treatment, and it has entirely cured her" —Mrs. A. A. VanBuskirk, Robinson street, Moncton, N.B.

MAGISTRATE'S DECISION.

Josie Carr Committed For Trial For Murder in the Fall.

Toronto, June 7.—Magistrate Denison committed Josie Carr for trial yesterday. She will appear for the murder of Baby Murray at the fall Assizes.

The only witness heard was Dr. Sloven, who testified as to the finding at the post-mortem. The prisoner was quite cool and showed no emotion when the magistrate ordered her committal.

She is to be kept apart from the other prisoners, at the jail and will be carefully watched. It was not deemed advisable to send her back to the shelter, in the remote chance that an escape might be effected.

Archdeacon Boddy Dies.

Toronto, June 7.—After nearly fifty years of service in the Anglican ministry in Toronto, Venerable Archdeacon Boddy, died at his home yesterday. Archdeacon Boddy has been unwell for over five months. The Ven. Archdeacon Boddy was born in Hampshire, England, in 1826. In 1858 he came to Canada and was appointed assistant at St. James' Cathedral, Toronto. There he remained for five years, when he formed a little congregation in Cemetery Chapel. The little flock grew, and in 1866 he secured the present site of St. Peter's. The final result is St. Peter's of to-day.

Peerage For Speaker.

London, June 7.—At yesterday afternoon's session of the House of Commons, Wm. Court Gully officially announced his resignation on the ground of ill-health, of the Speakership, which he had held for a decade.

Premier Balfour and Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman made brief speeches of regret, after which the Premier announced that to-day he would introduce a resolution praying the King to elevate Mr. Gully to the peerage, as is customary in the case of retiring Speakers of the House of Commons.

Appetite Was Poor.

Dizzy Most of The Time.

Could Not Sleep at Night.

Many people are unaware of having anything wrong with their heart or nerves till some little excitement or overwork makes them feel faint and dizzy, or perhaps simply going up or down stairs causes dizziness and specks to float before the eyes. People troubled in this way should heed the warning, and not fail to take treatment before something more serious occurs.

For all heart and nerve troubles there is nothing to equal

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

We do not claim that they will cure chronic heart disease, but we do claim that they will strengthen the weak heart, and build up the shaky nerve system.

Here is what Mrs. Sidney Hoffman, Hillside, Ont., says:—

"I was troubled greatly with my heart, and was so very nervous that the least little thing startled me.

"My appetite was very poor; I could not sleep at nights, and was dizzy most of the time. I took three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and I am very pleased to say that they did me a wonderful lot of good."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. All druggists, or mailed direct.

AUTONOMY BILL AGAIN DISCUSSED

Debate in the House On Control of the Schools.

MR. BORDEN'S CONTENTION

New Clause and the Old One Mean the Same Thing — Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick and Sir Wilfrid Laurier Argue That Minority Sacrifice Rights of Control — The Colonial Conference.

Ottawa, June 9.—The lawyers had a day to themselves in the House yesterday, when at Mr. R. L. Borden's request the consideration of the education clause of the autonomy bill was resumed. The leader of the Opposition took occasion to enlarge on his view, expressed recently in London and Oxford, that there was really no difference between the original and the amended clause; that the two clauses arrived at the same result by a different route.

Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick replied, affirming his view that there is a material difference, inasmuch as the minority, where they are in the majority in any school district, have no right to a separate school, a privilege of which they are deprived by the ordinance of 1888, which is re-enacted by the amended clause.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier supplemented this view by pointing out that the original clause gave the minority control over secular as well as religious education, while the amended clause gives the minority control only over the half-hour of religious instruction at the end of the day. It was regarded by the average lay member as a day of hair-splitting, in which those who were not lawyers took no part and not a great deal of interest.

The Colonial Conference.

When the orders of the day were called Mr. R. L. Borden drew the attention of the House to a cable despatch stating that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had curtly refused to take part in the Colonial conference. He asked for information whether the policy of the Liberal party in Great Britain, if returned to power at the next election, would be liable to call into active exercise a declaration by members of the Canadian Government who attended the Colonial conference, and hinted at by the Minister of Finance in his budget speech two years ago, when it was declared, in effect, that unless some preference to Canadian products should be granted in the markets of Great Britain and Ireland this Government would hold itself at liberty to withdraw the existing preference.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in reply, said his attention had been called to the despatch last evening, and he had simply to say that it had no foundation whatever in regard to the action attributed to him. He had received no communication form anyone on the subject of the proposed conference, and he had made no communication to anyone on that subject. With regard to any change in the policy of the Government, he had only to say that, speaking generally, the policy of the Government stands as it was, and connot be affected by any change which may take place in the English House.

Permanent Imperial Council.

London, June 9.—John Quick, a prominent member of the Victorian House of Representatives, proposed that an act be passed by the British Parliament for a permanent Imperial Council or Congress, like that of the United States. Its recommendations would become law on being ratified by Great Britain and the Colonial Legislatures, and would remain in force for at least five years.

British Speaker Elected.

London, June 9.—James William Lowther (Conservative) Deputy Speaker and Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, was unanimously elected Speaker of the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. This is the first time since 1583 that the Conservatives have been able to put one of their own party in the chair. After the election the House adjourned until June 20.

ANGEL CHILDREN.

Is there any happier woman in this world than that mother whose each successive little one seems to her but one more darling angel to continually lift her thoughts toward the sunshine of perfect happiness? But sorry is the lot of that poor mother to whom motherhood has ceased to be a cause of rejoicing, but has become instead a burden to be dreaded and looked forward to with melancholy and apprehension.

"About three months before our last baby was born (which is our fourth), writes Mrs. Nellie Carl, of Myrtlepoint, Coos Co., Oregon, "my health was very poor. I had been troubled for about eight years with female disease. I doctored with good physicians but obtained no relief, so I wrote to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, and was advised to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I did so, and am happy to say my health began to improve and I did my work up to the last, and felt splendid.

"I got along finely during confinement, and have the healthiest baby I ever saw. When he was three months old he weighed eighteen pounds; he is now seven months old and weighs twenty-four pounds. I can say I have had no return of my old troubles. I thank you very much for the good you have done me."

Any woman may write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., a statement of her case, which will be considered in absolute confidence by this physician who stands among the foremost specialists of the century in the treatment of women's diseases. He will send her (in a plain, sealed envelope) sound, sensible, valuable advice free of all charge.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page, illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only; or cloth-bound for 50 stamps.

President Toronto Conference.

Barrie, June 9.—Rev. John J. Redditt, for the past four years pastor of Collier Street Church, Barrie, was yesterday morning honored by election to the office of president of the Toronto Conference of the Methodist Church. It was the first item of business on the program of the conference. The election was keenly contested. The vote stood: Rev. Mr. Redditt received 95, Rev. Prof. Wallace 54, Dr. Barker 9, Dr. Speer 6, Rev. R. N. Burns 4, and M. S. Lovering 1.

PEOPLE FAVOR REPUBLIC.

What Norway May Do If King Oscar Does Not Give It a Prince For Its King.

Copenhagen, June 9.—It is reported that the Norwegian Government in view of King Oscar's apparently definite refusal to consider the offer of the Storthing to place a prince of the house of Bernadotte on the throne, has privately approached the Danish Royal family to ascertain if an offer of the throne would be received by a member of that family, preferably Prince Charles, son of the Crown Prince Frederick.

According to reports from Stockholm King Oscar may be induced to reverse his decision and to favorably regard the offer of the throne for a member of his house.

Authoritative information received from Norwegian circles represent the majority of Norwegians as opposed to giving the throne to a prince of the house of Bernadette. It is stated that if King Oscar should definitely refuse the throne for a member of his family, and that if the Danish Royal family should likewise refuse to place one of its princes on it, Norway will become a republic and that is favored by the mass of the people.

Kaiser May Interfere.

Crown Prince Gustave had a long interview on the crisis with Emperor William before he left Berlin, and it is understood that the Emperor is not unwilling to intervene in favor of the Swedish dynasty. The general opinion is that the Crown Prince was more irreconcilial4s to Norway's action than was his father, and there is no doubt that he induced King Oscar to veto the consular bill.

Malmo, Swedan, June 9.—Crown Prince Gustave received a tremendous ovation on his arrival here from a crowd of 10,000 persons.

Stockholm, June 9—Inhabitants of Stockholm to the number of several thousand assembled in front of Rosendal Castle this evening and made a demonstration of their loyalty to and affection for King Oscar.

WATER DEVASTATES MICHIGAN.

Grand Rapids Fighting Hard to Save North End Dyke.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 9.—The Grand River is still steadily rising here. The water here has now gone over Front street, south of Bridge street.

Many residences in the south end are completely surrounded by deep and swift currents. Workmen are struggling frantically to keep the north-end dyke from going to pieces, and it seems to be about an even chance whether they will succeed.

Communication has been partly re-established with White Hall, which has been isolated for sixty hours. The conditions on White River above the town are worse than had been expected. The damage to crops, bridges and dams will reach hundreds of thousands.

Three large dams at White Cloud, Herpseria and Ferry were washed completely away.

Nervous Dyspepsia.

Mr. George Bolen, Spry, Bruce Co, writes: "I was troubled with nervous dyspepsia for some years, and and after using nine boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I felt better than I had done for years. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is certainly the best medicine that I ever used, and I say it where it is due."

FRENCH REPLY BY EARL GREY.

His First Official Visit to Quebec — Guns Boomed.

Quebec, June 9.—Earl Grey paid his first official visit to Quebec yesterday, arriving at the King's Wharf in the afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Besides the guard of honor provided by the 9th Regiment, and the cavalry escort, furnished by the Q.O.C.H., a detachment of men from the R.C.G.A. and R.C.R. was in line on Dufferin-terrace, to keep the crowds back.

The Mayor read the civic address of welcome to Their Excellencies, to which Lord Grey replied in French.

A salute of 21 guns was fired from the citadel.

The Sultan Indifferent.

Tangier, June 9.—Gerard A. Lowther, British Minister to Morocco, presented his credentials to the Sultan yesterday. The ceremony was attended by the customary picturesque Moroccan display. Mr. Lowther in his speech, assured the Sultan of the sincerity of King Edward and the British Government in their desire for the welfare of Morocco. Throughout the interview the Sultan was impassive, almost indifferent. It is reported that private offers have been made to the Sultan of a loan of $25,000,000, and that the offer is supported by American capitalists.

OLYMPIC CLUB'S ANNUAL OUTING

"Greater, Grander, and Better" Than Ever Before.

A Perfect Day and a Perfect Trip—Members Highly Delighted.

The business men of the town who made pleasure a business yesterday, will hereafter make business a pleasure, the relaxing and invigourating effect of the glorious day upon the Olympic excursion will put new life into them and make business a pleasure, both to them and their patrons. The trip over the lift lock and through the upper lakes with their inspiring grandeur upon a perfect June day can scarcely fail to leave an indelible impression upon the business life of the town and the personality of the participants.

The provisions of the prospectus of the Olympic Club, "that old established amusement and happiness bureau, promoters of the Universal Enjoyment and Consolidated Happiness Company, (unlimited)" were yesterday generously fulfilled, upon the occasion of the annual trip of the Club to Stony Lake. The gifts of the gods of Olympus were amply vouchsafed and never upon the Plain of Elis strown a more resplendent sunlight of a glorious June Day, than which was yesterday so generously bestowed upon their chosen devotees.

The mellow flood of golden sunshine which filtered down from the lofty dome of celestial blue caused countless drops of perspiration, and lent an added radiance to the hectic "flush" peculiar to a condition bl declina, upon the delicate countenance of "Billy B unton," and caused the "fatherly" eye of "Bill" Robertson to glow with transcendent radiance. The serene balmy zephyrs of leafy June, as they floated across the Trent Canal, heavy laden with the delightful fragrance of the pine, the hemlock, the "Marguerite" and the "Arabella," filled with a gladsome delight the souls of the excursionists.

The party, which numbered 105 persons, including a number of out-of-town visitors, who annually visit here for the purpose of participating in the pleasures of the trip, embarked yesterday morning at 8 o'clock at the Wolfe street wharf upon the steamer "Stony Lake." Accompanying the excursion was also a detachment of the 57th Regiment Band, nineteen strong, under the leadership of Bandmaster Gliddon, who throughout the day furnished delightful popular and classic music, which added greatly to the pleasure of the outing. The members of the party — many for the first time were taken over the lift lock and, after a pleasant sail up the Trent Canal and thorugh the upper lakes as far as Burleigh where they arrived at about one o'clock.

Here dinner was served by Mine Host Darcy to which the party, with appetites duly whetted by the fresh bracing air of the lakes certainly did at least ample justice. The menu was delightful and created much appreciative commeat. The lemon pies for which this popular hostelry had in ye olden days a wide-spread reputation for excellence were yesterday of a quality which more than sustained it. The dinner was served in the new addition which has been made since the recent fire to the end of the "store" and which was prettily decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting.

After a stay of an hour or so the party left for a sail to Mount Julian, where they were shown the principal points of interest, by Mr. Thompson, the proprietor of the hotel. While here many also visited "Wiamede," the charming summer boarding house of Mrs. Graham, which opened this week.

The excursionists then took, as their objective point, McCracken's Landing, where a warm welcome was extended by Mr. Fred Morgan, the genial proprietor of the Victoria House, which has been open for some time. The house and grounds are in an attractive looking condition, the new wharf also being an added convenience.

After this the boat made its return trip to Burleigh for supper, and, after a stay of an hour or more, which was enlivened by several musical selections, departed for home, reaching Lakefield, after a pleasant sail, about ten o'clock. There a special train was in waiting to convey the pleasure seekers to their downy couches, arriving in town about 10.30, after a trip, which the members, without exception, enthusiastically declare to have been the most successful and thoroughly enjoyable of the many annual outings of the Olympic Club.

The party of yesterday was one thoroughly representative of the best interests of the town, being principally composed, of course, of our leading business and professional gentlemen to, whom the pleasures of this annual outing are looked forward to to such an extent that their chronology is divided, one might almost say, into a sort of yearly Olympiad, in much the same manner as arose the well known quadrennial periods of Ancient Greece. A number of prominent out of-town gentlemen also accompanied the expedition, and were most enthusiastic in expression of the pleasure and enjoyment which it had given them. The following prominent railway officials from a distance, who came especially for the event, were present: J. A. Goodsell, T. P. A., Southern Pacific Railway, Toronto; C. B. Foster, D.P.A., C.P.R., Toronto; B. H. Bennett, D.P.A., C. & N. W. Ry. Toronto; A. J. Taylor, D. P. A., C. M. & St. P., Toronto; W. T. Dockrell, T. P. A., C. P. R., Toronto. Mr. Kennedy, of the John Dick Manufacturing Co., Toronto, and Mr Smith, president of the Board of Trade, Campbellford, were also of the number.

The successful issue of the affair was directly due to the forethought and executive ability of Mr. W. S. Lech, Chief Agitator and Managing Director, who has, since the inception of the club, been a constant and untiring worker in its behalf. The gratitude and appreciation felt toward him by the members for his invaluable service during this and others years, was yesterday freely expressed.

The crew of the Stony Lake, by their constant attention and courtesy, contributed in no small degree to the delights of the trip.

CEREAL MILL WILL RESUME OPERATIONS

American Cereal Company Decides to Open Their Mill---The Reason Being That the Orders Cannot be Handled By the Arkon Mills---Freight Rate Situation Remains Unchanged—Mills Will Probably Open on Monday, June 19th---Oats Have Been Ordered and Now On thh Road.

Having heard a rumour that the works of the American Cereal Company will resume manufacturing operations in a few days, upon enquiry, it is learned that the rumour is well founded, and that the mills will resume again about 19th inst., or as soon as the supply of oats on the way is in such a position as to insure a steady run.

The railway rates situation is still unchanged, and the decision to start the local mills again is due to the fact that the Cedar Rapids mills having been destroyed by fire, the Akron mills are unable to handle alone both the local and export business. To permit of this business being looked after the Peterborough mills will be again set in motion. It is to be hoped that the matter of the discriminatory freight rates will receive prompt attention, and satisfactory solution at the hands of the Railway Commission. Our railways should help, rather than hinder, trade and business.

Mrs. McCollum, Gilmour street, and daughters, to the very deep regret of a wide circle of friends, seem to be residents of Peterborough. They went this morning to Stony Lake, where they will occupy their summer cottage, Halcyon Island, for the season, in the autumn taking possession of their Toronto residence, 125 Dele man avenue. The departure of this estimable family is very greatly regretted by the residents of Gilmour street, and neighbourhood, where their admirable excellence as neighbours will be much missed. Many an invalid and suffering neighbour will miss ministration so liberally bestowed. In the town generally their absence will be felt, and regretted, and, especially, in St. John's church, in which all the family have been faithful workers, Miss Alice having taught in the Sunday school for seven years. Miss Alma McCollum was also a zealous assistant in connection with the work of the Girls' Guild and Mission Band —in connection with the latter in the composition and arrangement of plays for local entertainments, and in connection with the Guild in training the members for entertainments. In slight recognition of these services, and as an expression of love and esteem, the members of the Guild and Mission Band, forwarded to her yesterday a beautiful enlarged photographic picture of St. John's church, richly framed, in ecclesiastical style, in water-colour oak. It was accompanied by this note: "With best wishes of members of the Girls' Guild and Mission Band, and other friends of the congregation, in appreciation of your work, in St. John's."

PLEA THAT WAR SHOULD CEASE

Mr. Roosevelt Issues a Note to Warring Nations—President Seeks Peace—Plea on Behalf of Humanity President of United States Suggests That No Intermediary is Necessary In the Negotiations---Note, Sent to Russia and Japan, Welcome to Both of Them.

Washington, June 10.—An identical note, the text of which by authority of the President, was made public late last night at the White House by Secretary Loeb, has been forwarded to the Governments of Russia and Japan by President Roosevelt. In the interest of humanity the President urges the warring nations to conclude peace. It is suggested by the President that the negotiations for peace be conducted, "directly and exclusively" between the belligerent nations. The note indicates the President's belief that an intermediary may not be necessary to effect conclusive negotiations, but likewise expresses the President's willingness to do all that he properly may do to promote the preliminary arrangements for a time and place of meeting of the representatives of the Russian and Japanese Governments.

Welcome To the Belligerents.

The note was forwarded to the Russian and Japanese Governments yesterday afternoon. It is rendered especially significant by the fact that it was prepared and sent only after assurances had been received from Tokio and St. Petersburg that such a proposition would be welcomed. While both Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador, and Mr. Takahira of Japan were cognizant of the nature of the note, it was not sent to their respective Governments through them. It was cabled by direction of the President to St. Petersburg and Tokio, and there delivered directly to the Russian and Japanese Governments respectively by Ambassador Meyer and Minister Griscom.

Peace on Battlefield.

St. Petersburg, June 10.—The Government is plainly preparing the public for the announcement that the Emperor has decided to conclude peace, and that negotiations have been begun by permitting the publication of all the foreign despatches bearing on the subject. The newspapers and the Russian public, however, until now have only had a suspicion that important moves were going on behind the scenes. In well-informed circles it is believed that Japan has already instructed Field Marshall Oyama to stay his hand pending the result of the present tentative negotiations, and that Gen. Linevitch also has been confidentially advised of the situation. Nevertheless the irreconcilable remnants of the war party are believed to be urging the Commander-in-chief to assume the offensive in the hope of achieving a victory, and thus change the Emperor's present disposition in favor of the conclusion of hostilities.

RUSSIAN ADMIRAL THANKED.

Includes Those Who Have "Honorably Done Their Duty."

St. Petersburg, June 10.—Emperor Nicholas has cabled the following message to Admiral Rojestvensky:

"From my heart I thank you, and all the officers of the squadron who have honorably done their duty for your unselfish work for Russia and for me. By the will of the Almighty success was not destined to crown your endeavors, but your boundless bravery win always be a source of pride to the country. I wish you a speedy recovery. May God console you all. (Signed) Nicholas."

The peculiar wording of the message is attracting attention. The restriction of the Emperor's thanks to those honorably doing their duty is fanning the ugly talk regarding the surrender of ships and the conduct of some of the crews.

The messages of Admiral Enquist and Capt. Chagin of the Russian cruiser Almaz did not contain any intimation of misbehavior on the part of officers and crews, and added that the officers and men may be consoled by the thought that they performed their sacred duty.

All Attacks Repulsed.

Tokio, June 10.—Army headquarters has given out the following:

"A detachment of our forces, which advanced from Lianshuichnan, two miles east of Chenchangtsu, dislodging one company of foot and fifty horse of the enemy holding the hills north of that place, at 3 o'clock on the morning of June 7, occupied an eminence east of Chapengan, and four miles northeast of Chenchangtsu.

"At 6 o'clock on the same morning the enemy attempted an attack on Soufangtao, ten miles north of Changtu, and on Taotun, five miles northwest of Changtu, and on Shihtiuli, two miles north of Laotun. All attacks were repulsed."

100 Shot at Minsk.

London, June 10.—The Times' St. Petersburg correspondent reports that there have been severe rioting at Minsk, during which nearly 100 persons were shot.

Railway Sues the Crown.

Ottawa, June 10.—The Exchequer Court yesterday heard the claim of the Atlantic and Lake Superior Railway Co. against the Crown for a million and a half dollars. The company claims that twelve years ago the Dominion Government guaranteed an issue of railway bonds, but that in 1895, when the bonds were offered in London, the bonds were repudiated. The Crown denies that any guarantee was ever given by the Government. Negotiations had been begun, but no final contract made.

Alfonso's Last Day.

London, June 10.—Yesterday was the last day of King Alfonso's stay in London. He leaves here early this morning for Spain.

King Edward has accepted from King Alfonso the colonelcy-in-chief of a Spanish regiment, and if it is possible His Majesty will visit Spain in 1906.

Big Sister's Bow.

A little four-year- old girl while calling on a neighbor was asked, "Is Mr. Hutchingson your sister's beau?" She did not make any reply, but on arriving home she ran to her sister and eagerly inquired, "Eva, is Mr. Hutchingson your ribbon?"

TRADE WITH THE WEST INDIES

Ocean Service Discussed in The House.

Matter to be Taken up Again—Premiers New Role.

Ottawa, June 10.—A listless attitude was characteristic of a very slim House yesterday, and absolutely nothing to arouse the interest of the bare quorum present occurred while the estimates of the Trade and Commerce Department were under consideration. The Premier took charge of the estimates, and displayed an intimate knowledge of the details of the administration of the Department, which is presided over by his old colleague and political friend, Sir Richard Cartwright. All the items for that Department having passed, the Minister of Finance proposed at 9.50 to take up the items for harbors and rivers for Nova Scotia, but Mr. Henderson (Halton), who was leading the half dozen members on the Opposition benches, appealed to the Government not to take advantage of the defenceless position of the Opposition, and suggested an adjournment. As a compromise a number of non-controversial items were taken up and disposed of.

Mr. Bureau introduced a bill respecting the St. Maurice Valley Railway Co.

West India Service.

The first item to come up in committee of supply was the appropriation of $80,700 for steamship service between St. John and Halifax and the West Indies and South America. Mr. Fielding explained that Pickford & Black, the contractors, wished to abandon the port of St. John in order that the voyages might be shortened. This did not meet the views of H. B. Ames (Montreal), who urged that this would diminish the usefulness of already far too inadequate a service, and contended that the service should be extended to Montreal. Under existing conditions most of the shipments from Toronto and Montreal went to the West Indies via New York. Mr. Fielding gave it as his opinion that if Montreal were to be made the terminus for the trade it could only be done by an independent line.

Advocates Larger Subsidy.

Mr. Foster thought that as there was a possibility of a union between Canada and the West Indies some time in the future, every effort should be made to encourage trade. He even went the length of advocating a larger subsidy, and in the end the lines could become self-sustaining. Mr. Foster said that in his opinion no change should be made this year, but next year the Government should have a conference with the Boards of Trade of Toronto, Montreal, Halifax, St. John and other cities on the problem. The item was finally laid over in order that the Minister might have an opportunity of getting further information.

During the discussion of an item of $125,000 for the Pacific cable the Finance Minister explained that this represented Canada's share of the loss incurred in the operation of the all-British Pacific cable during the year. The project was likely to improve financially. He expected some good would result from the approaching cable conference at which Sir William Mulock would represent Canada.

ON A SERIOUS CHARGE.

Mrs. Wm. Diamond Accused of Poisoning Daughter-in-Law.

Belleville, June 10.—Inspector Murray will to-day lay an information against Mrs. Wm. Diamond of Queensboro, charging her with having caused the death of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Harry Diamond. It is likely that the prisoner will be brought here to the county jail.

Mrs. Diamond died on Feb. 28. She and her husband lived with the latter's mother and the women did not agree. Diamond complained of feeling unwell and his wife prepared a dose of salts, which however he did not take. His wife placed the mixture in the pantry to take herself next morning. After breakfast she was taken ill, seized with convulsions and died, after expressing the belief that someone must have put something in the salts.

The provincial analyst has reported that strychnine was found in the woman's stomach.

Mrs. Wm. Diamond has sworn that she never purchased strychnine nor had any on the premises. W. J. Atkins of Madoc, druggist, has an entry of July 19, 1902, showing a sale of five cents worth of the poison to her.

As the magistrate is away, the preliminary inquiry will not begin until June 17.

GUELPH HORSE SHOW.

Pepper & Co., A. Yeager and Hon. Adam Beck Were the Principal Winners.

Guelph, June 10.—The second day of the Guelph Horse Show passed off most successfully. The attendance numbered nearly 4,000 people, and included many from outside points. Three excursions were in the city from Centre Wellington, West Middlesex and Stratford, and the majority of the excursionists took advantage of the opportunity and attended the show. The different events were closely contested, and Pepper & Co., A. Yeager and Hon. Adam Beck were the principal prize winners. From a social point of view it was a brilliant function, and the ladies contributed largely to its success. Dr. McKinnon of Coningsby won the silver cup for the champion draught horse.

Accused of Selling Stolen Furs.

Amherstburg, June 10.—James C. Gibbs, a prominent farmer of this township, has been taken to Windsor by Provincial Detectives Campan and Mahoney for examination on the charge of receiving stolen property. Last fall the Bishop Fur Co. of Wyandotte, Mich., lost a quantity of furs. It is alleged they were stolen by residents of Wyandotte, who brought a quantity of them across the river and left them with Gibbs, who disposed of them to farmers in Malden and Anderson townships.

NORWAY TO HAVE NEW TRI-COLOUR FLAG

Tri-Colour Replaces Union Ensign on Every Flagstaff---Vast Assemblage of Enthusiastic Norwegians, Numbering 30,000, Witness the Ceremony at Akershus Fort---Break Out Into Singing "Yes, We Love This Country"---Consuls Resign Their Positions.

Christiania, Norway, June 10.—The Norwegian tricolor was hoisted yesterday morning over Akershus Fort and throughout the country in place of the Union flag. The substitution was attended by great ceremony at the fort, where the members of the Storthing were assembled, and 30,000 of the public witnessed the event from points of vantage. The garrison was paraded in front of the quarters of the commandant of the fort, and the commandant read the resolution of the Storthing dissolving the union with Sweden.

As the clock in the tower of the fort chimed 10 the Union flag, which had floated there since 1814, was hauled down, the troops presented arms, the band played the patriotic air, "Sons of Norway," and after only a momentary interim the first gun of a national salute boomed, the new flag was broken out, and the troops again presented arms. The people then uncovered and cheered wildly, the band adding to the general enthusiasm by playing the popular air, "Yes, We Love This Country." First one and then another took up the words of the song until the whole crowd joined in, after which round after round of cheering again greeted the flag. Three cheers were next given for the fatherland, and the singing of the National Anthem concluded the ceremony.

Baron Von Wedel-Jarlsberg, who has been the Minister of Sweden and Norway at Madrid, and who is a Norwegian, left the Spanish capital yesterday for Christiania. He has telegraphed asking to be immediately relieved of the post owing to the dissolution of the union. His example will be followed by the Ministers at Washington and Rome, both of whom are Norwegians.

A telegram from Bjornstjerne Bjornson, the Norwegian dramatist, published here yesterday, sums up the popular feeling as follows: "The address to the King is an expression of the will of the entire Norwegian people. The dissolution of the union is a blessing for the entire north."

Crown Prince Welcomed.

Stockholm, June 10.—Crown Prince Gustave on his return from Berlin yesterday was met by the Royal family, the Ministers and a large crowd of people, who cheered him enthusiastically. The city is decorated with flags.

Hungary Congratulates.

Budapest, June 10.—The members of the Parliamentary Opposition party are sending an address to the Norwegian Storthing wishing it success in any constitutional fight, and saying that Hungary, encouraged by the example of Norway, will fight with redoubled strength to secure her national rights.

No King, Then Republic.

Copenhagen, June 10.—All hope that King Oscar or Crown Prince Gustave will yield to the request of the Norwegian Storthing to place a Prince of the house of Bernadotte on the throne of Norway has now disappeared, according to a high authority. The Danish royal family has also set the stamp of disapproval on the acceptance of the throne by a Danish Prince. It is understood that arrangements are actually being made for a national convention in Norway, and this will inevitably result in the declaration of a republic, Dr. Nansen, the Arctic explorer, is mentioned for the Presidency.

NO FEAR OF YELLOW PERIL

Rev. W. W. Shaw Talks Interestingly on Questions in Far East.

An Interview With Baltimore News—Father of Mr. W. G. Shaw, of Town.

The Baltimore News of a recent date contains an interview with Rev. W. W. Shaw, pastor of the Gooans' Presbyterian church, of that city, who for eight years was a missionary. The interview, in which much interesting information was given, will be of interest to many in Peterborough, by reason of the fact that Rev. Mr. Shaw is the father of Mr. W. G. Shaw, of town.

For the last three years, Mr. Shaw has lectured many times on the Japanese and Chinese questions, and he has followed closely every movement of the Russian and Japanese armies and navies since war was declared.

He believes the outcome of the struggle will be the supremacy of Japan as a powerful world power and the declination of Russia as a factor, but he expresses no fear of the "yellow peril," and points out that the Japanese are anxious to adopt Christian methods.

"I spent eight years in Manchuria," he said, "and passed through Japan going and coming. The conditions in the Far East interested me, and I studied them zealously and have followed events closely since my return to America.

"This war was bound to take place sooner or later. It was practically a war of self-defence for the Japanese. They were not fighting for Manchuria. For over a century Russia has been steadily working eastward in Asia. Her desire has been to secure an ice-free port in the East. All her European seaports are dominated by other powers.

"She tried for years to get a port on the Persian Gulf, but so far, Great Britain has blocked her way. She does not want Russia so near her Northwestern frontier.

"Russia secured Vladivostok, in the extreme east of Asia, but this is ice-bound for nearly half the year. Her efforts, therefore, has been to work gradually south until she secured an ice-free port such as she wished.

"In carrying out this purpose for the last 50 years China's extremity has been Russia's opportunity. Each time that China was embroiled with foreign powers, Russia took advantage of this to secure some additional slice of Canada's territory.

"Step by step she has come south until she found herself practically in possession of Manchuria and a good part of Korea.

"After the Japanese-Chinese War, about ten years ago, Russia vigorously protested against Japan retaining possession of Port Arthur and was successful in inducing the other powers to demand Japan's withdrawal from Port Arthur. Within two years from that time Russia herself quietly took possession of Port Arthur and proceeded to establish herself in Manchuria. Rusia's ultimate aim was to dominate all Asia. Her chief rival, was of course Great Britain, in India, and, for the present at least she felt herself quite unable to uproot British influence in India.

"The only other rival she took into consideration was Japan. She did not think China worth counting, and the destruction of Japanese independence she considered to be easily within her powar. The results of the war so far have shown how utterly she was mistaken in these calculations.

"Japan has no desire for the acquisition of territory, either in Manchuria or Korea, but she was profoundly concerned for her own national existence. It is only within the last 50 years that she has begun to realize the possibilities of being one of the world powers, and she did not propose to give up her hopes of such a position without a struggle. Consequently, for six or eight years she has been quietly preparing for the struggle, which no one knew better than herself was inevitable.

"The marvellous thoroughness and complete mastery of detail which she has exhibited in this preparation, have astounded the world. Nothing was left undone that could possibly have been done to make the issue the struggle that she wished it to be.

"She has shown marvellous adaptability in making the fullest use of the experience and knowledge of other nations in matters of war. She has availed herself of all sources of information which she could command from the great world Powers, and in not a few points has gone beyond her teachers. One might easily find causes which account for the result of the war so far.

"In the first place so far as Russia is concerned she made the fatal mistake of despising her foe. She imagined that a show of force would be amply sufficient to dissipate all Japanese interference with her plans. As a consequence she entered into this war with but little preparation.

"Secondly, she was under the disadvantage of carrying on the campaign far from the home base. The Trans-Siberian Railway had been built too hastily to cope with such tremendous problems of transportation as were put upon it.

"In the third place this war was wholly unpopular with the Russian people. It was not a war of self-defense, nor was there any inspiring cause back of it to raise national enthusiasm. It was wholly a war for territorial aggrandizement, and as the territory concerned was thousands of miles away from Russia the mass of the people took but little interest in it. Those who led the nation into this war were members of the bureaucracy, who were not in the habit of consulting the wishes of the people.

"Concerning the question of the 'yellow peril,' of which one hears and reads, so much to-day, it need not be seriously considered. Every nation has an inalienable right to develop to its highest possibilities, and certainly Americans would be the last people in the world to deny that right to any people. The only danger may lie in the Japanese making full use of every material advantage of their position without high moral ideals.

"Much, however, can be said to show that Japan appreciates the lofty teaching of Christianity, and that it is more and more influencing the life of her people. Of the chief officers of her army and navy (including Togo) 165 are Christian men. No less than five of her leading admirals and generals are elders in the native Presbyterian church. While it would of course be an entire mistake to call Japan a Christian nation, yet Christianity as a factor in the national life is steadily increasing."

MR. E. C. SCIGLEY'S NEW TITLE

Successfully Passed Chartered Accountant's Examination.

Mr. E. C. Scrigley, of the Collegiate Institute staff, received word this morning that he had successfully passed the Chartered Accountants examination, upon which he wrote in Toronto some week ago. Mr. Scrigle's hosts of friends in town, will unite in expressing their hearty congratulations upon his success, and feel that he will acquit himself creditably, even if he does have to come into competition with Mr. Thorn, the financial expert recently imported (duty free, and in defiance of the alien labour act) from the United States, by Hon. Mr. Hanna.

STONY LAKE PROPERLY EQUIPPED

With Regulation Resort Curiousity.

With the opening of the summer season the rivalry between the various resorts becomes intensified, and their respective claims are vigourously pressed. No respectable and high-class summer resort would, of course, be unblushing enough to put forth a claim for popularity unless supplied with the sea-serpent, which annually makes its appearance. Stony Lake, however, can this year go one better than all its competitors in this respect. Owing to the keen business acumen of Mr. W. R. McCracken, of McCracken's Landing, Mr. McCracken stated to a member of the Olympic excursion Thursday that he had seen at the hour of 9.05 a. m., upon the morning of June 1st, a mermaid emerge from the water. Mr. McCracken at the time seated upon the dock. He states that he endeavoured to close a contract for the season, but the mermaid had recollections of the fate of the porters of Mrs. Patrick Campbell, in Montreal, and was obliged to decline. That Mr. McCracken was not guilty of perpetrating a "low-down" fish story and practicing upon the infantile credulity of his auditors, was evidenced by his serious and composed manner, and the minute verification of the details of the narrative. To quote McCracken's own words "It was an object about five feet in length. It's hair was black, and was done up in curl-papers, this being necessary because of the dampness. It was half girl and half—", here Mr. McCracken hesitated with evident embarrassment. "If I told the rest she might be took up for vagrancy before Mr. Dumble." "But why?" gasped one with wide-open countenance. "Well, ye see, mister, though I ain't naterally at all curious, I need purty quick that she had no visible means of support". The gathering dispersed.

Welland, Ont., June 9th. — (Special.) — J. J. Yokom, a prominent merchant of this city, is telling his friends of his remarkable cure of a terrible Kidney Disease, by Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Yokom's statement is as follows:

"For more than a year I had been ailing with kidney trouble in its worst form. I had a distressed feeling in my head, little or no appetite, and a feeling of languor. I became greatly reduced in weight.

"Doctors and medicines failing to give me any relief I became despondent, when, by good luck, I chanced to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and from the first they seemed to suit my case. After taking five boxes the old trouble had gradually disappeared and I was feeling better than I had in many years."

MAY DEVELOP INTO A GREAT INDUSTRY

"The Framery" Starts to Manufacture Silent Salesmen.

Mr. H. Dunslow, of The Framery, to-day made contracts to instal two fine silent salesman showcases in Mr. S. Ray's cigar store and a large ornamented bevel plate mirror in Misses Allan and Fallon's millinery establishment. He reports that he has an unprecedented number of enquiries for interior decorations of this class this spring, which goes to show that our merchants are looking forward confidently for a continuance of the present era of prosperity. The showcases and woodwork will be manufactured at the "Framery", where Mr. Dunslow is installing a plant to turn out silent salesmen show cases. He claims to be able to do up at figures twenty-five per cent. below the usual Toronto prices, mainly owing to the heavy expense of selling which the outside firms have to contend with, and the lower general rate of expense for power, etc. here.

Indigestion and Headache.

Mr. Duncan McPherson, Content, Alberta, writes: "I was for many years troubled with indigestion and headache and derived no relief from the many remedies I used. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after taking four boxes the result is that I am once more in the full enjoyment of the blessings of good health."

PROFANE LANGUAGE MUST BE STOPPED

In Their Practice of Loafing and Using Bad Language in Fifth Ward.

Chief of police Roazel received the following letter signed by a prominent gentleman,—

Peterborough, June 8th,
Chief of Police, town.

Dear Sir,—"There is a large congregation of boys in the old cricket grounds and in the village pound, almost everyday but more especially in the evening, who create a disturbance to the people of the neighbourhood, by using bad and profane language.

"I do not for a moment, want to try to prevent the boys playing or enjoying themselves so long as they do it in a proper way.

"This afternoon there were a large a large crowd of young men along with the boys in the field, and it was something very dirty the way they carried on, singing dirty songs and using profane language. The same dirty language is used there all the time.

"I should be very glad if this matter were attended to as this practice of collecting at that place is a most abominable nuisance.

The chief considers this a very serious affair and if these boys do not take warning, prompt steps will be taken to stop it.

GOOD MARKET THIS MORNING

Attendance Good—Prices About the Same as Last Week.

There was a good sized market this morning, prices being good. A large quantity of potatoes were offered at 70 and 75c per bag. This article of food was in great demand and several parties sold their loads entire to one person, one man getting 75c for a large load. Apples were scarce and sold at 15c a peck A large quantity of the smaller vegetables were seen.

Upstairs the attendance was good and those who had produce to dispose of had no difficulty in doing so. Butter went at 20c down; eggs at 15c. Chickens were plentiful and sold at 60 to 75c per pair, according to size.

Hay was plentiful and sold at $9 per ton for the best hay, and proportionately less for poorer stuff. There was little of the latter seen, however.

LUXURY IN TRAVEL.

Lord Hawke's High Opinion of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

"Lord Hawke is a judge of comfort in travel, if any man is," says the London, Eng., Canadian Gazette, which adds: "Last week he returned from India and Japan by way of the Pacific and Canada, and we can well believe how every Canadian Pacific Railway official will blush as he reads what the famous cricketer has to say in the Sheffield Daily Telegraph. "I have never known such a company as the Canadian Pacific Railway," says he: "the travelling is luxury. Everyone on the whole line is civil, kind and willing to do everything to add to one's comfort. As to the journey across the Rockies it was superb. Once we had the rare experience of one engine at the front of a second, with a third pushing its hardest at the rear. We shouldn't have got up otherwise. I was with Lord and Lady Castlereagh on that part of the trip and we couldn't have had a finer time of it. The scenery was wonderful and the weather was grand. I was riding on the engine part of the way across." Writing to a friend Lord Hawke says: "Everyone (in Canada,) was goodness itself and I should like to add how much I admired the wonderful management of the Canadian Pacific Railway."

IN MEMORIAM.

In memoriam of Mrs. Robert Weaver, who died November 25th, 1904.

Dearest sister, thou hast left us,
And your face we see no more,
But you're happy with the angels,
On that bright and golden shore.

Departed from the home she loved,
And from this world of care,
With arms outstretched to Heaven above
With joy she entered there.

Her husband and her children dear,
Are left behind to mourn,
The family circle's broken,
And her loved ones left alone.

The precious one, from us is gone,
A voice we loved is still,
Her place is empty in our home,
Which never can be filled.

We loved her, yes, we loved her,
But Jesus loved her more,
And He has sweetly called her
To yonder golden shore.

God, in his wisdom, has recalled,
The boon his love had given,
And though the body mouldern here,
Her soul is safe in Heaven.

The golden gates were opened,
A loving voice said come,
And with farewells unspoken,
With joy she entered home.

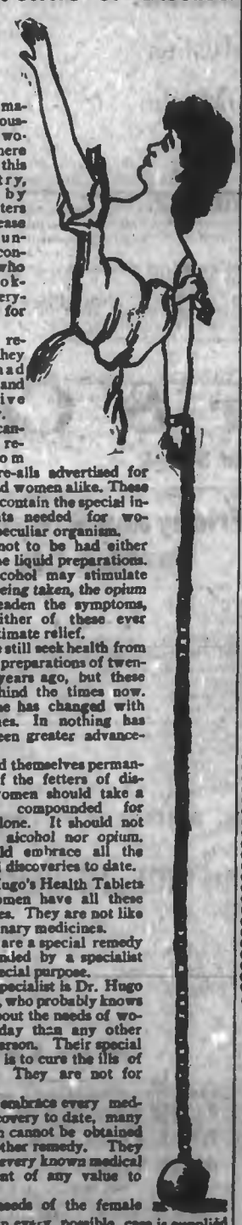
Looking for Relief from the Fetters of Disease.



How many thousands of women there are in this country, bound by the fetters of disease or a run-down condition, who are looking everywhere for relief? Until recently they have had no safe and effective remedy. They cannot get relief from the cure-alls advertised for men and women alike. These do not contain the special ingredients needed for woman's peculiar organism.

It is not to be had either from the liquid preparations. The alcohol may stimulate while being taken, the opium may deaden the symptoms, but neither of these ever give ultimate relief.

Some still seek health from the old preparations of twenty-five years ago, but these are behind the times now. Medicine has changed with the times. In nothing has there been greater advancement.

To rid themselves permanently of the fetters of disease, women should take a remedy compounded for them alone. It should not contain alcohol nor opium. It should embrace all the medical discoveries to date.

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women have all these requisites. They are not like the ordinary medicines.

They are a special remedy compounded by a specialist for a special purpose.

The specialist is Dr. Hugo of Paris, who probably knows more about the needs of women to-day than any other living person. Their special purpose is to cure the ills of women. They are not for men.

They embrace every medical discovery to date, many of which cannot be obtained in any other remedy. They include every known medical ingredient of any value to women.

The needs of the female system in every possible case is supplied by them. They take away that tired feeling, nervousness, and irritability which comes from a run-down condition.

The tablets will cure all menstruation and uterine trouble even when chronic. They take away the backache, constipation, and dragging-down pains which are symptoms of some serious disorder.

A woman would be foolish to go through life with fetters on her wrist, without trying to get rid of them. She is just as foolish to remain fettered by disease or that tired feeling, which comes from a run-down condition. She don't have to. One box of Health Tablets will prove it.

There are 72 tablets in every box—enough for an extended treatment. The cost is small, the results are great.

Even if other remedies have failed, Dr. Hugo's remedy will not. They make healthy women.

LIBRARY CONTAINED BURGLAR.

Who Got Away With $5,000 in Gems on View There.

Vancouver, B. C., June 9.—A burglar stowed himself away in the Carnegie Library after it had closed Wednesday night, and ransacked the museum, located on the upper floor, securing a number of coins, gold, nuggets, and gems, the latter which had been placed on exhibition as a loan by Rev. Dr. R. G. Grant, securing about $5,000 worth, while many specimens cannot probably be duplicated.

The burglar must have hidden away while the librarian was closing up, as the front door was not tampered with and the window in the basement was found open, through which he departed.

CORPORATIONS TO BE TAXED.

Next Year They Will Have to Pay On Net Earnings in Manitoba.

Melita, Man., June 10.—Speaking here last night at the annual meeting of the Arthur Conservative Association Hon. Robert Rogers, Minister of Public Works, made an announcement that will affect almost every corporation operating within the confines of the Province, including railway, express, telephone, telegraph and street railway companies. In a word the Provincial Government proposes to tax the net earnings of all these corporations, and will bring in a bill to that effect at the next session of the Legislature, becoming operative next year.

Enquiet Must Stay.

Manila, June 8.—Rear-Admiral Enquist received at 1 o'clock this morning, the following cable despatch from St. Petersburg:

"Remain at Manila at the disposition of the American Government." Effect repairs as much as possible. (Signed) Nicholas."

Incensed Against the U. S.

St. Petersburg, June 8.—The Russian press, notably The Novoe Vremya and The Ruse, the latter frequently reflecting the views of the Foreign Office, display a great deal of resentment against the United States for enforcing the 24-hours' rule in the case of the three Russian cruisers at Manila.

British Vessel Searched.

Nagasaki, June 8.—The British steamer Chiyrnum, chartered by the Mitsui Russian Steamship Co. of Tokio, bounded from Shanghai for Kobe, Japan, was stopped on June 8 eighty miles from the bell buoy off the entrance to Woosung by the Russian transport Rion. A boarding party, after the steamer's paper had been examined, removed her hatches and threw overboard 31 bags of beans, 125 bales of cotton and 13 boxes of antimony. The Russians left again suddenly, stating that the steamer was released. It is supposed that they received a wireless message announcing the approach of Japanese warships.

With the Armies.

Tokio, June 8.—A despatch from the headquarters of the Japanese armies in the field, made public yesterday afternoon, says:

"The enemy's infantry, strength not mentioned, attacked Machatun, two miles north of Weiyuampao, early in the morning, June 6, but were repulsed.

"The same day our force, which had advanced to Chahotse, nine miles east of Chantu, dislodged the enemy heading for that vicinity and occupied a neighboring eminence. A portion of our cavalry drove the enemy northward toward Chichiatgu, 15 miles north of Kwangping and Machittun, seven miles east or Chipaitu, and our troops occupied their vicinities."

KILLS AS WELL AS TORTURES

Fatal Results From Indigestion Unless Promptly Cured—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets the One Sure Cure.

Don't imagine because you say the pains and aches and discomforts that follow a hearty meal are "only indigestion" that you are not wrestling with a dangerous malady.

Indigestion not only tortures; it kills. It weakens the body so that it is an easy mark for infectious diseases. It is the cause of Appendicitis. The time to check it is now. The means of checking and curing it is Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. The proof is thousands of cures like that of Ademard Dodorre, of St. Jacques de L'Achigon, Que. Mr. Coderre writes:—

"I suffered from Dyspepsia caused by inflammation of the stomach, I tried different medicines without getting any relief, when hearing of cures by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets led me to try them. Two boxes cured me completely."

PERSONALLY CONDUCTED TOUR

To California and Lewis and Clarke Exposition, Portland, Oregon.

A personally conducted excursion to the Pacific Coast via The Grand Trunk Railway System and connecting lines, leaves Quebec July 5th, and Montreal and Toronto July 6th. The route will be via Chicago, and thence through Council Bluffs to Omaha, Denver and Colorado Springs. Stops will be made at each of these places, and side trips taken to Manitou, Cripple Creek, Garden of the Gods, etc. From there the party will continue through the famous scenic route of the Denver and Rio Grande, through the Royal Gorge, to Salt Lake City, thence to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Mount Shasta, Portland, Oregon, Seattle Spokane, and home through St. Paul and Minneapolis. The trip will occupy about thirty days, ten days being spent on the Pacific Coast.

The price for the round trip, including railroad fare, Pullman tourist sleeping cars, all meals in the dining car, hotels, side trips, etc., is $165.00 from Quebec, or $160.00 from Montreal, and $158.00 from Toronto. CANADA GIVES AND TAKES.

Differences in Trade in Agricultural Products With the United States

—An Instructive Return.

A return just brought down, in answer to a motion in the House of Commons of Mr. Clements of Kent, shows the import and export figures of certain agricultural products as between Canada and the United States. In 1903 Canada imported 37,527 head (value $472,689) of horned cattle, paying $84,527 thereon; in 1904 $6,456 head ($412,264), with $82,452 duty, all of which, less about a thousand head, went into the Northwest Territories. In these years Canada's imports exceeded 20,000 horses per year, valued at $800,000, the great bulk of which went into Manitoba and the Territories. The duty on these was about $160,000 a year. Canada bought 20,000 pounds of beans from the States, each of these years. British Columbia imports more beans than any other Province.

Canada imported and paid duty on 813,275 pounds of corn in 1903 and 1,112,428 pounds in 1904, yielding over $83,000 in this latter year. All this was for distilling. Our import of free corn in 1903 was 6,032,896 pounds, and in 1904 9,687,152, in this latter year valued at almost five millions of dollars. This great increase in imports of corn is surprising. Quebec alone imported nearly 7,000,000 pounds of corn. We bought over 500,000 dozen eggs from the United States in 1903 and double as many in 1904. It is the Yukon, British Columbia, and the Territories that buy most of these eggs.

Canada does not buy much butter from the States. British Columbia buys some 2,000 barrels a year of United States apples, the rest of Canada 21,000 barrels. We imported each of these years over five and a half Million pounds of Yankee pork, over two-fifths of which goes to Quebec. Ontario takes half as much. We brought in less than $100,000 worth of canned goods, mostly in British Columbia and the Yukon. We import about 600 horses a year for improvement of stock and 700 head of cattle. These are duty free. We import nearly 3,000,000 of free hides from the United States, also about two million pounds of wool. We bring in 14,000,000 pounds a year of unmanufactured tobacco.

We exported to the United States less than 2,000 horses, only 2,500 head of cattle, only two-thirds the quantity of hides, imported only 35,000 dozen eggs; two million dollars' worth of hay in 1903 and half that in 1904. Here are the tariffs of the two countries on the agricultural products; Canadian duty, 1903 and 1904—Horses and cattle for improvement of stock, free; horses, cattle, 20 per cent.; butter, 4 cents a pound; hides, free; eggs, 3 cents a dozen; pork, salt, 2 cents, fresh, 3 cents a pound; corn, for distillation, seven and a half cents a bushel; all other corn free; hay, $2 a ton. United States duties—Horse, $30 each; cattle, 27 1-2 per cent.; pork, 2 cents; bacon, 5 cents; Indian corn, 15 cents per bushel; tobacco, $50 p.k., 35 cents a pound; wool, 4 to 36 cents a pound; hay, $4 a ton; eggs, 5 cents dozen; hides of cattle, 15 per cent; beans, 45 cents per bushel.

Six Brave Canadian Girls.

In an attempt to save the life of little Olive Clegg, six girl friends, members of the Girls' Friendly Society of St. George's Church, Hamilton, went to St. Joseph's Hospital a few days ago and one after another submitted to being placed on operating tables to have pieces of cuticle removed from their bodies to be placed on the head of the little sufferer. The child was adjusting belt in Miss Connor's tailoring shop when he hair caught in the machinery, and in an instant her scalp was torn completely off.

She hovered between life and death for days, and Dr. McNichol decided the girl's only chance for life rested on a skin-grafing operation. The first to volunteer were the two brothers of the lady in whose place the child met with the accident, James and Thomas Connor, who reside on York street, near the Dundurn. In all twenty-seven pieces of skin were taken from their bodies, but this was not sufficient, and Dr. McNichol found it necessary to ask for more. The six young ladies of the Girls' Friendly Society, of which Olive was a member, then volunteered. Their names are Jesse Williams, Edith Smith, E. Gardner, Emma Gillies, Marion Marshall and Rose Bowden. They are all getting along nicely.

Canada's Long Frontier.

The Earl of Meath, in an article on the defence of the Empire in The Nineteenth Century, referring to the Canadian frontier, says: "It is earnestly to be hoped that we never shall be at war with our friends in the United States, but still it is only right for a nation to consider all eventualities. Because we hope never to go to war, we ought not to neglect to be prepared for war, even against those whom we think there is little chance of ever having to contend. Here we have a frontier 3,000 miles long to defend. It is absolutely necessary for the Empire that we should have predominance of the sea. We should be starved out if we failed to maintain that predominance. Moreover we should be unable to defend our Empire by conveying our troops across the ocean. On the other hand, we must remember that although we may possess that predominant power at sea, still it will not in any way prevent certain nations from being able to make land attacks upon us, of which the United States might be one."

Lake Temagami Islands.

The Ontario Government will not sell any more of the Lake Temagami Islands. Instead they will be leased for a term of years, and under certain regulations, the infraction of which will result in the cancellation of the lease. It is probable that a clause of the lease will give the right to purchase at the end of the stipulated period if the lessee has lived up to the conditions. There are over 1,200 islands in the lake, which is one of the most beautiful of Ontario's summer resorts, and very few of them have been sold. The last sale, it is said, took place some ten years ago. The building of the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway has made access to the lake quite easy, and as several steamers will ply on its water this summer, tourists and campers will have few difficulties in respect to transportation. There are a number of applications on file for the purchase or lease of islands in the lake, but these will not be considered, having been received prior to the adoption of a policy in regard to the islands. The widest publicity will be given by advertisement to the Government's intentions, and the new applications will be dealt with as received. The Government will retain the mineral and the usual Crown rights.

DICKEN'S TRIBUTE TO NIAGARA.

Power Spoliation Moves a Yankee Paper to Reproduce It.

Now that two-fifths of the volume of Niagara Falls has already been diverted for commercial purposes and legislative action has become imperative to save the falls, it is interesting to recall Charles Dickens' tribute to Niagara, says the Des Moines (Iowa) Register and Leader. It will be found in his much maligned "American Notes."

Imagine Dickens returning to life and to America to-day, gazing upon the lessened Niagara, with its environs obscured by the smoke of a dozen factories, in his ears the dinning of hundreds upon hundreds of whirring wheels, in his eyes the waning glory of nature's grandest waterfall commingling with towering chimneys and unsightly buildings, and then dashing off this impassioned tribute:

"Then I felt how near my Creator I was standing; the first effect, and the enduring one—instant and lasting— of the tremendous spectacle, was peace; peace of mind, tranquility, calm recollections of the dead, great thoughts of eternal rest and happiness; nothing of gloom or terror. Niagara was at once stamped upon my heart a mirage of beauty; to remain there, changeless and indelible, until its pulses cease to beat, forever.

"Oh, how the strife and trouble of daily life receded from my view and lessened in the distance, during the ten memorable days we passed on that enchanting ground! What voices spoke from the thundering water; what faces, faded from the earth, looked out upon me from its gleaming depths; what heavenly promise glistened in those angels' tears, the drops of many lives, that showered around, and turned themselves about the gorgeous arches which the changing rainbows made! * * * *

"I think in every quiet season now, still do those waters roar and leap and roar and tumble all day long; still are the rainbows spanning them a hundred feet below. Still, when the sun is on them, do they shine and glow like molten gold. Still, when the day is gloomy, do they fall like snow, or stoop to crumble away like the front of a great chalk cliff, or roll down the rock like dense white smoke. But always does the mighty stream appear to die as it comes down, and always from its fathomless grave arises that tremendous ghost of spray and mist which is never laid; which has haunted this place with the same dread solemnity since darkness brooded on the deep, and that first flood before the deluge—light—came rushing on creation at the word of God."

Shot the Wild Man.

Capt. Owen, pilot, reported in Victoria, B. C., recently that Indians had seen and shot at the wild man previously reported to have been seen near Qualicum. The creature, which was naked and covered with hair, was engaged in digging clams with his hands when the Indians came, and, thinking him a bear, shot at him and wounded him. The man ran away shrieking. The Indians returned to Union much frightened, and reported having wounded the wild man. Search parties sent to look for the creature have failed. Residents of Union said that virtually firmly believe in the existence of the wild man. Some allege that he is a young man who disappeared twelve years ago.

No Soot in the "Bison" Hot Water Heater

Soot is a non-conductor of heat.

If soot coats the surface of a hot water heater, half the heat from the fire is lost, half the coal is wasted.

That is why some furnaces do not heat well, their flat surfaces and sections collect soot.

In the "Bison" hot water heater, there are no flat surfaces—there is no non-conducting blanket of soot—you get all the heat in the coal direct on the water surfaces and you get it quickly.

The Salmon Fisheries.

With the exception of the Puget Sound region, all salmon fisheries outside of Alaska had a prosperous season in 1904, handsome gains having been made on the Columbia River and the salmon streams of Washington, Oregon and California. This is quite contrary to the outlook about the middle of the summer, but the later runs were profuse, and packing was continued for a longer period than usual. The Puget Sound canneries suffered severely, meeting a loss from last year of nearly 50 per cent. The product of the several regions was as follows:

	1903. Cases.	1904. Cases.
British Columbia	473,674	465,894
Puget Sound	485,393	276,920
Columbia River	822,188	432,973
Washington, Oregon and California Rivers	96,619	134,649
Total	1,360,843	1,250,556
Alaska pack	2,361,782	2,025,703
Grand total	3,722,625	3,276,259

There is shown a loss on the world's total pack of 336,366 cases, wholly accounted for by the decrease in Alaska.

The total value of the Alaskan output, at the figures furnished by the packers in all cases but one, was $7,735,782. The figures show a loss of $3,553,853 from the aggregate market values of the pack for 1903.

The aggregate number of salmon of all varieties taken was 26,028,841, against 34,618,813 in 1903. The total number of hands employed was 12,367, made up of 5,645 whites, 2,662 natives, 3,499 Chinese, and 1,751 Japanese. The introduction of Japanese labor was practically new last year, and was rendered necessary by the difficulty in procuring Chinamen to man the canneries. A considerable number of Filipinos and Porto Ricans were also employed in work heretofore done by Chinese.

COERCION AND COERCION.

Ministers seem to be men of like passions as ourselves. The Globe records an exciting quarter of an hour which passed in the Conference of the Methodist church at Ottawa. The Stationing Committee was in session at the same time as the Conference. It was hinted that some undesirable things were going on in the Stationing Committee room, one minister remarking that, 'There have been things going on in the room out yonder in the last twenty-four hours that every honest Methodist ought to be ashamed of." This remark seemed to have raised a hubbub, there were cries of "Oh! Oh!" and "Say it!" The President, Dr. Ryckman, asked for a resolution before there could be discussion on the point. A resolution was submitted to the effect that "This Conference disapproves of the wire-pulling on the part of some ministers and laymen." The chairman refused to allow further discussion, the report says. While this is a matter of domestic concern, so far as the general public is affected, the Methodist communion, one would think, had a right to know if there were something undesirable going on. Why check discussion? Why should the chairman have applied the cloture? The minister probably did not say something without a cause, nor make untrue statements. It is a proper ambition for a minister to get a better field of labour, and if he has reason to think he and others are not being fairly treated, he should, one would think, have a right to object and explain. The action taken by the chairman, as reported, though technically it may have been justified, tends to leave the impression that there was something to conceal. If such a course had been taken in the House of Commons, and some member of a party made a charge, and were told by the Speaker to "Sit down!" what an outcry would be raised! If there were things going on in the Methodist Conference that should not be, the Methodist people should know it. Was Rev. Dr. Ryckman justified in shutting off discussion from fear of what might be said? We hear ministers who might, or might not, approve of his course, energetically prating on the political stump, of the Government's alleged "coercion," as a Methodist and an Anglican clergyman did in the North Oxford bye-election campaign on Thursday night. Why should they not give a little attention to ecclesiastical "coercion," which would be a little more in their line?

TO DESTROY DANDELIONS.

Many Peterboroughonians are engaged in fighting the yellow peril represented by the obstinate, ubiquitous and irrepressible dandelion, one of the most implacable and unconquerable foes to a beautiful lawn. The scientific name of this sprawling and omnipresent and invincible nuisance—Taraxacum Dens Leonis, Gallicised into Dent de Lion and Anglicised into Dan de Lion—may account for the grip it holds upon our soil. In answer to the inquiry of a sufferer, Prof. H. L. Hutt, of the Agricultural College Guelph, gives the following as a remedy for the dandelion:—

"The best remedy for dandelions in the lawn is to grow grass on their stead, and to grow it so abundantly that the dandelions will find no quarter. It is useless to attempt to spud them out, for this only affords a suitable place for the lodgement of seed which is blown about freely, and really tends to aggravate the trouble rather than remedy. It is practically impossible to rid the ground of dandelions where there are so many going to seed all around and thousands of seeds being carried hither and thither by the wind.

"Our practice has been to apply a top dressing of well rotted manure in the fall in the poor spots in the lawn where dandelions are most plentiful, and in the spring, if the grass is not thick enough, to rake in some fresh grass seed. We have found this to give wonderful results, the dandelions being almost crowded out by the luxuriant growth of grass, and it has often been possible to trace the boundaries anywhere on the lawn where such applications have been made, not only by the apparent absence of dandelions, but by the luxuriant growth of lawn grass."

MR. BORDEN'S "BREAK."

Mr. Borden, the Conservative leader, cannot have the cause of the present Conservative coercion campaign very closely at heart, or he would not have made such a "break" as he did at London. He said:

"The Northwest school system is an excellent one, but in saying that they secuure that system to the provinces, Mr. Hyman is deceiving you. The provinces will be free to abolish that system to-morgow."

This is as good argument as one could wish in favour of the tenability of the Government's position. Where does all this clap trap about "coercion" come into play, if the provinces to be created by the Autonomy Bill, are at liberty to abolish the excellent system of non-sectarian national schools which the educational clauses fix and perpetuate. As a matter of fact, under the provisions of the bill, there can be no larger degree of Separate schools, as at present exists in the Northwest, as a result of the action of the Legislature, and if additional powers are given the religious minority, they can only come as a result of the action of provincial legislatures.

NORTHWEST ORDINACES.

The sections of the ordinance of 1891 relating to separate schools, and covering the denominational privileges guaranteed to religious minorities by section 93 of the British North America act, as provided for in the amended section 16 of the Autonomy bills, are as follows:—

41. The minority of the ratepayers in any district, whether Protestant or Roman Catholic, may establish a separate school therein; and such Protestant or Roman Catholic separate school shall be liable only to assessments of such rates as they impose upon themselves in respect thereof.

42. The petition for the erection of a separate school district shall be signed by three resident ratepayers of the religious faith indicated in the name of the proposed district; and shall be in the form prescribed by the commissioner.

43. The persons qualified to vote for or against the erection of a separate school district shall be the ratepayers in the district of the same religious faith, Protestant or Roman Catholic, as the petitioners.

44. The notice calling a meeting of the ratepayers for the purpose of taking their votes on the petition for the erection of a separate school district shall be in the form prescribed by the commissioner, and the proceedings subsequent to the posting of such notice shall be the same as prescribed in the formation of public school districts.

46. After the establishment of a separate school district under the provisions of this Ordinance such separate school district and the board thereof shall possess and exercise all rights, powers, privileges, and be subject to the same liabilities and method of government, as is herein provided in respect of public school districts.

(2.) Any person who is legally assessed or assessable for a public school shall not be liable to assessment for any separate school established therein.

The sections regarding religious instructions are as follows:—

137. No religious instruction except as hereinafter provided shall be permitted in the school of any district from the opening of the school until one-half hour previous to its closing in the afternoon, after which time any such instruction permitted or desired by the board may be given.

(2.) It shall, however, be permissable for the board of any district to direct that the school be opened by the recitation of the Lords' Prayer.

138. Any child shall have the privilege of leaving the school-room at the time at which religious instruction is commenced, as provided for in the next preceding section, or of remaining without taking part in any religious instruction that may be given if the parents or guardians so desire.

139. No teacher, school trustee or inspector shall in any way attempt to deprive such child of any advantage that it might derive from the ordinary education given in such school, and any such action on the part of any school trustee, inspector or teacher shall be held to be a disqualification for and voidance of the office held by him.

The above are the ordinances which the Autonomy bills perpetuate, and if they do not, the Brantford Expositor declares, guarantee national schools save in name only, then language has no meaning.

A Brockville man has sold to the Russian Government an invention of a smokeless powder from starch. If somebody will provide Russia with cureless soldiers or if there can be some means devised of getting a little starch into Russian backbones there will be some chance of a fight with the Japs.

Mr. Bennett, of Calgary, who was brought from the West to condemn the school clauses in the Autonomy Bills, made the statement in London that not a single Separate school had been established in the Northwest since 1901. This, suggests the Ottawa Free Press, should be a sufficient answer to the rabid partisans, who spend their time shrinking coercion.

WORK COMMENCED THIS MORNING

On the New Opera House For Peterborough.

Excavation Work to Be Begun on Monday—All Contracts to Be Let to Local Men.

The first actual work in connection with the new Opera House was begun this morning when Mr. Walter Stocker levelled seventy feet of hill boards facing the lot upon which the new house will be erected, and at the same time a force of men was engaged in clearing the ground preparatory to the beginning of the excavation work, the contract for which has been let to Mr. Thos. Rehill, along with that to construct the concrete foundation. Mr. Rehill's men will begin work on Monday morning early, and it is expected that in about two weeks the excavation and concrete foundation will have been completed. There will be a cellar under only the rear portion of the building, that facing on Water street, and the earth removed from that part will be moved up to the George street end, to raise the ground to the level of George street.

Mr. E. Shuttleworth, of New York, will superintend the work of construction, along with that in progress at Hamilton, where his company, the Fuller Claflin Theatrical Company is making extensive improvements to the Grand Opera House.

Mr. Claflin will be here next week and will let the contracts for the other portions of the work, and it may be said, for the benefit of a number who have been inquiring, that all the contracts will be let to local men and Peterborough mechanics will be employed.

It is expected that two stores will be built on the ground floor under the theatre, and the building, which will be of solid brick, will be as high as the Turner building immediately south of it, so that it will be an imposing structure, and will be a credit to the town.

It is expected that the new house will be opened by October 1st, and in order that this may be the case, it will be necessary to do some rapid construction work.

SHORT SESSION THIS MORNING

Farmer's Cattle Give Annoyance—Visit Neighbour's Premises.

There was a very short session of the police court this morning the only case being that of Wm. Leahy, a farmer living just outside the corporation, on the south side of the town, who, it seems, pastures his cattle on the King's highway. A gentleman named Rightmyer, living just inside the town, apparently does not hold the same opinion on the matter of cheap rations for cattle—the said kine giving him much trouble and annoyance. Although his premises are well fenced and protected, the cows come in through the gate which cannot always be closed and also make their way into the barn, and consume an inordinate amount of provender.

Mr. Rightmyer was so much concerned about this repeated nuisance that he appeared in the police court this morning and told his story substantially as above.

A fine of $3.00 and costs, amounting to $6.00, was imposed and paid.

The Return of Sherlock Holmes

By A. CONAN DOYLE,

No. 1 of the Series

(Copyright, 1903, by A. Conan Doyle and Collier's Weekly.)
(Copyright, 1903, by McClure, Phillips & Co.)

IT was in the spring of the year 1894 that all London was interested and the fashionable world dismayed by the murder of the Hon. Ronald Adair under most unusual and inexplicable circumstances. The public has already learned those particulars of the crime which came out in the police investigation, but a good deal was suppressed upon that occasion, since the case for the prosecution was so overwhelmingly strong that it was not necessary to bring forward all the facts. Only now, at the end of nearly ten years, am I allowed to supply those missing links which make up the whole of that remarkable chain. The crime was of interest in itself, but that interest was as nothing to me compared to the inconceivable sequel, which afforded me the greatest shock and surprise of any event in my adventurous life. Even now, after this long interval, I find myself thrilling as I think of it and feeling once more that sudden flood of joy, amazement and incredulity which utterly submerged my mind. Let me say to that public, which has shown some interest in those glimpses which I have occasionally given them of the thoughts and actions of a very remarkable man, that they are not to blame me if I have not shared my knowledge with them, for I should have considered it my first duty to have done so had I not been barred by a positive prohibition from his own lips, which was only withdrawn upon the 2d of last month.

It can be imagined that my close intimacy with Sherlock Holmes had interested me deeply in crime and that after his disappearance I never failed to read with care the various problems which came before the public. And I even attempted more than once for my own private satisfaction to employ his methods in their solution, though with indifferent success. There was none, however, which appealed to me like this tragedy of Ronald Adair. As I read the evidence at the inquest, which led up to a verdict of willful murder against some person or persons unknown, I realised more clearly than I had ever done the loss which the community had sustained by the death of Sherlock Holmes.

There were points about this strange business which would, I was sure, have specially appealed to him, and the efforts of the police would have been supplemented or more probably anticipated by the trained observation and the alert mind of the first criminal agent in Europe. All day as I drove upon my round I turned over the case in my mind and found no explanation which appeared to me to be adequate. At the risk of telling a twice told tale I will recapitulate the facts as they were known to the public at the conclusion of the inquest.

The Hon. Ronald Adair was the second son of the Earl of Maynooth, at that time governor of one of the Australian colonies. Adair's mother had returned from Australia to undergo the operation for cataract, and she, her son Ronald and her daughter Hilda were living together at 427 Park lane. The youth moved in the best society—had, so far as was known, no enemies and no particular vices. He had been engaged to Miss Edith Woodley of Carstairs, but the engagement had been broken off by mutual consent some months before, and there was no sign that it had left any very profound feeling behind it. For the rest the man's life moved in a narrow and conventional circle, for his habits were quiet and his nature unemotional. Yet it was upon this easy going young aristocrat that death came in most strange and unexpected form between the hours of 10 and 10:20 on the night of March 30, 1894.

Ronald Adair was fond of cards, playing constantly, but never for such stakes as would hurt him. He was a member of the Baldwin, the Cavendish and the Bagatelle card clubs. It was shown that after dinner on the day of his death he had played a rubber of whist at the latter club. He had also played there in the afternoon. The evidence of those who had played with him—Mr. Murray, Sir John Hardy and Colonel Moran—showed that the game was whist and that there was a fairly equal fall of the cards. Adair might have lost £5, but not more. His fortune was a considerable one, and such a loss could not in any way affect him. He had played nearly every day at one club or other, but he was a cautious player and usually rose a winner. It came out in evidence that in partnership with Colonel Moran he had actually won as much as £420 in a sitting some weeks before from Godfrey Milner and Lord Balmoral. So much for his recent history as it came out at the inquest.

On the evening of the crime he returned from the club exactly at 10. His mother and sister were out spending the evening with a relative. The servant deposed that she heard him enter the front room on the second floor, generally used as his sitting room. She had lit a fire, and as it smoked she had opened the window. No sound was heard from the room until 11:20, the hour of the return of Lady Maynooth and her daughter. Desiring to say good night, she attempted to enter her son's room. The door was locked on the inside, and no answer could be got to their cries and knocking. Help was obtained and the door forced. The unfortunate young man was found lying near the table. His head had been horribly mutilated by an expanding revolver bullet, but no weapon of any sort was to be found in the room. On the table lay two bank notes for £10 each and £17 10s. in silver and gold, the money arranged in little piles of varying amount. There were some figures also upon a sheet of paper, with the names of some club friends opposite to them, from which it was conjectured that before his death he was endeavoring to make out his losses or winnings at cards.

A minute examination of the circumstances served only to make the case more complex. In the first place, no reason could be given why the young man should have fastened the door upon the inside. There was the possibility that the murderer had done this and had afterward escaped by the window. The drop was at least twenty feet, however, and a bed of crocuses in full bloom lay beneath. Neither the flowers nor the earth showed any sign of having been disturbed, nor were there any marks upon the narrow strip of grass which separated the house from the road.

Apparently therefore it was the young man himself who had fastened the door. But how did he come by his death? No one could have climbed up to the window without leaving traces. Suppose a man had fired through the window, he would indeed be a remarkable shot who could with a revolver inflict so deadly a wound. Again, Park lane is a frequented thoroughfare. There is a cab stand within a hundred yards of the house. No one had heard a shot. And yet there was the dead man and there the revolver bullet, which had mushroomed out, as soft nosed bullets will, and so inflicted a wound which must have caused instantaneous death. Such were the circumstances of the Park lane mystery, which were further complicated by entire absence of motive, since, as I have said, young Adair was not known to have any enemy, and no attempt had been made to remove the money or valuables in the room.

All day I turned these facts over in my mind, endeavoring to hit upon some theory which could reconcile them all and to find that line of least resistance which my poor friend had declared to be the starting point of every investigation. I confess that I made little progress. In the evening I strolled across the park and found myself about 6 o'clock at the Oxford street end of Park lane. A group of loafers upon the pavements, all staring up at a particular window, directed me to the house which I had come to see. A tall, thin man with colored glasses, whom I strongly suspected of being a plain clothes detective, was pointing out some theory of his own, while the others crowded around to listen to what he said. I got as near him as I could, but his observations seemed to me to be absurd, so I withdrew again in some disgust. As I did so I struck against an elderly, deformed man who had been behind me, and I knocked down several books which he was carrying. I remember that as I picked them up I observed the title of one of them, "The Origin of Tree Worship," and it struck me that the fellow must be some poor bibliophile who either as a trade or as a hobby was a collector of obscure volumes. I endeavored to apologize for the accident, but it was evident that these books which I had so unfortunately maltreated were very precious objects in the eyes of their owner. With a snarl of contempt he turned upon his heel, and I saw his curved back and white side whiskers disappear among the throng.

My observations of 427 Park lane did little to clear up the problem in which I was interested. The house was separated from the street by a low wall and railing, the whole not more than five feet high. It was perfectly easy, therefore, for any one to get into the garden, but the window was entirely inaccessible since there was no waterpipe or anything which could help the most active man to climb it. More puzzled than ever, I retraced my steps to Kensington. I had not been in my study five minutes when the maid entered to say that a person desired to see me. To my astonishment it was none other than my strange old book collector, his sharp, wizened face peering out from a frame of white hair, and his precious volumes, a dozen of them at least, wedged under his right arm.

"You're surprised to see me, sir," said he in a strange, croaking voice.

I acknowledged that I was.

"Well, I've a conscience, sir, and when I chanced to see you go into this house as I came hobbling after you, I thought to myself I'll just step in and see that kind gentleman and tell him that if I was a bit gruff in my manner there was not any harm meant and that I am much obliged to him for picking up my books."

"You make too much of a trifle," said I. "May I ask how you knew who I was?"

"Yes, sir. If it isn't too great a liberty I am a neighbor of yours, for you'll find my little bookshop at the corner of Church street, and very happy to see you, I am sure. Maybe you collect yourself, sir. Here's 'British Birds' and 'Catullus' and 'The Holy War'—a bargain, every one of them. With five volumes you could just fill that gap on that second shelf. It looks untidy, does it not, sir?"

I moved my head to look at the cabinet behind me. When I turned again Sherlock Holmes was standing smiling at me across my study table. I rose to my feet, stared at him for some seconds in utter amazement, and then it appears that I must have fainted for the first and the last time in my life. Certainly a gray mist swirled before my eyes, and when it cleared I found my collar ends undone and the tingling after-taste of brandy upon my lips. Holmes was bending over my chair, his flask in his hand.

"My dear Watson," said the well remembered voice, "I owe you a thousand apologies. I had no idea that you would be so affected."

I gripped him by the arms.

"Holmes!" I cried. "Is it really you? Can it indeed be that you are alive? Is it possible that you succeeded in climbing out of that awful abyss?"

"Wait a moment," said he. "Are you sure that you are really fit to discuss things? I have given you a serious shock by my unnecessarily dramatic reappearance."

"I am all right, but indeed, Holmes, I can hardly believe my eyes. Good heavens, to think that you—you of all men—should be standing in my study!" Again I gripped him by the sleeve and felt the thin, sinewy arm beneath it. "Well, you're not a spirit anyhow," said I. "My dear chap, I'm overjoyed to see you. Sit down and tell me how you came alive out of that dreadful chasm."

He sat opposite to me and lit a cigarette in his old nonchalant manner. He was dressed in the seedy frock coat of the book merchant, but the rest of that individual lay in a pile of white hair and old books upon the table. Holmes looked even thinner and keener than of old, but there was a dead white tinge in his aquiline face which told me that his life recently had not been a healthy one.

"I am glad to stretch myself, Watson," said he. "It is no joke when a tall man has to take a foot off his stature for several hours on end. Now, my dear fellow, in the matter of these explanations, we have, if I may ask for your co-operation, a hard and dangerous night's work in front of us. Perhaps it would be better if I gave you an account of the whole situation when that work is finished."

"I am full of curiosity. I should much prefer to hear now."

"You'll come with me tonight?"

"When you like and where you like."

"This is, indeed, like the old days. We shall have time for a mouthful of dinner before we need go. Well, then, about that chasm. I had no serious difficulty in getting out of it for the three others whose desire for vengeance upon me would only be increased by the death of their leader. They were all most dangerous men. One or other would certainly get me. On the other hand, if all the world was convinced that I was dead they would take liberties, these men; they would soon lay themselves open, and sooner or later I could destroy them. Then it would be time for me to announce that I was still in the land of the living. So rapidly does the brain act that I believe I had thought this all out before Professor Moriarty had reached the bottom of the Reichenbach fall.

"I stood up and examined the rocky wall behind me. In your picturesque account of the matter, which I read with great interest some months later, you assert that the wall was sheer. That was not literally true. A few small footholds presented themselves, and there was some indication of a ledge. The cliff is so high that to climb it all was an obvious impossibility, and it was equally impossible to make my way along the wet path without leaving some tracks. I might, it is true, have reversed my boots, as I have done on similar occasions, but the sight of three sets of tracks in one direction would certainly have suggested a deception. On the whole, then, it was best that I should risk the climb. It was not a pleasant business, Watson. The fall roared beneath me. I am not a fanciful person, but I give you my word that I seemed to hear Moriarty's voice screaming at me out of the abyss. A mistake would have been fatal. More than once as tufts of grass came out in my hand or my foot slipped in the wet notches of the rock I thought that I was gone. But I struggled upward, and at last I reached a ledge several feet deep and covered with soft green moss, where I could lie un-very simple reason that I never was in it."

"You never were in it?"

"No, Watson, I never was in it. My note to you was absolutely genuine. I had little doubt that I had come to the end of my career when I perceived the somewhat sinister figure of the late Professor Moriarty standing upon the narrow pathway which led to safety. I read an inexorable purpose in his gray eyes. I exchanged some remarks with him, therefore, and obtained his courteous permission to write the short note which you afterward received. I left it with my cigarette box and my stick, and I walked along the pathway, Moriarty still at my heels. When I reached the end I stood at bay. He drew no weapon, but he rushed at me and threw his long arms around me. He knew that his own game was up and was only anxious to revenge himself upon me. We tottered together upon the brink of the fall. I have some knowledge, however, of baritsu, or the Japanese system of wrestling, which has more than once been very useful to me. I slipped through his grip, and he with a horrible scream kicked madly for a few seconds and clawed the air with both his hands. But for all his efforts he could not get his balance, and over he went. With my face over the brink I saw him fall for a long way. Then he struck a rock, bounded off and splashed into the water."

I listened with amazement to this explanation, which Holmes delivered between the puffs of his cigarette.

"But the tracks!" I cried. "I saw with my own eyes that two went down the path and none returned."

"It came about in this way. The instant that the professor had disappeared it struck me what a really extraordinarily lucky chance fate had placed in my way. I knew that Moriarty was not the only man who had sworn my death. There were at least seven in the most perfect comfort. There I was stretched when you, my dear Watson, and all your following were investigating in the most sympathetic and inefficient manner the circumstances of my death.

"At last, when you had all formed your inevitable and totally erroneous conclusions, you departed for the hotel, and I was left alone. I had imagined that I had reached the end of my adventures, but a very unexpected occurrence showed me that there were surprises still in store for me. A huge rock, falling from above, boomed past me, struck the path and bounded over into the chasm. For an instant I thought that it was an accident, but a moment later, looking up, I saw a man's head against the darkening sky, and another stone struck the very ledge upon which I was stretched within a foot of my head. Of course the meaning of this was obvious. Moriarty had not been alone. A confederate—and even that one glance had told me how dangerous a man that confederate was—had kept guard while the professor had attacked me. From a distance, unseen by me, he had been a witness of his friend's death and of my escape. He had waited, and then, making his way around to the top of the cliff, he had endeavored to succeed where his comrade had failed.

"I did not take long to think about it, Watson. Again I saw that grim face look over the cliff, and I knew that it was the precursor of another stone. I scrambled down on to the path. I don't think I could have done it in cold blood. It was a hundred times more difficult than getting up. But I had no time to think of the danger, for another stone sang past me as I hung by my hands from the edge of the ledge. Halfway down I slipped; but, by the blessing of God, I landed, torn and bleeding, upon the path. I took to my heels, did ten miles over the mountains in the darkness, and a week later I found myself in Florence, with the certainty that no one in the world knew what had become of me.

"I had only one confidant—my brother Mycroft. I owe you many apologies, my dear Watson, but it was all important that it should be thought I was dead, and it is quite certain that you would not have written so convincing an account of my unhappy end had you not yourself thought that it was true. Several times during the last three years I have taken up my pen to write to you, but always I feared lest your affectionate regard for me should tempt you to some indiscretion which would betray my secret. For that reason I turned away from you this evening when you upset my books, for I was in danger at the time, and any show of surprise and emotion upon your part might have drawn attention to my identity and led to the most deplorable and irreparable results. As to Mycroft, I had to confide in him in order to obtain the money which I needed. The course of events in London did not run so well as I had hoped, for the trial of the Moriarty gang left two of its most dangerous members, my own most vindictive enemies, at liberty. I traveled for two years in Tibet, therefore, and amused myself by visiting Lassa and spending some days with the head lama. You may have read of the remarkable explorations of a Norwegian named Sigerson, but I am sure that it never occurred to you that you were receiving news of your friend. I then passed through Persia, looked in at Mecca and paid a short but interesting visit to the khalifa at Khartum, the results of which I have communicated to the foreign office. Returning to France, I spent some months in a research into the coal tar derivatives, which I conducted in a laboratory at Montpellier, in the south of France. Having concluded this to my satisfaction and learning that only one of my enemies was now left in London, I was about to return when my movements were hastened by the news of this very remarkable Park lane mystery, which not only appealed to me by its own merits, but which seemed to offer some most peculiar personal opportunities. I came over at once to London, called in my own person at Baker street, threw Mrs. Hudson into violent hysterics and found that Mycroft had preserved my rooms and my papers exactly as they had always been. So it was, my dear Watson, that at 2 o'clock today I found myself in my old armchair in my own old room and only wishing that I could have seen my old friend Watson in the other chair which he has so often adorned."

Such was the remarkable narrative to which I listened on that April evening, a narrative which would have been utterly incredible to me had it not been confirmed by the actual sight of the tall, spare figure and the keen, eager face, which I had never thought to see again. In some manner he had learned of my own sad bereavement, and his sympathy was shown in his manner rather than in his words. "Work is the best antidote to sorrow, my dear Watson," said he, "and I have a piece of work for us both tonight which if we can bring it to a successful conclusion will in itself justify a man's life on this planet." In vain I begged him to tell me more. "You will hear and see enough before morning," he answered. "We have three years of the past to discuss. Let that suffice until half past 9, when we start upon the notable adventure of the empty house."

It was indeed like old times when at that hour I found myself seated beside him in a hansom, my revolver in my pocket and the thrill of adventure in my heart. Holmes was cold and stern and silent. As the gleam of the street lamps flashed upon his austere features I saw that his brows were drawn down in thought and his thin lips compressed. I knew not what wild beasts we were about to hunt down in the dark jungle of criminal London, but I was well assured from the bearing of this master huntsman that the adventure was a most grave one, while the sardonic smile which occasionally broke through his ascetic gloom boded little good for the object of our quest.

I had imagined that we were bound for Baker street, but Holmes stopped the cab at the corner of Cavendish square. I observed that as he stepped out he gave a most searching glance to right and left and at every subsequent street corner he took the utmost pains to assure that he was not followed. Our route was certainly a singular one. Holmes' knowledge of the byways of London was extraordinary, and on this occasion he passed rapidly and with an assured step through a network of mews and stables the very existence of which I had never known. We emerged at last into a small road lined with old, gloomy houses which led us into Manchester street and so to Blandford street. Here he turned swiftly down a narrow passage, passed through a wooden gate into a deserted yard and then opened with a key the back door of a house. We entered together, and he closed it behind us.

The place was pitch dark, but it was evident to me that it was an empty house. Our feet creaked and crackled over the bare planking, and my outstretched hand touched a wall from which the paper was hanging in shreds. Holmes' cold, thin fingers closed around my wrist and led me forward down a long hall until I dimly saw the murky fan light over the door. Here Holmes turned suddenly to the right and we found ourselves in a large, square, empty room, heavily shadowed in the corners, but faintly lit in the center from the lights of the street beyond. There was no lamp near, and the window was thick with dust, so that we could only just discern each other's figures within. My companion put his hand upon my shoulder and his lips close to my ear.

"Do you know where we are?" he whispered.

"Surely that is Baker street," I answered, staring through the dim window.

"Exactly. We are in Camden House, which stands opposite to our own old quarters."

"But why are we here?"

"Because it commands so excellent a view of that picturesque pile. Might I trouble you, my dear Watson, to draw a little nearer to the window, taking every precaution not to show yourself, and then to look up at our old rooms—the starting point of so many of your little fairy tales? We will see if my three years of practice have entirely taken away my power to surprise you."

I crept forward and looked across at the familiar window. As my eyes fell upon it I gave a gasp and a cry of amazement. The blind was down and a strong light was burning in the room. The shadow of a man who was seated in a chair within was thrown in hard, black outline upon the illuminous screen of the window. There was no mistaking the poise of the head, the squareness of the shoulders, the sharpness of the features. The face was turned half around, and the effect was that of one of those black silhouettes which our grandparents loved to frame. It was a perfect reproduction of Holmes. So amazed was I that I threw out my hand to make sure that the man himself was standing beside me. He was quivering with silent laughter.

"Well?" said he.

The Semi-ready frock coat is a masterpiece of sartorial art

The frock coat gives the designer more scope to show his skill and taste than any other garment.

That is why the tailor, who makes about five or six frock coats in a year and gets his ideas from a fashion plate, misses the essential points that mean style.

The lines of the Semi-ready frock coat are carefully thought out by an expert designer.

This year the Semi-ready frock coat differs but slightly from last year's model. The lapels are heavier with a slightly convex crease. The shoulders are a little broader and of natural shape, avoiding the built up effect.

They are close-fitting at the waist, large-chested, and with considerable bell to the skirt.

A frock coat is like a dress coat—every line must be right or it is noticeably incorrect.

The Return of SHERLOCK HOLMES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,

"Good heavens!" I cried. "It is marvelous!"

"I trust that age doth not wither nor custom stale my infinite variety," said he. And I recognised in his voice the joy and pride which the artist takes in his own creation. "It really is rather like me, is it not?"

"I should be prepared to swear that it was you."

"The credit of the execution is due to M. Oscar Meunier of Grenoble, who spent some days in doing the molding. It is a bust in wax. The rest I arranged myself during my visit to Baker street this afternoon."

"But why?"

"Because, my dear Watson, I had the strongest possible reason for wishing certain people to think that I was there when I was really elsewhere."

"And you thought the rooms were watched?"

"I knew that they were watched."

"By whom?"

"By my old enemies, Watson. By the charming society whose leader lies in the Reichenbach fall. You must remember that they knew, and only they knew, that I was still alive. Sooner or later they believed that I should come back to my rooms. They watched them continuously, and this morning they saw me arrive."

"How do you know?"

"Because I recognised their sentinel when I glanced out of my window. He is a harmless enough fellow, Parker by name, a garroter by trade and a remarkable performer upon the jews-harp. I cared nothing for him. But I cared a great deal for the much more formidable person who was behind him, the bosom friend of Moriarty, the man who dropped the rocks over the cliff, the most cunning and dangerous criminal in London. That is the man who is after me tonight, Watson, and that is the man who is quite unaware that we are after him."

My friend's plans were gradually revealing themselves. From this convenient retreat the watchers were being watched and the trackers tracked. That angular shadow up yonder was the bait, and we were the hunters. In silence we stood together in the darkness and watched the hurrying figures who passed and repassed in front of us. Holmes was silent and motionless, but I could tell that he was keenly alert and that his eyes were fixed intently upon the stream of passersby. It was a bleak and boisterous night, and the wind whistled shrilly down the long street. Many people were moving to and fro, most of them muffled in their coats and cravats. Once or twice it seemed to me that I had seen the same figure before, and I especially noticed two men who appeared to be sheltering themselves from the wind in the doorway of a house some distance up the street. I tried to draw my companion's attention to them, but he gave a little ejaculation of impatience and continued to stare into the street. More than once he fidgeted with his feet and tapped rapidly with his fingers upon the wall. It was evident to me that he was becoming uneasy and that his plans were not working out altogether as he had hoped. At last as midnight approached and the street gradually cleared he paced up and down the room in uncontrollable agitation. I was about to make some remark to him when I raised my eyes to the lighted window and again experienced almost as great a surprise as before. I clutched Holmes' arm and pointed upward.

"The shadow has moved!" I cried.

It was indeed no longer the profile, but the back, which was turned toward us.

Three years had certainly not smoothed the asperities of his temper or his impatience with a less active intelligence than his own.

"Of course it has moved," said he. "Am I such a farcical bungler, Watson, that I should erect an obvious dummy and expect that some of the sharpest men in Europe would be deceived by it? We have been in this room two hours, and Mrs. Hudson has made some change in that figure eight times, or once in every quarter of an hour. She works it from the front, so that her shadow may never be seen. Ah!" He drew in his breath with a shrill, excited intake. In the dim light I saw his head thrown forward, his whole attitude rigid with attention. Outside, the street was absolutely deserted. Those two men might still be crouching in the doorway, but I could no longer see them. All was still and dark save only that brilliant yellow screen in front of us with the black figure outlined upon its center. Again in the utter silence I heard that thin, sibilant note which spoke of intense suppressed excitement. An instant later he pulled me back into the blackest corner of the room, and I felt his warning hand upon my lips. The fingers which clutched me were quivering. Never had I known my friend more moved, and yet the dark street still stretched lonely and motionless before us.

But suddenly I was aware of that which his keener senses had already distinguished. A low, stealthy sound came to my ears not from the direction of Baker street, but from the back of the very house in which we lay concealed. A door opened and shut. An instant later steps crept down the passage—steps which were meant to be silent, but which reverberated harshly through the empty house. Holmes crouched back against the wall, and I did the same, my hand closing upon the handle of my revolver. Peering through the gloom, I saw the vague outline of a man, a shade blacker than the blackness of the open door. He stood for an instant, and then he crept forward, crouching, menacing, into the room. He was within three yards of us, this sinister figure, and I had braced myself to meet his spring before I realized that he had no idea of our presence. He passed close beside us, stole over to the window and very softly and noiselessly raised it for half a foot. As he sank to the level of this opening the light of the street, no longer dimmed by the dusty glass, fell full upon his face.

The man seemed to be beside himself with excitement. His two eyes shone like stars, and his features were working convulsively. He was an elderly man, with a thin, projecting nose, a high, bald forehead and a huge grizzled mustache. An opera hat was pushed to the back of his head, and an evening dress shirt front gleamed out through his open overcoat. His face was gaunt and swarthy, scored with deep, savage lines. In his hand he carried what appeared to be a stick, but as he laid it down upon the floor it gave a metallic clang. Then from the pocket of his overcoat he drew a bulky object, and he busied himself in some task which ended with a loud, sharp click, as if a spring or bolt had fallen into its place. Still kneeling upon the floor, he bent forward and threw all his weight and strength upon some lever, with the result that there came a long, whirling, grinding noise, ending once more in a powerful click. He straightened himself then, and I saw that what he held in his hand was a sort of a gun with a curiously misshapen butt. He opened it at the breech, put something in and snapped the breechblock. Then, crouching down, he rested the end of the barrel upon the ledge of the open window, and I saw his long mustache droop over the stock and his eyes gleam as it peered along the sights. I heard a little sigh of satisfaction as he cuddled the butt into his shoulder and saw that amazing target, the black man on the yellow ground, standing clear at the end of his foresight. For an instant he was rigid and motionless. Then his finger tightened on the trigger. There was a strange, low whis and a long, silvery tinkle of broken glass. At that instant Holmes sprang like a tiger on to the marksman's back and hurled him flat upon his face. He was up again in a moment, and with convulsive strength he seized Holmes by the throat, but I struck him on the head with the butt of my revolver, and he dropped again upon the floor. I fell upon him, and as I held him my comrade blew a shrill call upon a whistle. There was the clatter of running feet upon the pavement, and two policemen in uniform, with one plain clothes detective, rushed through the front entrance and into the room.

"That you, Lestrade?" said Holmes.

"Yes, Mr. Holmes. I took the job myself. It's good to see you back in London, sir."

"I think you want a little unofficial help. Three undetected murders in one year won't do, Lestrade. But you handled the Molesey mystery with less than your usual—that's to say, you handled it fairly well."

We had all risen to our feet, our prisoner breathing hard, with a stalwart constable on each side of him. Already a few loiterers had begun to collect in the street. Holmes stepped up to the window, closed it and dropped the blinds. Lestrade had produced two candles, and the policemen had uncovered their lanterns. I was able at last to have a good look at our prisoner.

It was a tremendously virile and yet sinister face which was turned toward us. With the brow of a philosopher above and the jaw of a sensualist below, the man must have started with great capacities for good or for evil. But one could not look upon his cruel blue eyes, with their drooping, cynical lids, or upon the fierce, aggressive nose and the threatening, deep lined brow without reading nature's plainest danger signals. He took no heed of any of us, but his eyes were fixed upon Holmes' face with an expression in which hatred and amazement were equally blended. "You fiend," he kept on muttering—"you clever, clever fiend!"

"Ah, colonel," said Holmes, arranging his rumpled collar, "'journeys end in lovers' meetings,' as the old play says. I don't think I have had the pleasure of seeing you since you favored me with those attentions as I lay on the ledge above the Reichenbach fall."

The colonel still stared at my friend like a man in a trance. "You cunning, cunning fiend!" was all that he could say.

"I have not introduced you yet," said Holmes. "This, gentlemen, is Colonel Sebastian Moran, once of her majesty's Indian army and the best heavy game shot that our eastern empire has ever produced. I believe I am correct, colonel, in saying that your bag of tigers still remains unrivaled?"

The fierce old man said nothing, but still glared at my companion. With his savage eyes and bristling mustache he was wonderfully like a tiger himself.

"I wonder that my very simple stratagem could deceive so old a shikari," said Holmes. "It must be very familiar to you. Have you not tethered a young kid under a tree, lain above it with your rifle and waited for the bait to bring up your tiger? This empty house is my tree, and you are my tiger. You have possibly had other guns in reserve in case there should be several tigers or in the unlikely supposition of your own aim failing you. These"—he pointed around—"are my other guns. The parallel is exact."

Colonel Moran sprang forward with a snarl of rage, but the constables dragged him back. The fury upon his face was terrible to look at.

"I confess that you had one small surprise for me," said Holmes. "I did not anticipate that you would yourself make use of this empty house and this convenient front window. I had imagined you as operating from the street, where my friend Lestrade and his merry men were awaiting you. With that exception all has gone as I expected."

Colonel Moran turned to the official detective.

"You may or may not have just cause for arresting me," said he, "but at least there can be no reason why I should submit to the gibes of this person. If I am in the hands of the law let things be done in a legal way."

"Well, that's reasonable enough," said Lestrade. "Nothing further you have to say, Mr. Holmes, before we go?"

Holmes had picked up the powerful air gun from the floor and was examining its mechanism.

"An admirable and unique weapon," he said, "noiseless and of tremendous power. I knew Von Herder, the blind German mechanic, who constructed it to the order of the late Professor Moriarty. For years I have been aware of its existence, though I have never before had the opportunity of handling it. I commend it very specially to your attention, Lestrade, and also the bullets which it fit."

"You can trust us to look after that, Mr. Holmes," said Lestrade as the whole party moved toward the door. "Anything further to say?"

"Only to ask what charge you intend to prefer?"

"What charge, sir? Why, of course the attempted murder of Mr. Sherlock Holmes."

"Not so, Lestrade. I do not propose to appear in the matter at all. To you and to you only belongs the credit of the remarkable arrest which you have effected. Yes, Lestrade, I congratulate you! With your usual happy mixture of cunning and audacity, you have got him."

"Got him! Got whom, Mr. Holmes?"

"The man that the whole force has been seeking in vain—Colonel Sebastian Moran, who shot the Hon. Ronald Adair with an expanding bullet from an air gun through the open window of the second floor front of 427 Park lane upon the 30th of last month. That's the charge, Lestrade. And now, Watson, if you can endure the draft from a broken window I think that half an hour in my study over a cigar may afford you some profitable amusement."

Our old chambers had been left unchanged through the supervision of Mycroft Holmes and the immediate care of Mrs. Hudson. As I entered I saw, it is true, an unwonted tidiness, but the old landmarks were all in their place. There was the chemical corner and the acid stained, deal topped table. There upon a shelf was the row of formidable scrapbooks and books of reference which many of our fellow citizens would have been so glad to burn. The diagrams, the violin case and the pipe rack—even the Persian slipper which contained the tobacco—all met my eyes as I glanced round me. There were two occupants of the room—one, Mrs. Hudson, who beamed upon us both as we entered; the other the strange dummy which had played so important a part in the evening's adventures. It was a wax colored model of my friend so admirably done that it was a perfect facsimile. It stood on a small pedestal table with an old dressing gown of Holmes' so draped round it that the illusion from the street was absolutely perfect.

"I hope you preserved all precautions, Mrs. Hudson?" said Holmes.

"I went to it on my knees, sir, just as you told me."

"Excellent. You carried the thing out well. Did you observe where the bullet went?"

"Yes, sir. I'm afraid it has spoilt your beautiful bust, for it passed right through the head and flattened itself on the wall. I picked it up from the carpet. Here it is!"

Holmes held it out to me. "A soft revolver bullet, as you perceive, Watson. There's genius in that, for who would expect to find such a thing fired from an air gun. All right, Mrs. Hudson; I am much obliged for your assistance. And now, Watson, let me see you in your old seat once more, for there are several points which I should like to discuss with you."

He had thrown off the seedy frock coat, and now he was the Holmes of old in the mouse colored dressing gown which he took from his effigy.

"The old shikari's nerves have not lost their steadiness nor his eyes their keenness," said he, with a laugh, as he inspected the shattered forehead of his bust.

"Plumb in the middle of the back of the head and smack through the brain. He was the best shot in India, and I expect that there are few better in London. Have you heard the name?"

"No, I have not."

"Well, well, such is fame! But, then, if I remember right, you had not heard the name of Professor James Moriarty, who had one of the great brains of the century. Just give me down my index of biographies from the shelf."

He turned over the pages lazily, leaning back in his chair and blowing great clouds from his cigar.

"My collection of M's is a fine one," said he. "Moriarty himself is enough to make any letter illustrious, and here is Morgan, the poisoner, and Merridew of abominable memory, and Mathews, who knocked out my left canine in the waiting room at Charing Cross, and finally here is our friend of tonight."

He handed over the book, and I read: "Moran, Sebastian, colonel. Unemployed. Formerly First Bengalore Pioneers. Born London, 1840. Son of Sir Augustus Moran, C. B., once British minister to Persia. Educated Eton and Oxford. Served in Jowaki campaign, Afghan campaign, Charasiab (dispatches), Sherpur and Cabul. Author of 'Heavy Game of the Western Himalayas' (1881); 'Three Months In the Jungle' (1884). Address; Conduit street. Clubs: The Anglo-Indian, the Tankerville, the Bagatelle Card club."

On the margin was written in Holmes' precise hand, "The second most dangerous man in London."

"This is astonishing," said I as I handed back the volume. "The man's career is that of an honorable soldier."

"It is true," Holmes answered. "Up to a certain point he did well. He was always a man of iron nerve, and the story is still told in India how he crawled down a drain after a wounded man-eating tiger. There are some trees, Watson, which grow to a certain height and then suddenly develop some unsightly eccentricity. You will see it often in humans. I have a theory that the individual represents in his development the whole procession of his ancestors, and that such a sudden turn to good or evil stands for some strong influence which came into the line of his pedigree. The person becomes, as it were, the epitome of the history of his own family."

"It is surely rather fanciful."

"Well, I don't insist upon it. Whatever the cause, Colonel Moran began to go wrong. Without any open scandal he still made India too hot to hold him. He retired, came to London and again acquired an evil name. It was at this time that he was sought out by Professor Moriarty, to whom for a time he was chief of the staff. Moriarty supplied him liberally with money and used him only in one or two very high class jobs which no ordinary criminal could have undertaken. You may have some recollection of the death of Mrs. Stewart of Lauder in 1887. Not? Well, I am sure Moran was at the bottom of it, but nothing could be proved. So cleverly was the colonel concealed that even when the Moriarty gang was broken up we could not incriminate him. You remember at that date, when I called upon you in your rooms, how I put up the shutters for fear of air guns? No doubt you thought me fanciful. I knew exactly what I was doing, for I knew of the existence of this remarkable gun, and I knew also that one of the best shots in the world would be behind it. When we were in Switzerland he followed us with Moriarty, and it was undoubtedly he who gave me that evil five minutes on the Reichenbach ledge.

"You may think that I read the papers with some attention during my sojourn in France, on the lookout for any chance of laying him by the heels. So long as he was free in London my life would really not have been worth living. Night and day the shadow would have been over me and sooner or later his chance must have come. What could I do? I could not shoot him at sight or I should myself be in the dock. There was no use appealing to a magistrate. They cannot interfere on the strength of what would appear to them to be a wild suspicion. So I could do nothing. But I watched the criminal news, knowing that sooner or later I should get him. Then came the death of this Ronald Adair. My chance had come at last. Knowing what I did, was it not certain that Colonel Moran had done it? He had played cards with the lad; he had followed him home from the club; he had shot him through the open window. There was not a doubt of it. The bullets alone are enough to put his head in a noose.

"I came over at once. I was seen by the sentinel, who would, I knew, direct the colonel's attention to my presence. He could not fail to connect my sudden return with his crime and to be terribly alarmed. I was sure he would make an attempt to get me out of the way at once and would bring round his murderous weapon for that purpose. I left him an excellent mark in the window, and, having warned the police that they might be needed—by the way, Watson, you spotted their presence in that doorway with unerring accuracy—I took up what seemed to me to be a judicious post for observation, never dreaming that he would choose the same spot for his attack. Now, my dear Watson, does anything remain for me to explain?"

"Yes," said I. "You have not made it quite clear what was Colonel Moran's motive in murdering the Hon. Ronald Adair?"

"Ah, my dear Watson, there we come into those realms of conjecture where the most logical mind may be at fault. Each may form his own hypothesis upon the present evidence, and yours is as likely to be correct as mine."

"You have formed one, then?"

"I think that it is not difficult to explain the facts. It came out in evidence that Colonel Moran and young Adair had between them won a considerable amount of money. Now, Moran undoubtedly played foul. Of that I have long been aware. I believe that on the day of the murder Adair had discovered that Moran was cheating. Very likely he had spoken to him privately and had threatened to expose him unless he voluntarily resigned his membership of the club and promised not to play cards again. It is unlikely that a youngster like Adair would at once make a hideous scandal by exposing a well known man so much older than himself. Probably he acted as I suggest. The exclusion from his clubs would mean ruin to Moran, who lived by his ill gotten card gains. He therefore murdered Adair, who at the time was endeavoring to work out how much money he should himself return, since he could not profit by his partner's foul play. He locked the door lest the ladies should surprise him and insist upon knowing what he was doing with these names and coins. Will it pass?"

"I have no doubt that you have hit upon the truth."

"It will be verified or disproved at the trial. Meanwhile, come what may, Colonel Moran will trouble us no more. The famous air gun of Von Herder will embellish the Scotland Yard museum, and once again Mr. Sherlock Holmes is free to devote his life to examining those interesting little problems which the complex life of London so plentifully presents."

TOOK A SEVERE COLD.

It Settled In The Kidneys.

Pain In The Back The Result.

Catching cold and having it settle in the back is often the cause of Backache—the primary cause of kidney trouble. When the back aches it is a warning that the kidneys are liable to become affected.

Heed the warning: check the Backache, and dispose of any chance of further trouble.

If you don't, serious complications are very apt to arise. Mrs. R. Williams, Hamilton, Ont., caught cold, and it settled in her kidneys. She used and is thankful for the immediate relief they gave her. She writes us as follows:

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS,

"It is with pleasure that I add my testimony in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills. Some time ago I took a severe cold, which settled in my kidneys. The soreness and pain in the small of my back bothered me greatly. After suffering for some months, and finding numerous remedies fail, I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and received immediate relief from my sufferings.

Doan's Kidney Pills may be procured at all dealers, or will be sent direct by mail on receipt of price—

LABOR ACT ULTRA VIRES.

Pere Marquette Officials' Counsel Concludes Their Argument—Lawyer Shepley In Rebuttal.

Toronto, June 10.—In compliance with a writ of habeas corpus James G. Gilhula, despatcher, and Everett M. Cain, trainmaster of the Pere Marquette Railway, appeared before Justice Anglin in chambers at Osgoode Hall yesterday. This is a test case brought by the Attorney-General to enforce the alien labor law. Thirteen officials were found by the Commission, appointed for that purpose, to have been employed contrary to the provisions of the act; but only these two cases have been prosecuted.

J. A. Robinson of St. Thomas, on behalf of James G. Gilhula, advanced the plea that where the brain is used, such employment does not come under the provisions of the Alien Labor Act. There must be some muscle used in the work. The employment of his client, therefore, did not come under the act. The court had no jurisdiction in this case. There had been no hearing before the Attorney-General, nor had any notice to be heard as to whether his client comes within the act or not, been received by him. It was contrary to the habeas corpus act for a man to be condemned unheard. He must be brought in to answer the charge and be prejudged according to law. Notice must be given to the parties, and the Attorney-General must be satisfied that there is a breach of the law before he can act. This is a question of whether this law is not calculated to make a breach between the two countries, and the power sought in this act could only be vested in the sovereign power, Great Britain. Mr. Robinson also objected to the arrest as irregular. Col. Sherwood was a justice of the peace as well as chief of the Dominion police, and quoting Dalton as an authority read, that "a justice of the peace cannot act as constable."

J. B. Mackenzie, counsel for Mr. Cain, addressed the court for two hours, and quoted copiously from a long list of legal volumes before him. His main arguments were that the alien labor law is ultra vires, and that the Dominion Parliament had no power to pass it because it is an invasion of the sovereign power. There was also the possibility that the United States might refuse to receive these persons. If Canada passed a law to deport all Americans it might lead to war.

Mr. Shepley desired to say something in rebuttal to the number of authorities quoted, and will give his argument at 12 o'clock to-day.

Mr. Shepley relies on the inference that because the Privy Council in the British Columbia Chinese exclusion case decided that a Province had not the power to pass a law excluding any person from immigration or residence within its borders, it inferred that the Dominion Government had that power. He also argues that because the Dominion Parliament has seen fit to impower the Attorney-General to deport any person he is satisfied is in Canada in violation of the Alien Labor Act, and as no judge has the power to demand the Attorney-General to state on what evidence he has come to his decision, the act of the Attorney-General is final.

Accidental Death.

Marmora, June 9.—At an inquest held on the body of Charles Franklin, who was drowned on April 13 last, the coroner, after a full investigation, came to the conclusion that Franklin's drowning was purely accidental. The injuries on the back of the head, it is supposed, may have been caused by the explosions of dynamite used to raise the body.

ASSESSMENTS WERE INCREASED

At Court of Revision for Harvey Held at Nogey's Creek.

Personal Items of Interest—Football News From the Lakehurst Eleven.

From our Own Correspondent.

Lakehurst, June 8. — Among those from Harvey who took in Lemon Bros.' circus in Peterborough, were Mr. and Mrs. D. Weir, John Clarkson and his sister, Ethel, John Northey and his sister, Jemima, and Fred Truesdale.

Mr. S. Pickup, B.A., returned from Toronto on Saturday last.

Mr. S. Northey of Smith, conducted the services in the Methodist church here in the absence of Mr. Bowerman, who is attending conference.

Quite a number from here propose going to the Ennismore picnic on June 13th. It is altogether probable that the football team will play a team from Ennismore that day. However, nothing definite has as yet been decided upon.

The adjourned Court of Revision held at Nogey's Creek on Saturday, the 3rd inst., was attended by a large number from this vicinity. A very lively time is reported. Those whose assessment had been appealed against as being too low put up a stiff fight against a raise; but it was no use. Messrs. Wm. Irwin and Thos. Nicholls were raised $700 and $150 respectively.

Miss Lizzie Fawcett of Smith, spent Sunday with her parents.

Mr. Jas. Wilson has a gang of men employed on the construction of his new barn.

Mr. Trude, butcher of Lakefield, spent a couple of days in this locality buying lambs. Quite a few were bought. Soon Harvey will be overrun with cattle buyers, and, considering the high prices of hogs, cattlefarmers should have snug bank accounts next fall.

A MOTHER'S PRAISE

In every part of Canada you will find mothers who speak in the highest praise of Baby's Own Tablets. Among these is Mrs. J. H. Konkle, Beamsville, Ont., who says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for over three years and I would not be without them. They have done more for my children than any medicine I have ever used. My little girls, now four years old, was always troubled with indigestion and constipation, and although other medicines helped her temporarily, Baby's Own Tablets were the things needed to cure her. I also gave the Tablets to my baby from time to time since she was two days old, and they always worked like a charm. She is now two years old, and a more healthy child it would be hard to find. The Tablets are certainly a life saver." These Tablets cure all minor ailments of infants and children. They contain no poisonous soothing stuff, and there is no danger of giving an over dose as there is with liquid medicine. Sold by all druggists, or sent by mail at 25 cents a box by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

10 MINERS HURT.

Explosion of Gunpowder at Mouth of Nova Scotia Coal Mine.

Halifax, June 9.—A serious accident that might have resulted fatally caused sixteen miners at the Inverness Imperial coal mines to be badly burned and otherwise bruised. The accident was caused by a miner carrying a can of gunpowder uncorked. Being of a group assembled about the pick-holes at 7 o'clock, preparatory to entering the stope, it is thought that a spark from a lamp which the miners use in that stope ignited the powder and the flame from the first explosion spread to others.

The men were cut, burned, blistered and bleeding, some unrecognizable and unable to move, others roaming about suffering excruciating pains. Two doctors were quickly at the scene and rendered speedy relief.

Wreck at Flint, Mich.

Flint, Mich., June 9.—Fast through train No. 6, on the Grand Trunk Railroad, bound for Chicago from the east was wrecked yesterday afternoon about 10 miles east of here, near Davison, by spreading rails. No one was killed. Miss Cora Waltrous of Roxbury, Mass., was, it is thought, fatally injured and 10 others were less seriously hurt. Three coaches were ditched.

SPECIFICATIONS APPROVED.

Grand Trunk Pacific Hopes to Begin Work This Summer.

Ottawa, June 9.—Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson and C. M. Hays yesterday morning called upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier and left later for Montreal. Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson will leave for New York on Tuesday. Mr. Hays said that from surveys made he expected to get a grade of four-tenths, 1 per cent. for C. P. R. line as far as the Rockies, and 1 per cent. through mountains. The Government had just approved of the specifications and he hoped to begin construction on the Lake Superior branch and on the Prairie Branch west of Winnipeg this summer. We expect to take the Canada Atlantic over within the next sixty days," he said. "The cash, until the car shops now in Ottawa, will be maintained practically intact."

Drowned in Canada.

Moncton, June 9.—Bessie Wade, the 12-year-old son of David Wade, of Coverhead North, was drowned Thursday. With several boys, he went into the Orton drain for a bath. Owing to the heavy rains, the drain had an overflow of water in it, and was seven feet deep. This has been a favorite resort for the young boys to go in bathing, and the water was usually not deep enough to be dangerous.

Lake Schooner Sunk.

Michigan City, Ind., June 9.—The three-masted schooner Martha Mathes, laden with 163 cords of basswood, sank here yesterday by crashing into the dock. The crew was saved. She arrived from St. Josephs Island, Canada, Captained by Captain of Detroit.

CHANGES FOR KNOX COLLEGE.

Presbyterian General Assembly Approves Recommendations Submitted.

Kingston, June 9.—Yesterday morning was spent by the Presbyterian general assembly in discussing applications for ministers from various presbyteries.

The afternoon's session was devoted entirely to hearing reports from the colleges. Principal Falconer presented that of Halifax College. Everything was progressing favorably.

The report of Knox College was presented by His Honor W. Mortimer Clark, chairman of the board. Fifty-four students were enrolled in the theological classes of whom 14 received diplomas, 14 of whom held university degrees in arts. Net receipts for the ordinary fund were $19,910.71; expenditure $19,866.14. Sales of land amounted to $9,500, leaving property of $41,063 still unsold. The board placed on record its share of deep obligation to Principal Sheraton of Wycliffe College, who took up the work of the late Principal Caven, and recommended the appointment of Rev. T. B. Kilpatrick, M.A., D.D. of Manitoba College as professor of systematic theology, and of Rev. H. A. Kennedy, M.A., D.S.C. of Callendar, Scotland, as professor of New Testament Exercises. The report was adopted.

The report of Queen's was presented by Principal Gordon. The great question, that of the endowment fund, will come up to-day.

CANADA'S MILITIAMAN.

Must Show He Has Been Vaccinated or Stay Away From Camp.

Ottawa, June 9.—Owing to the existence of smallpox in certain parts of the Dominion, and more especially in the following districts of the Province of Ontario: Brant, Bruce, Halton, Wentworth, Perth, the municipalities of Toronto Junction and Almonte and Pembroke district, none but individuals who have good vaccination marks or who can show evidence of having had smallpox will be permitted to go into or remain at camp. A strict medical inspection will be held on the arrival of corps in camp. As rather a widespread epidemic of measles also exists in the above-named localities, special care will be exercised by medical examiners.

Allied Regiments.

Ottawa, June 9.—The King has granted the applications of the officers commanding the 5th Regiment Royal Scots of Canada Highlanders and the 91st Regiment Canadian Highlanders to be made allied regiments of the Black Watch (Royal Highlanders) and the Princess Louise (Argyll and Sutherland) Highlanders, respectively.

ATTEMPT TO SHOOT FAIRBANKS.

Vice-President of U. S. Was in Danger at Flint, Michigan.

Flint, Mich., June 9.—Vice-President Fairbanks was saved from being attacked by James McConnell, a blacksmith, Wednesday by the timely interference of detectives who surrounded the speaker while he addressed an enthusiastic assemblage of 2,000 persons gathered in the public square.

Fairbanks had been speaking for nearly 20 minutes, when McConnell, who had been slowly making his way through the crowd, made a bold effort to reach the side of the speaker. His right hand was placed on a rusty revolver, in his hip pocket as he surveyed Fairbanks, and then he made a quick movement as if to attack the vice-president.

In a struggle with four detectives who seized McConnell, it was necessary to choke him into submission. While being placed in a patrol wagon McConnell stoutly maintained that his time would come soon, and that he would yet be able to carry out his purpose and assassinate his intended victim.

Was Cured of Asthma

"I first used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, with my daughter, who suffered from a severe form of asthma. The least exposure to cold would lay her up, and she would nearly suffocate for want of breath. I must say that I found it to be a most satisfactory treatment, and it has entirely cured her" —Mrs. A. A. VanBuskirk, Robinson street, Moncton, N.B.

A BLUE STONE ROMANCE

HASTINGS CO. MADE FAMOUS BY THE PRINCESS OF WALES.

How Her Royal Highness Came to Figure in Geology—Marble Sodolite and Statuary Marble of Bancroft Township Add One More to the World's Luxuries—The Economic Side.

Little Bancroft village, up by the rock-built little York River in Bancroft Township, County of Hastings, has given birth to a geological romance. The chief figure in this interesting episode is the Princess of Wales. The other leading characters are Messrs. Charles Allom and John Duveen, of London, and Mr. Thomas Morrison, of Aberdeen. The kernel of the romance, almost after the fashion of the philosopher's stone, is a certain precious blue stone called sodolite, with at least three kinds of marble.

From these curious conjunctions it happens that at present three miles from the village of Bancroft there are strange new quarries, with horses and men at work clearing off the land, in and about the village £1,500 has been spent in a few months, and to Toronto at the end of last week came two English gentlemen, bubbling over with a tale of adventure that promises to create a new industry in Canada, says The News.

The two gentlemen were Messrs. Allom and Duveen. Mr. Allom is the active partner in the well-known firm of White & Allom, of London, the leading decorators in the British Empire. Mr. John Duveen is the leading member of the celebrated firm of Duveen Brothers, London and New York, known to the Anglo-Saxon world as the leading high art dealers in the British Empire.

Wour days ago these gentlemen were pounding roughshod over the granite hills and the knee-deep marshes of Bancroft Township. Five nights ago with Mr. Morrison, their geologist, and the picturesque old settler, Gaebel, who lives all alone in the hills, they were rambling under a moonless sky with a farmer's lantern in a last search for a mountain of white marble. They found it before daylight. Consequently Mr. Allom telegraphed to cancel his berth on the S. S. Philadelphia, missed his train out of Bancroft, and almost by accident dropped off at Toronto for a few hours, where these interesting explorers were interviewed.

On a table lay several bits of blue, white and green rock. Mr. Allom picked up a dark blue chip and held it up to the light.

"We shall call it the Royal Victoria lapis lasuli," he said. "So far as is known, there is no other deposit in the world just like it. It came from the Township of Bancroft, not far from Madoc. That stuff will polish like a diamond. Pay a visit to Mr. Pierpont Morgan soon and you shall see a border of it round his new library. At Marlborough House you shall see it. As for ornaments, beautiful buttons, umbrella handles, and all such it is simply a new sensation.

"The Princess will simply be delighted when she sees our box of specimen," added Mr. Allom, "Yes; we have christened our quarry, the Princess Quarry and our company the Princess Quarry Co."

"The story dates back to the time when the Princess, then the Duchess of Cornwall and York, visited Canada. While in Montreal, Mr. Reid there pre While in Montreal, Mr. Reid there presented her with about thirty beautifully polished stones—blue, green and white. They had been got by Mr. Willmot, the Dominion geologist, and polished by him. Two years ago the Princess sent for me, as I had been doing the decorations of Marlborough House. 'Mr. Allom,' she said. 'If these stones came from Hastings County, in Ontario, why cannot more be found like them? Why cannot a new Canadian industry be established, employing skilled Canadian labor polishing these stones for England?'"

It now began to be evident what the Princess of Wales had to do with this romance. Just another case of womanly intuition getting ahead of science, even in a commercial proposition. For the best part of a century the blue and white rocks in Hastings county have been dotted with settlers. They raised cattle that browsed and grazed on the sodolite. And one day, according to legend, thirteen years ago, a settler's cow slipped on a rock. The hoof left a long blue mark in the light soil. Afterwards a geologist studied the formation, and for a little while the settlers talked about it. But it was neither gold not diamonds, and the nine days wonder ceased. Certainly it would not have been revived but for the practical intuition of the Princess.

"The upshot of it was," continued Mr. Allom, "that the Princess handed the whole collection over to me to exploit. Four months afterwards I met Mr. Thomas Morrison, a quarrying expert of Aberdeen, who had done contracts for me. 'Morrison,' I said, showing him a bit of that common white marble, 'what do you think of that?'

"He looked at it hard. 'Let me have that,' he said. He pocketed it. Shortly afterward he came to me with a proposal to go to Canada. 'I want to discover that white marble formation,' he said. 'There's building material in that. Find enough of it, and we can oust the quarries of Belgium.'

"Pity we couldn't oust the quarries of Carrara, too,' said I. 'That means to find statuary marble.

"However, not to be prolix, Morrison came out here in the beginning of last year at my expense. He went up to the village of Bancroft, hired a room at the Bancroft House, and started on his pilgrimage over the rocks in that wild country, saying little but thinking much; chipping off specimens of blue and white stone; saving them up. Between Toronto, Ottawa and Bancroft he put in eight months, consulting here with Mr. Chadwick, our solicitor, in Ottawa with the Geological Department. He returned to England with a report, and his specimens. Mr. Duveen, his brother, and myself, got together.

"We sent Morrison out again last March with his wife. They went up to Bancroft. In three weeks after their arrival they built a house right on the edge of a quarry, and moved into it before it was done. Mr. Morrison bought properties and got options on more. Some of the farmers were disposed to hang on. Old man Gaebel sold us 600 acres, and encouraged other men to hail out also. In a short while Mr. Morrison was able to go ahead. He bought horses and hired men; built a blacksmith shop and started in to do some quarrying."

But the most absorbing episode in the narrative, aside from the discovery of the marvelous mountain of blue sodolite, was the story of how these gentlemen discovered the hill of white marble, isolated bits of which had already been located by Mr. Morrison. Mr. Allom had already booked his passage back to England, but determined to have one more quest for white marble. They might even yet find the statuary marble deposits that would sidetrack the quarries of Carrara in Italy, the only known source of the world's statuary marble.

Only one night remained. They took it. The three men with old man Gaebel as a guide started out. This was last Wednesday night, with not the glint of a moonbeam and the weirdest tramp ever taken by the old settler, who had been on those hills forty years. And after they had tramped till long past midnight they located a continuous ridge of white marble, returning with tired legs and great joy to the Gaebel homestead.

The next day they made further explorations. The result was that for the first time in the history of the world they discovered signs that down beneath the white building marble of the surface lay a huge deposit of the finest statuary marble, as good as any in the quarries of Carrara. Leaving Mr. Morrison to look after the claim, Messrs. Allom and Duveen came on to Toronto to confer with their solicitors.

"Now," concluded Mr. Allom, after he had displayed pieces of sea-green marble and a piece of amethyst all from Bancroft, "what does this discovery of white statuary marble mean? It means that whereas now sculptors have to pay £4 a cubic foot for Carrara marble, they can get it from Canada at $1 a foot. It means that where a block large enough for a statue costs now £336, it can be got from Canada for one-quarter that amount. And we expect that the new statue of her late Majesty will yet be made of Bancroft marble from the County of Hastings. As for the marble sodolite that is already a Canadian monopoly. In course of time we shall quarry, polish and design these stone right in Canada, employing Canadian labor, and we shall ship not only abroad, but to the United States, if the duty does not prevent us. As for the white and green building marble, that can be quarried cheap in paying quantities, although, of course, labor is dearer here than in Belgium. The only other sources of the ordinary granite sodolite are Bulgaria and a ridge in the north of Maine. We have water power on our properties, but we have already negotiated in Toronto for steam engines which will be shipped at once. We shall both of us be back in August to go over the property again."

And so ended the rambling, romantic story of how the Princess of Wales initiated by her womanly intuition what promises to develop into one of the most distinctive and world-renowned industries of this colony, as well as a further link in the chain of imperialism.

Old and New.

"How times have changed! Once they used to fine a man for kissing his wife."

"I suppose they will soon be offering a reward for anything of the sort."

Nothing Like It.

When you have climbed the mountains
And visited the lakes,
Those places where the pilgrim
Roasts, frissles, fries and bakes,

Although the joints are listed
As cool and fresh and dry,
You'll find the coolness largely
In some promoter's eye.

When nowhere can you wholly
Secure your money's worth,
You'll wish that you were home again—
The coolest spot on earth.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

EVANISHED.

You may sigh and may cry for the days that are by,
For the days rosy hued that have fled,
But I mourn quite forlorn and am much
overborne
By the loss of the hair from my head;

By the loss of the gloss that once glistened across
Those locks that have since blown away,
For my hair wasn't spare in those past days so fair,
But, alas, it has now gone to stay!

Oh, the swirls and the curls that made hits with the girls
Were my joy, my delight and my pride!
But, alack, down the track from which no
hair comes back
They have gone, and my part's three hands wide!

And I moan as I own that a king on his throne
Would be sad with a head without hair;
He would fear that the sneer of the courtiers near
Would be aimed at a head that was bare.

So I weep in my sleep, and my thoughts
sadly creep
As I murmur at nature's stern plan,
And I sigh and I cry and I still wonder why
Fate has made me a baldheaded man.

Going the Limit.

"What'll you have to drink?" asked the drug clerk of the small boy at the soda fountain.

"What ye got?" demanded the boy.

"Anything and everything."

"All right; give me a house and lot."

"Never heard of that drink. This is no real estate office."

"I thought you said you had everything."

"I meant common drinks."

"That must be common. I heard pa tell ma that old Silas Tank drank a house and lot last winter."

Different.

He monkeyed with a bunsaw,
As children sometimes do,
And just to show how it was done
He sawed a board in two.

He didn't saw a finger off
While showing he was slick,
For, really, that would, don't you think,
Have been a silly trick?

Playing Safe.

"Advertise a beautiful sunrise as one of our chief attractions."

"But it is usually foggy here in the morning."

"That is true, but it sounds nice, and the summer boarders will never be up in time to know the difference."

True to Life.

"What does that clown standing like a statue on the top of the wagon represent?" asked the spectator of one of the circus employees.

"Oh, he's our standing joke."

The Unexpected.

He bet his money on the race,
His horse won at an easy pace,
He came home with a bulging roll
And bought his stock of winter coal,
For wife dear he bought a gown,
And quite a bunch he salted down.
Oh, yes, it sometimes is the case!

Suspicious.

"He wouldn't steal any red-hot stoves."

"Not unless he had a pair of asbestus mittens."

Might Need Room.

"Come into the ally, and I can lick you."

"Better take the street. It will give you more of a chance to run if I should take you up."

Had Met the Kind.

"Why did you refuse to lend him money after making a promise to do so?"

"I heard everybody calling him Honest Tom."

There is all of the difference in the world between the Golden Rule and the rule of gold.

An astute gentleman and his money are soon parted if he takes a walk down Wall street.

Nothing aggravates a woman with a temper so much as a man who refuses to get mad.

When a man's salary is so large that he can't draw it himself his wife is always willing to come around to help draw it.

A man may pride himself that he is the salt of the earth, but a young lady is quite content if she can be the sugar.

The trouble with so many bad habits is that they can hang on so long after they have been broken off.

Material that is good for nothing else is often by a mysterious providence made into bosses.

The deepest sounding yet made in the oceans is the Aldrich Deep, to the east of New Zealand. Here the sea is 30,930 feet deep.

Just about the meanest thing a furnace can have is a dinky little door.

Ever have one? Hit the edge as often as the hole? One has to be an expert stoker to shovel coal into some furnaces. If you're not an expert you'll get as much on the floor as in the furnace.

The Sunshine Furnace is equipped with a good, big door. You can put your shovel in and drop the coal just where it is wanted—no trouble, no taking aim, no missing, no scattering or annoyance.

Everything about the Sunshine Furnace is on the same scale of thoughtfulness.

It is better than electricity, because it does not scar or produce a new growth. Better than X-ray, because it does not burn, scar or paralyze the tissues under the skin. OTTAWA WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Together With Gossip and Jealousy Cause Woman's Suicide.

LAST NOTE TO HER HUSBAND

Note Was Found on the Bridge at the Chaudiere Falls, Ottawa, With Her Hat and Satchel — Husband Has Identified Them and Her Handwriting—Many Other Fatalities and Deaths.

Ottawa, June 10.—A few nights ago a woman's hat and satchel and a note signed M. V. G. were found on the bridge at the Chaudiere Falls. The note announced her intention of committing suicide owing to jealousy, gossip and an absent husband. At first it was thought that it might be a hoax, but yesterday J. E. Gobeil, an agent of Buckingham, identified the satchel and the handwriting as that of his wife. In addition she left her husband a lengthy letter. She was operated on for spinal abscess recently, and it is thought she was discouraged and probably mentally weak.

Despondency Led to Suicide.

Toronto, June 10.—William Ford Thursday evening took a fatal dose of laudanum at the home of his sister, 32 Wellington avenue. Since his arrival in the city three weeks ago he has been very despondent and threatened several times to kill himself. It was about 6.30 he took laudanum, and he died at one o'clock yesterday morning. He was 28 years of age and came from Concord, Ont.

By the Morphine Route.

Toronto, June 10.—By taking an overdose of morphine Frank Ferguson, aged 24, of 203 John street, ended his life yesterday afternoon. The young man had been addicted to the use of the drug for some time past. During the last few months he has been in poor health.

"Over the Falls I Go."

Buffalo, N. Y., June 10.—Harvey Yerkes, a paperhanger, who was under $500 bonds on a charge of kidnapping the 16-year-old daughter of Frank Everett of Fort Erie, Ont., went to Niagara Falls yesterday and sent the following note to a friend here:

"Enough of this for me. Over the falls I go."

Yerkes had been brooding over trouble. His friends were unable to locate him last night.

Babe Drowned in Posthole.

Toronto, June 10.—By tumbling into an old post hole full of water Samuel Bates, a nineteen months' old toddler, was drowned on Thursday evening. The little fellow was a son of W. Bates of Gordon street.

Near to the home of the Bates family is the site of an old greenhouse which has recently been torn down. About it are several post holes where the posts have been taken out. All of these were partially filled with water from the recent heavy rainfall.

Little Samuel, who could just barely walk, had been seen playing about the yard of the house for some time, and his mother inside little dreamed that anything amiss had happened to her child. When his baby prattle was missed it was then that a search was made for his whereabouts.

Face foremost in one of these postholes, which contained a few inches of water and a thick layer of mud, the little body of the boy was found. He was quite dead. An inquest was deemed unnecessary.

Buried Under Tons of Sand.

Toronto, June 10.—Buried beneath tons of sand for nearly an hour yesterday afternon, Albert Maynard, the eleven-year-old son of John Maynard of Todmorden, may not recover from his experience. The lad was playing on a sand bank at Pape avenue and Woodvale street when the top of it crumbled in, burying him and several playmates beneath its weights.

He was engaged in clearing away short pieces of slabs from a chain-way when his clothes were taken hold of by the chain and he was dragged for a distance before he was extricated.

Fell Through Hole in Bridge.

Peterboro, June 10.—Margaret Ann Louie, the five-year-old stepdaughter of Thomas Inlan, was drowned in the Otonabee River Thursday night when crossing the old Dickson Co. bridge. The child ran ahead of her parents, a plank was missing from the bridge, and the girl fell through the opening. She was drowned before aid could reach her, the current being very swift.

Hamilton Responsible.

Hamilton, June 10.—The coroner's jury that investigated the death of John Hamill, the G. T. R. yard foreman, who was fatally injured last Monday by being crushed between a car and a shed in the city yards on Wellington street, says "the City of Hamilton is wholly responsible for the accident." The evidence showed that there was only ten inches between the car and the wall, and the unfortunate foreman had to go into that space to give the signals to the engineer.

Passenger Coaches Upset.

Stratford, June 10.—Thursday morning the G. T. R. passenger train, which leaves Stratford at 8.45, was derailed about two miles from Shakespeare by the breaking of a tender truck. ASPECT IS MENACING.

How Will France Accept Germany's Morocco Policy.

Paris, June 10.—Germany's note to the powers, proposing an international conference on the subject of Morocco, is regarded in the highest quarters as renewing the gravity of the situation almost to the point of making it menacing. France has received a copy of the note showing that Germany acted openly in appealing to the powers, notwithstanding the official statement from Berlin that Morocco invites the conference. The officials here interpret the German note as showing that Germany is the real upholder of the conference.

A Cabinet Council to-day will consider the note. The nature of France's official answer is still in doubt, owing to Premier Rouvier's desire to avoid widening the breach between Germany and France.

London, June 10.—The correspondent of The Times at Tangier reports that Germany has notified her acceptance of the invitation to the proposed conference on the Moroccan situation. This is believed to mean that no negotiations for a mutual arrangement between Berlin and Paris is now possible.

Big Fire at Rodney.

St. Thomas, June 10.—Fire was discovered in the basement of a building at Rodney occupied by McRitchie's grocery yesterday morning about 4 o'clock. At one time it looked as if the whole village would be wiped out, as Rodney has no fire brigade. Volunteers went to work with buckets and partly succeeded in holding the flames back till the fire brigade from Ridgetown arrived. T. W. Kirkpatrick's residence next door was also burned down.

Bad Fire At St. Thomas.

St. Thomas, June 10.—Shortly after midnight the repeated whistlings of the locomotives in the Michigan Central Railway yards aroused the city to a fire in the railway oil sheds. The heat was intense. Three oil cars were burned. By 1 o'clock the fire was under control. The loss will be upwards of $10,000.

Italian Smugglers Caught.

Niagara Falls, June 10.—Customs officers Thursday night arrested Philippo Donna of Niagara Falls and E. Hussen of Montreal on a charge of smuggling. Yesterday Donna was fined $50 and costs, or two months. Hassen will be tried to-day.

Haultain and Oliver At London.

London, June 10.—Two large political gatherings were held last night, Premier Haultain speaking at the Princess Rink, and Hon. Frank Oliver at the Jubilee Rink.

One Body Recovered.

Plymouth, England, June 10.—Thirteen bodies are still entombed in submarine boat "A. 5," divers who worked all day long only recovering one body.

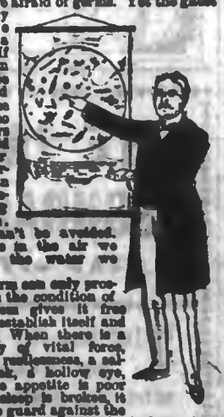
Arrested For Intimidation.

Stratford, June 9.—G. T. R. Detective Day last night arrested Alexander Lancaster, one of the striking G. T. R. machinists, on a charge of intimidating men who are working in the shops. In making the arrest Day was jostled by a big crowd, and, after landing his first prisoner, he arrested Richard Pitcher for alleged interference and disorderly conduct. Both men are respectable residents.

Premier Has Not Refused.

Ottawa, June 9.—(Globe Special.)—The impression is sought to be conveyed in despatches from London that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has declined the invitation to the Colonial conference. The Prime Minister states that he has not received any such invitation, and, therefore, there could be no refusal.

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon.



Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, hunger, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germs. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, gets the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant.

"Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' is a gift from heaven," writes Geo. W. Turner, Esq., Financial Secretary International Brotherhood of Teamsters, and Cullbreath Street, Darwin, Ohio. "For two years seven years my health gradually failed. I lost my appetite, became nervous and debilitated, could not sleep and unable to attend to business. No medicine helped me until I tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It put new life into my veins and increased vitality until I could enjoy life and attend to my business. Four bottles affected a complete cure and gladly do I recommend it."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets—only one or two a day will regulate and cleanse and invigorate a foul, bad Stomach, torpid Liver, or sluggish Bowels.

A LAKE ERIE POACHER.

Government Cruiser Vigilant Sinks U. S. Tug Grace M. by Accident —Two Fishermen Drowned.

Port Stanley, June 8.—Yesterday morning about 9.15 the Government cruiser Vigilant, Capt. Dunn, sighted a fishing tug about six miles east of Middle Island, Lake Erie, and about five miles north of the boundary line. The captain changed his course and made towards the tug, which proved to be the Grace M. of Lorain, Ohio, Capt. William Galbraith.

The tug executed several dodging movements, notwithstanding the fact that Capt. Dunn had fired across her bows several times.

The tug again attempted to cross the Vigilant's bow. Capt. Dunn, seeing there was likely to be a collision, stopped and backed full steam, and had his boat well stopped when they came together, but the momentum of the Vigilant was sufficient to roll the Grace M. over, and she sank. Capt. Dunn rescued Capt. Galbraith, Engineer Wm. Rulleson, and D. Poppelwell, a fisherman.

Two fishermen were drowned, named Martin Aleson of Cleveland, and Wm. Anderson of Lorain.

ALIEN LABOR LAW.

Eleven Objections Urged in Pere Marquette Habeas Corpus Case.

Toronto, June 8.—The formal notice in the Pere Marquette habeas corpus case has been served on the Attorney-General and 11 objections are made against the legality of the proceeding and the constitutionality of the Alien Labor Act.

It is said that the act assumes a jurisdiction over the high seas which it does not possess; that the act is unconstitutional, as legislating on a matter within the exclusive power of Great Britain, because it assumes to create coercion of citizens of a foreign State, permitted to become citizens of Canada, and so entitled to the protection of British laws.

It is Back to Bicycles....

It should be back to Bicycles with everyone who ever rode a wheel — for these particular wheels this year are so far ahead of their predecessors that it would be realizing new pleasures and new and luxurious comforts in the joy of living to ride any of them.

Hon. J. T. Doyle, L.L.M., Secretary of the U. S. Civil Service, Washington, puts the matter in a nutshell regarding bicycles generally, when he says: "Of the things that help to make life more good and agreeable and extend the range of its activities, the Bicycle is among the foremost. It quadruples the area that one may move in and makes it quick and pleasant to 'get there.'"

The Hon. J. T. Doyle could speak particularly of the new wheel—the wheel that is equipped with the Hygienic Cushion Frame, the new Morrow Coaster Brake and the Sills Handle Bar—improvements that makes wheeling an entirely different proposition from that of four years ago.

No breakdowns—every road a smooth road—more speed and less work—no jarring or vibration—better material—better workmanship.

CLEVELAND

This is the exclusive wheel that has the big modern improvements — Cushion Frame, Coaster Brake, Sills Handle Bars. Above all, are made right and of the right material—and don't cost any more than the other kind.

Keene, June 6th.—The Otonabee Council met on the 25th of May, in the town hall.

Peter Thomson and Jas. Kiley, Jr., were present, requesting the council to issue debentures to borrow the sum of $650 to pay for a new school house for School Section No. 11, the payments to extend for a term of 10 years. The request was granted and the clerk instructed to prepare a by-law and debentures.

Joseph Steele, secretary of S. S. No. 1, applied for a grant for a wire snow fence, to be placed opposite the school house to prevent drifting on the road. Referred to the councillor representing that ward.

A petition was received, signed by the ratepayers of Road Division No. 35, to have their statute labour commuted. A by-law was passed granting the request.

The council fixed the 30th day of May to meet with Messrs. Anderson and Howden, to look over the proposed new road and to arrange for additional ground at the Campbellstown Wharf for the accommodation of the public.

Sandy Matchett applied for leave to cut sufficient bush to make a space for the erection of a fence on the road allowance opposite lot 14, concession 15. Left in Mr. Stewart's hands.

The sum of $2,000 was appropriated for the improvement of the roads.

Thos. Petrie, W. D. Johnston and S. Sargent were present, requesting the council to detach Thos. Petrie's lot from S. S. No. 2, and attach it to S. S. No. 12. Thos. G. Hazlett, presented a petition signed by the ratepayers of No. 2, opposing the change. After hearing the gentlemen for and against, the council decided not to make the change asked for.

A communication was received from Daniel O'Connell, to the effect that if Thos. Tully's claim of 30c against the Corporation of Keene, was not settled by the 27th inst., it would be placed in suit. The Treasurer reported that the last account received from Mr. Tully had been paid over two years ago.

Two communications were received from W. Bamfield, General Manager of the North American Telegraph Co.,—the first to the Assessor that the wire mileage assessed in the township was incorrect; the second, acknowledging his error on representations being made by the clerk, and sent the correct mileage, which increased the assessment by $223.

Councillor John Carey tendered his resignation, which, on motion, was accepted.

HANDS CRACKED AND PEELED

Suffered for One Year — Water Caused Agony, Heat Intense Pain — Grew Worse Under Doctors — Could Not Do Any Housework.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"About a year ago my hands began to crack and peel. I tried many remedies, but they grew worse all the time. At last they became so sore that it was impossible for me to do my housework. If I put my hands in water, I was in agony for hours; and if I tried to cook over the stove, the heat caused intense pain. I consulted a doctor, but his prescriptions were utterly useless, and I tried another, but without the least satisfaction I got my first relief when I purchased Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After using them for a week, I found to my great delight that my hands were beginning to feel much better, the deep cracks began to heal up and stop running, and in six weeks my hands were entirely well, one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment making a complete cure.—Mrs. M. Drew, 16 Dana St., Roxbury, Mass."

REASON No 39

WHY YOU SHOULD USE

Red Rose Tea

Because it is put up in sealed packages.

These packages protect the flavor of the tea and protect you in weight and guarantee of quality.

No article of food is so easily tainted as tea—it absorbs the flavor of everything it comes in contact with. Place an orange beside some tea for an hour, and then taste or smell the tea—orange too.

Very few tea bins are tight enough to prevent tea from absorbing the odors of fruit, vegetables, cheese, etc., etc., usually mixed together in a grocery—and the ordinary tea chest is very little protection.

The Red Rose Tea sealed lead package preserves all the original flavor and freshness of the tea—open a package and smell its fresh fragrant aroma.

Packages of Red Rose Tea are always full weight and uniform in quality.

Two Brothers Are On Their Way at Present.

Two Far Separated Sons to Meet Their Father in Peterborough.

Mr. C. S. Bottsford, town, has a delightful experience in prospect. His two sons from opposite ends of the earth are expected to be in Peterborough together within a short time. One son, Robert Simpson Bottsford, F.R.S.M.—Fellow of the Royal School of Mines—has for the past three and a half years, been acting as mining engineer to the Borneo (of the Dutch East Indies Group) Gold Mining Company. En route for London, England, his home, Mr. Bottsford reached Vancouver about a fortnight ago and is, or has been inspecting some of the gold mines of the Western Province. He is making Canada a "port of call," so to speak, on his way home, and will probably keep his mining eyes open and visit mines in this province also during his stay in Peterborough. He is expected here almost any day as his heavy luggage has arrived in town. The other son of Mr. Bottsford, Mr. A. Gladstone Bottsford, is also expected to visit Peterborough about the same time his brother is here. This fraternal conjunction will represent a very happy family reunion.

PRETTY WEDDING IN DUNNVILLE

Dr. Joseph M. Jory, Formerly of Norwood, Married on Wednesday.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Paul's Church, Dunnville, on Wednesday, June 7th, when Joseph Morley Jory, M.D., of St. Catharines, was married to Alice Mary, second daughter of the late Edward Docker, Esq., by the Rev. Dr. Perdue. The church was tastefully and elegantly decorated and harmonized in a pleasing manner with the beautiful gowns of the bride and bridesmaids. The maid of honour was Miss Louise Docker, sister of the bride, and Dr. Duncan Anderson, of Toronto, was the best man.

Dr. Jory is a son of Mr. Joseph Jory, of Norwood, and was born in South Dummer. He was married to Miss Ford, a daughter of Dr. Ford, of Norwood, who died about three years ago. He received his education at the Norwood High School, taking his degree in medicine at Trinity University, Toronto. He was some years ago prominent in football circles, being the star half-back of the famous Norwood team, then in its palmy days. Mrs. Wm. Stevenson, of Norwood, and Mrs. Hugh Spence, of N.W.T., are sisters, and Miss May Jory, of town, a half-sister.

The doctor's many friends in Peterborough and Norwood, will extend him hearty congratulations.

THE STOLEN HORSE.

An Old Proverb With a New Application.

The woods are full of "so-called" remedies for baldness.

You may call anything in creation a remedy, but to use them is like looking the stable after the horse is stolen.

Baldness and dandruff are caused by a germ—if you don't kill the germ the germ will kill the hair.

Scientists have laboured with the problem of a preventative for baldness for many years.

Newbro's Herpicide is the product of a modern idea, and will cure dandruff and prevent baldness because germs cannot exist when you apply Herpicide.

Herpicide is a valuable hair dressing and scalp disinfectant as well as a cure for dandruff.

ARMOUR'S HILL THE THE SCENE OF CONFLICT

Was Captured Last Night By Six Companies of the 57th Regiment Against a Defending Force of Two Companies Under Command of Major Stevenson—Annual Regimental Inspection Took Place Last Night—Local Battalion Showed Up Well—Marching and Firing Exercises Were Commended---Col. Gordon Here.

Armour's Hill was last night the scene of a desperate sham battle, when, on the occasion of the annual regimental inspection, an attacking force, comprising six of the eight companies of the regiment, successfully attacked, capturing, the stronghold, from a defence, consisting of two companies, namely, seven and eight, under command of Major Stevenson.

These events, which have become a feature of the annual inspection, have created considerable interest among the citizens, and last night the battle ground was visited by many hundreds, who would not have been so conspicuous had the fight been one in earnest.

Last night closed the annual inspection of the 57th Regiment, which has been in progress since Wednesday night, when the right half of the regiment, comprising Companies one, two, three and four, were inspected by Col. Young, and continued last night in the inspection of the left half, with companies five, six, seven and eight, the conclusion being reached last night, when Col. Gordon, the newly appointed D. O. C., of No. 3 District, of Kingston, inspected the whole regiment, the inspection closing with the sham battle referred to above.

At six o'clock the regiment formed in the Central Park, which, since the removal of the fence, makes an admirable parade ground. The regiment was formed in quarter column order, with both bands and stretcher bearer sections, and afterwards deployed into line. The colours were marched out in charge of Lieut. Wallace and Lieut. Best, and received, and Col. Gordon, accompanied by Col. Young, as they arrived at the parade grounds, were given the salute. While the regiment was in line the inspecting officer marched up and down the line inspecting the men, while the band, under Bandmaster Gliddon, played a march. After the men had been inspected the march past took place, the regiment, in column, marching past the inspecting officer, each company doing itself credit.

The commanding officer then called his staff together, and gave them his instructions as to the plan of attack and defence, and, the defending party, under the command of Major Stevenson, and comprising companies seven, in charge of Capt. McWilliams and Lieuts. Best and Kelly; and eight, in command of Lieuts. Clarke and Glover, marched off to take up their position on the hill, and to station men to guard the approaches thereto. The fighting area was bounded on the north by Dublin street, and on the south by Hunter street, and the defending force stationed, half of No. seven, and half of No. 8, on the top of the hill, while the rest of the men were detailed to guard the roads leading to the summit, one section being left to defend the Hunter street bridge, and another, in charge of Captain Hamilton, taking up a position at the London street bridge.

After some time had been allowed for the defending party to become entrenched in their positions, the attacking forces moved off. These were divided into two distinct sections, companies five and one being detailed to take the northern positions, while Numbers two and three were to engage the south, leaving four and six as the reserve force, this force being in charge of Col. Miller, on the north; the firing line was in command of Capt. Bennett, while Capt. Cluxton, with Lieut. Wilson, was supporting him.

Upon arriving in sight of London street bridge, the attacking force discovered that it was being strongly held by a detachment in command of Capt. Hamilton. A section of each of the two attacking companies were then sent up to the north side of Goose Pond, under Sergt. Sturgeon, and the passage of the main body over the bridge was covered by this force who drew off the fire of the defenders, the latter withdrawing under the fire of a superior force, and the whole two companies crossed the bridge in safety. The defenders made another stand at the old railway crossing, where they were strongly entrenched, but Capt. Bennett's men gradually drove them from this position, and Capt. Hamilton retired to the rear, joining his main force.

In the meantime, the south attacking party had met, and dispersed in disorder, a small detachment of men, who had sheltered themselves behind the McAllister mill and from that vantage ground, had poured for some time, a fire into the ranks of the attacking party. After this force had been annihilated, Capt. Clegg divided his men, sending one section, under Lieut. Langford along Driscoll Terrace to Douro street, while another was sent along Hunter street. The defence had left their position to south of the hill in a condition which made it comparatively easy to take, and, the force coming up Hunter street, attacked the defenders so strongly that they fled in disorder, leaving an opening, by which a force of the reserve under Lieut. Wallace was able to make a wide detour and succeeded in strongly entrenching themselves on the side of the hill nearest the Lift Lock, where they awaited developments. No. 3 Co., in command of Capt. Mills, with Lieuts. Gemmell and Comstock, the two latter being in charge of sections, hid themselves behind a fence running parallel with Hunter street, to the brow of the hill, and were joined there by Capt. Hounsell, who, with the section, under Lieut. Watt, which, with great bravery ran across the grain field, exposed to the fire of the enemy and joined in the general attack, which resulted in the capture of the stronghold, the defenders fighting desperately to the last, but were finally overpowered by force of numbers and were compelled to surrender, their position being completely surrounded by the enemy.

After the capture of the hill, the whole regiment marched back to the drill Hall, by way of Hunter and George streets, No. 8 Co. leading. The men, after refreshments had been served, were dismissed until Tuesday, when the next drill will be held.

The parade state last night showed that 345 men and 23 officers were in line, a total of 370, which was a remarkably good showing.

Col. Gordon expressed himself as being very pleased with the state of the regiment, and compared it very favourably with other city regiments in the province. The sham battle, in his opinion, was well planned and exceedingly well executed, and on the whole it may be said that the Peterborough Rangers acquitted themselves splendidly, in this, their annual inspection, and, with the improvement which will follow as a matter of course, should make a good impression at Ottawa on the occasion of their visit there on July 1st.

RICE LAKE CANOES GO TO WINNIPEG

A Shipment Made From Gore's Landing To-day.

The steamers Beaver and Water Lily arrived this morning from Rice Lake ports, each bringing about 30 passengers, and a quantity of freight. The former boat brought five canoes, manufactured by the Rice Lake Canoe Co. of Gore's Landing, for shipment to Winnipeg, where they have been sold. Rice Lake is said to be the birth-place of the canoe, and it would seem that it still holds its place, when canoes can be shipped from there through Peterborough to Winnipeg.

The propsects for shipping this year on the Otonabee are excellent, and all the boats on the river will be busy during the whole summer.

On Friday afternoon, June 8th, Miss Dorothy Dillon, eldest daughter of the late Bernard Dillon, died at the family residence, 63 Sophia street, after an illness of six months from tuberculosis. She leaves behind her to mourn her loss two brothers, Edward J., and James P., Dillon, and one sister, Miss Nellie Dillon. The deceased lady has been the head of the household since the death of her mother, fifteen years ago, the father having died five years previously. She was of a quiet disposition, devout in religion and admirably discharged the duties that lay before her, fulfilling faithfully the dual responsibility of mother and sister. She was conscious to the last, and was able to request that there should be no ostentatious funeral and no flowers.

The funeral takes place to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon, at three o'clock from the family residence to St. Peter's Cathedral and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

THE PHYSICAL DIRECTRESS

Miss H. E. Adams Will Act In That Capacity for Y. W. C. A.

Her Duties Will Commence October 1st—Comes Well Qualified For Her Work.

Miss H. E. Adams of Toronto, has been appointed, Physical Directress of the Young Women's Christian Association, her duties to begin Oct. 1st. Miss Adams has been trained by Mrs. Somers, and comes very highly recommended. In addition to the course she has already taken, Miss Adams will attend the Summer School at Chatauqua, where she will have unlimited opportunity of gathering together fresh ideas for the fall work.

The gymnasium apparatus is now ordered. Orders have been given to local firms, for whatever it is possible to secure in Peterborough, but the greater part of the apparatus is coming from the Narragansett Machine Company, of Providence, Rhode Island. The list of apparatus is so complete that in all probability there will be no better equipped gymnasium in any Y.W.C.A. in Canada or the United States, and consequently the physical department promises to be the strong feature of the fall's work.

The assistance of Messrs. G. H. Williamson and P. K. Holmes of the Y.M.C.A. is gratefully acknowledged. Mr. Williamson has spared no pains in the obtaining of information, while Mr. Holmes' assistance in the suggesting and actual ordering of the apparatus has proved invaluable.

TRENT WATERS HAVE BEEN TRANSFERRED

The Ontario Government Hands Over Northern Waters and Works to Dominion Government---Order-in-Council Was Passed Yesterday in Toronto---Present Government Carries Out Arrangements Practically Completed by Ross Government---Proper Action in the Interests of the Province and of the Trent Waters.

The expected has happened, and the right thing has been done. The watershed of the Trent Valley Canal waters has been transferred to Dominion jurisdiction and control.

The Examiner is credibly informed that at a meeting of the Ontario Cabinet on Thursday, an order-in-council was passed, to hand over to the Dominion Government the custody and control of the head-waters of the Otonabee River, and connected waters, and the locks, dams, slides, bridges and other works, if any, formerly under the control of the Local Government.

In taking this action, the Ontario Government has carried into effect the arrangements for such a transfer, practically completed, but not implemented, by the Ross Government, and have, at the same time, taken the proper course.

This decision will give to the Dominion Government the full control, management and maintenance of the waters tributary to the Trent Canal System, and the associated works, such as the Locks at Young's Point, etc., which have in the past been chiefly a bother and bill of expense to the province, without any compensating advantage by way of revenue or special service to any interest, except the lumberman, whose interests have, no doubt, been effectively provided for in the stipulations contained in the agreement making the transfer.

We may hereafter look for greatly improved water conditions, both in the interests of industrial enterprises and of navigation. Of late there has been marked improvement in the management of the waters of the system, and still further improvement may be looked for under the conditions of undivided jurisdiction.

Mr. J. H. McClellan will have charge of the transferred waters and works, in addition to those formerly under his superintendence.

The contribution being unsigned, transgresses the invariable rule of newspapers with reference to the publication of anonymous letters, and the Examiner therefore finds it impossible to utilize it.

—A runaway occurred this morning at 7.15 o'clock which caused a little excitement though no damage was done. A team and wagon belonging to the Dickson Company, frightened at something near the dam on London street, took a notion to run. They came up London to Aylmer street and turning down the latter street were stopped at Brock street. The team is a large, heavy one and as the wagon was partly loaded it could not make much headway. The driver followed as fast as possible and drove his team back none the worse for their unwonted exercise.

RACING CIRCUIT WAS ORGANIZED

Race Meet Will Be Held in Peterborough on July 12-13.

Mr. J. M. Brooks, of the Palace Hotel, returned last night from Belleville where he yesterday attended the meeting for the purpose of organising a Racing Circuit in Central Ontario, which was held at the Quinte Hotel.

The meeting was very successful, the Circuit being formed and the following dates arranged:—

Belleville, June 28—29; Port Hope, July 1—3; Peterborough, July 12—13; Picton, July 19—20; Kingston, July 31, Aug. 1.

Representatives from the above towns were present at the meeting.

The Executive Officers of the Association were elected, Mr. Charles Wilmot, of Port Hope, being chosen President, and Mr. Carney, of Belleville, Secretary-Treasurer.

The first day's races at Peterough will be:

2.40 class, trot or pace, for $150.
2.19 class, trot or pace, for $200.
Three-quarter mile running race, for $150.

Second Day.—2.35 class, trot or pace, for $150.
One-half mile heat, running, for $150.
Free for all, trot or pace, for $300

The terms for prizes are 50, 25, 15 and 10 per cent., according to place. Entrance fee, 10 per cent.

In mixed races four seconds allowance will be made to trotters.

It is not fully decided yet whether the judges will be local or chosen for the entire circuit. If the latter plan can be arranged, much possible misunderstanding and disputing would be lessened, if not avoided.

BOWLING-ON-THE-GREEN.

The Brookside Lawn was lighted up last night for the first time this summer. It presented a very handsome appearance and was enlivened with a couple of games, the scores of which were not handed in.

The members are requested not to forget the match between the President and Vice-President on Monday afternoon and evening.

This match will take place on Monday afternoon at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m., health and weather permitting.

FOOTBALL.

A meeting of the Executive of the Midland League will be held in the Benmot House, Bowmanville, on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, when the different protests will be settled. A lengthy session is expected.

LACROSSE.

The Oshawa Reformer in speaking of the game in that town this afternoon with Peterborough says:—

Everything is in readiness and reports from Peterborough say the players from the new city are in great shape and expect to win in Oshawa. The question is can they do it? The local boys say no. The game should be well worth a journey up to the athletic grounds to see. Mr. George Smith, of Bowmanville is to be the referee.

The following players have already signed Oshawa certificates:—S. Chenett, P. Layden, Bev. Glover, Leslie Miners, Wm. Staples, Angus Patterson, Geo. Gibson, J. Doyle, Perry Rowden, S. Fryer, M. Punshon, D. M. Hall, J. Maguire, Norman Michael, Ed. Curtin, Harry Froome, and F. Emery. Several other players will be signed as well which make the local team very formidable in the junior series.

CRICKET.

Mr. J. A. Culverwell, one of the enthusiastic cricket players in Toronto, is endeavouring to organize a Cricket Club in Port Hope, and with that end in view, has called a meeting for to-night to be held in the Hotel St. Lawrence. The time was when Port Hope held the championship of Canada and everyone would be pleased to see this grand old game started once more. A large attendance at this meeting to-night is very desirable, when officers for the club will be elected and other important business transacted.

THE POWERS WILL NOW TALK PEACE

Russia Ready to Negotiate With Japan For Terms—Temporary Armistice—Feeling Apparent That Russia May Be Double-Shuffling, But Tokio Thinks There Will Be No Long Cessation of Hostilities Unless Guarantee of Lasting Peace. Is Forthcoming.

St. Petersburg, June 12.—Russia is awaiting for Japan to fix the time and the place when and where the Japanese terms will be placed in the hands of Russian representatives. The Foreign Office expects that the delay will be brief.

The Emperor's Government would prefer that Paris should be the scene of the initial step, but it is explained that neither the place nor the personality of the Russian representative matters greatly. The Russian representative will not be a plenipotentiary with full power to negotiate. His duty will practically be confined to the reception and transmission to his Government of the Japanese terms for the decision as to whether they afford a basis for actual peace negotiations. He will be clothed with power to effect an agreement for the suspension of hostilities, which suspension will probably be for a very limited period during which Russia must decide the momentous question of peace or a prolongation of the war.

During this temporary armistice both countries probably will be free to continue the movement of troops and munitions of war within prescribed limits. Although nothing definite on this point will be known until the meeting takes place.

If Russia finds that the terms for a basis on which negotiations can proceed regular plenipotentiaries will be appointed, the number being decided by the belligerents themselves, and then it is not impossible that the negotiations might be transferred to Manchuria as President Roosevelt is believed to have suggested.

Japan Accepts Intervention.

Tokio, June 12.—Japan has agreed to President Roosevelt's suggestion to appoint plenipotentiaries to meet Russian plenipotentiaries.

Tokio has calmly received the news of the American intervention and prospective peace. The absence of assurance that Russia will accept President Roosevelt's proposals, and the knowledge that the final consummation of peace involves the adjustment of a series of questions of paramount importance, requiring the most careful diplomacy, extending over weeks of negotiation, couple, perhaps, with the recollection of a previous experience in the thorny path of the world's politics, seem to create a disposition to await the final results. There is, nevertheless, the keenest satisfaction over the preliminary step, and a feeling of deep gratefulness over President Roosevelt's action.

There is also genuine thanksgiving at the thought that the carnage and horror and waste of war will soon end, and a genuine hope that the negotiations will bring a satisfactory and enduring peace.

The question of an armistice, which will lower the bayonets of the two enormous armies facing one another on the Manchurian frontier, has not been discussed, yet it is believed an armistice will be speedily concluded.

The Jiji says: "Japan has shown a willingness to appoint plenipotentiaries to meet the Russians and negotiate peace, but it is premature to think this will lead to the ultimate conclusion of peace. Much as Japan would like to see peace effected, nothing short of the full rights of victors and placing the peace of the Orient on a permanent basis will satisfy Japan. It probably will become necessary to arrange an armistice at the commencement of negotiations and it will be essential to obtain some guarantee before concluding an armistice in order to present the interests and positions of Japan from suffering in the event of negotiations being broken off."

What Terms May Be.

Paris, June 12.—A despatch from St. Petersburg to The Eclair gives the alleged detailed conditions, namely an indemnity of $650,000,000; a Japanese protectorate over Manchuria, and the cession of Port Arthur and part of the Trans-Manchurian Railway to Japan, forfeiture of the interned warships, the withdrawal of Russian warships from the Far East for a period of 25 years, and the occupation of Vladivostock until these condition are fulfilled. The Russian conditions reject the question of an indemnity and give a qualified acceptance of the other terms.

King Congratulates.

London, June 12.—The News of the World understands that King Edward Saturday cabled to President Roosevelt congratulations on the reception of the news of his efforts to secure peace.

TO LEVY BIG TAX.

Newfoundland After the Banks and the Marconi Wireless.

St. John's, Nfld., June 12.—Premier Bond in the Legislature Saturday afternoon announced plans for raising increased revenues. He said the Canadian Marconi Co. had established three wireless stations in Newfoundland without authority, and that Colonial Government believed they were now doing commercial business with the Marconi stations at Cape Cod, Cape Breton and passing steamers. Therefore the Government proposed to tax these stations $4,000 each if satisfied that such business was being done.

The Premier also stated that it was not the intention of the Government to tax the Anglo-American Cable Co. for more than five Atlantic cables at $4,000 each as the extensions to the Canadian continent were regarded as a part of the same cables.

It was proposed, however, to levy a tax aggregating $20,000 annually upon banks doing business in the colony.

WOODMEN'S CHURCH PARADE

Attended the Charlotte Street Methodist Church Last Night.

Eloquent Discourse by Rev. W. J. Jolliffe—About Fifty Members in Attendance.

The members of Sherwood Forest No. 50, Woodmen of the World, last night attended the Charlotte Street Methodist Church. About fifty members of the Camp, were in attendance and assembled at their meeting place, S. O. E. Hall, Hunter street, parading in a body to the church, where an impressive sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, from the text, Galatians VI, 2 and 5, "Bear ye one another's burdens and so fulfill the law of Christ." "For every man shall bear his own burden."

The speaker, in his opening remarks referred to the great lesson contained in the opening verse of the chapter, No man is without fault, and our assistance should be lent to those overtaken in a fault, "Considering ourselves lest we be tempted and fall."

The words of the context may appear to some contradictory; yet this is not so. The first verse states a Christian obligation; the second a solemn fact. Some burdens can be shared, while others cannot, and where it is possible it is our duty to assist our weaker brethren. Many, the preacher remarked, are carrying self-imposed burdens.

Of the many prevalent burdens, that of ignorance is one of the greatest. The state cannot afford to be indifferent to the youth of the land. Sufficient education must be provided in order that our young people may be in a position to take up the duties and responsibilities of life. A similar necessity obtains in the case of the spiritually ignorant.

Some are more sensitive than others, being easily depressed, while others bear a great deal with equanimity. The value of smiles, kind words and cheerfulness in the alleviation of pain and suffering, were pointed out, and the necessity of the humane treatment of the dumb animals as well, emphasized.

"That ye love one another as I loved you," is another commandment of Christ, exemplified in His life, and in His death, as a ransom for all men. Thus we have the example as well as the command.

Reference was then made to the burdens which must be borne individually, among which is our duty of finding out our proper sphere in life, upon the duties of which we should enter with all our spirit. We each owe a duty as individuals to God, to man and to society. A second great burden which must be borne alone is that of sin, which can be relieved but by one alone — Jesus Christ. The burden of responsibility is another from which there can be no relief, and one which cannot be shared. We must individually make our own future, each must stand in our own place and give an account to God. Our efforts in life should not be in the direction of fault-finding—the critical should not be confounded with the constructive faculty.

The preacher then addressed a few remarks to the society then in attendance, commenting upon its youth and vigour. It was established in April, 1903, twelve years ago. Woodcraft is best described in the two great divisions in its work—operative and speculative.

The operative feature is sub-divided into three principles—fraternal, social and beneficial. The root of the brotherhood is found in the Gospel.

The principle of fraternity should be constantly kept in view under all circumstances and in all walks of life.

The social principle is a necessary one, and one intended in our creation. The social side of our natures should be carefully cultivated.

The speaker then turned to the speculative feature of the work of the society, with its three cardinal principles, love, honour and remembrance. Love is a prime essential to happiness in life. The man who loves most, lives most. If loves were firmly enthroned in the hearts of men, life would be different. Honour should be fully given where honour is due. Life is more bright and beautiful when we live according to its principles. Remembrance brings with it the inspiration resulting from the memory of friendly relations.

The practice peculiar to the order of Woodmen, of erecting to the memory of departed brethren, a monument, was referred to. While this is a beautiful practice and one that is worthy of all commendation, yet a monument more lasting than marble, and one which will stand when cemeteries are no more, may be erected by a close adherence to the highest principles of a Christian life, living as brothers, dying as brothers and "fulfilling the law of Christ."

At the conclusion of the service the members paraded back to the hall, where a short informal meeting was held. Bro. George Dryland occupied the chair. A resolution of thanks to the pastor, the choir and the congregation was unanimously passed on motion of Sovereign Waram, seconded by Sovereign Gibbs. The parade was marshalled by Sovereign Thomas Duncan.

THE SUCCESS OF MR. COTTINGHAM

Former Peterborough Boy Is Now Manager of Sherwin-Williams Co.

Started Business in This Town—Now Draws a Princely Salary.

Peterborough boys have the happy faculty of turning up on top, and it is always a pleasure to record the success with which they are meeting.

Many residents of Peterborough will remember well, Mr. Walter H. Cottingham, who now occupies the position of Vice-President and general manager of the Sherwin-Williams Company, and who some years ago was employed in the hardware store of McKee & Davidson, where he got his first start in business. After thoroughly learning the hardware business Mr. Cottingham went to Montreal where he worked with one of the large firms, and later took a position with the company of which he is now the general manager as Canadian sales manager, the initial salary being $10,000 per year. Cottingham's ability was still further recognized, and he was promoted to the position he now holds six years ago, of course, with an increase of salary, and during those six years he has more than quadrupled the sales of the Company, and has pushed it to its position as the largest paint manufacturing house in the world.

Mr. Cottingham is primarily an executive—since his nineteenth year he has been an employer of men; he is also a real salesman. It is this combination of experience and qualities that has led him to turn most of his efforts into developing men—and as a "ginger boss" he has no superior. In a recent article published in "System" he describes the policy and methods which his long experience has taught him are right.

DOURO'S GREAT ANNUAL PIC-NIC

Will Be Held in the King Edward Grove on June 22.

From the view-point of the individual taste alone, can be determined the most delightful aspect of the annual Douro Picnic, to be held this year in the King Edward Grove, one mile south of St. Joseph's Church, on Thursday, June 22nd, whether the attractions of this delightful annual affair be viewed from the stand-point of the epicure, the lover of sport, or the recreationist, the net result is always one of satisfaction and delight.

The dinner "that made Douro famous" will, of course, this year, as usual, be got amongst the least of the host of attractions provided. This will be served at high noon and will this year present an attractiveness of menu, which will surpass all previous efforts in this direction.

Addresses will be delivered by Hon. J. R. Stratton and Hon. J. J. Foy, after which a programme will be proceeded with. These promise to be closely contested and interesting and will be for handsome prizes.

For those enamoured of the mazy whirl of the dance, a charming time is in prospect. An imminense dancing pavilion has been erected. The music will be of the high order invariably supplied.

A feature of the picnic which always adds materially to the pleasure and comfort of visitors is the unfailing courtesy and attention extended by the committee appointed for the purpose. The officers of the committee this year are Mr. D. Moloney, County Councillor, Chairman, and Mr. Wm. O'Brien, Township Clerk, Secretary.

INDIAN SKULLS WERE FOUND AT MYRTLE

Probably the Scene of a Former Indian Battle Ground—Recalls the Discovery of Indian Bones Found in North Monaghan Two Years Ago—Bones Were Stolen From Livery Stable During the Night—An Interesting Discovery Made at Myrtle.

This section of the country between Peterborough and Toronto, has evidently in the by-gone days been the scene of battlegrounds on which the Indians were participants. This belief is held because bones, which evidently belonged to Indians have been found buried, the latest find being near Myrtle, the report of which is contained in the Toronto Star and is as follows:—

"The skulls of sixteen Indians — probably warriors of the two centuries ago—were discovered during the past week, buried in a mound in the C. P. R. station yard at Myrtle, a village about 20 miles from this city, on the line between Toronto and Havelock. The site is probably that of an old Indian battleground.

For some time past Contractor John Bascomb has had men at work at Myrtle, on an extension of the C. P. R. tracks. On Tuesday of this week, as the men were engaged in the work of excavation, they came to a large knoll or mound, and began to remove it. The mound's bank is extremely steep on the south side, facing the sun, in fact its slope is so great that rain runs down it as it would run down a roof, and in winter the snows are blown off or melted away, leaving its face bare. The workmen at first used their plows, and before going very deep, the plowshare turned up loose bones. Deeper went the point of the plows, and faster and more numerous came the bones to the service. At first the men did not pay much attention, but as the pile of ribs grew higher, they became interested. The scrapers were then brought into use and very soon the skulls—sixteen of them in all—were upturned. It seemed from the position in which they were found that the Indian braves had been laid for their last long sleep in the one big grave, whose face forever fronted the sun as he circled the sky.

The find excited considerable curiosity among the people of Myrtle and the surrounding country, and crowds came to have a look at the bones of the old warriors. Women, being true daughters of Eve, were even more curious than the men, and overcame their natural timidity from such sights sufficiently to take a trip to the mound.

Three of the skulls were sent to Ottawa, to be examined by the authorities there, and one was sent to Dr. Clendenan, the C. P. R. physician at Toronto Junction.

Seven skulls were taken care of by the livery keeper at Myrtle, who put them for safe keeping in his stable. Strange to say, during the night somebody broke into the place and stole the whole lot, carrying them off without leaving a clue to identity of the thief.

This incident recalls the discovery which was made about two years ago in North Monaghan and reported at that time in the Examiner. This discovery resembles that reported then in a number of particulars.

BRIDGES WILL BE TRANSFERRED

Government Will In Future Maintain Swing Bridges.

Will Relieve County of $1,500 Per Year—The Bridges Affected.

The transfer of the dams and reservoirs of the waters tributary to the Trent Canal system, which, as reported in Saturday's Examiner has already taken place, will relieve the county of the maintenance of the swings or other bridges over the canal and river. It will be remembered that during last winter the County Council sent a deputation to Ottawa to ask the Government to take over the maintenance of these swings, and this has now been done, the following bridges,—Trent, Hastings, Benefort, Wallace Point, Peterborough Locks, Gannon's Narrows, Chemong and Pigeon Creek, the last three being floating bridges.

It is simply the swing portions of these bridges which the Government will take over, and pay the cost of maintenance, and operation of, the stationary portions belonging to the county, and maintained by it, with the exception of that at Hastings of which the Government pays the entire cost.

It is stated that the new order will relieve the county of $1,500 each year, which at present the county has to pay to maintain these bridges.

KINMOUNT MAN WAS MUDDLED

Became Involved in Scrap With Boon Companion.

A Simcoe Street Happening on Saturday Night—The Peculiar Incidents of the Case.

A peculiar occurrence took place at the corner of Simcoe and Bethune streets, on Friday night, as a result of which, in some manner which remains so far unexplained two men are wearing discoloured optics.

The first known of the affair was when a man, who later gave his name as Michael Cheevers, hailing from Kinmount, was noticed by passers-by near the corner of Aylmer and Hunter streets, in a state of apparent semi-stupification, and bearing marks about the face, testifying to a recent conflict. He was taken into the office of Dr. Marshall, by whom his injuries were dressed.

Cheevers told a worried tale of the circumstances surrounding the infliction of the injuries. This was to the effect that he had upon the previous day received a telegram (which he produced) purporting to be signed by Mr. Stothart, the well known milk man, stating that his (Cheever's) son, Edward, who was in Mr. Stothart's employ, was in a critical condition of illness, and requesting him to "come at once." Cheevers stated that he had immediately left for Peterborough, but upon his arrival here had found that his son had left town, while nothing to confirm the alleged illness could be ascertained.

Cheevers' face at the time he was discovered bore evidences of a recent sanguinary encounter. Subsequent developments went to show that the injuries had been received while in company with a "boon companion of local fame, who it appears also bore certain facial discolourations, which went to show that the encounter had been by no means a one-sided one. P. C. McGinty was summoned and heard Cheevers' tale of woe. The latter was requested to lay an information upon the following morning, but neglected to do so. He had in his possession the sum of $2 and a return ticket to Kinmount, which he apparently utilized to good advantage. A story to the effect that he had been robbed by some means, got abroad, but this seems to have been without foundation.

—Several lively "scraps" took place on George street on Saturday evening. One which attracted considerable attention occurred near the corner of George and Charlotte streets. One of the contestants was removed at the conclusion of hostilities in a somewhat battered condition to the sheds in the rear of the City Hotel.

WHEELS ON THE WALKS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Dear Sir,—As a mother, I am anxious for the limbs and lives of my children, as well as the children of my neighbours. And they are exposed to danger every day two or three times. I want to ask you if it is according to law to ride wheels on the walks. If it is not then the law is broken on this street every day and almost every hour, and I am afraid that the law will not be the only thing broken—perhaps the limbs of children. On Friday two little girls were on the walk when a wheelman came along and ran them both off the walk, and it was a mercy they were not badly hurt. When they told him it was against the law to ride on the walks, his answer was "O, you're only beefin'", whatever he meant by that. Now, Mr. Editor, I think the police ought to keep their eyes open and see that something is done to make the streets safe.

Yours, etc.,
MOTHER.

CANADA NOT BIG ENOUGH.

For Municipal Government Problems, Says a Harvard Professor.

Before the National Municipal League, in convention at New York recently, Prof. W. B. Munro, an instructor in Municipal Government in Harvard University, read a paper on "Conditions in Canadian Municipalities."

The progress of urban concentration in Canada has not been sufficiently rapid to render the problem of municipal administration difficult of solution, for while during the last three decades, the proportion of the total population of the Dominion contained within towns and cities of over 5,000 has increased from 13 to 24 per cent., this increase has been extremely uniform and steady. Furthermore, it has not been accompanied, as in the United States, by any marked concentration of foreign immigrants in the larger centres; these have in the main distributed themselves over the agricultural regions of the Northwest. At the present time, Canada's ten cities of over 25,000 contain only 16 per cent. of her total population, while, in the five cities of over 50,000 are comprised only 10 per cent. The main political problem of the Canadian people is still that of national and Provincial, rather than that of Municipal Government.

Since the organization and control of local Government is vested with the Provincial, and not with the Federal, authorities, there is, in the cities of the seven different Provinces no exact conformity to any type of city political organization. In framing their general charter laws and in formulating special charters for particular cities, the Provincial authorities have been guided partly by English and partly by American experience. Variations in the structure of Municipal organizations in the different Provinces are attributable to this diversity of influence In general, the Maritime Provinces have borrowed largely from England, while Ontario, Quebec and the western Provinces have been disposed to incorporate into their Municipal systems many features distinctively American.

After explaining the method of electing the Mayor and City Council, and the making of appointments to the City departments, Mr. Munro continued:

"On the whole, this system of municipal administration has proven satisfactory, and that it has done so must be attributed, in a considerable degree, to the non-identification of Municipal with Provincial or National politics.

"The movement toward municipalisation of various public services has been making in Canada about the same rate of progress as in the United States. It has not been by any means as rapid or as successful as in England or in the other Colonies, such as Australia. At the present time, most of the Canadian cities own and operate their own waterworks; some few have municipalised their lighting facilities, but beyond this the movement has not progressed. The other civic services, such as transit and the like, are still almost entirely in the hands of private corporations, operating under lengthy franchises.

"A fair degree of success has attended the experiments of Municipal ownership, but not such as to warrant any general application of the policy. On the other hand, the strict supervision and control which the Provincial authorities have exercised over the granting of franchises has served more or less effectually to protect the cities against the private corporations."

The Smallest Microbe.

The smallest object yet recognized under the microscope is the bacillus of pleuropneumonia in cattle. This is one-tenth of a micron, or about one two hundred and fifty thousandth of an inch, in size, and still smaller microbes, as yet unseen, are supposed to be associated with smallpox, hydrophobia and the horse sickness of South Africa. Two years ago two Germans devised a means of increasing the visibility of minute objects by immersing them in glass so as to admit of lighting from the side. This process has been greatly simplified by French microscopists, and a new view of the infinitely little is promised as the next scientific sensation.

A House of Commons "Bull."

It was entirely proper that the latest "bull" added to the House of Commons collection should be contributed by the member from Donegal. He announced his intention while cross-questioning the Attorney-General for Ireland of putting "another question which distinctly arises, Mr. Speaker, out of the answer which the right honorable gentleman has not given." The House roared.

It is announced that New York is to spend a million on water works. Does an extension of the principle of protection contemplate a tax upon water?

INEXPENSIVE JOY.

What pleasure can with this compare,
To sit down in our easy chair
And place our feet above our head
And while our ancient pipe grows red
To cast all troubles far behind
And make a million in our mind?

We look up through the hazy smoke,
And, though we may be worse than broke,
That does not tend to mar the dream:
We resurrect some ancient scheme,
Some silly plan that seems worth while
And note us quite a little pile.

For, sitting in the easy chair,
We reach up in the teeming air
And bring down with a skillful yank
Enough to start a good sized bank.
And then before the gold takes wings
We spend it for a lot of things.

We build a noble pile in Spain,
We ride forth on a special train,
We buy an auto that looks good
And gasoline the neighborhood,
And have enough left after that
To buy our wife a new spring hat.

Ah, isn't it a pity, say,
That money does not come that way,
That fortunes are not ready made
When we are working at our trade,
And that the rest we cannot pay
With money we pull in that way?

An Old Story.

Professor Von Diggem, who has been delving down with a pick and spade to the stone age, has discovered a pretty little story which on translation goes to prove that girls were much the same at all ages of the world.

This block of granite relates a love story of the time when tobacco and automobiles had not appeared on the scene, and therefore the people had no trouble in living several hundred years.

Being tied to a woman for life was a serious matter. South Dakota lay in its virgin purity, not having been discovered, and divorces were not among the amusements of the day. The hero of this story to make certain that he was making no mistake courted a girl 110 years before making up his mind and then one evening in an offhanded manner asked her if she would marry him.

Did she arise to the occasion? The truthful narrative carved in stone proves that she did. "Oh, Abecedad," she exclaimed, her breast heaving with emotion, "this is so sudden! Give me about fifty-one years to think over the matter and then call around for your answer."

With Trimmings.

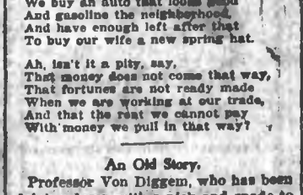
The cool, refreshing summer drink
Now waxeth the earth,
And when you buy it with a wink
You get your money's worth.

Chance to Run New Bills.

"I would like to come back to the earth in about 1,000 years."

"Think all your creditors would be dead by that time?"

Couldn't Afford To.



"Here is an Indiana man who hasn't slept for three months."

"In the watermelon business, I presume."

His Mental Recreation.

No higher impulse feels;
The little thinking that he does
He does it with his heels.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

It is easy enough to read the signs of the times these days when they are painted all over fences, barns and the picturesque face of nature.

In time of peace prepare for more peace by building a navy.

Microbes that are swapping fists during a lover's kiss do not have to wear ear muffs to keep warm.

Some inanimate things suffer in silence, but a piano always howls dreadfully when it is being pounded.

SAYS CANADA IS SUPREME

Effect of the British North American Act.

ARGUMENT OF MR. SHEPLEY

The Pere Marquette Alien Labor Deportation Case Concluded, and Mr. Justice Anglin Reserved Judgment —Some Peculiar Points in International Amenities and Their Effect Brought Out.

Toronto, June 12.—After some hours of argument the evidence in the Pere Marquette case was declared all in, and Justice Anglin announced that he would give his decision in a couple of days. In the meantime Col. Sherwood will go bond for the reappearance of the prisoners Cain and Gilhula. The sitting of the court was for the most part taken up with the arguments of Mr. Shepley in rebuttal and the replies of Messrs. Robinson and Mackenzie.

Power of Parliament.

Mr. Shepley argued that the Parliament of Canada, in its plenary powers, could pass such law as in its discretion seemed to be in the interests of Canada. He cited the judgment in the British Columbia Chinese Alien Labor Act case, which decided that the Province had not the power to pass any law in regard to aliens. That power, he said, rested with the Dominion Parliament. His quoted authorities to show that the questions of naturalisation and aliens were vested in the Dominion Parliament. Every naturalised citizen became a Canadian, and all residents of Canada who have not been naturalised are aliens.

The first objection he dealt with was the charge of interference, and the abrogation of Parliament of powers vested in the Sovereign power, Great Britain. He drew from the British North America Act that the Dominion Parliament had the right to deal with any alien in Canada, and to pass laws and regulations, affecting them.

Where Contract is Performed.

Much had been said by counsel for the defence about the contract being performed outside of the State. That, he thought, had nothing to do with the case. Parliament might say that it is contrary to law for persons to enter Canada to do certain lines of business.

The crucial question in this matter is, whether in the working out of this act those that have to enforce it must do something outside of Canada. He conceded that the Dominion Parliament could not pass a law by which a Canadian officer could detain a prisoner in Buffalo. The Imperial Parliament could not do that; but that, he thought, was not involved in the exercise of the jurisdiction in question.

Some Conundrums.

There are many points in Canada, he said, where there is only an imaginary line between this country and the United States. Why could not the prisoners be taken to the line and deported by pushing them across, he asked?

Justice Anglin: "This act does not provide for forcing out of Canada, but for a return to his country. Suppose the prisoner was from Belgium, how would the case stand when he had been taken three miles from shore and was out of Canadian waters.

Mr. Shepley: "He might swim back again if he liked."

"Suppose he was put on another ship?"

"Then if he returned for the same purpose for which he left, he could be again be deported.

"And the same process be continued?" queried the justice.

B. N. A. Made Canada Supreme.

Justice Anglin: "Suppose a man was banished from a country and engaged in work in Canada contrary to the alien labor law, how would you deal with him? By the laws of a foreign State he cannot enter, that country again The act says he must be returned to the country from which he came. How would you take him back?"

Mr. Shepley: "That does not enter into this case. The executive function is satisfied by putting him where there is a railway or ferry. Any of these means constitutes returning him to his country. There is a return without any offence."

Justice Anglin: "If the officer kept his hand on him one second after he passed over the border, would he not be committing an international offence? Would he not be doing something on a foreign soil?"

Speaking on the treaty of 1794, Mr. Shepley said that was abrogated in 1812. The B. N. A. Act made Canada supreme, and her legislation was not ultra vires. It would be a delicate question to ask Great Britain whether an Imperial act was ultra vires because it interefered with an Imperial treaty. The executive, he said, was the Crown and its advisers, and was not subject to the control of the judicial branch of Government.

The Attorney-General's Duty.

The Attorney-General's duty was not a judicial duty. He acted for the executive and his duties were executive. He is the chief law officer of the Crown. He is not constituted a tribunal. He is the mouthpiece of the executive branch of the Government. He is charged in his discretion with working out this law, and if he is satisfied that the act has not been complied with, he is empowered to deport the prisoners. The Attorney-General's power being executive and not judicial, this court has not the power to deal with the case. The warrant issued in this case was not, strictly speaking, a warrant. It is merely the authority vested in the Attorney-General given to someone for carrying the immigrant to be deported. This need not have been Col. Sherwood. Any one could have acted. If right in his contention that the power of the Attorney-General was executive and not judicial, then it mattered not whether Col. Sherwood was a J. P. or not. He was acting under the authority of the Attorney-General to do what he is by law empowered to do. He was not acting as either a constable or a J. P.

UNION LABEL

SATURDAY, JUNE 10, 1905.

AN UNWILLING WITNESS.

The Ottawa correspondent of the News, in an appreciation of Mr. Haultain, particularly lauds what he has done for the schools in the Territories. He says:

"Above all, the manner in which the question was handled, must win the gratitude of the Alberta and Saskatchewan that are to be. It suits people at present for political purposes, to praise the Northwest school system to the skies. It deserves most of the praises that are bestowed upon it. It is a remarkable fact that these new districts, struggling against all the difficulties entailed by sparseness of population, weighed upon by narrowness of means, have set up a school system, which probably is the best in the Dominion, and which certainly far surpasses that of Ontario."

If the correspondent had said that "it suits people at present for political purposes to misrepresent the Northwest school system," he would have been nearer the mark. Mr. Haultain is campaigning against the Federal Government for proposing to continue this splendid system, a system which, he said, he would continue himself, if he had the power. The Woodstock Express, the Toronto Telegram, and other opponents of the Government's policy declare that this superior educational system includes clerical "schools" — "priest-ridden schools," one paper calls them.

Mr. Haultain is in fact a Conservative, and sees a good chance of temporarily embarrassing a Liberal Government. He has disappointed many who admired his course as Premier of the Territories. — Globe.

THE NEW ALLY.

It seems that the Conservative campaign is developing into an enveloping movement, including a wider and more inclusive scope of operations. The Conservative orators have been, ostensibly, fighting what they are pleased, in the lively operation of their imaginations, to call "coercion," with more or less veiled reference to hierarchical influence. They have now received new allies, who are fighting under the same banner. The new allies have no meal in their mouth. With them there is no halting or hesitating utterance. With them the slogan is a straight-flung "no popery" cry. Their attacks upon the Roman Catholic church, its doctrines and practices, are bitter, as they are misplaced in connection with the Autonomy Bill, which is made the excuse for their oratorical and journalistic filibustering. Mr. E. E. Sheppard, of the Saturday Night, seems to be the self-appointed generalissimo of the "no popery" forces, and, in addition to a general weekly attack in the front page of his paper, he has carried the war into Africa—into North Oxford, where the guns of the auxiliary forces were turned against the Laurier Government — by way of Rome. On Thursday night at Woodstock a meeting was held under the announced auspices of the "Citizens' Association, of Ontario," and the chief speakers were Mr. E. E. Sheppard, of Saturday Night; Rev. J. E. Starr, Methodist minister, Toronto, and Rev. Canon Farthing, Anglican, of Woodstock. Rev. Mr. Starr laid the burden of the present "trouble,"—which he and his confreres have created—upon the Roman Catholic hierarchy, and practically justified the people of the Northwest in taking up arms against the school clauses, which fix upon the Northwest a school system which Premier Haultain says he would continue himself, if he had the power. Mr. Sheppard also laid the present "agitation" at the doors of the hierarchy, who were declared to be seeking a "tuiorum to capsize the ship of state." He cared little for the freedom of the West, but put in a claim for liberty for the East, and called upon Mr. Whitney, if he could not do away with Separate schools, to "trim them down to the bare bones" — to see that the Separate schools were no stronger than they had a right to be. Rev. Canon Farthing also slipped his knife into the hierarchy, and advocated a national school system. All the speeches were attacks upon the hierarchy, and insinuations to religious rancour, in which the school clauses of the Bill only played the part of introduction. All three speeches were made in the interests of the Conservative candidate, and the Conservative leader and party are thus participes criminis of insulting reference to a large element of our population, which, if it does not have the same belief as the majority, is entitled to the right of liberty of conscience, which British institutions guarantee to every British subject, as it also guarantees liberty of speech, which, in case of firebrands, like those cited above, is to be regretted.

MR. HAULTAIN EXPOSED.

Mr. Haultain who comes down to help the Tories in the London and North Oxford contests is the same Haultain who arranged the school ordinances of the Territories, and who has declared that he would not change the school system they have if he were a dictator. This man, who as a hired Tory advocate seeks to make it appear that the application by the Autonomy Bills of the Educational clauses of the Constitution is an outrage on the West is the same person who as Premier of the Territories drafted a Bill to guide the Government in preparing the autonomy legislation, and clause No. 2 of that draft bill provided that section 93 of the B.N.A. Act "shall be applicable to the Province of ——— in the same way and to the same extent as they apply to the several provinces of Canada, and as if the province of ——— had been one of the provinces originally united by the act." That act would to the fullest extent provide for the perpetuating of separate schools, in the new Provinces. It reads:—

"In and for each province the Legislature may exclusively make laws in respect to education, subject and according to the following provisions: 1. Nothing in any such law shall prejudicially affect any right or privilege with respect to denominational schools which any class of persons have by law in the Province at the union. All the powers, privileges and duties at the union by law conferred and imposed in Upper Canada on the separate schools and school trustees of the Queen's Roman Catholic subjects shall be, and the same are hereby extended to the dissentient schools of the Queen's subjects in Quebec."

In other words, without the autonomy clauses that Mr. Haultain prosecuted as desired by him and agreeable to the people, the Northwest would be provided with a system of separate schools such as now exists in Quebec.

And this astute politician is now in Ontario, appealing to the electors, at as much an appeal, to vote Tory, because the Liberals are "forcing separate schools on the west!" Is it any wonder that he has shrunk in public estimation?—Exchange.

ONE THOUSAND FACTS CONCERNING CANADA

Sententious Paragraphs About the Resources, Products and Agricultural and Industrial Possibilities of the Dominion of Canada.

"One Thousand Facts about Canada," is the title of a meaty booklet, issued by the Exhibition Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, in which a vast amount of information is given in single sentence paragraphs. The idea is to give outsiders an idea of the resources and desirability of Canada as a home for the settler, or a field of industrial energy for the capitalist. But, as no Canadian knows any too much about his own country, the Examiner proposes to reprint from day to day one or two of the meaty paragrphs contained in the pamphlet.

SPECIAL SESSION SATURDAY NIGHT

John Powers Gets Six Months in Jail.

A special session of the Police Court was held on Saturday night, when John Powers, a man of many summers, who had been an inmate of the House of Providence for some years, was sentenced to six months in the jail. Powers, it appears, created a disturbance in the House, necessitating the summoning of the police. He was arrested by P. C. McGinty and after trial, removed to the jail.

A POPULAR LAMENT

Where Would Society Be If One Was Judged for the Sins of Others?

"O; I tried one of these hair tonics sometime ago and it never did me a bit of good."

That's what many people are saying to-day when they refuse Parpiside a trial.

It would be as sensible to say "I never travel on a railroad because I often see collisions mentioned in the papers."

Newbro's Herpicide is specially made to destroy the germ that is living on the roots of your hair.

That is why it is so exceedingly effectious—it is therefore the sole purpose of ridding the hair of that parasitic growth, after which the hair grows as nature intended.

PAINFUL INJURY TO MR. ALLAN WILSON

Horses Ran Away While Being Unhitched.

Mr. Allan Wilson, who resides about two miles below the Locks Bridge, Otonabee, was the victim, on Friday last, of a painful and distressing accident, which occurred as he was loading hay at his barn.

Mr. Wilson was at the time of the accident snatching from the wagon, his team, which are somewhat spirited animals, when all but one trace had been unhitched the wagon lurched forward striking the horses upon the legs, and causing them to take fright, Mr. Wilson hurriedly jumped between them to prevent them from running, but was unfortunately a moment too late. The horses dashed forward and threw him to the ground, two wheels of the waggon passing over him. Help was hastily summoned and he was carried to the house in an unconscious condition, and has since been confined to his room. No bones, however, as it was at first feared, are broken, and he will probably be about again in the course of a few days. His many friends hope for a complete and early recovery.

TWO EXCURSIONS FOR PETERBORO'

Newmarket and Oshawa Will Run Excursions Here in the Near Future.

Lacrosse Team from the Former Town —Will Play Here on Thursday

On Thursday next the fourth excursion to Peterborough for the season will be held, when the Agricultural Society of North York will bring a large number of excursionists to this town, to visit the many interesting points here. It will be remembered that last year a big excursion from West York came to Peterborough on the date upon which the lift lock was to have been opened and were disappointed upon learning that they were about a month too early.

The Newmarket lacrosse team will accompany the excursion and will play the local team during the afternoon.

The Newmarket team is a fast aggrigation of lacrosse players, and will no doubt give the local team a good game. They are playing Intermediate C.L.A. this year, and the game will sure to be fast.

Another excursion has been practically arranged to visit this town in the near future. The Simcoe street Methodist Sunday School of Oshawa, is arranging to run an excursion to Stony Lake during July and will come by G.T.R. to Peterborough, when it is likely they will take the steamer over the lift lock to the lake

Peterborough is evidently attaining quite a reputation as an objective point for excursions, and the prospects are that during the present summer, there will be a large number of excursions here.

VICTIM OF ASSAULT DIES AT HOSPITAL

Frederick Hudson Passed Away at St. Joseph's Hospital on Saturday Evening—Patrick McAuliffe Lies in the County Jail Awaiting Trial on Charge of "Assault"—Change of Indictment Rendered Necessary by Fatal Development---Inquest and Post Mortem Examination Held Yesterday---Remains Were Sent to Perth Last Night.

Frederick Hudson, the unfortunate victim of the assault committed in the Royal Hotel, Hunter street, on the night of Thursday, June 1st, who has been lying in St. Joseph's Hospital for some days in a precarious condition, from concussion of the brain, succumbed upon Saturday night. His alleged assailant, Patrick McAuliffe, now lies confined in the County Gaol, awaiting trial upon a charge of "assault with the infliction of grievous bodily injuries." The accused will receive a preliminary hearing before the Magistrate on Friday morning next, when owing to the fatal development, a change of indictment will of course be necessitated and will, in all probability be altered to one of manslaughter.

The assault, it will be remembered, took place in the bar of the hotel, upon the night of the circus, when it is alleged, that the victim was struck upon the head with a "sling-shot." The fact that a weapon was used, is, however, denied by the accused.

The deceased gentleman, after the assault, was removed to his room, where he was next day visited by an Examiner representative. He appeared at that time, despite the painful nature of the wounds, to be quite cheerful and wholly unaware of their fatal character. Serious complications, however, developed later, concussion of the brain setting in some days ago, which, despite the best medical attention, resulted in death. Two operations were performed, at which it was discovered that the outer table of the frontal bone of the skull had been indented. The operations, which were performed with a view of relieving the pressure upon the brain thus occasioned, failed to save the life of the patient.

A Coroner's Jury was empanelled yesterday by Coroner Grey, and an inquest held at St. Joseph's Hospital, in the morgue at which, the remains were viewed, and a few expiatory remarks made by Dr. McNulty, who has had charge of the case. The Jury was composed as follows:—Messrs. F. W. Miller (Foreman,) Charles Dunn, W. G. Morgan, Wm. Causey, M. W. Porter, R. J. G. Sutherland, Wm. Shea, J. W. Butcher, Robt. Hamilton, Thos. J. Wilson, Wm. Battisby, C. W. Vanzant, T. C. Elliott, Jos. Maher and M. J. Hickey.

While viewing the remains, a few remarks with reference to the wound were made by Dr. McNulty. This was originally about an inch and a half in length, but was considerably increased in size owing to the incisions necessary in performing the operations. The injury to the outer plate of the skull was explained, this having been indented.

After returning to the hospital Dr. Grey explained to the Jury that the had been informed by Dr. McNulty that a man may receive terrible injuries to the skull, yet recover, this even being the case when both plates have been fractured. A post-mortem examination of the remains was then ordered, and this was at once proceeded with by Dr. McNulty, assisted by Drs. Halliday, Young, Greer and McCullough. It was ordered that a searching bacteriological examination of the blood, and of any secretions of the body, deemed necessary, be made. Specimens of these will be submitted to Dr. Amyot, Provincial Bacteriologist, Toronto. The inquest then adjourned to meet on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock, at the Town Council Chamber, where the witnesses in the case will be called, and the report of the post-mortem received, it concluded at that time.

The legal proceedings in the matter will, of course, rest entirely upon the finding of the Coroner's jury. The prisoner will appear on Friday morning at the police court, to which time his case was enlarged from last Friday. He has since been confined in the county gaol, bail having been refused. The fatal development will, of course, necessitate a change of indictment.

Mr. Hudson's death was a shock to his large circle of friends in Peterborough town and county. Frederick Joseph Hudson was born in Perth on May 18th, 1861 — forty-four years ago, leaving there in 1882, to enter the employ of the C. P. R., in the capacity of an engineer. He enjoyed a successful career in this occupation for about twenty years, being classed as one of the best men upon the road. His "runs" were between Smith's Falls and Montreal, and later between Smith's Falls and Havelock. He was after this for two years in charge of a yard engine at Havelock, where he boarded, and formed a close acquaintance with Mr. Jas. Flynn, his partner in conducting the Royal Hotel.

After a residence of a decade in Havelock, he was forced through ill-health to abandon the occupation of railroading, entering into partnership with Mr. Flynn, two years ago, in the purchase of the Royal Hotel. His record during the score of years he was in the employ of the C. P. R. was a splendid one, he having been highly popular with his fellow-employees and a steady and faithful worker.

Deceased was unmarried. His father, Edward Hudson, who was a carpenter and builder in Perth, as well as his mother, predeceased him by many years. Surviving him are two sisters and five brothers. The sisters are Mrs. James Shaw, of Smithville, and Mrs. Richard Hall, of Perth, and the brothers, Edward, of Chicago, Henry and Daniel J., of Perth; Charles, of Winnipeg; and Robert of Gold Rock, Rainy River District. Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Shaw, and his two brothers, Henry and Daniel, of Perth, were present at his death-bed.

The deceased was a member of the C.M.B.A., at Smith's Falls, and also a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

The remains were taken to Perth upon the midnight train last night, where interment will take place on Tuesday morning at the Roman Catholic cemetery. High mass will be sung in the church at Perth.

The brother of the deceased, Mr. Daniel, J. Hudson of Perth, was seen yesterday by an Examiner representative, but did not wish to make any statement with regard to the fatal occurrence.

A CAVAN PIONEER PASSES TO REST

Death of Mrs. Matthew McIndoo of 12th Line, Cavan.

Passes Away at the Mature Age of Seventy-nine.

Yesterday, (Sunday), Mrs. Matthew McIndoo passed peacefully away at the homestead, 12th line, Cavan, near Fairmount, at the ripe age of 79 years. Some time ago Mrs. McIndoo met with a fall, which resulted in partial paralysis, but which affected neither her speech nor mind, which remained clear to the last. She felt that she would not recover, and her condition growing alarming, Dr. Carmichael, town, who has been the family physician, for years, was summoned, but death preceded him, for before he reached the residence the venerable lady had passed away.

Mrs. McIndoo was one of the oldest, as she was one of the most respected residents of the township. She lived in Cavan 78 years, and was born near Cobourg in 1826. Her mother dying when the late Mrs. McIndoo was two years old, she was adopted by an aunt in Cavan. Mrs. McIndoo leaves behind her an adult family. Five sons reside in California, and another son, Thomas, resides on the homestead. Three daughters also survive her—Mrs. Jno. Grear of Cavan, and Mrs. (Dr.) Dean, of North Lynn, Michigan, who was summoned home and was present at her mother's death, and Miss Emma, at home. Mrs. McIndoo is survived by a brother, Mr. Wm. Carter, of Keene, who is two years her senior, being 81 years of age.

The funeral will be on Wednesday at 2 o'clock.

OSHAWA TEAM WON THE FIRST

Defeated Peterborough in the First Junior C. L. A. Game.

Score Was 5-3 on Saturday at Oshawa —A Fairly Good Game.

As far as championship games are concerned, the Peterborough lacrosse team opened the season on Saturday, when they played the Oshawa team at the latter place, the game resulting in a win for the home team, the score of the long drawn out game of two hours duration being 5-3, and it was played on grounds which had not dried from the recent rain, while the latter part of the game was played in a drizzle, which, with the already wet grounds made the play rather loose, accurate passing and shooting being impossible.

Considering the circumstances, the Peterborough team made a creditable showing, and when the whole regular team is on, should do much better even than they did on Saturday.

Since the experience which Oshawa had with a professional senior C.L.A. team two years ago, the game has not flourished in the factory town, until this year, when the now almost venerable lacrosse pirit, Fred. Ellis, with some other congenial spirits, and possessed of equal enthusiasm for the national game, succeeded in getting a team together, from the remnants of the dozen of 1903, with some new imported blood, and this year the game bids fair to equal in interest, and perhaps in results, as well, the effort of two years ago, this difference, however, existing, that while at that time nothing less than the senior championship would satisfy them, this year they are more modest, and if they capture the coveted junior flag from the bunch in the Telephone City they will be satisfied. They took their first step in that direction on Saturday, when, in the first game in this district they defeated the Peterborough dozen by the score above indicated, and as a result are correspondingly elated, The locals, on the other hand, are not disappointed for the result was not altogether unexpected.

The prevailing wet weather has made successful practicing almost impossible and, as a result, the team which represented the Electric City on Saturday, was not in the very best of shape to do itself justice.

Then, too, an unfortunate chain of circumstances made it impossible for several of the players to leave on Saturday, and the team was made up of men, some of whom had not had an opportunity of practicing much this season, which fact, doubtless, contributed to a certain extent to their defeat.

On the other hand the Oshawa team was in good condition, and had already played, several games this season, and consequently were able to stand the pace better.

The game was not by any means of the parlour variety, and George Smith of Bowmanville, had troubles of his own. The Peterborough team, for the most part, played good consistent lacrosse, and to the spectators may be laid the bulk of the blame for what little trouble developed later. On one occasion, when Crowley and Curtin were both after the ball near the fence, behind which the spectators stood, he was subjected to a pummelling by them, which, to say the least, does not speak very highly for the spirit of fairness of the persons guilty of it, especially when it was administered for no apparent reason.

The game on the whole, however, outside of the somewhat strenuous character, was not what might be termed rough, though the checking was close, and what little punishment the Oshawa team got was due to their disinclination to pass the ball, and was given in a purely legitimate way.

After the first quarter the game was not particularly fast but during the first period of play five goals were scored, three for the home team and two for the visitors. In the next each scored one, while in the third the home team added one, and in the last quarter neither net was touched, the game ending with the score 5-3.

In combination work, the visitors outclassed the home team, but the shooting of the former was not as good as they are capable of and a number of goals were lost through wild shots. The defence of the Oshawa team played a good game, checking closely and refusing to be drawn away from the net which they guarded well, Layden stepping himself a number of shots down on the goal. The home, too, is fast, and good shots. Rowden, Curtin and Fryer being the stars, the former being particularly fast. McGuire, who played inside home, was also a valuable man to the team.

Boyle, who was between the flags for Peterborough, played a splendid game, stopping a number of hot ones in good style, while Glover and Meagher the former at point and the latter at cover, were always in the game and on a number of occasions when the opposing home had possession of the ball, and had broken through the visitors' defence, they were stopped by them before they had an opportunity to shoot on goal. Every man on defence put up a game fight, Crowley's sprinting abilities standing him in good stead and on different occasions he easily distanced his check on a run down the field. Mein and Ford, were also much in evidence, and kept the ball well out of their territory. Parnell played a splendid game at centre, and was conspicuous throughout the game, by the gameness with which he played. Hamilton, Edwards and Judd, on the home field, fed the ball to the outside and inside men well, and worked in good combination. Judd's work at 3rd home was especially good, and a number of deadly shots by him were stopped by Galinette in the Oshawa goal. Cavanah and Best played their usual brilliant game, the latter scoring the first goal for the visitors in one-half minute after the face-off on a nice passing three-man combination, Parnell to Cavanah to Best. The latter locating the net. Oshawa evened matters a minute later by scoring one, and though a number of good rushes were made by both teams it was eleven minutes before the next goal was scored. McGuire placing one neatly in the net for Oshawa, and it was followed by another for the same team, scored by Curtin, and in two minutes after the face-off, Best scored the second for Peterborough, making the figures 3-3.

In two minutes after the second quarter opened Judd scored for the visitors, which ended the goal-getting for the visitors for to-day, Curtin adding another for the home team in three and one-half minutes, Cavanah and Best got a number of good shots on the Oshawa goal, but they were all stopped.

In the third quarter, by an extreme ly lucky long shot Fryer scored for Oshawa and during the rest of the game neither team scored. In the last period Oshawa tried to play rough, and for a throw to the end of the field Fryer was given three minutes to rest by the referee.

The game ended at 5.35.

GALT'S VICTORY OVER WESTMOUNT

Popular Western Team Won in Closely Contested Game by Score of 5-1.

The Champion Football Team on Saturday added another victory to the list of successes scored on their eastern trip, when on Saturday they took the Westmounts of Montreal into camp in a championship match.

The game was a closely contested one, and resulted in favour of the Westerners by a score of 5—1. Westmount started in at a whirlwind clip and had their opponents guessing in the early part of the game, but the pace, however, was too fast to last, and during the second half Galt, who from the start displayed lots of speed, and endurance, had matters pretty much their own way. The Westmount team was composed principally of Old Country players, the Galt line-up including only two, the remainder being entirely at home production.

The personnel of the Galt team was the same as that at the time of their game here with the Quakers. They proved a gentlemanly aggregation of players, and the news of their eastern victory will be heard with pleasure in local foot-ball circles. The teams lined up as follows:—

Galt—E Linton, Geo. Decker, J B Gourlay, R Lang, A Johnston, J A Fraser, Fairbairn, F W. Steep, A N Hall, J Sayles, L Grady.

Westmount—J MacFarlane, W S Crabbe, J Neira, W Drake, W Whiteside, W Martin, W Neville, J Martin (H Herald, E J Woodburn, W Clapp.

Linesmen—Hunt for Galt, Thomey for Westmount.

Lane, of Galt, dislocated his elbow and was replaced by Douglas.

Mr. George Hunt of the Galt Reformer, who accompanied the team, is wearing an expensive smile over the victory of the "home-brews," "who made Galt famous."

QUAKERS LOST TO NORWOOD

Past Game in Campellford on Saturday.

Score Was 3-1—Game Played in Drizzling Rain.

Saturday's game in Campellford proved a death blow to the Quakers' championship aspirations for this year, Norwood winning by 3 goals to 1.

The wet and soggy ball coupled with the heavy grounds made championship football an impossibility, but lovers of hard, close checking and individual play found the game a most interesting one.

As in previous games the Quakers proved good individual players, but lacked the combination that wins games. Norwood on the other hand presented a forward line whose sole strength lay in fast accurate passing. Time and time again their line came down the field like a wall and it taxed the strong Quaker defense to the utmost to handle them. Coupled with this was a defence that kicked and checked well and the combination proved an unbeatable one.

The absence of individual work makes it hard to particularize in praising the Norwood team. Pettigrew in goal is certainly far above the average. He cleared quickly and saved several apparently sure scores by running out and clearing into touch. Doherty in centre is tricky and needs a lot of watching. His shooting is deadly. Howson, at outside right, is undoubtedly the fastest forward in this district, but was always shadowed by the left half back and was rarely able to get away.

For the Quakers Simpson and Doris put up a strong defence game. The halves Main, Coon and McEwan, checked hard and were most liberal in handing out "bumps". They "checked off" well and materially helped the backs who were called upon to do most of the kicking. On the forward line Huston and Crough played well together and made a most effective pair. The others were strong individually, but had a pretty stiff proposition to run up against in the Norwood defence.

The teams lined up as follows:—

Norwood.		Quakers.
	Goal.
Pettigrew		McFaddan
	Backs.

THE PLAY.

Play opened immediately and for ten minutes the teams put up very ragged ball. Towards the middle of the half things became livelier and both defences were hard pressed. Finally Kemp beat McFaddan on a high shot from left wing, and later McNichol scored on a pass from Howson. The second half was distinctly Quaker. Crough and Huston came within an ace of scoring on several occasions; the former finally ramming one through at close range. The Quakers at this stage tried desperately to tie the score, but all rushes opened up terminate with Morrow and Pearce. With two minutes to play Norwood scored another, Lamey shooting the ball through from a scrimmage while Doherty blocked McFaddan. Time was called immediately after and the game ended 3-1.

The inclement weather was not conducive of a big gate but Campbellford was, nevertheless, fairly represented and the rooting for Norwood was continuous.

One Came Out After The Other.

Suffered with Boils for Six Months.

Mr. Elie Braizeau, Meadowside Station, Ont., tells of his experience with Boils and Burdock Blood Bitters.

He says:—"In the Spring of 1899 I was continually troubled with boils—one coming after another for about six months. I suffered terribly, and was in a very bad condition. In August I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and began to feel better after taking it. I kept on until I had used five bottles, and can truthfully say that I was cured, and have remained so ever since. I have not had the least sign of a boil."

There is nothing like Burdock Blood Bitters for bad blood, boils, pimples, dyspepsia, indigestion, or any trouble arising from the Stomach, Liver, Bowels or Blood.

LOSS OF APPETITE.

Are You Troubled in This Way?

Why can't you eat as you used to? Simply because your liver doesn't do its work properly. Its business is to take bile out of the blood, which acts as Nature's cathartic, but your liver is sluggish and the bile accumulates too fast, and you feel worn out, tired and listless, and each succeeding day brings no relief. The use of Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills will change all this. Try them and you will be convinced that these little pills are indeed a tonic and stimulant to the functions of the liver. Then your brain will be active, your mind clear, and health conditions again established and you can eat anything. Get your liver right. Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills act gently but surely on the liver, and cure headache, constipation and biliousness in one night. Price only 25 cents at druggists.

NORWAY HAS HER EYES OPENED

Sees Consequences of Revolution and is Prepared.

SWEDEN WON'T RECOGNIZE

Norway Takes Precautions to Lay in Adequate Stock of Military Stores at Advantageous Points—Has Never Been Conquered and Never Will Be, Although Sweden's Army and Navy is Larger.

Christiania, June 12.— Reports received here of Saturday's conference at Stockholm between the officials of the Government and the Riksdag, are taken here as an indication that the Swedes are withdrawing from their position. It is recognized here that Sweden has three courses—first, to declare war; second, to agree to Norway's proposals; third, and intermediate course, not war, but the refusal to recognize Norway's independence and the refusal to appoint a sovereign.

Norway Ready For War.

All the officials are exercising the utmost reserve. A member of the Cabinet, who was interviewed Saturday, but who declined to permit the use of his name, said that the Norwegians never would recede from their present attitude, which is the result of many years' deliberation. It was not expected, he said, that Sweden would declare war, but in that event, he added, Norway would be prepared. The army has been mobilized for annual drill, and the Government has taken precautions to lay in an adequate stock of military stores at advantageous points.

While the Swedish army and navy, he continued, are larger than the Norwegian army and navy, there is no reason for fear. The Norwegians never have been conquered and never will be.

Sweden Won't Recognize.

Stockholm, June 12.—Premier Ramstedt, in an interview, says the Swedish Government will refuse to recognize the revolution in Norway, and will submit to the Riksdag motions conformable to this standpoint.

The premier thinks that the Riksdag will adopt his view, and is convinced that no foreign power will recognize Norway as an independent country against the will of Sweden.

AUSTRIAN CONSUL MURDERED.

Was British Subject and Both Nations Take the Matter Up.

Tangier, June 12.—Moorish robbers entered the Austrian vice-Consulate at Mazagan on June 6 and murdered Vice-Consul Madden, a British subject, who also represented Denmark, and who had been established there for many years. They also fired at and wounded his wife. The assassins escaped.

The British and Austrian authorities have sent energetic protests to the Sultan's Foreign Minister.

300 GREEKS KILLED.

Heavy Fighting With Bulgarians, 17 of Whom Are Executed.

Salonica, June 12.—In the fighting at Panchalin, near Vodena, on June 2, it is said the Greeks lost 300, while the Bulgarians lost 28 killed or wounded, besides 17 prisoners, who were executed by their captors.

On June 3, in a fight at Libadi, west of Gumendaja, three Greeks and 16 Bulgarians were killed. The Bulgarians would have been annihilated but for the timely arrival of Turkish troops. The latter number 900.

Boy Drowns at Brantford.

Brantford, June 12.—Yesterday afternoon an Armenian, Albert Sabbatini, aged 4 years, fell in the canal at the Market street bridge and was drowned. The life-saving section of the fire department turned out, but did not recover the body for an hour. The parents of the child were in Paris for the day.

Lieut.-Col Kerr Dies.

Kingston, June 12.—Lieut.-Col Kerr died yesterday morning in his 86th year, after a lingering illness. He was commanding officer of the 14th Regiment twenty years ago and it was owing to his ill-health at the time that it did not go to the Northwest. A widow and four children are left.

Who would exchange the merry noise of children at play, with the childless home where the clock tick can be heard hour after hour in the dull silence? But there are a great many who would like to people the silent house with the children that fate has refused them. Fate is often in this case only another word for ignorance. Many a glad mother dates her happiness from the day she first began the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It often happens that with the cure of female weakness and the establishing of the delicate womanly organs in sound health, the way is opened for the joy of motherhood. "Favorite Prescription" is a specific for the chronic ailments peculiar to women. It cures them, perfectly and permanently.

No other medicine can do for women so much as "Favorite Prescription." Do not therefore let any other medicine be palmed off on you as "just as good."

"Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, opium, cocaine or other narcotic. It is strictly a temperance medicine.

"I can truly say your medicine is a friend indeed," writes Mrs. Arthur Brant, of Amherstburg, Ontario, Canada. "I am mother of four children and suffered greatly at times of birth of first three. When three months along with the last one I began to think of trying some medicine to ease those terrible pains and asked our doctor whether there was anything he could give me to lessen the pains. He said there was nothing that would help me. Then thought I would write to Dr. Pierce. He advised me to take his 'Favorite Prescription.' I started to take it at fourth month. I was very weak, had heart trouble and would faint away two or three times a day. Our doctor could not help me and life was a drag. I would often say, oh, if I could only die in one of these spells; but I took five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and felt better every way. Got along well at the time of delivery. I had heard of pain-killing drugs, and I thought it must be a good medicine that would help those pains, but I knew now for myself, and can not tell it plain enough. Your 'Favorite Prescription' is the best medicine as we mothers know. I advise my friends to try it. Baby now four months old and is a strong healthy boy."

and 40s for new season's Canadian cheese, the higher figure being for colored. Old cheese, white, is 53s and 56s; colored, 52s and 54s. A strange anomaly exists between the values of Canadian and New Zealand. The latter is intrinsically worth 3s or 4s more than the Canadian, which are more or less remnants of last season's goods.

Bacon, No. 1, is 55s, 57s and 60s; light, 50s, 52s and 56s; No. 2 is 52s, 56s and 60s; No. 3 is 55s, 56s and 58s. Continued bad weather has depressed the market.

Coroner Young found a paper which had contained a powder, and Bawden's drug store identified it as paper in which ten grains of strychnine had been put for him in the afternoon and upon which two "poison" labels were placed.

Irwin was 48 years old and leaves a wife and three children, who are living in Blenheim; also a sister in Ridgetown.

Mr. Lawrie once carried on a milling business with his brother in Port Dalhousie.

FOOTBALL.

The following men have signed to play with the B. A. C's in the future and will line up as follows in their game against Ennismore to-morrow night:—Goal, Skyles; backs, Donaldson and Main; halves, Kennedy, O'Brien and Graham; forwards, Morrow, McIlmoyle, Huston, Shaw and Todd. Mr. Noble Kelly, of Bridgenorth will referee the match which should be a good exhibition of the sport.

* * * *

A full attendance of players is requested for to-night on Nicholls Oval at 6.30 to give the P. B. C's a good workout before their game with Ennismore to-morrow.

BOWLING-ON-THE-GREEN.

The elements seem to be arrayed against the opening match between the President and Vice-President. To-day, though the weather is propitious, the grounds are still too soft for satisfactory play, and the match may be postponed till the weather man recovers from his present state of ill-will. The grounds are, however, open for play, and many members will doubtless be out for practice.

* * * *

The Examiner wishes hereby, and with malice aforethought to issue to the Review a challenge to a bowling match, to take place at a mutually convenient date. The Examiner wishes it distinctly understood that the game is to be one of bowling-on-the-green — not the other kind — as in it it could put forth no pretentions as to defeating the editorial staff of its back-door cotem.

LACROSSE.

At Rosedale in the rain the Tecumsehs won from Toronto on Saturday by 4—1. John White figured prominently. St. Catharines won easily from Brantford by 7—0, and the Shamrocks defeated Montreal in a loose game by 2—1. All scoring being done in the last half.

BASEBALL.

St. John's and Charlotte street will play the three remaining innings of their game to-night, commencing at seven o'clock. Practically the same teams will line up, with the exception of Dusty, who replaces Simons at right field for for St. John's.

* * * *

The Quakers will play St. John's on the old P. A. A. A. grounds on Wednesday night.

* * * *

To-night at the St. Paul's grounds George street and St. Paul's play the second game in the Guild League

* * * *

The team to represent St. Paul's in the game with George street, to-night, will be: Earls, Gillespie, Rosenberg, Stacey, Long, Simpson, Ferguson, Shea, Logan, Watt, Herd, Walkey, Stinson and Cameron.

NO PLAN LAID FOR THE BATTLE

Russ Naval Officers Not In Rojestvensky's Confidence—No Wonder the Japs Won—Nebogatoff Was Only Accorded an Interview of Fifteen Minutes With His Chief When the Squadrons Joined---Causes of Russian Disaster in the Sea of Japan.

Vladivostock, June 13.—A series of interviews which the correspondent of the Associated Press has had with naval officers who survived the battle of the Sea of Japan has developed a most sensational story of the causes of the Russian disaster first of all, and the complete demoralization which followed the sinking of the flagship Knias Souvaroff and the wounding of Admiral Rojestvensky.

It is explained that not a single officer of the fleet knew the commander-in-chief's plans. The admirals in command of divisions knew no more than the sub-lieutenants, and had to rely only on the signals of the flagship. Admiral Nebogatoff, on whom the command devolved, had seen Rojestvensky only once after the juncture of their squadrons, and then only for fifteen minutes.

All the stories of extensive target practice in Madagascar, it seems, were false. During the entire voyage there was practically no training in gunnery worthy the name, and the big gun practice was confined to three shots per vessel. Ugly stories are told of the happenings at Madagascar. Some of the crews certainly were untrained in gunnery, and exhausted by the eight months' voyage under trying moral and physical conditions were not a match for the veteran Japanese, whose marksmanship was wonderful.

One by One They Go.

They concentrated their fire on one ship until she was placed out of action and then on another, thus successively sinking the Osliabia, Alexander III. and Knias Souvaroff. Some ships developed deplorable structural defects. The Osliabia sank without having a single hole below the waterline. Heavy seas entered the vessel above the water line, and the water tight compartment, which were changed several times during the voyage, did not stand the strain they had been calculated to stand, and burst, flooding and keeling the vessel over until she turned turtle. The lack of homogeneity among the ships made it impossible to manoeuvre in harmony. The Vladimir Monomach, Admiral Oushakoff and Admiral Senievin had to lag behind on this account, becoming easy victims.

Finally the ammunition was exhausted after the first day's fighting.

Rojy. Wouldn't Learn.

Even the very morning of the battle, when the buzzing of the wireless instruments of the Russians ships showed that the Japanese scouts were communicating his dispositions to Togo, Admiral Rojestvensky continued his ceaseless manoeuvring, and when the Japanese actually appeared the Russians were caught in an impossible formation and were attacked on three fronts.

Rojestvensky's position was cramped, and his transports were badly placed, and caused confusion, while the Japanese were raining projectiles even from machine guns on the Russian ships. The latter were huddled together blanketing each other's fire. Only the leaders of the columns could bring their guns to bear, and even those the untrained gunners fired wildly.

Victims of Mines.

To render matters worse the mines and torpedoes sown in the paths of the Russian divisions added to the confusion. The Borodino, Admiral Nakhimoff and Navarin felt victims to these obstructions.

The sailors and officers were not altogether to blame. The main fault lies elsewhere. There were many heroes among the Russians. Capt. Berkh of the Oslabia committed suicide on her bridge as the ship sank rather than save himself. There were thousands of other heroes whose names the world will never know.

Jap Cavalry Keeps On.

Tokio, June 12.—Official announcement is made at the headquarters of the Imperial army that a detachment of the Japanese cavalry succeeded in dislodging Russian cavalry in the vicinity of Haiyangtsu, six miles south of the Liuyangwopeng, Haipingjing, two miles southwest of Haiyingtsu, was occupied.

Another force defeated the Russians near Siaochengtsu, 18 miles north of Kangping, and Kaochiawopeng, two miles northeast of Siaocheutsu. An eminence was occupied north of Siaopitang, two miles east of Kaochiawopeng, and ten miles west of Liaoyangwopeng.

No Japs Need Apply.

Baltimore, June 13.—The navy department has passed an order barring the Japanese from the American warships during the war game on the Chesapeake. While the order is a general one, excluding all but regularly accredited persons, it is known to be intended especially to prevent the wily Japs from stealing any more of the secrets of American naval tactics.

Charged With Robbery.

Toronto, June 13.—Robert Tushingham, a recent arrival from the old country, who is employed as night watchman at Bond's livery stable on Sheppard street, was taken into custody yesterday morning by Detective Duncan and Constable Welch on a charge of robbing William E. Bancroft, a guest at the Tremont Hotel, of $230 on Saturday. He had $156 on his person when arrested, and the detectives say that he practically admitted his guilt. He was remanded by the police magistrate till tomorrow.

OUR FOREIGN TRADE.

Increase of Four and a Half Millions in Month of May.

Ottawa, June 13.—Canadian trade returns are once more in the ascendancy and show a marked improvement. For May the total imports for consumption, exclusive of coin and bullion, were $23,662,619, an increase of $2,245,136. Exports of domestic products for the month amounted to $12,156,721, a gain of $1,424,338. This makes the total gain for May, counting imports and exports, $3,660,474. The increase for the month was greater in imports of free goods than in imports of dutiable goods, being $1,412,773 as against $965,146. There was a gain of $2,245,136 in coin and bullion imported. Taking the eleven months ending May 31st, imports for consumption were $232,274,627, being an improvement of $6,620,815 over the same period of the year previous. Of this amount $134,582,559 were dutiable goods and $89,063,127 free goods, a gain of $1,422,566 and $5,206,249, respectively. Exports of domestic products aggregated $166,098,124 for the eleven months, a falling off of $8,193,667. Exports of foreign products reached a total of $9,834,976, a decline of $2,398,196. Taking imports and exports of all kinds, the increase in foreign trade amounts to $3,092,584 for the eleven months and $4,594,633 for the month of May only.

No Foreign Foot There.

St. Thomas, D. W. I., June 13.—The Governor-General of St. Thomas, Capt. Christian Coldvold, made the following statement yesterday:

"The reports to the effect that a foreign power has acquired rights at St. Thomas or at any other place in the British West Indies are devoid of any truth. The coal which arrives and ship-repairing workshops here are private business undertakings. Water Island, where a coaling station is said to have been established by the Hamburg-American Steamship Co., is owned by a private individual.

Belief That President Roosevelt Will Name That Place.

Early Announcement of Time and Place for Meeting of Powers' Representatives Expected.

(Special to the Examiner.)

St. Petersburg, June 13. — An early announcement of the time and place for the meeting of the Russian and Japanese peace plenipotentiaries is expected to come from Washington, as a result of the exchanges between the belligerents on that subject now proceeding there through Count Cassini and M. Takahvli, President Roosevelt as the intermediary. In diplomatic circles the report is current that Russia, whose choice of place continues to be Paris, is ready to allow President Roosevelt to decide that point, in which case there is reason to believe that the President may name Manchuria, but the report cannot be confirmed.

THE ATTACK WAS PARALYZED

Sir Frederick Borden Denies Col. Hughes' Charge, Re Soldiers From London---Mr. Hyman's Message---The Men Will Probably Be Sent Back--Conservatives Object to Increasing the Permanent Militia---Their Attitude Regarding the Garrisoning of Halifax and Esquimalt.

Ottawa, June 12.—Matters connected with the militia engaged a large share of the attention of the House of Commons yesterday. An echo of the keenly fought contest in the City of London was heard when Col. Sam Hughes, with much emphasis and vigor, under cover of a motion to adjourn, called the attention of the House to the fact that half a dozen members of the permanent corps stationed at Wolseley Barracks, London, had been ordered to Niagara camp to do duty there. Col. Hughes claimed they were Conservative votes.

The Attack Paralyzed.

The production by Sir Frederick Borden of a telegram received from Hon. Mr. Hyman yesterday morning, asking that these men be given an opportunity to vote, was received with Government applause, and his declaration that he had known nothing of the matter until Col. Hughes directed his attention to it this morning, and the production of a memorandum from Major-Gen. Lake, setting forth the reason for issuing the order for the movement, paralyzed the attack. Sir Frederick also promptly accepted the suggestion that the men be allowed to return to London to vote, provided the militia service would not be prejudicially affected by their absence from camp, and later on sent telegraphic instruction to that effect.

No Standing Army.

Criticisms by Hon. Mr. Foster and Lieut.-Col. Tisdale of the action of the Government in taking over the duty of garrisoning Halifax and Esquimalt and a protest against a standing army afforded Sir Frederick Borden an opportunity to emphatically deny that any foundation existed for the report cabled to The London Times that as a result of the Government taking over the garrisoning of Halifax and Esquimalt the active militia was being reduced. On the contrary, he stated that the militia was stronger now than when he took office, and that depots at these ports would be utilized as depots for the education of the active militia in those districts.

Public Works Estimates.

The estimates for the Department of Public Works were taken up last night, and Hon. Mr. Brodeur, Minister of Inland Revenue, took the place of the absent Minister, Mr. Hyman. Some consternation was raised at this juncture by a temporary hitch in the electric light, owing to a thunderstorm that was raging outside. The business of the House was taken up with estimates for the Province of Quebec, wharfs, piers, etc.

Has Cost Too Much.

In Committee of Supply, considered the item of $125,000 for the Pacific cable. Sir Wilfrid explained it had cost £3,000,000. This was apportioned as follows: Canada, five-eighteenths; Australia, six-eighteenths; New Zealand, two-eighteenths; Great Britain, five-eighteenths. The net receipts were £79,824.

The most important feature of the Prime Minister's statement was that negotiations had not been realized.

Sir William Mulock was now on his way to London to see how the expenses could be curtailed.

WOOD FIBRE COMPANY MAY LOCATE HERE

The New Concern Will Engage in the Manufacture of "Excelsior"---Manning Wood Fibre Company's Representative Waited on the Council---Will Be Given Use of Five Acres of Land Near the Water Works Dam---To Employ Ten or Twelve Men at Start---An Industry Which Gives Prospect of Expansion---Investigation Will Be Made.

At the meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council last night consideration was given to a proposal to establish a new industry in Peterborough, and, if the subsequent investigations result favourably it is quite probable that it will be located here. The new industry spoken of is one for the manufacture of "Excelsior" for packing purposes, and the company which proposes to locate its plant here is the Manning Wood Fibre Company, of Toronto, a new concern recently incorporated under the laws of the province of Ontario, to carry on operations in this province.

Mr. Manning, the head of the company, and the patentee of the machine which the company will use in the manufacture of its product, was in town yesterday and last night met the members of the council in committee when the whole matter was discussed, and if the wood for the manufacture of the excelsior can be procured in sufficient quantities and at a reasonable cost in the vicinity, the probabilities are that the company will decide to locate here, at least that was the impression which Mr Manning left with the council last night.

This gentleman asked for inducements to bring his factory to this town, free site, exemption from taxation, and power at nominal cost. The site spoken of is that belonging to the town just east of the water works dam, and the area which the company would require would be in the neighbourhood of five acres, but all of this would not be required for the erection of buildings, a considerable space of ground being needed for the purpose of storing the wood which is used for the manufacture of the product.

Those present at the meeting last night were:—Mayor Best, in the chair, Aldermen Johnston, Mason, Adams, Hall Crowe, Scott, McIntyre, Batten, Begley, Hicks and Leary. Mr. Manning addressed the council giving an outline of his proposition, mentioning by addition to the facts already referred to, that the company, which was a new one, would if satisfactory arrangements could be made with the town, erect a building, 100 feet long, and a proportionate length to be used for manufacturing purposes, and this building would probably be constructed of sheet iron over wood, or concrete. They would, at the start employ about 10 or 12 men, only two of whom would be skilled men. They proposed establishing a factories in the province, but that at Peterborough would be the first, and there would be about five others. Mr. Manning stated that the company proposed to use the machine patented by him in the factory, and the wood used would be chiefly basswood, popular and white birch, which, it is expected, could be procured in the voicinity of the lakes comprising the Trent Canal system. If the factory is established here the proposal is to ship the wood, which a gang of men would be employed to cut in the woods, to the works by canal barges. He had been led to believe that there was an abundance of good wood in the near vicinity. The wood, when it was taken out of the woods would be 50 inches long, but would be cut in two before it was fed into the machine, which would take pieces eight inches by twenty-five.

The intention is to commence the work of construction as soon as possible after the arrangements are completed with the council, and the mea will be sent into the woods in the near future to prepare the timber necessary. While the machine will handle green wood, a better quality of produce is secured by the use of dried wood.

The McDonald lot, on the shores of the Little Lake was suggested as a suitable site, but was not seriously considered, that at the water works dam being thought to be more desirable. Mayor Best suggested that five acres of that lot be given to the company, for a term of ten years free of rent and taxes, which was agreed to by Mr. Manning, and this will be drawn up in legal form by the town solicitor, and be submitted to Mr. Manning later. In the meantime, Ald. Hicks, as chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee, will go with Mr. Manning on a trip to the lakes for the purpose of showing him the available wood supply, and, if this trip reveals the fact that there is an abundance of material it is more than probable that the agreement will be signed by both parties, and the erection of the factory proceeded with in the very near future.

PERILOUS SPOT TO CANOEISTS

"Carrying Over" Place at Locks Has Been Scene of Many Accidents.

Dangers Have Been Much Discussed—Prompt Action is Imperative.

As the season of boating accidents is now fairly under way, it may not be out of place to make reference to a menace to the lives of canoeists which has for some time been apparent to many of our most expert paddlers. Without wishing to speak with levity with reference to a danger, which, unless remedied, is certain to result in a loss of human life, it may truthfully be said to possess an aspect more menacing even than the "rock-the-boat" idiot, who in the glorious spring-time annually makes his appearance in the obituary column.

To many canoists of long experience upon the Otonabee River, the perils of the approach to the "carrying-over" place at the Locks have been keenly apparent, and their amusement has many times been expressed that a fatality has not already occurred upon the spot. Fatal consequences have, however, it appears, been averted upon many occasions only by the narrowest possible margin.

An expert canoeist — one of the oldest and most experienced veterans of the paddle in town, and a good swimmer, as well — remarked yesterday that he alone in a canoe, would under no circumstance attempt to paddle up the approach to the dam, with the incident perils, which he strongly emphasized. Yet, he said, on numerous occasions, he had seen very indifferent canoeists, accompanied by ladies, attempt it with fool-hardy daring. The remarks of the gentleman in question go to confirm the truth of the old adage: "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread."

The spot referred to has during the past two seasons, at least, been the scene of numerous mishaps, in which those involved—in many cases, ladies — have escaped a watery grave only by the merest chance. The most dangerous spot is perhaps that at the extreme southern end of the pier, or break water, projecting below the Lock. Outside this, in the bed of the river, the water rushes with great rapidity, from the dam above. The canoeist is lucky indeed who shoots out from the placid waters behind the projecting pier into this turbid stream, and successfully negotiates the paddle to the landing above, just below the dam, at the northern end of the pier. Any one who has witnessed an attempt to round the point can scarcely fail to be convinced of the danger involved. Though the season is but yet in its early stages, a number of upsets have already been reported. Yesterday a local canoeist of experience was observed to make three unsuccessful attempts in succession to make the corner, each time being swept down and whirled about with great rapidity by the current. Along the side of the pier are presented difficulties almost as great, owing to the rocks, which in many cases are hidden beneath the surface of the water.

Several remedies have been suggested which might prove a remedy. One of these is the dredging of a channel along the side of the break-water, the debris being thrown into a protecting mound. This might be done at a comparatively small expense. But, however, the benefits to be derived from such a course remain to be seen. That it is, however, imperatively necessary that prompt action of some kind be taken to moderate the dangers of the spot is the opinion of a large number of experienced canoeists and others in town. To assist in securing this, the Examiner will be glad to receive and publish suggestions as to a possible remedy.

BAND MUST PLAY ONCE EACH WEEK

When Friday Night Is Impossible, Then Some Other Night.

Probability of Concerts Being Given in Jackson Park—Other Park Matters.

The band will in future play once each week during the thirteen weeks of the summer months. It appears that there will be at least one week during that period when the band will be out of town on Friday night, and last Friday night on account of the inspection of the regiment, the weekly concert was not given, but in future when it is impossible to play on Friday, the concert will be given on some other night in the same week.

Ald. Crowe brought this matter up last night at the Committee of the Whole meeting, and pointed out that while he was a member of the band, he also wanted to see the people of the town get as much music out of them as they were entitled to, and he suggested that since there might be nights when it would be impossible for the band to play on Friday night, it would be well to hve them play on some other night.

The question of playing in other parks than Victoria Park was also discussed, and some of the aldermen suggested that it would be well to distribute the concerts among the other parks. No action was taken in the matter however. It is probable, though, that an effort will be made to have an occasional concert given in Jackson Park, where a band stand is to be erected.

—The fourth excursion of the season will come to Peterborough tomorrow. A lift lock excursion is included.

MRS. WAREHAM, SHERBROOKE ST.

Tells How Her Pale, Languid Daughter Was Made Strong and Healthy by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. R. Wareham, 267 Sherbrooke Street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"One of my children has suffered a great deal with nervous headache, dizziness and sleeplessness, and in fact, was all run down, pale and languid. These troubles we attributed to over-study and confinement at school. She began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I can say that we have found this treatment exceedingly helpful. It has relieved her of headache, steadied her nerves and built up her system wonderfully. We can see a great change in her, as the colour is returning to her face, and she is gaining in flesh and weight."

You will find it interesting to weigh yourself, while using this preparation, and note the increase from week to week. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is certain to prove beneficial to you if your blood is thin and watery and the nerves exhausted. SIR WM. MULOCK AFTER POINTERS

Writes to Ask in Reference to Telephone Situation.

Mayor Best Says New Telephone Co. Has Reduced Rates of Bell Co. and Brought Extension of Rural Lines.

The mayor has been requested by Hon. Sir William Mulock, chairman of the Telephone Committee of the Dominion Parliament, to write him giving him certain information in reference to the telephone situation in Peterborough. At last night's meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council, the letter, which follows, was read, and was referred to the Franchise Committee to reply to. The letter is as follows:—

His Worship the Mayor,
Peterborough, Ont.

Sir,—I have the honour to inform you that the Parliament of Canada has appointed a committee to inquire into the various telephone systems in operation in Canada and elsewhere, with a view to considering and reporting what changes in the method at present in force for furnishing telephone service to the public, may seem advisable. It is desired to obtain information as to the merits of the various systems in existence (whether controlled by Government, municipalities, companies or otherwise) and it would be appreciated if you could furnish the committee with the views of your council regarding the telephone conditions in your locality together with the present system, number of subscribers, charges, and any other information bearing upon the matter. The committee wishes to secure as far as possible, an accurate statement as to how far the present system is satisfying the public requirements in your locality, both in regard to local and long distance rates, quality of service, and facilities for intercommunication with the rural districts.

The committee also invites any suggestions or recommendations which in the opinion of your council are desirable.

I am, Sir,

Yours faithfully,
W. MULOCK,
Postmaster-General and Chairman of Committee.

Speaking with reference to it the mayor said that Peterborough's experience was that one of the results of the decision of the council to allow the Canadian Machine Telephone Co. a franchise in Peterborough, was that the Bell Co. had begun to extend their lines to the rural districts, and that they had also reduced the rates for 'phones, especially for domestic use, and he had heard that they were putting in residence 'phones for $15 per year.

In this connection Ald. Leary asked if there was any way to prevent the Bell Co. from collecting the rents of telephones six months in advance. He pointed out that the sums they received from the different towns and cities for telephone service, in each case six months in advance represented an enormous sum of money, which they had the use of for six months before they had really earned it.

It was pointed out that this was a matter of agreement, and the individual subscriber had the remedy in his own hands.

Ald. Adams moved, seconded by Ald. Hall that the letter from Mr. Mulock be referred to the Franchise Committee to reply to.

You have No Reason for Not Using

Zutoo

Some people think that all headache cures are alike—that they all undermine the health, even if not perceived at the time of taking them.

Well, we'll admit that the drug cures do this, but that is no reason why you should not take Zutoo.

Zutoo is a harmless vegetable remedy. One ingredient is soda—just old-fashioned soda that our grandmothers used to take to settle the stomach, when they had sick headache. And there is nothing better.

The principal ingredient—the one that stops the headache, is a vegetable ingredient, imported for us from Japan. It wont hurt you any more than will the soda.

There is absolutely no reason why you should not use Zutoo.

If you suffer from headache there is every reason why you should.

Taken in time, two tablets will ward off a headache. Taken later, they will stop it in twenty minutes, and leave you feeling good every time.

If you are using a drug remedy, why not discard it?

Zutoo will cure just as quickly and will save you the penalty, that all must sometime pay, who take the drugs which these cures contain.

If you will give Zutoo one trial, you will never take any other headache remedy again.

THE CROWN SHEET WAS DESTROYED

Serious Accident to Town's Fire Engine.

Was Operated With No Water in the Boiler—Taken to Pump Out "City of Peterborough."

A serious state of affairs has developed it appears, in connection with the town's fire-fighting equipment. At the meeting of the Committee of the Whole, the matter was laid before the members by Ald. Johnston, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, and he stated that the fire engine had again been rendered practically useless, and was now at Wm. Hamilton and Co's shops dismantled in fact, a number of the flues are out of the boiler and the crown sheet is broken.

Last Tuesday night the engine was borrowed by the Calcutt Co. to pump out the hull of the steamer "City of Peterborough," which had sprung a leak. The fire chief was first approached for the loan of the engine, and he consented with the approval of the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee in view of the apparent necessities of the case, and the promise that the company would make good any damages which might be done to the engine while engaged in pumping out the steamer. Consequently a week ago to-night, in charge of her own engineer, the fire engine was taken to the locks and steam was generated to a working pressure. The engine had however been working only about 20 minutes when the boiler gave out, the the crown sheet bursting and allowing the steam to escape into the fire-box.

At first it was not thought that the trouble was that serious, only a leaking tube being anticipated, but upon taking the engine to the machine shop it was found that the boiler part of the engine was practically destroyed, the crown sheet being broken, and on taking out the flues it was seen that they had been heated to a white heat, indicating by that fact that for fully half way up they were sealed, conditions which could not possibly have existed had there been water in the boiler, and the conclusion is forced that the engine was operated without water being put into the boiler.

This is a most serious state of affairs and indicates a deplorable state of negligence on the part of someone, for it is said by competent men that it was only by a miracle that the boiler did not explode, in which case a fatality would undoubtedly been the result.

Either the engine was not in a good condition when it was taken from the machine shop after it had been repaired or in its operation someone has blundered. In view of the fact that the engine was tested in actual work under a pressure of 160 pounds to the square inch, before it was accepted from the company, and reported to be in a perfect condition by the chief; the former can hardly be the case, though it is understood now that the fire brigade officials lay the blame to the company which effected the repairs.

The fact remains however, that at the present time the town is practically without a fire engine, and to place the present engine in a state to operate will cost several hundred dollars, in all probability.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee will meet in the course of a few days, when the whole matter will be investigated, and the chief and engineer will be asked to state their views.

For the guidance of officials in the future, Ald. Hall moved last night that henceforth no town property be loaned, which was carried.

PROMINENT JOURNALISTS COMING TO CANADA

Through the courtesy of the Grand Trunk Railway system, Ontario and Quebec are to be favoured with a visit from an influential body of journalists known as the "Washington Correspondents" and which comprises some of the best known newspaper men on the continent of America. The majority of the party are members of the exclusive organization known as "The Gridiron Club" of Washington, D. C., and represent the leading journals of the United States. Their trip to Canada is made under the auspices of the Western Canadian Immigration Association with a view of giving these well informed writers some conception of the resources and developments of the farming and commercial industries of the Dominion and the unlimited possibilities that are in store for the future in Canada. There will be about twenty-five in the party, leaving Washington on June 21st, over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Philadelphia, Pa., Philadelphia and Reading Railroad to South Bethlehem, Pa., Lehigh Valley Railroad to Suspension Bridge and thence over the Grand Trunk Railway System's double track route through the "Garden of Canada" to Toronto, where a stop of a couple of hours will be made for a drive through the "Queen City" tendered by the Toronto Press Club. Leaving Toronto about 11 o'clock on the morning of the 22nd, the party will proceed over the Grand Trunk to Montreal, arriving there about seven o'clock in the evening. After remaining in Montreal until the following afternoon, the correspondents will leave for Ottawa and Western Canada.

The original intention was for the correspondents to proceed from Washington to Western Canada, but through the good offices of the Grand Trunk, whose guests they will be while travelling over their railway, were induced to see a portion of older Canada, and to travel over the only double track railway in the Dominion, and one that compares second to none on the continent. A special train of Pullman sleeping and dining cars will be at their disposal from Washington to Montreal.

A NEW DAILY PAPER IN FORT WILLIAM

Published By a Gentleman With Peterborough Connections.

The Examiner has received the opening number of the Fort William Evening Herald, of which Mr. R. G. McCuish, son-in-law of Mr. A. McFarlane, is managing editor, and one of the proprietors. It is a four-page six column sheet, containing a large quantity of live advertising and a good supply of news. Fort William, with its great growth and importance assured, should be a good situation for a live and pushing journal like the Herald.

MUCH ACTIVITY UPON THE RIVER

Repairs In Progress at the Locks.

Very Large Excursion Yesterday—Two Workmen Were Injured.

Many repairs and alterations are at present in progress at the Locks, which have become necessary and will add greatly to the substantial nature of the works there.

The east side of the breakwater, facing the river, which at present consists of stone crib-work, in a more or less dilapidated condition, will be removed for a distance of about 200 feet and replaced with concrete. The piers which are somewhat below the level of the bridge crossing the dam will also be concreted sufficiently to raise them to a level with the flooring. A force of about ten men is at present engaged upon the work.

A work, which it is understood, is at present under consideration is the construction of a concrete wharf at the end of the car line.

A force of men are at present busily engaged un'oading two scow loads of lumber, the property of Mr. John J. Howden, and shipped by him from his property at Campbellstown. The scows were towed by steamer Rainbow. On Friday, a scow-load of junk, the property of Mr. Frank Fairen, and towed by steamer King Edward, has also been unloaded.

The excursion yesterday from Cavan and Monaghan per steamer Water Lily and barge, attracted a large crowd, fully 200 in attendance.

The river is this year exceptionally high, being about ten inches above the ordinary.

Below the locks the bank of the river will be built up with rip-rapping for a distance of about 200 feet or more.

Mr. Maurice Moher one of the men engaged in construction work at the locks suffered a painful injury to his knee, which however, it is hoped will not prove serious. Another workman also had a finger badly crushed while operating a derrick upon a scow, the the injured member being caught between two cog-wheels. It is feared that amputation will be necessary.

The steamer "City of Peterborough" still remains upon her side as she was at the time of the recent accident. A number of workmen are at present engaged upon her. A pump attached to an engine has been applied, and is kept constantly going.

CENTRAL POWER COMPANY'S PLANS

Wants Permission to Erect Poles on Port Hope Streets.

Contemplating Supplying Lake Towns With Electric Energy for Light, Heat and Power.

At a recent meeting of the Port Hope council, Mr. Culverwell, representing the Central Ontario Power Company, requested the council to permit the company to erect poles and wires on the streets for the purpose of transmitting and furnishing electrical power and energy necessary to the supplying of electric light, heat and power in Port Hope. Electric water power means a great deal to a town, and there was a tangible means of securing this power for this district. The towns on the lake front have an excellent opportunity, as they have the best transportation facilities in the province. With electric power, Port Hope's progress in the future as a manufacturing centre was absolutely assured. Electric power could not be brought into this district without developing the interests. It was a matter that interested business men, property owners and manufacturers, and they should all give their assistance. Towns with electrical power seemed the most desirable locations for manufacturing centres, and Mr. Culverwell read several resolutions from different Boards of Trade endorsing this company's operations. He quoted the public statements of three of the largest manufacturers in Bowmanville and Oshawa, that, without electrical power, they would make no industrial progress in the future. The steam power in Oshawa and Bowmanville is at present 2,200 horse power.—Globe.

Indigestion and Headache.

Mr. Duncan McPherson, Content, Alberta, writes: "I was for many years troubled with indigestion and headache and derived no relief from the many remedies I used. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after taking four boxes the result is that I am once more in the full enjoyment of the blessings of good health."

Both Pleaded Not Guilty.

Ottawa, June 13.—Joseph Clements and his wife were arraigned in the Police Court yesterday morning on the charge of stealing $560 from the Ottawa Jewellery Co. They pleaded not guilty, though Pollacks stated that Clements told him he would plead guilty if the charge was not pressed against his wife.

Steamship Ashore Near Montreal.

Montreal, June 13.—The Leyland Line steamship "Tampican," with a full general cargo from Leith via London, went ashore yesterday morning shortly after leaving the wharves at the St. Lawrence sugar refinery works at Hochelaga. Tugs were immediately sent. The Harbor officials report that there is not much danger of the vessel having sustained any serious damage. In addition to general cargo, the vessel had on board 500 head of cattle.

A HYPOCRITICALL CRY.

A despatch has been received from Ottawa, stating that arrangements have been made whereby a Provincial constable will be placed on duty at every polling division in London and Woodstock during the polling in the bye-elections to-day. It is hypocritically stated that this precaution is taken owing to the report that over one hundred "pluggers" have been engaged in Detroit to personate Liberal voters in London and Woodstock. This is the veriest moonshine, and the rottenest rot. It is simply a roorback, invented by Conservatives, who set the example of importing thugs from Buffalo to operate in a provincial general election. It is more than probable that, judging from past history, the Conservatives are making all this fuss to cover some dark transactions they are preparing themselves. People that are always boasting of their honesty, need watching, and the louder they boast the closer one needs to keep his pocket buttoned. So a party which is boasting of its superior political virtue needs watching. A man that parades the streets on Sunday, with a big Bible ostentatiously tucked under his arm, may easily be, as has been the case, using his display of piety, as a means of robbing widows and orphans, and the bigger the Bible, the bigger the rascal in such cases. A man that is honest, or pious, or a woman that is virtuous, need not constantly be boasting of it on the streets. If they are honest and virtuous at heart, it will show in their lives. A party that is honest need not exploit its honesty, and seek to build a reputation by decrying the honesty of their political opponents. The cry of "Stop thief!" to divert attention from the real culprit, is not confined to politicians. If there is any crookedness to be done at the bye-elections to-day, it is probable that it is being prepared under the shelter of a rumour that the Liberals are intending to practice it.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The imperial idea promises to be successful in the hands of the United States. The Philippines are rapidly responding to the influences of American civilization — a bank manager has been guilty of embezzlement.

The Ottawa Journal states that the cost of the daily sitting of the House of Commons is $20,000. With the average length of daily sitting of eight hours' duration, the cost per hour is $2,500. So that if a man talks an hour his eloquence costs the country $2,500, the price of a nice little farm. Now there are very few orators in the House whose speech is silver to that extent. Yet we have every back bencher, besides proxy front benchers harping away on a threshed out subject, adding nothing in the way of argument but only adding fuel to the fires of discord they have been so industriously stirring up and incidentally making what they consider party campaign literature. There is no objection to full discussion of any important subject, but when talk which is generally regarded as something cheap costs over $10 a minute, one can well regard silence as golden.

The St. Thomas Journal is clamouring for the bestowal of a more high-falutin title on some of its thoroughfares, than "streets" — such as "boulevards" or "avenues." This is all very commendable as a cheap sort of distinction, but calling a street a "boulevard," or an "avenue," doesn't change its character one iota. However, if St. Thomas wants to become more Americanized than it is now, this is the right way to go about it. High-sounding titles for matters of small importance, is a characteristic of "American" nomenclature. A couple of shacks in a new country propped up together is dignified with the name of a "city," and so on through the list. However, if St. Thomas likes that sort of thing it is welcome to it. A part of Peterborough was laid out in building lots, and some of the streets, so narrow as to be merely amplified lanes, were called avenues. Why this striving for show and parade? A cottage is no longer a cottage, but a villa, and a street is not good enough for such a palatial abode — the villa, with five or six 7 x 9 rooms, must be on an avenue or boulevard. No matter how St. Thomas may strive for meretricious nomenclature, we in Peterborough, would be satisfied with the name of "street" if our city fathers would only make them worthy to be called streets—not third rate country roads.

ONE THOUSAND FACTS CONCERNING CANADA

Sententious Paragraphs About the Resources, Products and Agricultural and Industrial Possibilities of the Dominion of Canada.

"One Thousand Facts about Canada," is the title of a meaty booklet, issued by the Exhibition Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, in which a vast amount of information is given in single sentences paragraphs. The idea is to give outsiders an idea of the resources and desirability of Canada as a home for the settler, or a field of industrial energy for the capitalist. But, as no Canadian knows any too much about his own country, the Examiner proposes to reprint from day to day one or two of the meaty paragraphs contained in the pamphlet.

NEW LIGHTS IN THE TOWN'S PARKS

Twenty-four in Victoria Park—One Arc Light in Central Park.

The parks in town will be better lighted in future. Last night at committee of the Whole meeting, Ald. Johnston reported that he with Ald. Hall had gone over the Victoria Park and had decided on the location of the twenty-four thirty-two-candle power lights which the town had decided to install there. This, it is expected, will make the park sufficiently light.

In respect to the Central Park it was thought that to erect poles for incandescent lights would be expensive and it was decided to place one arc light on a high pole, which, it is thought will light up the park and McDonel street as well. A motion was passed authorizing Ald. Johnston to arrange with the Peterborough Light and Power Company for this light.

The chairman also stated that tomorrow he will go over the town with Mr. Fisk, and decide about the lights ordered to be placed, and also as to the change in the location of lights ordered by the Council.

SOME CHANGES IN THE AGREEMENT

Tax Collector This Year Will Report Only Once a Month.

The Bonds Changed—Guarantee Company's Bond for $12,000 Will Be Accepted.

The question of the agreement with the tax collector, came up for discussion at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole last night, when Ald. Mason submitted some changes which the collector wished to be made in the agreement, which would be made this year. A clause in the present agreement provides that the collector shall report to the council each week the amount of taxes collected during the week, the amount collected during the year, and the total amount yet to be collected, with the names of those who have paid.

It was proposed to have the new agreement read that this report shall be made once a month, instead of once each week, and a motion to that effect was made.

Another change was made in the clause which says that each day the collector shall deposit the amount collected up to three o'clock to the credit of the town. This was changed so that he must deposit the amount he has on hand each day when that amount is more than $20, but when he does not collect the sum of $20 in one day he need not deposit it until he has that amount on hand.

The matter of the guarantee which the collector shall give was also discussed, and this year, instead of a guarantee bond for $10,000, a personal surety bond for half that amount, signed by two men in town, and one for the same amount given by Mr. and Mrs. Grsem, a guarantee bond for $12,000 given by the United States Fidelity and Guarantee Company. The Guarantee Company's bond which the collector proposes to give this year is a decided improvement over that given in the past, and it was felt that this would be sufficient.

EXCURSION OF ST. ANDREW'S GUILD

An Enjoyable Outing in Prospect on June 22nd.

The promoters of this year's excursion under the auspicious wing of St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild, are to be congratulated on the splendid attractions prepared for this optimistic outing. It is rare that such unalloyed pleasure can be predicted for any social combination of the kind the St. Andrew's young men and maidens annually put up. And to improve on the programme of past years does not seem possible within the limits of the average local excursion committee. However the St. Andrew's Guild boys are a resourceful aggregation, and never think of the expense, if they can enahance the pleasure of the party. This will be the seventh of the series, and the "seventh" is said to always have something remarkable connected with it. Royal weather is assured, if the same run of uninterrupted good luck occurs. But, anyway, nothing can spoil the fun! Then there is the pretty run to Lakefield and back—the ideal sail up Stony Lake and back, and on the new steamer "Stony Lake," too—the merry, stopping visits at the Islands — the operatic music of the Moirrani Band—the jolly lunch hours—and the—well, just put the date on your slate. Thursday, June 22nd, and come along.

Only one case is upon the docket, that of Dominick Barcastro, the Italian charged with having stabbed a fellow countryman in Lakefield some weeks ago. The bar was represented by Crown-Attorney Wood and Mr. R. M. Denistoun.

The Grand Jury was empanelled as follows:—Fred Aunger, Belmont; Benj. Cardwell, Asphodel; George Cochrane, Belmont; R. J. N. Short, Otonabee; Alex. A. Stewart, Otonabee; Gavin Shearer, Otonabee; Herbert B. Scott, Smith; David Taylor, Dummer; Arch. Wilson, Harvey; Wm. White Douro; Joseph Barnard, David Vanwickle, Charles Mann.

The Judge in his address to the jury referred to the present inmates of the County Gaol, and spoke of the necessity for a House of Refuge, the erection of which will shortly be commenced.

The Grand Jury retired at about two o'clock, the Petit Jury then being empanelled, the case of Barcastro was then proceeded with. Only a small number of witnesses will testify.

MIMIC BATTLE AT CRAWFORD'S

Fierce Action Between Students Corps.

Big Field Day of Collegiate Institute Cadets.

The Collegiate Institute Cadets had a field day yesterday, going down to Crawford's Grove. About forty boys took in the trip and spent one of the most enjoyable as well as profitable days in the history of the corps. Upon their arrival the Cadets participated in a sham fight and showed much knowledge in the art of defense and attack.

The party whose duty it was to defend the grove, was under the command of Lieut. Lech. Capt. Miller had command of the attacking forces with Lieut. Arnott and his brigade in reserve. Lieut. Lech made a most gallant defence, completely annihilating the first line of the enemy, but Capt. Miller himself charging with his men and Arnott's brigade also coming up just then the defence after being almost decimated and short of ammunition had to retire. But not in disorder though and fighting every inch of the ground, the weight of superior numbers at last bringing on defeat and the grove was won.

Lt.-Col. Miller, of the 57th P.B., was present and watched with interest the fight participated in by the boys, some of whom in all probability will take part in the genuine article if it should ever come their way.

He expressed himself as much pleased with the tactics and strategy shown by the Cadets.

After the fight when the boys had rested, some good games of ball were played, the right half company winning from the left, and No.1 section winning from the other sections.

The boys arrived home in the evening unanimous that they never spent a more pleasant time and wishing it were all to come over again.

DELIGHTFUL BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Gladys Fife Entertains Her Young Friends at Jackson's Park.

A most delightful time was spent yesterday afternoon and evening the occasion being the eighth birthday of Miss Gladys Fife, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Fife, 77 Harvey street, when a tea party was given in Jackson Park, the party numbering about twenty, taking the car out to that beautiful spot and spending the time in playing games, etc., till tea was served, when the following young ladies and gentlemen sat down to a most dainty and inviting supper:—Misses Jean Anderson, Hazel Millor, Mamie Armour, Guelphe Leane, Irene Taylor, Ina Denoon, Ada Graham and Dorothy Hill; Masters Willie and Clifton Carruthers, Kenneth Anderson, Charles and Norman Graham, and Morton Erskine. Miss Gladys made a most charming little hostess, and did the honors in a very graceful and natural manner. Her mother, Mrs. Fife and the other "grown-ups" waited on the table and acted as chaperones. The party took the car home again and dispersed to their homes voting that they never spent a more delightful day. Not a single incident occurred to mar the pleasure of the afternoon and everyone enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

WERE WEDDED AT CATHEDRAL

Nuptials of Miss Nellie Faux And Mr. Thomas Holland.

A quiet, though extremely pretty wedding took place this morning, at St. Peter's Cathedral, when Miss Nellie Faux was united in marriage to Mr. Thos. Holland. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. Father McColl, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

The bride looking charming in a gown of silk organdie over white taffeta, with picture hat to match, and carried a white prayer-book. The bridesmaid, Miss Ida Coveney, was beautifully attired in cream crepe-de-chine. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. James Holland.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the party drove to the residence of the bride, Monroe Ave., 5th ward, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served.

The contracting parties were the recipients of many congratulatory favours testifying to the esteem in which they are held by their large circle of friends. The happy couple will take up their residence on London street.

AN ACCIDENT AT THE WHARF

Mr. J. C. Wright Had Finger Mangled —An Amputation.

Yesterday, Mr. J. C. Wright, who lives on Sophia street, Fifth Ward, met with an accident by which he lost his little finger. Mr. Wright is employed with the Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Company, and was working at the Wolfe street wharf. His hand became caught in a cog on a windlass, and the result was that his finger was mangled to such an extent that Dr. Morgan, to whom the injured man went, had to amputate the finger at the second joint.

VOYAGE WAS MUCH ENJOYED

Mr. J. J. Turner Writes Interestingly of Present Trip.

Is One of Peterborough's Representatives on Trip of Manufacturer's Association.

Mr. J. J. Turner, who is one of Peterborough's representatives on the trip of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, by Allan liner "Victorian" to the Old Country, favours the Examiner with a letter in which he refers to the incidents of the early stages of the trip. It will be of interest to Peterborough citizens and is given below:—

Rimouski, R.M.S. "Victorian," June 9th, 1905.—To the Editor of the Peterborough Examiner, Dear Sir, — I thought I would send you a few lines just to let you know about our steamer and our trip so far. The steamer "Victorian" is a beautiful boat, and the passage down from Montreal was delightful. In fact, you would hardly know that you were on a steamer, there is so little vibration. We have a very fine party on board, and at Montreal a presentation was made to our president, Mr. George and to Mrs. George. Mr. George made a very nice speech in reply as did also Sir George Drummond.

We have, I believe, about 272 passengers or members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in the saloon. We are to have a daily paper printed on board. I believe we have several newspaper men in th eparty. We also have with us the Hon. E. J. Davis and wife.

We expect to have a very pleasant voyage. Mr. B. E. Ackerman, Mr. Hugh Wadell and son are all well and are able to take their meals which is a very good sign. I, myself, have not missed any meals so far and do not expect to.

A handsome souvenir passenger list card was presented to each passenger, and the members of the Canadian Association also are wearing emblems in the form of a "Maple Leaf," with the inscription, "Canadian Manufacturers' Association."

We expect to arrive at Liverpool on June 16th or 17th, and we are to have a special train to take us to London. I enclose you one of the lists of passengers in the saloon. Wishing you good-bye for the present, I remain yours truly,

J. J. Turner.

EXCURSION WAS WELL PATRONIZED

The Canadian Cordage Company Employees Annual Trip to Jubilee.

This morning the annual excursion of the employees of the Canadian Cordage and Manufacturing Company left town by the steamer Water Lily and barges, both of which craft were loaded to the limit, about three hundred and fifty persons participating in the excursion. About 8.30 this morning the steamer with her consort left the Wolfe street wharf for the trip down the river to Jubilee Point, where the excursionists intended to spend the day.

A good programme of games had been arranged by the committee to be pulled off at the point, and everything pointed to an enjoyable day being spent by the employees of the company.

NO ICE IN THE TOWN FOUNTAINS

Ice Men's Figures Were Too High and No Contract Was Let.

Two Tenders Submitted Were $60 Each—Last Year's Prices $35.

The public who use the town fountains this year will have to take their water without ice. The Property Committee recently called for tenders for the supply of ice for the two public fountains this summer, and Ald. Batten reported verbally last night to the effect that while last year the price charged was $35 for the two, this year the two tenders received were both the same price, $60, or nearly double that charged last year, the increase in price being explained by the fact that it was proposed to fill the fountain at the Central Park once a day this summer instead of once future days as was done last year. The Committee considered this too high, and, on motion of Ald. Hall, seconded by Ald. Adams, the Property Committee was instructed not to report, the effect of which will be that no contract will be awarded for the supply of ice for this summer.

NOCTURNAL BLAZE AT McALLISTER'S MILL

Prompt Response and Good Work by Fire Brigade.

A blaze occurred at about ten o'clock last night at McAllister's mill, Fifth Ward, in which the most disastrous consequences were averted by the good work of the firemen.

The fire originated in the basement of the mill, at about ten o'clock, and was first discovered by Mr. Alex. Gillespie, who noticed the reflection of the light upon the water. The brigade was hastily summoned and made a quick run to the scene, their prompt and efficient service undoubtedly saving the mill. The blaze evidently originated directly beneath the first floor of the mill, though from what cause cannot be ascertained.

The flames were spreading rapidly when the brigade arrived, and it was only through their well directed exertions that they were checked. Luckily the mill was not at the time in operation, as had the windows been up, as is usually the case, the draughts would undoubtedly have caused trouble.

"Blunoz"—a Canadian Serge made on the Semi-ready standard

"Blunoz" is our exclusively controlled serge.

We had an idea that Canadians would wear a Canadian-made serge, if it was made good enough. We didn't want to appeal to their loyalty—what we wanted was a serge that would appeal to their pocket-books and their common sense.

We have it in "Blunoz" serge.

Our cloth experts hunted up a Canadian manufacturer who was honestly trying to make good serge, and instilled into him our ideas of what a serge should be. He is making "Blunoz" serge for us now. We control the output of his factory and the secret that makes "Blunoz" wear well and never fade.

The only place you can get this excellent "Blunoz" serge is in the Semi-ready Wardrobes—in single and double-breasted sack suits.

BOWLERS ARE ENTHUSIASTIC

Many Were Out Upon the Green Last Night.

Brookside Lawn, the grounds of the Lawn Bowling Club last night presented a scene of life and animation. The old veterans were out in large numbers together with a fair sprinkling of new players. The grounds were in splendid condition and will improve as the season progresses. They present a pretty sight in the evening since the addition of the lights. The Club House is at present being painted, and is proving a good convenience to the members.

From the unlimited enthusiasm evident at present, the game will undoubtedly this year flourish to greater extent than ever before. The games last night were closely contested and the grounds resounded with the shouts consequent on victory. The erection of the new fence, it is understood, will be commenced to-day.

The following games were played last night:—

METHODISTS WON THE FIRST GAME

Defeated St. John's—The Final Score Being 10-6.

The last three innings of the game between St. John's and Charlotte Street Guild teams were played last night and resulted in a score of 5-3 in favour of Charlotte Street, making the total score 10-6.

As may be seen by last night's score, the playing of St. John's was very much improved and in the last two innings they played winning ball, shutting out the Methodists.

Their fielding could scarcely be improved on, though at first was a little jagged. Cavanah, who again did the twirling, was hit freely at first, but in the last innings showed a reverse of form, shutting out the Charlotte Streets' heavy hitters.

The support extended him, was, on the whole, very good. Fitzpatrick at centre making some splendid catches. Rogers made a low throw to second base but otherwise did good work.

St. John's went to bat first, Simons striking out; Voots caught a pop fly from Green and Warnam fanned.

For the Methodists, Williams went out at first on a grounder to Warnam. Crowe, who went next, got to first on a nice hit to right field and scored on a passed ball.

Ryan reached first base on a nice fly past centre. A. McWilliams walked. Lang was caught out at second by Warnam. Ryan scored. Amos McWilliams scored on his brother's long fly to right, the latter getting to second. Thornton was caught out by Fitzpatrick at centre in a very clever manner.

Nothing was done by St. John's in the second. Cavanah went out at first, Fitzpatrick reached second, but was put out at 3rd on a nice throw by Ryan. Rogers went out at second on a perfect throw from Lang.

For Charlotte Street Voots made the circuit scoring on a passed ball. Squires made a two-bagger and scored Williams going out at first. Crowe struck out and Ryan went out at 1st base.

Weller walked, Metcalf hit for two bags and Hudson struck out. Simons hit another for two bags, scoring Weller, Green coming in on steal fumbling by the outfield.

A. McWilliams, Lang and Nelson McWilliams went out in order by stellar work of the Anglicans, the score ending 5-3 for Charlotte Street and making it 10-6 for the seven innings.

The teams lined up as follows:—

St. John's.—Green c. s.; Warnam, 2nd base; Cavanah, p.; Fitzpatrick, centre; Rogers, c.; Weller, l. f.; Metcalf, 3rd; Hodgson, 1st; Simons, r. f.

Charlotte Street. — Amos McWilliams centre; Lang, c.; Nelson McWilliams, s. s.; Thornton, 1st base; Voots, p.; Squires, 2nd base; Williams, 3rd base; Crowe, left; Ryan, right.

Mr. Jos. Thornton, of St. Andrew's, supplied with general refreshments.

ST. PAULS' GOT A GOOD LEAD

Defeated George Street in First Half by 5-3.

Last night at St. Paul's grounds, the second game in district one of the Guild League, was opened, three innings being played, between St. Paul's and George at 'est, the score at the end of that innings being 5—3 in favour of the home team.

The game was not errorless by any means, and neither team did their best work. In the first innings, Parnell, who pitched for George street, was batted rather freely, and this, with a couple of errors, resulted in St. Paul's scoring four runs, and clinching the first half of the game. In their first half at bat, George street scored one. Parnell hit to right, and, after Robertson had fanned, Weatherstone had three strikes called, and Gillespie dropped the ball, Parnell scoring on the throw. St. Paul's had a batting streak in the second half of the first, and when the smoke had cleared away four runs had crossed the plate. Hits were made by Simpson, Laing, Stacey, Gillespie and Watt, and runs were scored by Simpson, Laing, Stacey and Shea.

In the second, the Methodists scored two more runs, on hits by Pedlar, Miller and Kendry. Pedlar and Miller scoring the runs. Only three men faced Parnell in this innings, Laing and Stacey fanning, and Simpson was out on Robinson's assist to first base.

No score resulted for George street in the third, Robertson and McMillan striking out, and Weatherstone was out on a liner to Stacey. St. Paul's got another in this innings on two charities, and a hit by Rosenberg, the final score being 5—3.

The game will be finished to-morrow night.

LACROSSE TEAM OPENS THE SEASON

Will Meet the Newmarket Intermediates To-morrow.

The lacrosse team had a good practice last night, many players being out in uniforms, McCabe, Glover, McGrath, Wasson and a lot of other players turning out for the first time. Some good fast work was put through, and the team will be in excellent condition to meet Newmarket on Thursday.

Practice will be held to-night in the new Riverside grounds, fifth ward. These grounds which have been recently made over "will be the best in town and it is hoped to see as in former years, some great games of lacrosse.

Season tickets giving admission to all games this season can be obtained for $2.00 and are on sale at Clark's, O'Brien's, Oriental and the Examiner office. Club membership tickets can be obtained for $1.00, not, however, admitting the holder to any games.

May Be Bannockburn.

Detroit, June 13.—A Duluth despatch says Capt. Price of the steamer Crescent City discovered about 15 miles west of White Fish Point, Lake Superior, the floating deck and cabin of a steamer. It is believed that the wreckage may be from the Canadian steamer Bannockburn, which disappeared in Lake Superior in November, 1902.

Many Women Suffer Untold Agony From Kidney Trouble.

Very often they think it is from so-called "female disease." There is less female trouble than they think. Women suffer from backache, sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, and a dragging-down feeling in the loins. So do men, and they do not have "female trouble." Why, then, blame all your trouble to female disease? With healthy kidneys, few women will ever have "female disorders." The kidneys are so closely connected with all the internal organs, that when the kidneys go wrong, everything goes wrong. Much distress would be saved if women would only take at stated intervals.

Miss Nellie Clark, Lambeth, Ont., tells of her cure in the following words:—"I suffered for about two years with kidney trouble. I ached all over, especially in the small of my back; met being able to sleep well, no appetite, menstruation irregular, nervous irritability, and brick-dust deposit in urine, were some of my symptoms. I took Doan's Kidney Pills. The pain in my back gradually left me, my appetite returned, I sleep well, and am effectually cured. I can highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. All dealers, or DOAN KIDNEY PILL CO., Toronto, Ont.

WHY YOU SHOULD USE

Red Rose Tea

Because it is full weight.

You get a full pound of tea inside the package. The lead wrapping is not included in the weight.

It is weighed by automatic electric machines—machines that never make mistakes (clerks sometimes do), and the tea is poured into the packages after being weighed.

Put a pound package of Red Rose Tea on a scale and it will weigh 19 to 20 ounces, according to the thickness of the lead wrapper; or the tea, poured out, will weigh 16 ounces.

Everything about Red Rose Tea is always full measure—weight, quality, purity, and cleanliness—and your satisfaction will be full and complete when you use it.

Keep Your Bowels Regular In Nature's Way.

Suppose your bowels fail to move for a week or ten days. Don't you know you would be quickly prostrated? Of course you do. It is just the same, differing in degree, when your bowels don't move once every day. You know you soon become languid and tired, and your blood gets bad and you feel out of sorts—sick all over—if you don't have a full, healthy passage daily. Don't let such serious conditions develop. Use Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills. They will drive bowel poison out of your system and establish regularity. These little pills are purely vegetable and cure in one night.

Remember that bowel poison is the direct cause of slow, wasting fevers, loss of memory, female weakness, nervous prostration and general debility. Bowel poison leads on to misery and death as surely as constipation or heart disease; the well-advised use of Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills will cure and establish bowel, stomach and liver health. Sick at night, well in the morning. Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills cure constipation, biliousness, headache in one night. At dealers, 25 cents.

THE PEACE CONFERENCE

Progress of Negotiations in This Behalf At Washington.

RUSSIA AND JAPAN AGREE

Both Nations Are Appointing Plenipotentiaries, But the Names Are Not Given Out Yet—They Seek a Place to Meet—It Will Not Be Washington, But May Be The Hague or Summer Resort.

Washington, June 13.—Official assurance that the President's efforts to bring Russia and Japan together to discuss peace will be crowned with success was brought to the White House yesterday by Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador, who called by appointment and in the name of Emperor Nicholas, formally accepted the President's offer of good will, and to state that they would appoint plenipotentiaries to meet the plenipotentiaries of Japan to discuss the question of peace. The place of meeting is at present being discussed.

President Roosevelt now has unequivocal assurances from both Russian and Japan of the acceptance of his propositions that they enter on negotiations for peace. The President likewise is assured of absolutely sincerity of both Governments.

Japan was the first of the two powers to indicate its acceptance of President Roosevelt's proposition. The formal response to his identical note of Thursday last was received from the Japanese Government Saturday.

While the response of the Russian Government is not reduced to writing, it is regarded for the time as sufficient for the negotiations.

It can be said that the place of meeting of the plenipotentiaries of the two Governments has not been finally selected.

Briefly the situation is this. Japan does not wish Paris, and Russia is unfavorable to Mukden or Chefoo. Both are opposed to Washington for climatic reasons, though neither would oppose the selection of an American watering place, and among Newport and Manchester-by-the-Sea. Of the places under consideration in Europe, it is said Russia might accept The Hague. Geneva is also considered, and it would not be objectionable to Japan.

As soon as the arrangements are completed definitely, an armistice will be agreed upon, and the great armies in Manchuria will lower their bayonets pending the formal negotiations of a permanent treaty of peace.

Official Reply on the Way.

St. Petersburg, June 13.—Russia's official reply is now on its way to Washington. Foreign Secretary Lamsdorff transmitted it to Ambassador Meyer and later the Ambassador had an interview with the Foreign Minister at the Foreign Office.

Censorship Blanket Order.

The censorship at the instance of the Council of the Ministers, has issued a blanket order forbidding newspapers to mention or to publish the proceedings of any congress or meeting held, without the permission of the Government.

Parliament in September.

St. Petersburg, June 13.—The Russian experiment in Parliamentarism will begin in September.

French Cabinet Changes.

Paris, June 13.—It is expected that several diplomatic and Ministerial changes resulting from the resignation of M. Delcasse, until recently Foreign Minister, will be settled at to-day's meeting of the Cabinet. Leon Bourgeois will probably succeed M. Bihourd as Ambassador at Berlin, thus inaugurating a new conciliatory policy concerning Morocco. Premier Rouvier is still undecided about retaining the portfolio of Foreign Affairs, with the expectation that M. de Freycinet or M. Constans (Ambassador to Turkey) will enter the Foreign Office if Mr. Rouvier concludes to retain the finance portfolio.

May Lead Up to Crisis.

London, June 13.—A despatch from Fez, Morocco, says: German friendship for Morocco has already been rewarded by several minor commercial concessions. This is regarded in diplomatic circles here as a precedent liable to create complications and cause France to abandon her attitude of patience, thereby leading to a crisis.

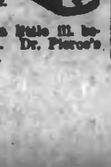
BAD STOMACH MAKES BAD BLOOD.

You can't make sweet butter in a foul churn. Every farmer's wife knows this. Your stomach churns and digests the food you eat, and if foul, torpid or out of order, your whole system suffers from blood poisoning. You will have foul breath, coated tongue, bad taste, poor appetite and a whole train of disagreeable symptoms. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which is not a beverage composed of whisky or alcohol, being entirely free from intoxicants, is a great regulator and invigorator of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

"About a year ago I was ill with blood poisoning," writes Miss Evelyn Louis, of 43 Walker Street, Buffalo, N. Y. "I had what seemed to be a small cold sore on my lip. It became very angry in appearance and began to spread until it nearly covered my face. It was a frightful sight and could not go outside the house because of my appearance. I used a bottle and a half of what did not give me any relief. Then I began to take your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I was greatly benefited with the first bottle and after taking the second bottle was completely cured. The erysipelatous eruption disappeared and my blood was cleansed. My complexion is clear and fresh, and I have felt better this past year than I did for some time before. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is certainly a most remarkable medicine."

Don't accept a substitute for a medicine which performs such cures and which has a uniformly successful record of nearly forty years to its credit. It's an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to try by over-persuasion to palm off upon you in its stead some inferior article with no record to back it up. You know what you want; it is his business to meet that want.

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY, in copies of Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 680,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.50 per copy. Last year we gave away 54,000 worth of these invaluable books. This year we shall give away 50,000 worth of (one thousand of your share in this bonanza?) If so, send only 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only for book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.



Constipation although a little ill begets big ones if neglected. Dr. Pierce's Pellets cures constipation.

TORONTO JUNCTION LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 72 carloads, composed of 1405 cattle, 10 hogs, 92 calves and 4 horses.

Exporters.

Prices ranged from $4.60 to $5.50, and one load of prime cattle reached $5.60, the bulk selling at $5.25 to $5.40. Export bulls ranged from $3.65 to $4 per cwt.

Butchers.

The market for butchers' cattle was slow, the best loads selling at from $5 to $5.15, with $5.20 in one or two instances; fair to medium loads, $4.80 to $4.85; common, mixed loads, with cows, $4.35 to $4.50; cows, at $3.50 to $3.85.

Veal Calves.

There was a good demand for calves at $5.12½ to $5.50 per cwt.

Hogs.

H. P. Kennedy reported prices for hogs as being unchanged at $6.90, off cars, and $6.65, fed and watered.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, June 12.—(Special.)—Cable advices came stronger and prices on the week show an advance of ½c to ¾c per lb., with sales of American cattle at 12c to 12¼c, and Canadians at 11¾c to 12c, while to London Americans sold at 12¾c, and Canadians at 12½c. The exports for the past week were 3377 cattle and 552 sheep. The receipts were 700 cattle, 300 sheep and lambs, 100 calves, 500 hogs. Receipts of all lines of live stock for local consumption were comparatively small, and in consequence trade was on the quiet side, but the undertone in the market was firm and prices generally show little change. The supply of hogs for sale was small, there being only about 400 on the market, for which the demand was fairly good, and sales of selected lots were made at $7 to $7.25, and mixed lots at $6.50 to $6.75 per hundred pounds, weighed off cars. Some of the large packers received some remnant lots direct from the west, which had been contracted for last week. A carload of 100 head of American hogs was received here last week by the Montreal Abattoir Company. Our cable advices from Liverpool on Canadian bacon on supply made the market stronger and noted an advance in prices of 1s to 2s per cwt., as compared with those of a week ago, the price being from 52s to 53s, while London prices were unchanged at from 55s to 60s. On the other hand, some of the large packers stated this morning that their advices from Liverpool were easier than they had been earlier in the week. The tone of the market for cattle remains firm, and prices show no material change. The demand from butchers was fairly good for the season of the year, and supplies were all cleaned up. Prime beeves sold at 5¾c to 6c; choice at 5¼c to 5½c; good at 4¾c to 5c; fairly good at 4½c; fair at 3½c to 4c, and common at 2¾c to 3¼c per lb. A fair trade was done in sheep and lambs of which supplies are increasing some, but prices are about steady. Sheep sold at 5¼c to 6c per lb, and lambs at $3 to $4.50 each. Supplies of calves were small, for which demand was fair, and prices have an upward tendency, with sales at from $4 to $10 each.

MR. CONMEE LOST SUIT.

Bought Lake Superior Stock on Margin and Looks Thereby.

Toronto, June 13.—Judgment for A. E. Ames & Co. has been awarded on the appeal in their action against James Conmee, M. P., for margins. This decision supports that of Chancellor Boyd, who found $4,000 due to the brokers, as a result of the sale of 300 shares of Consolidated Lake Superior stock, bought on Mr. Conmee's order. This stock was bought at 30 1-2, with a margin of $3,000. He afterwards put up $1,890 more; but the stock was sold at 28½—100 being a large balance uncovered.

Mr. Conmee held that the 300 shares would never have been delivered to him as they were pledged to the bank as security for Ames & Co.'s liabilities. Justice Anglin did not agree with the judgment of Chief Justice Falconbridge and Mr. Justice Britton. He holds as clearly indefinable the right of brokers to hypothecate their customers' stock to secure their own general indebtedness.

Justice Britton says: "The relationship of broker and client were established, the broker is entitled to indemnity so long as he carefully carries out the instructions of his principal. In this case Mr. Conmee could have, any time, taken up or sold the stock and closed the account."

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

London Chosen Over Montreal As Next Place of Meeting.

Kingston, June 13.—The work of the General Assembly is being pushed through in a business-like manner. The heads of the various committees have their reports well in hand and the unfinished business at the end will not figure up very much. London was chosen as the place of meeting next year by a large majority over Montreal. The feature of the afternoon was the reception given to the representatives from the church of Scotland, Rev. Norman McLeod, D.D., of Inverness, and Rev. Melford Mitchell, of Edinburgh.

DIRECTORS OF THE SOO.

Ontario Government Appoints Successors to Mr. N. W. Rowell, K. C.

Toronto, June 13.—Premier Whitney announced yesterday morning that Mr. W. H. Plummer, a merchant of Sault Ste. Marie, had been appointed to the Board of Consolidated Lake Superior Co. as one of the Government's representatives, in succession to Mr. N. W. Rowell, K. C., who has resigned. The Government has also named Mr. W. H. Hearst, solicitor of Sault Ste. Marie, as the Government's agent in connection with the company, a position which Mr. Rowell also occupied.

G. T. R. Objected.

Lindsay, June 13.—The Board of Railway Commissioners met here yesterday. There were three applications for gates and flagmen at railway crossings, and an application for interswitching between the Grand Trunk and C. P. R.

The Board reserved judgment as to railway crossings. The Grand Trunk opposed the inter-change switching being heard, but the Board took evidence and reserved judgment, pending decision of London application, to be heard on the 20th instant, and also reserving the right to the Grand Trunk to put in expert evidence.

Pastor Becomes Demented.

Leamington, June 13.—Enfeebled by influenza, followed by an abcess in the ear, from which he suffered greatly, Rev. W. H. Locke, pastor of the Methodist Church here, who had just been transferred by the conference to Kincardine, is temporarily demented, and has been taken to London asylum for treatment. His wife is in Chatham Hospital, where she recently underwent an operation. Worry on her account, in addition to his own illness, had much to do with Mr. Locke's condition.

Rapid Circulation in the "Bison" Heater

The expansion of hot water in the heater causes circulation.

If the water heats at the bottom first, it cannot circulate till the water in the upper sections is also heated. Most heaters heat the bottom water first.

The "Bison" heats the water at the top first.

That is why it gets almost instantaneous circulation of hot water into the radiators—it is one of ten reasons why the "Bison" is the best heater.

YOUNG PEOPLES' MEETING ENJOYED

A Successful Meeting at Park Street Baptist Church.

The B.Y.P.U. session at the Park street Baptist church last night, was of unusual interest. Some forty young people gathered and a large proportion of young men. The subject was timely, "Minor Moralities," and was introduced in a few well chosen remarks by the president, Mr Haddow, and discussed in two well chosen papers, read by Mrs. Robt. Wright and Miss Edith Gillespie. By request the pastor gave an exposition of the Scripture, "Be ye angry and sin not." Several new members were voted on.

The subject next week will be taken by Mr. Haddow, brother of the president, and Miss Clara Foster, recently from Belleville. The young people are figuring for a load to help the association meeting at Indian River next Tuesday.

AN OLD SAYING

Showing How Cause and Effect Are Never Far Removed.

It is an old saying "Where there's honey there's bees"—not less true is one which science has coined more recently, "Where there's dandruff there's germs"—and—to push the inference still further we may truly say "Where there's dandruff cured Newbro's Herpicide has been at work."

The reason of Herpicide's isolation as a genuine cure for dandruff lies in the fact that it attacks and destroys the root of the whole trouble—a parasitic germ which feeds upon the material which nourishes the hair follicle.

Other so-called remedies are not directed at this true cause of the disease.

THREE MONTHS IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Col. H. C. Rogers Tells of His Happy Holiday in Pacific Province.

Land of Immense Resources—A Land of Promises—Peterborough-onians Well in Evidence.

Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers, post-master, has returned after a three months' leave of absence spent in British Columbia, with the richness of which Province he is greatly impressed. Mrs. Rogers is at present in Victoria and her friends here will be greatly pleased to know that she is enjoyable fairly good health, the climate there being very congenial. Lieut. Col. Rogers has two sons in British Columbia—Mr. D. M. Rogers of law firm of Barnard and Rogers, the senior member being mayor of Victoria and his wife, the daughter of Mr. Rogers, and Dr. H. B. Rogers, who has charge of a hospital at Cheumanus, B.C. His daughter, Mrs. H. B. Robertson, is also residing in Victoria.

The postmasters' holiday was of three months' duration, he having found it possible to have the original period extended one month. It is not generally known to his friends here that he was ill for two weeks in Toronto, prior to leaving for the West. He enjoyed the trip immensely and states that British Columbia has all those resources which contribute to a country of glorious destiny. Its immense forests, its coal mines, its splendid water powers, and its fisheries are counted among the chief assets of the Province and the exploitation of these makes great industrial activity. Vancouver, Victoria and all of the principal towns and cities are booming. Mr. Rogers states that he was in Vancouver nine years ago, but the subsequent growth of the city has been such that one would hardly know the place.

When asked if he saw any Peterborough people on his travels, Mr Rogers stated that he had met them everywhere. Mr. V. Winch, who may be considered an old Peterborough boy is engaged in the canning business and is counted as one of the richest men in British Columbia. Mr. Butchart the gentleman who planned the cement works at Lakefield, and still has an interest in the enterprise, is managing a large concern of a similar character out West. On his return trip Mr. Rogers states that he met a traveller who spoke a great deal about Peterborough, and he turned out to be one of the McEain boys from South Monaghan. People from the old town seem to be everywhere and doing well. Mr Herb Kent, formerly of Peterborough, occupies a very important position as superintendent of the British Columbia Telephone Company, and Mr. Rollie Wood, son of Mr. John Wood, Ward Five, has been successful in conducting a series of large stores.

Peterborough Machinery.

Some of the large lumber mills were visited and the manner in which operations are carried on was something of a revelation. No animal power of any kind is used and almost everything is handled by steam. The lumber companies have their own railways up to the mountains, and such trees! One monster sawlog measured 85 feet, and was three feet and a half in diameter at each end, there being no taper to the "tooth-pick" whatever. One company has sixteen donkey engines employed in the bush, and there is a type in use which ascends the side of a mountain and hauls the logs in on skids. The grade to be worked by these handy machines is sometimes over eight feet in a mile. Mr Rogers was much interested upon visiting the scene of milling operations at Chemanus to find that the machinery was made by the William Hamilton Company, while the electrical apparatus in a large Ladysmith coal mine was manufactured by the C. G. E. Co., Peterborough. In the city of Victoria a large power plant is entirely equipped with machinery built by these two firms.

Theodore Ludgate, son of the late John Ludgate of Peterborough, is interested in extensive lumbering operations in British Columbia, and is regarded as being one of its most successful business men.

Peterborough canoes were everywhere and have done much to advertise this industrial centre. It was pleasing to find at so great a distance that home concerns are so well represented.

Splendid Climate.

The island of Vancouver is 250 miles long, and there are portions which have not yet been explored. At present it is a land of flowers. There is practically no winter and the climate is generally most agreeable. The city of Victoria has a population of about 25,000, while Vancouver's is between forty and fifty thousand. Victoria was the first British port on the coast, and has a past of great historical interest. Mr. Rogers states that he visited the forts at Esquimalt and states that they are regarded as being perfect. It requires about 2,000 men to arm them adequately. At the present time the Imperial corps located there have received no instructions as to where they will be next located, in the event of the fortifications being manned by Canadians, and apparently regret their departure from what is considered the favourite British military station.

Resources Developed.

The coal mines on Vancouver Island are practically owned and controlled by the Dunsmuirs, a Scotch family, and cover a very large area. At present capital is being rapidly invested in the development of the country's resources and this is the explanation of the general boom. Considerable American money has been directed thither and one large lumber company is out-and-out American so far as capital and directorate is concerned.

It is a peculiar fact that the Chinese are a much appreciated people in the industrial world of British Columbia. They do practically all of the hard work and can be relied upon. As domestics there are none better. Chinatown in Victoria City has a population of 6,000. There are at present, however, restrictions against the Orientals landing in the country. A peculiar fact is that the Japanese, of whom there are many, do not inspire as great confidence as their squint-eyed brethren and are regarded as the "Yankees of the East." They have an inclination to be crafty and unreliable while a Chinaman's word is, in the majority of cases as good as his bond. The cosmopolitan character of some of the mining and lumbering centres is said to make for conditions which constitute a grave social problem to be solved sooner or later.

DELIGHTFUL ENTERTAINMENT

Was Given Last Night at All Saints' Church.

Affair Was Under Auspices of Junior Auxilliary—Successful Sale of Work.

The entertainment and sale of work held last night in the school room of All Saints' Church, under the auspices of the Junior Auxiliary, proved a delightful affair and attracted a large attendance.

The sale of work was proceeded with during the early part of the evening, the motley array of dainty and useful little articles—the handiwork of the members—being attractively displayed upon tables surrounding the room. The result of the sale from every point of view, was a gratifying one.

A refreshment booth, at which was dispensed ice cream, confectionery, etc., was a popular spot with the audience, and reported highly satisfactory sales. The room was prettily decorated for the occasion.

A delightful entertainment was afterwards presented, the little girls acquitting themselves with great credit in the numbers which they contributed.

The chair was occupied by the rector, Rev. W. Major.

The first number was an instrumental duet, rendered in a musicianly manner by Misses Pearl Haskell and Mabel Hooper. This was followed by a recitation by Miss Christie, which drew a hearty recall. A vocal solo was then rendered with splendid effect by Miss Helen Rush, after which another recitation was given by Miss Geraldine Hooper, who displayed much elocutionary ability. A violin solo by Miss Annie Palmer was a most popular number, and received a merited encore. A song by Mr. Coleman was also well received, its patriotic ring andex cellent rendition appealing strongly to the audience. Miss Rose Hillier followed with a recitation which was very cleverly presented. A piano solo was next rendered by Miss Mabel Hooper, who displayed a well developed technique for one of her years. Miss Laura Kincaid, then gave a recitation which greatly delighted the audience. A piano solo by Miss White was executed with charming expression and effect. A recitation by Miss Margaret Stevens was received with great favour by the audience. The closing number was a dialogue charmingly presented by the following four little girls,—Misses Pearl Haskell, Mabel Hooper, Marjorie Latimer and Bessie Latimer. This was a dainty little comediatta and proved most mirth-provoking.

The proceeds which reached quite handsome proportions, will be devoted to the purchase of a font for the new church.

RICE LAKE WILL NOT BE LEASED

Government Not in Favour of Granting Exclusive Privelages.

It is understood that the Government will not consent to the leasing to a number of wealthy sportsmen of Toronto and elsewhere of Rice Lake, on the borders of Peterborough and Northumberland counties. The former Administration had decided upon a lease of 21 years on terms which were acceptable to the sportsmen interested, but the lease was not issued prior to the election, and thereafter it was felt the incoming Government should deal with the matter. Rice Lake is a well-known haunt of wild duck, and it is said to be one of the very few spots in older Canada where wild rice, which is a favourite food of the wild duck, is found in plenty. Some sportsmen think that this plentiful growth is due to the absence from the lake of carp, others do not agree that these fish eat wild rice.

The rights of the Indians to shooting and fishing on Rice Lake were, it is understood, safeguarded in the proposed lease, but it is felt that such a favourite and fruitful hunting section should not be barred to any man who does his shooting in accordance with the regulations. Rice Lake is the Mecca of many Ontario sportsmen.—Globe.

Note.—That is if the shooting is done according to regulations.

TWO MONTHS FOR BARCASTRO

Lakefield Stabbing Case Was Heard Yesterday Afternoon.

Only Criminal Case at County Court, Which Opened Yesterday.

The only criminal case before His Honour Judge Weller at the session of the County Court, which opened yesterday was that of Dominico Murdoque, the Italian who wascharged with wounding a fellow countryman, Dominique Barcastro in Lakefield on Monday, May 22nd, 1905. He pleaded "not guilty" to the charge.

Crown Attorney R. E. Wood appeared for the prosecution and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun and Mr. G. N. Gordon, for the defence.

M. Leonard Minicolo acted as Court interpretor.

The first witness was Barcastro, the man who received the wound. He testified that he was in Lakefield on May 22nd, 1905. He did not know Murdoque till he came to this country and only knew him from working with him. He worked in the Cement Works and received $1.50 per day. They were together on the day mentioned and entered a bar near the centre of the town together.

They had a number of drinks together and went from there to a butcher shop to buy a steak. From there they went towards their quarters, when Barcastro suddenly remembered that he had treated once more than Murdoque, and immediately told him so, adding a claim that Murdoque owed him five cents. This naturally offended the latter, who at once tendered him a dollar bill with the words, "If I owe you five cents for a drink, here's a dollar to settle the account." Barcastro made a reply in heated terms.

At that juncture, Barcastro stated that he had fallen into a hole and while he was down Murdoque picked up a stone. He (Barcastro) seized Murdoque and forced him to throw down the stone, when the latter drew his knife and stabbed him.

The next witness was another Italian, Francisco Menenda, who was with Mordent on the night of the assault. He corroborated the latter's statements with the exception of his statement regarding the stone and said in cross examination by Mr. Dennistoun that his companion grossly insulted Murdoque.

Barcastro replied that he was 33 years of age and that no man had ever spoken to him like that before, and that if such language were repeated, the user would pay for it. Whereupon the scrap began Murdoque drawing his knife and stabbing his companion several times in the back.

Dr. Fraser of Lakefield was the last witness. He said that he had been summoned on Tuesday about 10 o'clock, the assault having been committed about 7 o'clock the previous evening and found Barcastro in his shanty with four wounds in his back. He dressed the wounds and visited the man four times during the next week. Barcastro went to work on the sixth day after the affray.

The respective counsel then addressed the jury, who remained but one hour and twenty-five minutes, returning with a verdict of "guilty of criminal assault," and recommending mercy.

The court, in sentencing the prisoner, spoke in strong terms with reference to the use of knives for the purposes of attack, which custom had grown far too prevelent, and was deserving of the severest punishment. The provocation that had been given the prisoner was taken into consideration, and he was sentenced to two months in the county jail.

This morning at the opening of the court the presentment of the Grand Jury was presented by the foreman, Mr. Geo. Cochrane, and is as follows:—

To His Honor, Judge Weller;

Your Grand Jury of the County Court and General Sessions beg leave to make this presentment, and would extend congratulations such as the occasion seems to demand.

We have to congratulate the city, county and community generally upon the satisfactory condition of public morality in our midst, as evidenced by the comparative absence of crime of a serious character. In investigating the criminal charges placed before us our duty has been comparatively light.

We have visited the gaol, Nicholls Hospital, St. Joseph's Hospital, and the House of Providence, and we found everything in first class condition and no cause for complaint.

Geo. Cochrane,
Foreman.

This closed the session of the County Court.

ONE THOUSAND FACTS CONCERNING CANADA

Sententious Paragraphs About the Resources, Products and Agricultural and Industrial Possibilities of the Dominion of Canada.

"One Thousand Facts about Canada," is the title of a meaty booklet, issued by the Exhibition Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, in which a vast amount of information is given in single sentence paragraphs. The idea is to give outsiders an idea of the resources and desirability of Canada as a home for the settler, or a field of industrial energy for the capitalist. But, as no Canadian knows any too much about his own country, the Examiner proposes to reprint from day to day one or two of the meaty paragrphs contained in the pamphlet.

REGIMENT'S WEEKLY DRILL

About Two Hundred Were in Atteadance.

The Court House Was Captured—Corps in Splendid Shape.

The 57th Regiment had its weekly drill last night. Considering that the men and officers had just gone through a rather strenuous week, during which they passed the annual inspection in a creditable manner there was a fair turn out, about 200 being in attendance. On Tuesday night next there will be a march out.

The men were put through company drill and executed several movements on the school grounds adjoining. The corps is in splendid shape for its trip to Ottawa on July 1st. Capt. McWilliams' Company, No. 7, engaged in a tactical move last night and made an attack in extended order, on the court house, which was captured. The practical work was much appreciated, and the men voted for its repetition. All the companies are now in a most efficient state, Mr. J. E. Hodgson, of the Collegiate Institute staff, has joined the regiment and will be attached to No. 5 Company as lieutenant, professionally.

The following orders were read last night:—

Headquarters,
Peterborough,
June 13th, 1905.

Orders by Lieut.-Col. J. W. Miller, Commanding 57th Regiment, P. R.

No. 1.—Detail for week ending June 20th, 1905:—Captain for week, Captain Houshsell; next for duty, Captain Mills; subaltern for the week, Lieut. Watt; next for duty, Lieut. Gemmell.

No. 2.—Leave of absence from parade is hereby granted to Major Hayes, Captains Bennet and Eastwood and Lieutenant Wilson.

No. 3.—The regiment will parade with both bands for a march out at the armouries, at 8 p.m., on Tuesday, June 20th, 1905.

HIS SERVICES APPRECIATED

Resolution Passed at First Meeting of Cheese Board.

Expressing Appreciation of Services of Mr. J. M. Drummond, the Retiring President.

The Peterborough Cheese Board this year has sustained a severe loss by the retirement of the President, Mr. J. M. Drummond, who for 17 years has filled the office of President of the Board, but who has decided to retire from that position this year.

At the frist meeting this season, the following resolution was passed unanimously:—

Peterborough, June 7th, 1905.

Mr. J. M. Drummond, Ex-President, Peterborough Cheese Board,
Keene, Ont.,

Dear Sir.—At the first meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board for the Season 1905, the following resolution, moved by Mr. Whitton, buyer, and seconded by Mr. Coughlin, salesman, was passed unanimously by the Board:—

Resolved that the members of the Peterborough Cheese Board, at this, its first meeting for the season of 1905, desires to express its deep regret at the loss, through his retirement, of the President of the Board, Mr. J. M. Drummond, who, since the organization of the Board, 17 years ago, has performed with much acceptance, the duties falling to the office of President.

The Peterborough Cheese Board is recognized throughout the district of Eastern Ontario, as the model Board, and the members feel that this proud position has been reached largely if not altogether, through the energy and ability which the President has shown in his conduct of the affairs of the Board.

It is the unanimous opinion of this Board that he has made an ideal presiding officer, always evidencing those characteristics of tact, which are essential in a position of this kind, and the buyers as well as the salesmen, feel that in the management of the meetings of the Board, he has been just to both interests, and it is with the deepest regret that they learn of his intended retirement from the office which he has filled with such singular success.

Signed on behalf of the Board.

T. D. YOUNG,
Vice-President.
JOHN RIDDELL,
Secretary.

TAKES A REST FOR A MONTH

What Man in Police Court is Told—Short Session.

At the Police Court this morning the only case was that of a man charged with being drunk, with having no home and with no visible means of support. "Is that true?" asked Magistrate Rush. "Yes, I guess so," said the accused. "Well, I think you had better take a month upon the hill to straighten up, don't you think so?" "Yes, I guess so," he again replied, "and thank you, sir. Shall I have a doctor?" he inquired. "Yes, two or three of them, if you want them" he was informed. The Court then adjourned.

Healthy and Vigorous.

Mr. John Shelton, the well-known bridge builder, of 101 Sherwood st., Ottawa, states,—"I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for kidney and liver derangements brought on by exposure, and find them better than any pill or medicine ever used. CLERK BOARD OF HEALTH
Of Jacksonville, Fla., Endorses Peruna.

C. D. TAYLOR.

C. D. Taylor, Clerk of the City Board of Health of Jacksonville, Fla., has occupied that position for the last ten years. In a recent letter to the Peruna Drug Mfg. Co., he expresses his approval of their famous catarrh remedy Peruna in the following words:

"The health of the poor of a large city is always a question of vital interest not only to the city officials but to every citizen. It has been a source of much satisfaction to me to find that so large a number of working people in moderate circumstances have accepted Peruna as their family medicine. It has cured a large number of cases especially of catarrh of the head, lungs and stomach and building up the general health it cannot fail but prove a help and blessing to any community where it is generally adopted and used. I have found it an honest reliable remedy and am pleased to endorse it."—C. D. Taylor, Clerk, Board of Health.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

HAVELOCK WON THE FIRST GAME

Defeated Campbellford in the First Trent Valley Game.

Council Met on Monday — Personal Items of Interest.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Havelock, June 12th.—On Monday evening, June 6th, the council met as the court of revision on the assessment roll, at 8 p. m. Those present were Reeve Thompson, Councillors Campany, Sills, Morrison and Fuller. Numerous new assessments were made and also a number of appeals which were all sustained.

After the court of revision the council was called to order. A motion was moved by Councillor Campany, seconded by Morrison, that standing accounts to the amount of $568.56 be paid—carried.

The cement walk question was also settled.

The Rev. A. E. Cring addressed the council in connection with the putting of a lamp on the street in the vicinity of the Presbyterian church, owing to this being a very dark spot and the arc lamp at the west being too far away and the one at the east being shut off by the shade trees by the road, and as it happens that all the other public places in town especially all the churches, have a light in front of the door, one might be put in this badly needed spot.

This led to a lengthy discussion on the part of the council as to how this could be done and not raise the expense. It was thought that the arc light at G. Sills' could be moved down back of the station, and the 50 c. p. lamp at Dineen's be moved to opposite the church. At length it was decided through the manager of the Electric Light Co., Dr. J. Holdcraft offering to put up an arc lamp back of the station and try them both to show which would be the most benefit to the public, this to be placed across the road, if satisfactory, to be charged to the town and the other removed. The council then adjourned.

Mr. Wm. Christie, of Toronto, is the guest of Mr. Jas. Campney, of town.

A very sad event took place last Friday when the youngest son of Mr. Alex Innis, Stratton, passed away. The little fellow had only been sick for a few days. The remains were laid at rest in the Maple Grove Cemetery on Sunday.

Miss L. McQuade, of Marmora, is visiting friends in town.

Mr. Wm. Cooper, who has been in bed for the past two weeks, is improving.

A very happy event took place last week when a baby girl was presented to Mr. Thomas Jackson, on his arrival home after a trip.

On Friday afternoon the first game of baseball of the series of the T. V. League, was played here, when the local bunch put it over the visiting Campbellford team to the tune of 9-2.

After the first two innings, it was plain to be seen that the locals had the best of the play, and when McCurry began to put the twisters over the plate, it was all off for the visitors. Although Cassan and West did good work for the visitors they had no chance from the beginning. They only scored in the ninth innings when by a couple of errors in the field by the locals they managed to escape a whitewash. The line up was as follows:

Campbellford — Pringle 1b; Maynard 2b; Scott 3b; Cassan and Garry ss; Cassan and West p; Doan c; Shore cf; H. Cassan rf; Gillespie lf.

Havelock — J. Black 1b; E. Dorricott 2b; E. B. Jennarett 3b; W. Rose ss; P. McCurry p; M. Bellegheem c; J. E. Kelsey cf; G. Behan rf; J. Bateson lf.

Umpire, W. Christie, Toronto.

The umpire's decisions were of the very best and no fault was found by either team during the game.

The committee which was appointed to make arrangements for have a gala day here on the 1st of July, are certainly doing all in their power to make it a success. The day will end with a grand concert, to which the best locals and outside talent will contribute.

The baseball boys are looking forward to the game on Friday next, when Bonnenith will bring their nine down in the second game of the Trent Valley League. The visitors must be confident of winning for they are running an excursion to Trent Bridge, where rigs will be in readiness to bring them over. The locals are getting into shape and are going to put up a stubborn fight to hold up their percentage which is now 1000.

Eight new residences are under course of erection.

The new street being opened at the back of the school will be one of the finest in town.

The question now is: Are we going to have a new post office? For a place this size the shack now used as a post office is a disgrace to the place, and something ought to be done in connection with the same. The only improvements noticeable in the past number of years is two incandescent lamps.

Peterborough Cheese Board is Held Up As An Example.

611 Boxes Boarded—The Whole Board Sold at 9 1-8c.

The Victoria County Cheese Board met on Monday morning in the Council chamber at ten o'clock, but the small amount of cheese put up was certainly discouraging to the buyers present, Messrs. Flavelle, Fitzgerald, Brown and Cook. Mr. Gillespie was present, but not in the buying circle, while our old friend, Mr. Whitton, did not show up at all.

The following factories boarded the number of cheese set opposite, the 1904 column being the number boarded at the first sale last year:—

	1905	1904
Starr	70	50
Cameron	36	32
Dunsford	42	96
Mariposa		90
Cambray	32	55
Omemee	90	116
North Verulam		84
North Ops	25	33
Pine Grove		26
Reaboro	98	140
Bobcaygeon	90	150
Maple Leaf	36	90
Palestine	23	24
Red Rock	90	176
North Harvey	51	81
Total	611	1203

Last Wednesday 1,907 boxes were sold on the Peterborough Board at 9 1-8c.

Mr. Flavelle raised the Board and bought all cheese at 9½d.

President Robertson then spoke of the Peterborough Board, which had a small commencement and which has to-day one of the best Boards in the country, as a result of all the members sticking together, which made it a profitable Board. The Lindsay Board did not have enough sticking plaster to stick together, and there was always someone kicking and dropping off. He spoke of how Cambray had left and come back again. The shoe was tree of Oakwood, Reaboro and Janetville, who thought they would make more money, but found out they had to sell subject to Lindsay prices. The buyers could not come here for nothing, and would not come here for such a small sale as we had to-day. If any one factory dropped off we may as well all drop off. He (the president) had worked eight years for the Lindsay Board, and it was hard and discouraging work. There was always one or two to find fault every year. The main think was to make cheese suitable to the market. He was in favour of an instructor. If it were necessary for the Associations to put so many instructors and inspectors around the country it were surely necessary for the factories to have them.—Post.

CONSERVATIVES AND MILITIA.

The Conservative party professes to have a touching solicitude for the Canadian militia, when that solicitude can be turned into making a party point against the Government of the day. In its last issue, our evening contemporary mourns to the extent of half a column over the lopping off of a part of the strength of the militia, reducing the establishment very materially. All this eloquence is wasted, for Sir Frederick Borden states that there is to be no reduction of the strength of the militia. The Conservative press did not come to the relief of the militia so promptly when the Conservative Government was in power. Volunteers and officers will remember when the Conservatives had charge of the militia interests, that in some years there was actually no money for the annual drill, and it is a matter of record that the Liberal Government has during its term spent twice as much money, and to better effect, upon the militia than the Conservatives did in a corresponding period. From 1880 to 1896, the Conservative expenditure on the militia, amounted to $11,794,613. During eight years, from 1897 to 1904 inclusive, the Liberal militia expenditures — liberal in a double sense — amounted to nearly one hundred per cent. more, or $22,498,945. And the Liberal expenditure was wisely made — not frittered away — with the result of placing the national militia upon a firmer basis than ever before. One need not go into minute details, but it may be pointed out that the administration of the militia by the Liberal Government has converted it into an efficient force, armed it with modern rifles, to teach our young men how to shoot, the prime qualification for an efficient soldier, and established all the branches essential to a defence force in order to have it take the field as a defence force, with equipment necessary to co-operate with the known courage and dash of our militia, so that it might be a real fighting force. The Liberal Government developed cadet corps, organized an army medical corps, created an intelligence system, formed an engineers corps, introduced an army service corps to minister to the material wants of soldiers when in camp, spent thousands of dollars upon rifle ranges, established a musketry school and a Dominion arsenal for the manufacture of small arms, appropriated more money for rifles, provided for the manufacture of steel gun carriages—"made in Canada" — granted pensions for the permanent corps and increased the pay of the militia, introducing efficiency pay in addition to the regular pay. To-day thousands of militia are in camp at annual drill, earning both regular and efficiency pay, in contrast to Conservative conditions when there was no money for annual drill and volunteers had to stay at home, cursing the parsimony and indifference of the Minister of Militia. In face of all this the Conservative organs and politicians are making petty fawn and obstructing the militia authorities that are trying—and succeeding too—to make our militia corps a real army, not a paper thing of theory. In the House on Monday a Conservative member, and a Colonel of the Militia to boot—Col. Tisdale—objected to taking over of the military stations at Halifax and Esquimault—he the boasted Imperialist, member of a party that has formed a corner on Canadian loyalty, whining and halting and hesitating and obstructing Canada's contribution to Imperial defence. If the Conservatives want to successfully attack Liberal administration they must select some other department than the militia. Whatever may be said of the policy of maintaining a military establishment of any kind, the Liberal Government is seeing that the money spent shall be spent to good advantages and not wasted, as was done under Conservative rule, for any expenditure that falls short of creating efficiency is worse than wasted.

THE DEMAGOGUES DOWNED.

Public patriotism and public common sense have triumphed over the party represented by demagogues and firebrands, and sowers of the seeds of sectarian strife and religious discord. The overwhelming victory of the Liberal candidate, Hon. C. S. Hyman, Minister of Public Works, in London, yesterday, is a splendid endorsation of the course and attitude of the Government, and, at the same time a lasting rebuke to the demagogues who sought to divide the people of the city into hostile camps over a question that had no legitimate part in the campaign as an issue. In a strongly Conservative city, a Liberal Minister, who secured his seat in the general elections by the slender majority of twenty-three, had it increased yesterday to three hundred and twenty-nine. Outsiders have little idea of the bitterness with which the shameless propagandists of the resurrected creed issues exploited by Margaret L. Sheppard and the P. P. A., and buried by the electors a decade ago, invested the contest. The electors of London, Liberals and Conservatives, deserve credit—if any credit is due to a natural and spontaneous revolt against tactics that outraged all the decencies of political life and constituted crimes against the commmon-weal—for the patriotism they showed in forgetting party for the good of the state, and emphatically humiliating, if such baseness can suffer humiliation, those who counted upon the success of incendiary appeals to Protestant bigotry, which, the result has shown, is almost, it is a pleasure to note, a negligible quantity where important national issues are at stake.

In North Oxford such appeals may have had some effect, but the great majority of the electors refused to be stampeded by the exhibition of the bogey of "the tyrannous priesthood and the papacy." North Oxford is a very strongly Protestant riding, and if the honest farmers felt that Protestantism was in danger, or that if there were any honesty or reality in the cry of the incendiaries, they would not be slow to do what they would consider their duty, and which they very effectively did do, by rebuking those whose chief appeal was to racial and creed prejudices.

The Toronto News, whose hysterical activity in the discord campaign aided by its its coarse, irreverent and shameless cartoons, said the day before the elections, that North Oxford and London, were asked to condemn "certain legislation" now before the Dominion Parliament. They did not condemn it, but they did condemn, with lasting emphasis, the journalistic and other incendiaries, working for a party triumph in the interests of the Conservative party. The patriotism and good sense of the people have heretofore discredited such appeals, and the lesson of London and North Oxford should not be lost.

A REVERSION TO TYPE.

Premier Haultain is certainly not very consistent, to put his recent attitude most mildly. He is on record as having said: "We have a very school system working in the Territories to-day: we have an excellent system." Now this is the very system, and no more, which the Autonomy Bills continue. This was said some time ago — before the situation became so acute — before the bye-elections came on. In these the race and creed cry was raised, the anti-Roman Catholic campaign raised, without regard to its having no bearing upon the questions properly at issue. When he saw he had a chance to make political capital for the Conservatives and to take a hand in the race and creed campaign to help the creed cry, to become a deciding factor in the bye-elections, and a factor in showing, as it was hoped to do, that two Ontario constituencies condemned the adoption of the schools, which Mr. Haultain not only declared were "excellent schools," part of a system he would not change, if he had the power. Then his duty called him to the Northwest. He might very consistently have stayed there, and, by bringing on bye-elections in six or seven vacant ridings, have given the West a chance to express an opinion. Thus we find him joining in the same campaign with E. E. Sheppard and other Catholiphobic and "no popery" fire-brands, who have appealed to every race and religious passion and prejudice, to the detriment of the harmony of the community and to the prejudice of every interest of our common Canadianism. While taking this course, so flatly opposed to his former declarations, Mr. Haultain may not have shown himself very consistent as a public man, yet the course he took in the anti-Catholic campaign may be accounted for on hereditary grounds. Peterborough people will well remember what the attitude of an ancestor of the Premier of the Northwest Territories, was towards the religious minority, and, remembering that, will not be surprised that Mr. Haultain should exemplify a reversion to type in this direction.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Counties of Perth, Lennox and Addington have decided to go into the Ontario good roads movement. When will Peterborough county join the procession?

This is indeed Canada's century, says the Halifax Chronicle. The eyes of the world are on our Dominion. People are streaming across the prairies and plains in thousands, and the prospects of beautiful crops all over the Northwest, assuring a rich reward for the labours of the pioneer, should induce many thousands more to come hither. We have a good start in nation building, and if we continue to pursue the sound and progressive policy that has given us the happy conditions of the present we can face the future with the utmost confidence that our unoccupied lands will ere long become the homes of a people of whom we, in older Canada, should have good reason to be proud.

MAJOR YOUNG GIVEN COMMAND

Of the New Field Artillery Corps.

Subordinate Officers Unknown as Yet —Choice Will be Popular.

The Militia-General Orders issued some time ago provided for the establishment of a new battery of artillery to be known as the 24th Peterborough Field Artillery. There has been some speculation as to whom the commanding officer of the new corps will be.

The Examiner has been informed upon good authority that Surgeon-Major Young, of the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons, has been given the command. It is not known who the subordinate officers are but Major Young will no doubt select capable and efficient officers to associate with him in the maintenance of the new battery.

With the creation of the new armouries, Peterborough will become an important military centre, being the headquarters of the 57th Regiment, the 23rd Field Battery, the 3rd Dragoons and one company of the 45th Durham Regiment of Infantry. It is not known what will become of the local section of the Midland Field Battery.

ENNISMORE'S ANNUAL PIC-NIC A SUCCESS

Delightful Weather and Large Crowd—The Attendance Was a Record Breaker—Most Successful Pic-nic in History of the Society—St. Martin's T. A. S. Surpasses All Previous Efforts—Programme for the Day—Addresses of Congratulation—The Sports Successfully Conducted—Two Football Games—Work of the Ladies is Commended---Tara's Beautiful Grove the Scene of a Successful Annual Gathering Yesterday.

St. Martin's T.A.S., of Ennismore, an organization of four years standing, established then by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, has in that short space of time achieved a most gratifying success and has grown in members from nothing to 250, fifty of whom joined during the past year.

Yesterday the annual picnic given under the auspices of this society, was held in Tara Grove, Ennismore, and was the most largely attended and most successful from every standpoint of any ever held under

REV. FATHER FITZPATRICK,

Parish Priest of Ennismore, Under Whose Management the Pic-nic Was Held Yesterday.

this auspices, which is saying considerable, for St. Martin's T.A.S. has achieved an enviable reputation for successful picnics.

To Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, and the ladies and gentlemen assisting him, heartiest congratulations are due for the success which attended their efforts yesterday, and it is certain that those who were fortunate enought to be present at the Ennismore picnic of 1905, will for many years look back upon it as a most enjoyable day, spent under decidedly pleasing circumstances.

A Delightful Day.

The day was all that heart could have wished for, not too warm to be uncomfortable, and still bright and pleasant, and just as no clouds overshadowed the sky, so nothing material occurred to mar the perfect success of the day's programme.

Early in the afternoon the roads leading to beautiful Tara Grove, were practically black with horses and vehicles conveying the good people of Ennismore, with many hundreds from other townships to enjoy the pleasures which past experience had proven the annual picnic would afford. But, as early as the visitors arrived they found that others had been there before them, as evidenced by the most complete arrangements which had been effected for their entertainment and comfort, not the least of these being those pertaining to the satisfying of the inner man, which is a department of the Ennismore picnic of which the promoters may be justly proud.

Largest in History.

The elaborate preparations, however, had not been made in vain, for the attendance fully justified them, being the largest in the history of the picnic, which is saying considerable since in the past there have been some crowds which it was then thought would be hard to duplicate.

Ennismore, of course, was very fully represented, and in addition to those who came from their native township to attend, there were many from Emily, Bridgenorth, Lakefield, Young's Point, Peterborough, and from even as far as Asphodel there were visitors present, all bent upon enjoying themselves and all succeeded admirably.

The committee in charge of the picnic viz., the T.A.S. Committee, consisted of Messrs. P. Flood, President; P. Scollard, Secretary; B. O'Reilly, J. O'Reilly, D. Crough, D. Quinlan, Ed. Corkery, Eugene Murphy, D. Costello, Michael Crough, Sr. and Jas. Mahoney, while the ladies' Committee, to whom was entrusted the task of superintending the work of providing the refreshments was composed of Mesdames H. Moher, P. Flood, J. K. Galvin, Eugene Murphy, P. Scollard, D. Crough, D. Quinlan, P. Costello, J. O. Donoghue, J. Fitzpatrick, and Miss Lizzie Scollard, members of the League of the Cross. These ladies are to be highly complimented upon the really excellent arrangements which they made for satisfying the hunger of the many hundreds of visitors who thronged around the well-laden tables, as well as for the splendid quality of the food provided. Ennismore ladies have a reputation to sustain in this respect, and yesterday they more than sustained it.

During the afternoon there were various forms of amusement and entertainment, which the visitors availed themselves of, but the most popular of which was that of dancing, for which a large platform had been provided, and here, during the greater part of the afternoon and early evening, a large number of young people, with their partners, enjoyed this delightful pastime, the music being provided by Mr. and Mrs. John Flood and Miss Ida Galvin.

At the same time, in the large field to the south of the grove, a programme of sports was being carried out, and the different events were warmly contested. The winners were:

Boys' 100 yard race, under 14—John Young.

Boys' 100 yard race, over 14 — James O'Connor.

St. Martin's T.A.S. race, 200 yards—Jas. Dean, Michael Perdue and Jas. O'Connor.

Standing barrel jump — W. J. Hockey, 10 ft. 9 in.

100 yards race for men—G. M. Cundal.

Tossing the caber — D. Kennedy, 30 feet 7 inches.

HON. J. R. STRATTON,

One of the Speakers at the Enniamore Pic-nic Yesterday.

Considerable interest attached itself to the football game in the afternoon between Bridgenorth and Lakehurst teams, the former team winning by 2—0 in a hard fought game, the teams being:

The Supper Enjoyed.

After supper, which all partook off with evident pleasure, a short programme of addresses was given.

On the platform were, with the chairman, Mr. W. Rudkins, of Peterborough: Rev. Father McColl, of Peterborough: Rev. Father Galvin, of Peterborough; Rev. Father McGuire, of Downeyville; Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Ennismore; Hon. J. R. Stratton, Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., Mr. D. Hughes Charles, Mr. J. Harris McClellan, all of whom gave addresses.

Oratory of the Day.

Mr. Rudkins, who made an admirable chairman, expressed his personal pleasure at being present and congratulated the reverend father and the ladies and gentlemen of Ennismore on the great success of their picnic, a success, which, however, they richly deserved.

Financial and Clerical.

Mr. D. Hughes-Charles was the first speaker and he also bore testimony to his great pleasure at being present, and congratulated Rev. Father Fitzpatrick upon the success of the day.

Short congratulatory and humourous speeches were then made by Rev. Father McColl, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough, former parish priest of Ennismore, and Rev. Father McGuire, of Downeyville parish, both of which were fully appreciated. The latter referred to the fact that he had but recently come to reside as a neighbour to their priest, but he had already found that he was going to enjoy it. The people of Downeyville were a noble people as were also those of Ennismore. He was pleased to see a son of Ennismore, Rev. Father Galvin, on the platform, and felt sure that his native parish felt proud of him as one of their own boys.

Representative.

Mr. R. R. Hall was the next speaker and delivered an energetic and pleasing speech. He congratulated Rev. Father Fitzpatrick and the ladies and gentlemen of the parish upon the splendid success which had attended their efforts. It was a great pleasure to him at any time to come to Enniamore, and on this occasion, the first opportunity he had had, he wished to express to the people of this township, his deep appreciation of the splendid support they had given him on November 3rd, last. It was a pleasure and a surprise to him that they had supported him so nobly. Now that he was the representative of West Peterborough, he felt it his duty without regard to politics to do all in his power to further the interests of his constituents. Already he had been able to induce the Government to adopt measures which would be for the interests of the riding, one of these being the taking over by the Government of the swings on the bridges over the Trent Canal system, which would relieve the county of several thousand dollars each year. Another very important matter was that in connection with the dams and reservoirs on the waters tributary to the Trent Canal system, and he hoped that these would be transferred to the Dominion Government as well in the near future. He pledged himself to do all he was able to do to help his constituents.

We hear a great deal these days about the Northwest, and the rapidity with which it is filling up with settlers, but he was glad to know that while the west was making progress, this province was also going forward and was rapidly increasing in wealth. It might surprise some to know that the value of cheese exported from Canada to Great Britain equalled the value of the wheat exports, and in the former the farmers of Ontario benefitted largely.

In conclusion Mr. Hall again expressed his pleasure at being present and hoped that he would be able to spend many more such days at the Ennismore picnics in the future.

Former Member Speaks.

Hon. J. R. Stratton, who was the next speaker, was greeted with cheers when he arose to address the gathering. He said that it was a great pleasure to him once again to have the opportunity of meeting the people of Ennismore, at this their annual gathering. He congratulated the reverend father and the T. A. S. on the magnificent success of the picnic. They had been favoured with fine weather, and the attendance was also most gratifying. There was abundant reason to be proud that we were in a province as good as Ontario is, and in Ennismore the people were as good and as good-looking as there were in any part of the province. He was glad to visit Ennismore again, and, referring to the new T. A. S. Hall, which he said was perhaps the best township hall in any part of the province. He said that he was pleased that they had been able to erect such a handsome building, a building which was a credit to them, and which could be used to hold the weekly or monthly meetings of the society, when the young men and women of the township could be instructed and entertained. The boys and girls of to-day will be the men and women of to-morrow and that they had a place such as this hall in which to impress themselves by the means used in the T. A. S. would tell in their future lives.

REV. FATHER McCOLL,

Rector of St. Peter's, Who Spoke at Father Fitzpatrick's Pic-nic Yesterday.

The speaker was glad to see one of the boys of the township, Father Galvin, on the platform, and he felt sure that the people of the native parish were proud of the success which he had achieved in his church, as they were also proud of that other son of the parish, Bishop Scollard. He referred to the spirit of liberality and broadmindedness which characterized the people of this township, and it was fully reciprocated by himself. He respected the opinion of those who did not worship at the same altar, but who were sincere, which was, he believed the right attitude to take.

Hon. Mr. Stratton referred to Rev. Father McGuire, humourously remarking that he was a sort of a rover, but he was sure that the Bishop felt that that he was the right man in the right place wherever he was, and he was glad to see him in Ennismore and hoped that he would not be moved too far away. He came to Ennismore to-day simply as J. R. Stratton, to show his interest in the people of that township. He felt gratified for the kindness which they had shown to him in the past, and he believed that it was largely due to the people of this township that he had reached the position he had. He always thought it a good thing to stand by one's friends, and he believed that if Mr. Hall was generous and liberal to the people of this township they would stand by him.

He thanked Rev. Father Fitzpatrick for the opportunity of saying these few words to the gathering and hoped that in the future he would again have the pleasure of attending their annual gathering.

The Flow of the Waters.

Mr. J. H. McClellan was introduced by the chairman as "The man who runs the Trent Canal," and after expressing his pleasure at being present paid a high tribute to the interest which Hon. Mr. Stratton had shown in his riding, as evidenced by the good roads which he had secured for them; and said that in driving through this county in connection with his duties on the Canal, he had often felt like saying, "God bless J. R. Stratton," in imitation of the people of the old land who prayed for blessings on the Duke of Argyle. He also referred to the good work which the representative in the Dominion House had already done his riding, and was sure that he would make a good member. He was greatly pleased to be present and to add his congratulations to those of the other speakers.

The Parish Priest.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, the popular parish priest was the last speaker, and said that his remarks would be simply words of thanks. First to his own good people for their attendance, and for the way they had worked to ensure the success of the gathering. He also wished to thank those who came from a distance, especially those from Peterborough, Downeyville, Emily, Young's Point, Lakefield, Bridgenorth, Douro, and as far away as Coughnawaga. For eleven years he had held picnics and at every one of them Hon. Mr. Stratton had been present, and not only was he present, but he gave assistance materially which had earned for him a debt of gratitude. He had always shown himself a sincere friend of the people of Ennismore, and he 100,000 People.

There are a lot of people who have realised this year what modern bicycling is. There are also at least 100,000 who think they know, but who really do not know, what bicycling means to-day.

Those people rode wheels five or ten years ago, when bicycling took to its infancy. They stopped because they thought it too hard work, that the bicycle was hard on the arms, or was uncomfortable to ride on uneven roads, or was unreliable. It's a different proposition to-day.

The fact of the matter is that the bicycle is as far ahead of its predecessor of 1895 in point of safety, reliability, comfort and easy riding as a Pullman is over a freight caboose.

Doctors Said That Lungs and External Swellings Would Turn to Running Sores.

Mrs. Jacob Kachler, Zurich, Ont., says that

Burdock Blood Bitters

Saved Her from Many Years of Suffering.

She writes:—"Now imagine how joyous and great was my surprise when a friend of mine told me that Burdock Blood Bitters would cure me, as that the lungs and external swellings, which the doctors told me would turn to running sores, would disappear. I took her advice, and can say that I have no doubt but that Burdock Blood Bitters has saved me from years of suffering. It is with the greatest of pleasure and with a thankful heart that I give this testimonial, knowing that Burdock Blood Bitters has done so much for me, and you are at perfect liberty to use this for the benefit of others similarly afflicted."

We understand that Mr. F. W. Payne is setting up opposition to Mr. Carruth and is offering the highest price for select hogs.

Mr. Robt. Hunter is about to erect a large wind-mill, for his convenience, during both winter and summer.

Mr. H. Payne and his eldest brother Willie took in the annual excursion to the Agricultural College, Guelph, last Thursday, and reports a pleasant and profitable trip. The latter is prepared to give a series of lectures if requested on farming and stock raising, for he has went to considerable expense to ascertain all information necessary.

The construction of McCracken's telephone line, which is now in operation is the chief subject of discussion here, and will doubtless prove a factor of the greatest benefit and importance to our village merchant.. Also several prominent business men, of the 3rd Line are enrolling themselves of this convenience.

The football players of this place have decided to change their grounds, and will play on Central Park until a more suitable place can be procured.

Regarding a social gathering at Messrs. D. and W. Crowe's, mentioned in a recent issue of this paper, we beg to say that the absence of Mr. F. W. Payne and his sister Emma were deeply regretted.

DEMONSTRATION AT OMEMEE

Preparations Being Made for July 12th.

Much Sorrow Expressed for McAuliffe —Water Very High in River.

Omemee, June 10.—Vegetation is very rapid.

There is sorrow here by many who knew McAuliffe very well personally and never knew him to assault anyone.

A large number drove from here to Peterborough markets on Saturday last.

Mr. Kingsmith of Peterborough, is here making arrangements to decorate our already picturesque village for the 12th July.

We expect a large number from Peterborough at 12th July Demonstration. The Peterborough G.W.V. Band is to be engaged in preference to all inland at a large expense, hoping to be favoured with some high-class selections on 12th July tunes have been heard here for over a century.

Father Maguire is making himself very popular as parish priest of Downeyville.

The water is very high in Pigeon River. Mr. Gatie, of Bogey's Creek, Pigeon Lake, says there is no nicer new route from the north than Pigeon River for excursions and will probably open up a route with one of his steamers.

Our high and public schools are largely attended and many young people are going to try their examinations for the model.

A LUCKY GIRL.

Saved from Deadly Decline by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"When I think of my former condition of health," says Miss Winnifred Perry, of West River, Sheet Harbour, N.S., "I consider myself a lucky girl that I am well and strong to-day, and I owe my present good health entirely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I suffered almost all that one can endure from weakness and nervousness. I was as pale as a sheet, and wasted away. The least noise would startle me, and I was troubled with fainting spells, when I would suddenly lose consciousness and drop to the floor.

At other times my heart would palpitate violently and cause something sensation. Night and day my nerves were in a terrible condition, and I seemed to be continually growing worse. No medicine that I took helped me in the least, until I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after I had taken a half dozen boxes, I felt so much better that I stopped taking them and went on a visit to Boston. I had made a mistake, however, in stopping the pills too soon, and I began to go back to my former condition. I then called on a well known Boston doctor, and after explaining my case, told him how Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had helped me before. He told me to continue their use, saying that I could take nothing better, and I got another supply and soon began to regain health. I took about eighteen boxes in all, and they fully and completely restored my health, and I have had no sickness since."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can do just as much for every weak, nervous, pale-faced young woman, who is slipping from anaemia into deadly decline. They make new, rich, health-giving blood, and that is what every growing girl and woman must have to retain their health. It is because these pills actually make new blood that they strike at the root of all common ailments of life, such as headache and sideaches and backaches, indigestion, palpitation of the heart, kidney troubles, sciatica, rheumatism, neuralgia, St. Vitus' Dance, and paralysis. But only the genuine pills can do this, and the sick one should see that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" is printed on the wrapper around every box. Don't let anyone persuade you to take anything else. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

REGARDING THE ELECTION ACT.

Charge in House of Irregularity in Bye-Elections.

THE LAW WAS CARRIED OUT

Mr. Armstrong's Complaint—Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick Explains That the Oath Against Bribery is Contained in the Election Act, a Copy of Which Was Furnished to Each Deputy Returning Officer.

Ottawa, June 14.—While the electors of North Oxford and London were yesterday afternoon completing their sacred duty of casting their ballots the House of Commons was seriously debating whether there was sufficient machinery provided to enable the voters to be sworn who were suspected of having been bribed.

The belated problem was brought up by Mr. J. E. Armstrong of Lambton, who, fresh from North Oxford, complained that the bribery clauses of the oath had not been supplied to the deputy returning officers, and hinted at a dark conspiracy on the part of the Government against the honest electorate.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier indignantly repelled the insinuation and defended the reputation of the Secretary of State. Mr. Fitzpatrick during the discussion revealed the fact that the bribery clauses in question were contained in the copy of the election act furnished to each deputy returning officer, and could be found there as directed by the accompanying instructions.

Finally Sir Wilfrid Laurier agreed that perhaps it would be as well to have the complete oath on one sheet of paper for convenience. The members then rushed out to hear the returns, and spent a quiet evening in supply on the harbors and rivers votes for Quebec and Nova Scotia.

G. T. P. Bill Reported.

Ottawa, June 14.—At the Railway Commitee yesterday the bill respecting the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co. was considered. Mr. Chrysler explained the provisions of the bill.

Mr. Fitzpatrick said that Mr. Shepley, K. C., of Toronto, for the Government, had examined the bill to see if the mortgages agreed with the original contract. The report would be presented to Parliament. The bill was reported.

BRITAIN FRIEND OF FRANCE.

Will Take No Part in the Morocco Conference.

London, June 14.—Great Britain as one of the powers signatory of the Madrid Convention of 1880, in answer to the request to the Sultan of Morocco to join an international conference for the consideration of the Moroccan question, has announced that its preference is not to take any part in the conference unless such action would be satisfactory to France.

The United States has taken the same stand.

1,200 Men Strike to Aid Cripple.

Halifax, N. S., June 14.—Twelve hundred men are out on strike in the Springhill mines. The management took a good job away from a cripple named Hyatt and place him in a position on the picking table, where he could not make a living. The subcouncil of the P. W. A. called a meeting on Wednesday night, which was attended by sixty-two members, who decided by a vote of 53 to 4 to call a strike. All the men and boys both above and underground, with the exception of the mechanics, are out, and the mines are idle. It is not expected that a conference will take place for several days.

BOOZE OR MEDICINE?

Which will you have? If a woman suffering from one of the delicate ailments peculiar to your sex it will be well for you to know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only remedy advertised for such maladies which is absolutely free from intoxicating liquors and all other harmful agents. The good you feel from its use is not the delusive exhilaration from a tippling beverage, from which the system reacts into a worse condition than before. It may be a little slower in manifesting its bracing and invigorating action, but its benefits are more the less positive and, best of all, they are lasting. It's an honest medicine—not a beverage.

"I have been taking your medicine for the last three weeks and can say I am gaining strength," writes Mrs. Smeck Khaxy, of 33 East Madison Street, Mount Pleasant, Iowa. "I have been having very poor health all winter. Several times I was passing blood but am relieved only while taking the medicine. I read Dr. Pierce's medicine several years and know it was good for any one suffering with female trouble. Have taken only two bottles and am gaining seventeen very fast. I could not eat nor sleep when I began taking the 'Favorite Prescription.' Heart troubled me and I had cold sweats. Feeble all my years would almost cause heating. Have taken only three bottles of your medicine. If I continue with your treatment am positive I will be cured."

Every suffering woman in the land should write to Dr. Pierce and learn how certainly he can help her to health and strength. It costs nothing to write and receive entirely free the advice of one of the most experienced physicians in this country. His great thousand-page book the Common Sense Medical Adviser, in stiff paper covers, will be sent free for 21 one-cent stamps the bare cost of mailing, or, send 50 stamps for cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
